THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The P. T. A. will hold its social and business meeting Friday afternoon of this week at 1:30 o'clock. A program will be rendered, refreshments will be served, and all are invited.

The Ladies Guild will meet this week on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. A. Peterson.

The Lutheran services next Sunday morning will be in the Scandinavian language.

Dr. Y. E. Jenkins was a visitor in Thorsby last Wednesday. While here he addressed the student body of Thorsby Institute.

A very interesting program was given by the Helen Keller Literary Society last Saturday evening in Room 2 of Helen Jenkins Hall. The Society soon expects to give a public meeting to which all are invited. The Society voted that there should be an admission fee of 10 cents for each public meeting.

Mr. W. H. Goodgame spent Monday in Birmingham.

Dr. R. J. Eiland has moved his family to Thorsby and is living in the house lately vacated by L. E. Diefenderfer.

Mr. Albert Davis, who is assisting Dr. Eiland in his drug business, is now living in Thorsby. He and his wife have rooms at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Billingsley.

G. F. Harper spent Sunday in Birmingham with his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Norton desire to express to the people of Thorsby and vicinity their deep appreciation of the cordial and friendly greetings extended to them since their return from the east. They regard it as no light matter to have a whole community show so much interest in them. Mr. and Mrs. Norton spent four days in Washington, D. C., visiting Mrs. Norton's sister, Mrs. Lenore Goodwin, and with other Thorsby friends.

Miss Barbara Hastings spent the week end in Birmingham.

Mr. Reno Villadsen and family of Montevallo were in town last Sunday.

Mesdames J. M. Soberg, A. E. Reagan, Chas. Howard, and H. M Gerald spent last Wednesday in Fairfield as the guests of Mrs. C. R. Peterson.

The P. T. A. will hold their monthly social Friday afternoon of this week at the public school.

Mr. E. F. Meade made a trip to Birmingham Thursday of last week.

Messrs. Sylvester and Clyde Robinson were visitors in Thorsby last Saturday.

Mr. W. M. Leary, daughter, Agnes, and son, Earle, all spent the week end at home with Mrs. Leary.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson and little daughter of Oxmoor spent the week end with Mr. Peterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Peterson.

Miss Giula Williams and sister, Margaret, made a business trip to Birmingham Saturday.

Sereno G. Norton of Kenvil, N. J., came as far as Birmingham with his parents on their homeward trip. He was sent by the Hercules Powder Co., his employer, to locate some hidden defect which has recently developed at the great plant of the company near Bessemer. He came o Thorsby to spend the week end with his parents, and was delighted on Sunday afternoon to receive a call from Messrs Reno and Arthur Villadsen, both friends of his boyhood days in Thorsby.

Mr. Herbert Peterson went to Birmingham Monday, where he will spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Butler and daughter motored to Birmingham Friday afternoon and visited the family of R. A. Turner, formerly of Thorsby. The Butlers returned Saturday afternoon, bringing Margaret Butler and Ethel Peterson to spend the week end at their homes.

Mr. Horace Franklin and Miss Lena Franklin spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Franklin.

Mrs. Relius Franklin entertained ten ladies last Monday at a quilting party.

Mrs. A. K. Horn was quite sick last Monday, but is much improved at present.

Mr. Walter Parnell is making a trip to Washington, D. C., where he will transact business, and visit his sister, Mae.

Messrs. Fred Howard and Henry Robinson went to Lock 12 on a fishing trip last Saturday and came home with a big string of fish.

Wm. Howard Taylolr spent the week end with Henry Robinson.

Mrs. A. H. Warner and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Pittman and families of Montgomery, and Mr. Philip Horn and family of Birmingham, the two daughters and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Horn, motored to Thorsby last Sunday in honor of the 77th birthday of Mr. Horn, and with well filled baskets of goodies took possession of the house while Mr. and Mrs. Horn were at church. When they returned home they found a long table in their business room well filled with the best of eats. The day was one of enjoyment, and especially to Mr. and Mrs. Horn in having their children and grandchildren with them.

Mrs. Alice Fairman, after spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Goddard of Thorsby, left last Saturday night for her home in Fort Worth, Texas.

Mr. Pete Franklin has sold his cafe on the highway to a party from Dothan, Ala., who will open it up in the near future, and will also keep a small stock of groceries.

Mrs. S. C. Wood entertained the Y. W. A. Tuesday afternoon. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and Hallowe'en decorations. The color scheme of yellow and black for Hallowe'en was carried out in everything, including the refreshments. The curtains were pulled and candles lighted. After the program, delicious refreshments were served—salad and devil's food cake, and a yellow cake with cookies representing jack o' lantern faces.

Mrs. Guy Higgins has returned from a hospital in Montgomery where she has been for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Villadsen of Talladega spent several days of last week with relatives in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Self spent Sunday with Mrs. Self's perents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Peterson, of Thorsby.

Mr. L. E. Diefenderfer has moved his family into the pretty new bungalow located on the corner of Montgomery Avenue and Franklin Street.

Miss Maomi Steiner left last Friday night for Dayton, O., where she expects to spend the winter with relatives.

Mr. Willie Scott was a visitor here last Thursday.

Mrs. J. R. Gray and Mrs. J. H. Adams of Birmingham spent several days last week at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Adams.

Mrs. J. E. Each entertained Dr. and Mrs. Wood and Frank at a dinner last Sunday in honor of Mrs. Wood's birthday.

A Start From Humble Beginnings

Mr. Campbell, who was a lawyer, felt somewhat irritated on reaching his office at 8:30 in the morning to find the fire in the grate unkindled and the floor unswept and the place generally in a state of disorder. It was nearly nine o'clock before Ike, his black office servant, appeared.

"Good Lord, Ike," said Mr. Campbell petulantly. "What's detained you?"

"Mist' Campbell," apologized Ike, "you must please, suh, 'scuse me fur bein' late dis one time. I sort of overslept myse'f. De truth of the matter is dat I wuz kept up de best part of de night on' count of jinin' a cullid lodge."

"It surely didn't take you all night to join a lodge, did it?"

"Naw suh, not perzac'ly. De fust part of de evenin' dey wuz 'niciatin' me into de membership an' de rest of de time dey wuz 'onductin' me into office."

"Isn't it rather unusual to confer an office on a member immediately after taking him in?"

"Naw suh, dat's de standin' rule in dat lodge—jes' soon ez you is 'niciated you gits a office."

"What office did they confer upon you?"

"Imperial Supreme King."

"What?"

"Dat's whut dey calls it—Imperial Supreme King of de Universe."

"Isn't that rather a high office for a brand new member?"

"Why, naw, suh, Mist' Campbell, dat's de lowes' office dey is in dat lodge. W'en I's been in a spell longer dey is goin' to give me somethin' really worth while."

Too Much Clothing

We find that we are heavily stocked with Clothing for men and boys, and in order to reduce this stock we have determined to sell it within the next two weeks at some kind of prices.

Now, if you think of buying a suit of clothes this winter, come to see us. You may say you can't buy clothes on such cheap cotton. Don't let that worry you. Come let us show you that our clothing is priced to sell in line with the present price of cotton. Many of these suits have two pair of pants.

Also a nice line of Overcoats to go at a sacrifice. They are all first quality, being of our regular lines of high grade clothes.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

On next Tuesday all good Republicans will go to the polls and vote as they pray. Working men, remember who has been your friend. Don't forget what you went through under the Cleveland administration and the soup houses in Wilson's time. I was talking to a man in Bessemer about a month ago who said that in national elections he voted the Republican ticket but at home he voted for the Democrats. I asked him why was that. Well, he said, under the Republican government we had better times. I told him, then why not try the same method at home and see how it would work. I told him that in Chilton County, where the Republicans are in power, everybody is doing well.

So, hoping that the Republican ticket will meet with success on next Tuesday, I remain, yours truly,

Chas. H. Rober, Verbena, Ala.

MULBERRY - ISABELLA NEWS

The community fair at Isabella last Friday was a success. The exhibits revealed the fact that the community is wide awake, both agriculturally and artistically. The entertainments—good speaking, radio programs, ball game, etc., furnished pleasure for all present. The prizes were as follows:

Best all-around booth—H. R. Oden, 1st prize; O. O. Calfee, 2nd prize; T. L. Lecroy, 3rd prize.

Best fancy work—Martin Sexton, 1st prize; Mrs. W. J. Peters, 2nd prize; Mrs. S. P. Jones, 3rd prize.

Vocational boys' prizes—Most complete record, Hollis Calfee; neatest kept record, Renfro Veazey.

Prizes on cotton—1st, Hollis Calfee; 2nd, Renfro Veazey; 3rd, Ezell Calfee.

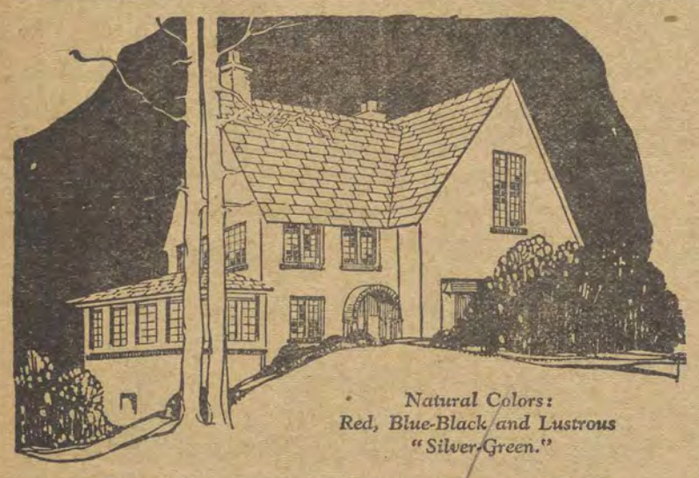
Prizes on corn—1st, Renfro Veazey; 2nd, Hollis Calfee; 3rd, Houston Deramus.

The Isabella boys played Stanton in basketball last Friday afternoon, Isabella winning, 14 to 0. The Stanton team put up a good fight, but failed to find the goal with a single shot, due to the close guarding of Martin and Mims. The swift Isabella team passed the ball well. Claude Conway was the star forward for Isabella, making 10 of the 14 points. Coach Curlee, of Stanton, refereed.

The Home Economics department of the high school is gradually growing, and we are hoping to reach the standard for Vocational Home Economics. Two new machines, a new kitchen table, a new 4-burner stove, and several cooking utensils have been added as equipment.

Misses Nora Wood and Claudie Smith spent last week end with home folks near Clanton.

Mrs. C. T. Farmer, of Montgomery, attended the Isabella fair last Friday.



Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Billingsley of Thorsby attended the fair at Isabella Friday.

Mrs. Jethro Hayes was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wright, last Sunday.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell filled his last appointment at Mulberry Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Grady Williams will serve the church next year.

Prof. Earle Thomas took some of the Vocational Agriculture boys to Montgomery Tuesday to attend the state fair.

J. B. ATKINSON'S APPEAL TO VOTERS OF CHILTON COUNTY

On November 2, Vote for J. B. Atkinson for Representative in the Legislature of Alabama, who Pledges that he will advocate the Enactment of the Following Laws:

1. A law exempting the men and boys of Chilton County between the ages of 18 and 45 years from working seven days on the roads or the payment of $5.50 road tax and fee.

2. A law which will require that road work be done under a competent engineer where grading, constructing culverts and bridges are to be done; that road hands be required to put in 8 hours before drawing pay for full day's work, and that they be not paid for time going to and from their work.

3. A law amending the tick eradication law, so as to require that the inspector shall certify that cows are infected before requiring them to be dipped.

4. A law creating a farm demonstration agent in Chilton County.

5. A law creating a health officer, whose duty shall require him to attend the inmates of the poor house, inspect all water supply for schools, and supervise the suppression of contagious diseases.

6. A law dividing the County into four districts, from each a member of the school board shall be elected, requiring that a chairman be elected by the County at large. This will prevent one beat or locality from having more than two members on the school board, and give an equal representation over the County.

I believe that all taxes, both general and district, levied for school purposes should be equally distributed among the children in the County. That this money should be used first for the payment of teacher's salary, and the surplus for equipment and building; that all school buildings should be financed as follows: The State paying one half, the County one fourth, and the patrons one fourth, and that we should have nine months free school, and that the incidental fees be abolished.

If I am elected your Representative I will use my influence in securing for Chilton County a highway connecting Clanton with Maplesville, Stanton and Plantersville, and also to Rockford.

I submit to the people of this County the following figures, are most convincing that a change should be made in our County:

In 1925 Chilton County received as General Funds, $69,035.66; Road Tax, $70,019.59; Gasoline Tax, $31,811.06; total, $170,866.31. From the General Funds above was transferred to the Road Fund, $25,000, making total Road Fund for 1925, $101,830.65. Last Treasurer's Report shows the amount of tax received since 1925, and balance on hand.

A careful investigation will reveal that we are spending approximately one hundred thousand dollars per year on our roads, and I know of no one better able to judge the results than the people themselves.

The following letter from the State Tax Commission shows amount of gasoline tax received since the law was enacted by Chilton County, viz:

State of Alabama
The State Tax Commission
Montgomery, Ala., August 26,1926.

Mr. J. B. Atkinson,
Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sir:—

Judge Herzberg has referred your letter of August 24th to the writer for attention. In answer thereto, beg to advise that below we are giving you the figures which show the amount of gasoline tax paid to Chilton County since the beginning of the law to date:

For the first ten months of 1923, the year the law went into effect, there was paid to Chilton County $11,223.21; in 1924 there was paid to Chilton County $25,807.58; in 1925, $31,811.06; in 1926, from January through June, there has been paid to Chilton County $17,465.85 making a total since the beginning of the gasoline law of $86,307.70.

Trusting that this information is what you desire, we are,

Yours very truly,
F. C. MARQUIS,
Associate Member.

The above figures are given as evidence that we need the laws which I have above pledged you that I would support. It is my idea that it will be better for the people of Chilton County to spend their tax money in an effort to improve the farm production and healthful condition than to permit it to be spent on the roads as it has in the past three years. I am convinced one hundred thousand dollars road tax per year, we ought to begin to build permanent roads in the County. And with that amount of money I am further convinced that we are able to exempt the boys and men from having to pay or work the road.

The office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama is one that does not pay any salary. A Representative receives Four Dollars per day, which will hardly defray the expenses while in Montgomery. Yet this office is one of great importance to the people of Chilton County, and we should have in our Legislature a man who has the interest of the progress and welfare of our County at heart, and who is in a position after he is elected to obtain results.

If on November 2nd, the people of Chilton County elect me I shall give to the office the time and ffort to accomplish something for Chilton County.

Thanking the voters in Chilton County in advance for their consideration in the premises, I am,

Respectfully,
J. B. ATKINSON.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

I am a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, and have tried to see every voter of the County in person, but it was impossible to see each in the short time that I had to work. I was born and raised in this County on a farm west of Clanton, and lived there until I came to Clanton, and went in business, and I am willing for my friends to decide the question as to whether I am competent to hold the position that I am asking them to trust me with.

It's a very important office to be decided on by the taxpayers and voters of this County, and I am asking you to kindly favor me with your vote and use your influence with your friends, and if I am elected and trusted to this office I will use every effort to conduct it in such way and manner that you will never regret giving me your support.

Mr. Pate, my opponent, has kept the office for six years, or one and one half terms and is asking for one more term, making a total of ten years in public office. Why not pass it around? Do you believe in equal opportunity for all?

There is one promise that I want to make you now, and that promise is: that I will not ask for the office if elected the second term. I do not believe that it is right for any man to hold office in State or County more than one term, as we have others in the County who are qualified to fill the places.

Thanking the voters for your consideration, I am,

Respectfully,
M. C. BROADHEAD.

Two Land Sales Near Clanton for This Week

Two auction land sales near Clanton are on the program for this week. The Arthur Thompson farm two miles east of Clanton, near Concord will be sold at 1:30 p. m., to-day (Thursday). On Friday at 11 a. m. the Steve Hilyer Farm two miles east of Lomax will be sold. Both sales will be conducted by Col. Millican and Col. Bethel, of the Tennessee - Alabama Auction Company.

In addition to the sale of the land an interesting program of amusement is promised by the auctioneers at each sale. Everybody is invited to attend and enjoy the fun.

And by the way, if you want one of the best farms in this county, it will pay you to go prepared to buy one of these.

Absolutely Unfitted for the Role

A few months before his death Gen. Basil Duke of Kentucky, who commanded Morgan's cavalry after the killing of his brother-in-law, Gen. John Morgan, told this tale at a Confederate reunion in his home city of Louisville:

He said that during one of the Tennessee campaigns Morgan's men surprised and routed a regiment of Federal troopers. In the midst of the retreat one of the enemy, who was mounted upon a big bay horse, suddenly turned and charged the victorious Confederates full-tilt, waving his arm and shrieking like mad as he bore down upon them alone. Respecting such marvelous courage, the Confederates forebore shooting at the approaching foe, but when he was right upon them they saw there was a different reason for his foolhardiness.

He was a green recruit. His horse had run away with him—the bit had broken, and, white as a sheet and scared stiff, the luckless youth was being propelled straight at the whooping Kentuckians, begging for mercy as he came.

Jeff Sterritt, a noted wit of the command, stopped the horse and made a willing prisoner of the rider. Sterritt, who had not washed or shaved for days and was a ferocious looking person, pulled out a big pistol and wagged its muzzle in the terrified Federal's face.

"I don't know whether to kill you right now," he said, "or wait until the fight is over!"

"Mister," begged the quivering captive, "as a favor to me, please don't do it at all! I'm a dissipated character—and I ain't prepared to die!"

TOM KEMP WRITES

To the voters of Chilton County:

As a candidate for member of the Board of Education, and not being able to see all of you in person, I take this means of presenting my claims for the office. My life has been lived here among you, and my energies have been spent, not in trying to have one political party win out over the other, but in trying to make a living in a quiet way for my family and to do my share in support of our schools, churches, etc.

Should you cast your vote for me and I am elected, I will do everything in my power to see that each and every child in our county receives its prorata share of public funds, and that the rural child has the some advantages as the small town or city child has in educational advantages as nearly as I can consistently do.

This a part of my declaration of principles. If they are worthy of your consideration and vote, I will appreciate it.

Trusting that your honest convictions will govern in the matter, I am yours for the best interest of the county, schools and churches.—TOM KEMP, (Paid political adv., by Tom Kemp, Clanton, Ala.)

Federal officer Gillespie and his associates captured two large stills in Coosa County near Quinsey on last Saturday. We were unable to get the details of the raid. We understand they arrested George Adams and one other man but it was not stated as to whether they were operating the still or merely in possession of liquor.

Notice, Parents!

Monthly examinations have been held and grades are being averaged. The report cards will be given out the first week in November. Please sign your child's report promptly so that he may return it to his session teacher.

Senior Weiner Roast.

The Senior Class and the football boys gave their first entertainment of the season Friday evening, October 22 in the form of a Weiner Roast in the football park. Toasting weiners and marshmallows by a big bonfire was the chief amusement of the evening. The faculty acted as chaperones.

Music.

The Senior Girls' Glee Club and Junior High School Chorus meet once a week, as a regular class. They are now learning to read music quickly, and may be heard through the halls, singing "do, re, mi." They are working toward a goal, as they hope to broadcast at Auburn this winter.

The members of the High School Orchestra have ordered 2 flutes, 2 clarinets, 2 trumpets, and 1 mellophone. Those boys who have no instruments meet once a week for a class in theory.

OAK HILL

The United Singing Society met in regular session here Sunday afternoon. On account of inclement weather the attendance was not so large as usual, but the singing was extra good. It is not always the largest crowd that does the best singing. Those in attendance were real good sight singers, and sing the new songs as well as the old. We had with us a quartet composed of Prof. W. M. Devaughn, his son, Archie, Akins Collins, and Renfroe Jones, with Mrs. Renfroe Jones as organist. They rendered a beautiful selection after each director, which were enjoyed very much, and brought forth notes of praise from all who heard them. Directors in addition to the Society's regular directors were G. C. Powell, W. M. Devaughn, and his son, Archie. Organists were Misses Lois Glasscock, Jewell Bean, and Mrs. Renfroe Jones.

We were glad to have these visiting singers with us, and invite them and all others to visit us as often as possoble, as we are always glad to have visitors with us, not only at Oak Hill, but at all other places where the United Singing Society meets. Come, you are always welcome. — E. L. Glasscock.

APPLICATION FOR PARDON

State of Alabama, Chilton County.
To His Execellency, the Hon. W. W. Brandon, Governor of the State of Alabama:

Your petitioner, B. Igo, respectfully represents unto your Excellency that he, B. Igo, was, at the August Term of the Circuit Court, 1924, indicted for the offense of manufacturing, or having in his possession a still for the purpose of manufacturing spirits or vineous liquors, that on the 19th day of August, 1924, being the August Term of said Court, he was tried and convicted of said offense, and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of two years; that he served out eighteen months of said term and was relieved from prison, on good behavior; that since his return from prison he has married and has lived a sober and industrous life, and is making a good and honorable citizen.

Wherefore, in view of the premise, and the proofs herewith submitted, your petitioner respectfully submits that the case submitted and presented is one truly deserving of executive clemency, and earnestly prays your Excellency to grant a pardon to B. Igo, your petitioner, restoring to him all civil and political rights.—B. IGO. 10-28-2t-pd.

A HAPPY REUNION

On Sunday, June 13, there was a happy meeting at the home of Mrs. Jack Harris. All her children and grandchildren, sons-in-law and daughters-in-law were present, gathered from many different places.

A sumptuous dinner was served—anything to eat could be had for the asking. In the afternoon a musical program, consisting of singing, piano and saxaphone music, was enjoyed.

Mrs. Jack Harris was 76 years old that day. Her two daughters, Mary and Matilda, brought two lovely cakes both iced in white and trimmed with pink candy; each bore 76 burning candles.

All left in the afternoon happy for having had such a pleasant day.—One who was there.

NOTICE OF FILING OF BILL OF COMPLAINT

State of Alabama, Complainant, vs. One Ford Car, 1923 Model, Respondent.—In the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Ala., In Equity.

The Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of G. C. Walker, as Deputy Solicitor of Chilton County, against one Ford Car, 1923 Model, being exhibited to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 9th day of October, 1926, one Robert Owen did transport in One Ford Car, 1923 Model, certain prohibited liquors and beverages, from one point in the State of Alabama to another, and that said automobile was on said day seized by the Sheriff of said County, and said Bill of Complaint praying that said automobile be declared forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an order of condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore ordered and decreed that notice of the filing of said Bill of Complaint be given for three successive weeks in The Union-Banner, a newspaper published in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claim by the 23rd day of November, 1926, and that failing so to do, the said right, title or interest will be forever barred.

Given under my hand, this, the 23rd day of October, 1926.

Betty Lyles Wilson's Rolls

Cook until well done, enough Irish potatoes to amount to 1½ cups, when run through ricer; dissolve 1 yeast cake in a cup of tepid water; add to the potatoes 2 well-beaten eggs, ½ cup sugar, and then the yeast; add 1 cup Omega flour, and 1 cup sweet milk alternately, beating with egg whip; add more flour if necessary to make batter as thick as for buttercakes; let rise to twice its bulk in warm place; make into smooth dough with 1 qt. of flour; add 1 heaping teaspoonful of salt and 1 cooking spoon of fat; let rise; roll out; cut with cutter; grease tops; let rise 1 hour, and bake.

Peanut Butter Bread

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 4 cups of White Ring flour, 2 cups sweet milk, 1 cup raisins, 1-3 cup raisins if desired.

Standard White Cake

Butter, 7-8 cup, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup milk, 5 egg whites, 3 cups White Ring flour, 1 teaspoonful flavoring.

Old Fashioned Pound Cake

Sixteen yolks, 1½ cups butter, 2 oval teaspoonfuls baking powder, 3 cups Omega flour, 1 cup milk, 2 cups sugar.

Biscuit

Two cups White Ring flour, 2 round table spoonfuls shortening, 2-3 cup sweet milk or fresh butter milk, 1 teaspoonful salt.

PUBLISHERS OF UNION-BANNER REPLY TO REQUEST OF MR. J. L. JOHNSON

In reply to the request of Mr. J. L. Johnson that the Union-Banner retract a certain statement heretofore published in this paper on July 1st, 1926, which said statement referred to Mr. Johnson as "the noted tramp of Chilton County and surrounding communities," the publishers of The Union-Banner desire to make the following statement:

The statements which referred to Mr. Johnson as "the noted tramp of Chilton County and surrounding communities," were a part of a letter to the public signed by Judge L. H. Reynolds. In the assertions of the letter of Judge Reynolds, of which the above quoted reference to Mr. Johnson is a part, The Union-Banner assumed or exercised no responsibility on its own part whatsoever. The publication was made at the request of Judge Reynolds, and over his signature. They were his statements and not ours. Insofar as The Union-Banner and the publishers are concerned, acting only as publishers of Judge Reynolds's statements, a complete and full retraction of all statements in said letter are hereby made.

And in reply to a further request of Mr. Johnson that we retract another certain statement heretofore published in The Union-Banner, which statement referred to him as a "street walker," the publishers of The Union-Banner desire to make the following statement:

The Union-Banner, its editors or publishers are not and were not the authors or originators of the article in which the reference was made to Mr. Johnson as a "street walker." Publication of said article was made at the personal request of Mr. John Baker. It was accepted and published merely as a humorous communication, without any thought or intent on the part of the publishers of The Union-Banner to do Mr. Johnson or any of the other persons named therein any damage to their character. Insofar as our connection with the matter is concerned, acting as publishers only, we hereby retract all statements in said article.

BRANDON APPEALS FOR COTTON RELIEF

Auburn, Ala., Oct. 25.—With a view to waging as intensive campaign for pooling cotton for orderly marketing and for getting pledges from the growers for acreage reduction next year as was ever waged for selling Liberty Bonds during the World War, an organization has been set up and plans made for reaching every cotton grower in Alabama during the week of October 25. Edward A. O'Neal, President of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, is chairman of the State Cotton Committee which will direct the campaign.

Gov. Brandon launched it by issuing a proclamation calling on farmers, bankers, merchants, and all others to devote the week to the relief of cotton growers by pooling the present crop for orderly marketing and taking steps for a 25% reduction of cotton acreage in 1927.

Hurry, Worry and Overwork Bring Heavy Strain.

MODERN life throws a heavy burden on our bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to become sluggish. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. PERCY M. PITTS WRITES VOTERS stitutions of learning, but I think that our rural schools and high schools should be provided for in proportion to the number of boys and girls benefitted. I trust that legislation in some way will be passed so that our boys and girls will get a full term of school, and a free school, as other states now have.

I will support a proposed uniform speed law on the highways, and the enforcement of same. In our County we are justly proud of our paved highways, yet we need protection from those who disrespect the right of others by reckless driving, causing loss of property and lives.

I have heard it rumored that a local bill will be introduced in the next Legislature to abolish the Commissioners Court of Chilton County and at the same time the Governor is to appoint a Board of Revenue to take the place of present Commissioners Court. I have been and always will be against any proposed measure whereby the voters do not have the power to select those who fill our public offices.

I trust all Republicans in this County will go to the polls and support all of our Republican nominees, and if this is done our entire ticket will be elected by a safe majority.

I have no criticism to make of my Democratic opponent, J. B. Atkinson, a former Republican and a former law partner of mine. I have been unable on account of business to make a personal campaign over the County, and have been unable to see many of the voters, however, should you see fit to vote for me on November 2, I will be ever mindful of the fact should I go to the Legislature, that I am there to serve as a Representative of the people who sent me.

Thanking you in advance for your support, I am,

Respectfully yours,
PERCY M. PITTS.

FINAL APPEAL TO VOTERS FROM REPUB. CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

nominee against Mr. Maddox, is a good man, but he is just as apt to go on one side as the other. He served once as Commissioner of this County, and when he and Judge Deason left the office the County owed $238,000, and County warrants were selling for about 50 cents in the dollar. The County still owes about $200,000 of this debt, which the tax payers are paying interest on every year. This debt was not made to build roads for the people of this County, but every dollar of it was expended on the highways. The people do not know what Mr. Williams stands for, neither do they know to what party he belongs, and we doubt if he knows, himself.

The Democrats are making a gumshoe campaign. They have their cards and pictures stuck up all over the County, making known that they are candidates, but they seem to be ashamed to say to what party they belong. When you meet a Republican candidate he is glad to tell you that he is a Republican, and what he stands for.

We have neither the time nor the space to mention the record the Democratic party has made in Chilton County, but will mention just a few recent happenings. We have already referred to the abolishing of the County Court, which has cost the people of this County over $3,000 a year; also the $200,000 debt which was put on the taxpayers by the Democrats to build highways with.

Republican Members of the County School Board have been thrown out of office on technicalities after they have been elected by a vote of almost two to one over their opponent; and yet the Democrats threw them out of office and had their opponent appointed after the people had voted for the one against them.

Mr. Robert Bean of Collins Chapel and Mr. Sidney J. M. Webb of Mulberry are the Republican candidates for the county school board. We believe the voters will admit that these gentlemen measure up to every reasonable requirement needed to make them efficient and dependable members of our school board. They are Republicans, and are in sympathy with the Republican policy of managing the business affairs of our county. No Republican can have just cause to turn away from Robert Bean and Mr. Webb to vote for their Democratic opponents.

For the short term on the school board the Republicans have nominated J. M. Smith of Thorsby. Mr. Smith has been through the fire of recent years with the school board, and he has not flinched one bit from the interests of the people who put him in the office. Let us keep him there for the rest of the term. He deserves it and the Republicans owe it to him.

We draw this conclusion which we submit to the people of Chilton County as our appeal for their support for the Republican nominees on November 2nd:

The Republican officers of Chilton County always in the past have made a good record in discharging the business entrusted to them. They have stood for safe, sound, and cautious procedure. They have sought to manage the affairs of the County as economically as possible, and have worked constantly toward reducing the debts and expenses of your County. The Republican idea has been constructive, safe, and conservative. Every nominee which the Republican party now has before the people has been a helper in making the past Republican record of safety, service and efficiency.

Now, what of the Democrats? They have been a party of opposition. Instead of helping to build up our County, they have been seeking to tear down. When they were in office in a few instances their business methods and actions were bad for our County. They put the County hopelessly in debt for a cause that was wholly useless to the great majority of our people. They have used their influence with the Democratic legislature of the State to the eternal hurt of your County's business welfare in the enactment of every law they could that would hinder the progress of the County.

The men whom the Democrats are now asking you to vote for on November 2nd are and have been parties to all the devilment that their party has sought to saddle upon the people of Chilton County.

In conclusion, we ask the people of Chilton County now to consider these facts carefully and prayerfully and vote for the best interests of your County on November 2nd.

Respectfully,
Republican Campaign Committee,
By J. Z. Mims, Chairman.

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Complainant, vs. One Buick Car, Defendant. — In the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, In Equity.

Take Notice:

That the Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of G. C. Walker, as Deputy Solicitor of Chilton County, against one Buick Car, being exhibited to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 3rd day of October, 1926, one S. E. Boyd did transport in one Buick automobile 1925 model, certain prohibited liquors and beverages, from one point in the State of Alabama to another, and that said car was on said day seized by the Chief of Police of the Town of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, and said Bill of Complaint praying that said car be declared forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an order of condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore ordered and decreed that notice of the filing of said Bill of Complaint be given for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claim by the 9th day of November, 1926, and that failing to do so, the said right, title or interest will be forever barred.

Given under my hand this the 8th day of October, 1926.

10-14-3t-ch. GEO. F. SMOOT,
Judge, 19th Judicial Circuit.

DRAMATIC CLUB DOINGS

One thing sure, you can't dampen the spirit of an enthusiastic dramatic club member. Tuesday night, after an all day rain the Clanton dramatic club held one of the most spirited meetings imaginable. Most all the members turned out—we mean they were there, high and dry and full of pep. New and old business was discussed, and several plays were taken up for discussion. One play has been passed upon, and it is up to the minute, snappy and full of action.

The dramatic club has the talent, and the parts will all be taken by members who can master them. This is the first time Clanton has ever had the honor to boost a dramatic club. Clanton is proud of our organization.

You have heard preachers say that a congregation can either make or break a preacher. If his audience is responsive, alert and enthusiastic, he is made through their help and will succeed. On the other hand, if a congregation is dull and not interested, it will ruin the best of preachers, no matter how hard he might work.

It is the same way with a club or any other organization. If the public will help us by coming out to our plays and talk our organization to other communties, then we will be a success. It is up to you. So, let's all come, pull together and back up the movement strong, and put it over. This will be another feather added to Clanton's cap of progress.

All Republican Candidates Elected On Tuesday by Margins of 300 to 500

With everything working against them from the weather on down, the Republicans of Chilton County went to the polls through rain and mud Tuesday to renew their allegiance to the Grand Old Party. The greatest effort that has been made by the Democrats here in a decade failed to shatter the Republican front. Every Republican candidate for county office was elected, the majorities over the Democrats ranging from 300 to 500.

According to the best available figures obtainable Wednesday at noon, the Republican ticket in Chilton County was elected on Tuesday from top to bottom. This in spite of the extremely bad weather which prevailled throughout election day. Considering the bad weather, an exceedingly good vote was polled, but it will be some hundreds short of the total number qualified.

There were no figures available for a number of candidates on first returns. We have gathered all the returns as they came in Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, which gives the following unofficial totals for the county:

For State Senator

W. T. Bean,	1181
L. H. Ellis,	687

For Representative

Percy M. Pitts,	1453
J. B. Atkinson,	1043

For Sheriff

J. Dudley Collins,	1611
W. W. Jones,	1311

For Tax Collector

J. T. Rockett,	1502
J. Renfroe Mullins,	1170

For Tax Assessor

S. M. Pate,	1689
M. C. Broadhead,	1127

For School Board

R. H. Bean,	1071
S. J. M. Webb,	1088
Tom Kemp,	627
T. L. Lecroy,	604

For School Board (Sort Term)

J. M. Smith,	961
J. W. P. Murphy,	500

For Commissioner, First District

J. P. Bean,	1071
R. T. Robinson,	529

For Commissioner, Second District

T. A. Maddox,	1073
R. J. Willioms,	530

The official count for the State and county ticket will be published in the next week's issue of the paper.

REPUBLICANS CARRY DeKALB COUNTY IN TUESDAY'S VOTE

A long distance phone message from M. D. Foshee at Fort Payne Wednesday morning informed The Union-Banner that the entire Republican ticket in DeKalb County was eected on Tuesday.

REPUBLICANS LOSE IN WINSTON COUNTY

Dispatches in the papers Wednesday morning state that the Republlican ticket was defeated in Winston County Tuesday. It was said that the Democratic vote was two to one over the Republicanh. Republican control of Winston County has been a matter of political history for years, the county being numbered among the few Republican strongholds.

JESSE BAKER'S SALE IS GOING FINE

The closing out sale which has been in progress at the store of Baker & Taylor for the past week has been a tremendous success. From the way people have bought goods and come back for more it looks like they must surely be getting some bargans worth while.

The sale is still going and will continue until the whole stock is gone. Our readers will find on the back page of this paper another advertisement that tells something of the sale this week.

Chilton County High School Department

High School Play.

On Thursday night November 10, "The Colonel's Maid" is to be given at the high school auditorium. The cast is from the various classes, and is an all star one. It will be wnrth the price of admission to see Dick Kemp as the Chinese cook. He will keep the audience in good humor as he defies the colonel, Philip Foshee. Another comedy role is played by Sam Martin, the young man who would forget his head if it were not tied on.

Excitement prevails when Colonel Byrd, a guest of Col. Rudd (played by Cornelius Hand), comes on the scene, believing himself poisoned.

The climax is reached as the forgetful young man elopes with Mrs. Carroll's (Exie Baker) only chid, Julia, Mittice Duncon. Lorene Murphy is the Colonel's maid, and most of the mystery and complications arise upon her arrival.

"The Colnnel's Maid" is the first play given at the high school this year, and everyone in Clanton should show an interest in their young peoples activities and come out. Next week a ticket selling campaign will be conducted so as to assure the success. Tickets will be only 20c and 35c. Buy one.

Agricultural Class Visits Farm.

The Chiton County High School Agricultural class visited the farm of Dr. C. N. Parnell at Maplesville on last Thursday. They found Dr. Parnell gathering corn from a field that had been in cultivation about 100 years. He said when he bought the ground it would hardly grow cow peas. Now it is yielding 75 to 100 bushels of corn per acre with very little work. He built up the land by growing hairy vetch and other legumes on it. It was an inspiration to the class to see the field. He is also growing Japanese clover and lagrane.

He invited the class to come back next Spring to see his fine crop of oats he expects to grow.

Our Orthophonic and Vivatone phonograph records are better; so why not get the best. All latest hits 75c each.—Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., Clanton.

Mitchell Powell Killed Self With A Shot Gun

J. Mitchell Powell, a prominent farmer of the Temple community, killed himself last Saturday just after noon, using a shotgun to perform the terrible deed. It is said that Mr. Powell had been in a despondent mood for a day or two and had made threats against his own life which caused his family and friends to worry. Their efforts to keep him from killing himself broke down Saturday when he managed some way to get hold of the gun, ran out into the yard of his home, and placed the muzzle of the gun against his throat and pulled the trigger. A hole was blown through his neck and death was instantaneous. Members of his family and some others who were present, saw what he was about to do, and made desperate efforts to get to him to prevent it.

Mr. Powell has been for many years one of the prominent farmers and landowners of this section. He was 49 years old, and is survived by his wife and three children.

He was buried Sunday at Walnut Creek.

COOPER NEWS

Business seems to be a little dull, except Tuesday when everyone went out to vote, we hope, for the betterment of our county.

Our Sunday School is progressing nicely, but could be better if some would take more interest and come. The little card class was given a party Saturday afternoon, and several little ones attended. There were 30 children present and 8 mothers. That showed their interest. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Connell, their teacher. The table was decorated with flowers and peanuts, cake and lemonade were served. The children played games, and everything went off nicely.

We had a splendid preacher with us Sunday and Sunday night. His sermons were grand, and were explained so well that the children could understand. We have splendid sermons once a month.

CONCORD—BILLINGSLEY

There will be a box supper at Concord near Billingsley Friday night, November 5th, for the benefit of the church. Everyone is invited to come. We invite all the girls who will bring a box, and also ask the boys to come and buy the boxes.

We repair phonographs and tune pianos, and supply your musical needs. Get our prices on pianos, players and Victrolas. Easy payments arranged. —Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., Clanton.

"15 Eggs to the Dozen!"

That's the way one man who feeds his hens Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash expresses his increased production. "I gather 15 eggs for every dozen that I got before I used Ful-O-Pep," he says.

You can increase the number of eggs you are getting every day, too. Right now is the time to do it—extra eggs mean real extra cash profit at this time of year.

This is the famous feed that contains Cod Liver Meal to make the other ingredients give additional value. Every mouthful gives the hens all feed—no waste—and young and old layers keep right on producing. Eggs are larger, better-flavored, and uniform in size with strong shells. And next Spring you'll have wonderful hatching eggs.

OLD FASHION GET-TOGETHER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Johnson, near Walnut Creek, was a scene of enjoyment last Sunday afternoon, when several families met there honoring Rev. J. H. Limbrick. Good eats were enjoyed, and then an old fashion get-together, those present talking with each other, and enjoying the occasion very much.

Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Jesse Baker, J. Mat Johnson, J. J. Mims, J. H. Johnson, E. W. Wilson of Montevallo, W. J. Rhodes, John Baker, Jr., Bill Coggins, and Rev. Limbrick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Johnson enjoyed the occasion very much, and invite all back again any time.

CEDAR GROVE

The farmers of this locality are about done gathering their crops, and are now cultivating and fertilizing their strawberries, preparing for a bumper crop next spring.

Mr. Hermie Childress of Loxley has returned home after a pleasant visit to friends and relatives.

Mrs. Fannie Collins died Saturday, and was buried here Sunday afternoon, Rev. G. B. Golden officiating. She leaves a husband, Walter (Scott) Collins, and several children, together with many friends to mourn her untimely death.

Mr. Cliff Childress of Loxley returned Monday after several pleasant days spent among friends and relatives in the "old home town."

Mr. A. F. Mims made a business trip to Clanton Saturday.

Mr. Frank Eiland of Dogwood visited his mother here Sunday.

Mr. Frank Mastin, one of our most progressive poultry men has improved his place by putting a cement floor in his hen house.

There will be a box supper at the church Saturday night, November 6. Everybody is invited to come, bring a basket and have a nice time.

Those who are interested in the upkeep of the cemetery at this place are requested to meet next Wednesday with the proper tools to clean off and otherwise beautify the grounds.. Do not forget the time, Wednesday, November 10. Come early.

WEST CHILTON

November, with its usual autumnal beauty is here, when the farmer is storing away his bountiful crops of corn, potatoes, and syrup.

Corn and potato crops are fine in this part; so, regardless of low priced cotton we guess we will pull through.

It seems absurd to talk about poisoning the boll weevil and leaf worm just to bring on an over-production of cotton. Why not let them have it?

A wedding of interest to the people of West Chilton occurred in October, when Miss Dora Armstrong of Birmingham, formerly of Randolph, was happily marred to Mr. Drew of New Jersey. They came to Randolph and spent a night with Miss Armstrong's parents, and then left for their home in the east.

Mr. Isaac Waldrup, who spent the summer with his children in southern Illinois, has just returned to his home here. We thought he would be here in time for the squirrel season and the November election.

There is a movement on foot here to diversify crops by growing peanuts and strawberries, instead of so much cotton. Mr. John Mahan of Birmingham is at the head of the movement.

Mrs. John Crumpton of Childersburg is visiting here this week.

Rev. Roberts of Verbena has been called to the pastorate of Macedonia.

Gov. Hayes of Arkansas is out in the public prints saying the people of the South will support Smith of New York for President in 1928 if he is nominated. Well, well, will Southern Protestants do that? It remains to be seen.

Mr. Joe Waldrup is reported on the sick list.

Mr. Lum Pate of Sardis will locate here.

Mrs. Ella Pate, who has been spending some time in Montgomery with her son, has returned home.

J. Dudley Collins was here last week; everybody here likes Dudley.

SINGING AT COLLINS CHAPEL

Last Sunday was the occasion of an all day singing at this place, which was said by many to be one of the best we have had in some time. The class, composed of good singers from almost every part of the county, with the United Singing Society, proved to be a bunch of live singers who could deliver the goods

In the forenoon the following directed: A. H. Glasscock, S. J. M. Webb, O. B. Robinson, Akins Collins, and Jasper Oaks. In the afternoon: A. H. Glasscock, J. Z. Mims, Akins Collins, W. G. Culp, H. H. Hayes, Jesse Jones, Herbert Lowery, Jasper Oaks, Burl Martin; a quartet, composed of A. H Glasscock, Jesse Jones, Herbert Lowery, Akins Collins, and arranged by Akins Collins, rendered beautiful selections after each director; their singing received a high note of praise from all who heard them. Organists were Misses Genie Collins, Jewell Bean, and Prof. W. G. Culp. A. H. Glasscock acted as chairman for the day, and made everybody feel welcome and perfectly at home.

The whole day was pronounced a success, and especially the splendid dinner spread by the good ladies of the community at noon. Many who were made acquainted with the United Singing Society's method of entertaining visitors expressed themselves as anxious to again hear the call to attend another occasion of this kind.

The Society will meet with New Salem next Sunday afternoon, instead of Thorsby.—E. L. Glasscock.

THOMPSON REUNION

The 72nd birthday of Mrs. Mary Thompson was celebrated on Wednesday, October 20, at the home of Mrs. Katie Duncan, her oldest daughter.

Those present to celebrate the occasion were the following and their families: H. F. Thompson, J. T. Thompson, Dudley Thompson, Lake Thompson, Arthur Thompson, Mrs. Glinnie Mims, Mrs. Katie Duncan, Daniel Thompson, Lindsey Thompson, Dock Zimmerman, George Tippett, Mrs. Mattie Thompson, Miss Lona Thompson, Miss Ethel Thompson, John Thompson, Evan Thompson, Miss Bessie Eiland, Mrs. Foshee, T. J. Powell, R. E. Powell, R. E. Gordon, C. D. Duke, Rev. G. B. Golden, Mrs. Burns Goodgame. All the children and great - grandchildren of Mrs. Thompson were present; all grandchildren were present except four.

At the noon hour a most delicious dinner was spread under the trees, and after prayer and thanks had been offered by the writer, each one enjoyed the dainties which had been prepared for the occasion. It was indeed a delightful feast. The afternoon was spent in making pictures, talking, laughing, and fun. We wish for the hostess many more happy birthdays.—G. B. Golden.

RUSHING-THOMAS

A marriage of much interest to their many friends was that of Mr. Ocie Rushing and Miss Ethel Thomas, last Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Rev. C. A. Taylor. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Geo. Thomas of Opelika, and the groom is the son of Mr. Jim Rushing of Floyd community. Their many friends and relatives wish them much happiness.

Red Cross Life-Saving Service Is Nation-Wide

Scarcity of water apparently has no effect on interest in water rescue. Arizona, popularly associated with wide desert stretches and cactus, has gone in with enthusiasm for the Red Cross Life-Saving program.

The building of new irrigation dams is rapidly transforming Arizona into a swimming State despite popular conception of that country.

In more than 800 swimming institutes conducted by the Red Cross the last summer, life-saving instruction was given by the Red Cross.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, 7,145 men, 5,408 women, and 16,713 juniors passed the rigid tests of the Red Cross Life-Saving Service, and were awarded insignia. The total for the year of 29,266 represents an increase of 6,374 over the previous year. The total membership of this corps at the close of the year was 102,076.

The Tenth Annual Roll Call from November 11 to 25 is an opportunity to encourage these efforts through membership in the Red Cross.

The Tenth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross is held this year from November 11 to 25. It is an invitation to you to endorse with your membership its wide reaching service to humanity.

Nearly 80,000 disabled veterans are assisted by the American Red Cross on an average every month. Care of the disabled veteran is a foremost responsibility of the Red Cross, in which the people can share by joining its ranks during the Tenth Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 25.

IT is a simple thing to secure the lowest rate for long distance calls and make a saving in your telephone bill.

Just remember that the reduced rate, both day and night, applies only to calls on which you do not request to speak to a particular person.

Calls at the reduced rate are handled by number, and it helps a lot if you know the number of the telephone you are calling.

But it is not necessary to know the number. Give the operator the name and address under which the called telephone is listed, and she will complete the call at the lowest rate.

If you do not understand exactly how to make long distance calls, let the operator help you.

CHILTON STILL CONTENT WITH G. O. P. RULE

The good people of Chilton County are still satisfied with the Republican party at the helm of the county government, as expressed in the election held in the county Tuesday. The Democrats had a fair shake at us this time, but even at that the majority by a substantial plurality deemed it wise and safe to hold on to the custom of past years to let the "elephant" hold his own. The "rooster" has been strutting right lively for the past few months, looking as though he was sure to be able to crow on November 2nd, but alas, he had to drop his feathers and go back into winter quarters for at least another two years.

The people of Chilton County are hard to fool. There are continually some few who get cold feet and desert the Republican ranks and go into the Democratic party, hoping that by so doing they may lead off their former Republican friends into "voting for the man" and disregarding party lines, but our people have heard that tale before. They know what a Democrat is and what is tied to him no matter how fine he has been in the past or what a pretty dress he now wears. No matter what attractive and alluring propositions they make and what big speakers they may send into our midst and tell us of the "crookedness" of the G. O. P., the people of Chilton County can not be shaken. They know that the Republican officials are servants of the common people and that they can be trusted to look after the interests of the county. They also have had carved into their memories the trickery, deception, and destruction of the so-called "equal rights to all" Democratic party, and it will take something more than around-the-corner juggling and honey-coated promises to get the people of old Chilton to change its well established course. They know that the word Republican means fair play and satisfactory administration of the public affairs, and they also know that "Democracy" means only empty promises and eventual hardship and privation, hence a majority of 300 to 500 for the Republican candidates even if the rain did pour all day.

It looked as if the Lord were against us Tuesday by sending the downpour of rain all day, but He wasn't. He only wanted to show that it would take more than cold wind, rain, and mud to keep the good people of Chilton County from asserting their rights. And He has proven it too.

ARE YOU A CITIZEN?

A few years ago a letter was written to the President of the United States, to presidents of universities, to labor men, to mayors of our great cities, in an effort to get every possibel variation of thought as to what was the duty of a citizen of a community. About forty of these letters were written and about the same number of replies were received. They all differed, it was said, in a general way, but one thought was present in every one of them and that was: "A citizen is not a citizen of a community unless he is serving that community."

The basis of citizenship as it was defined by every one of those men, whether politician, statesman, educator, capitalist, employer, or employee, indicated that a citizen could not be a citizen unless he was in the business of serving his community.

Whatever and whenever the need arises for service, be it Christian, Educational, Recreational or another thing that gives you an opportunity to serve your community, according to the opinions of these great men you will become a greater citizen by giving that service.

WHY IS IT - -

That before marriage a
Man will get down on his Knees and slobber to the Young lady of his choice—
"Marry me and you shall
Have a castle and many Servants and all that Money can buy. I'll even See that you get your Breakfast in bed every Morning!"

YET - -

After marriage—on any
Nice, cold fall or winter
Morning—the neighbors
Will hear the same man's Raspy voice greeting her
"Can't ja hear that Alarm clock? Get up
And close that window!
Yes, and make it snappy
On the breakfast! When
The house is warm—
Call me!"

P. S.: - - Only they all don't get away with it.)

* * * * * * *

"It's man's legal right to rule his home," says an eastern judge. Them's kind words, your honor—but we'd rather keep on saying:

"Good morning, wifie"
—instead of
"Good morning, NURSE-"

Hope The Wife Doesn't Read This !

Young swain writes in to ask—"Does it take nerve to propose to a girl?" No, Oswald, that's what you should save to stay living with her afterward.

All Night Parties Do Change "Bedtime!"

Young folks used to say "Good-Night" an hour or so after the evening meal. Nowadays, they usually say it before retiring right after breakfast.

Sure, and the flapper of old used to lisp—"Lips that touch liquor, shall never touch mine." Her modern counterpart puts up her nose and sweetly (?) chirps: "H-m-m-m. Any more left where that came from?"

'Wait, father," purred the sweet young thing—"before you throw my sweetheart down the front stairs. He's not a roughneck but a man of good connections."

"What is he?" came the elder's question.

"A Plumber!"—she sobbed.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Mrs. Downs Entertains.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. H. F. Downs delightfully entertained a group of friends at a bridge party at her home on Sixth Street. The home was profusely decorated with dahlias of gorgeous hues. Bridge was played at three tables. The high score prize, a salt and pepper set, was presented to Miss Kathleen Mullins. Mrs. Carrie Mullins received a bud vase, and the consolation prize fell to Mrs. Victor Heard.

A delicious salad plate with iced tea was served by the hostess to the following guests: Mesdames J. Hance Alred, Lawrence Gerald, John Browder, Oscar Jones, Victor Heard, J. Watts Moore, J. C. Jones, Carrie Mullins, W. H. Lanier of Wetumpka, Eric Hart; Misses Bettie Mullins and Kathleen Mullins.

Bridge Club.

Miss Kathleen Mullins entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others at her home on Second Avenue last Wednesday afternoon. The living room was beautifully decorated with vases and baskets of dahlias and zenias. Potted plants were also arranged about the room. Following a series of bridge games, Mrs. J. Hance Alred held top score and was presented two decks of Congress cards. Miss Mullins, assisted by Mrs. Frank Callen, served a tempting salad plate with hot coffee.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Lawrence Gerald, Victor Heard, Grady Reynolds, J. Watts Moore, Arthur Johnson, Oscar Jones, H. M. Simpson, N. S. Johnson, J. Hugh Jones, Clara M. Jackson of Evergreen, and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Thursday Club Luncheon.

The members of the Thursday Sewing Club and others were delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. P. Hayes at a luncheon on last Thursday at her home on Seventh Street. Baskets and vases of chrysanthemums, marigold, zenias, roses, and dahlias adorned the home for this occasion. The luncheon table was centered with a crystal bowl of orange cosmos. Attractive place cards bearing witches and pumpkins marked the places of the guests. A 4-course luncheon was served. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. W. Hayes and Mrs. Grady Broadhead. The afternoon was spent doing various kinds of fancy work.

Included in this gracious hospitality were Mesdames J. Watts Moore, J. Hugh Jones, T. C. McSwain, E. E. Upchurch, Bama Cox, P. T. Hinkle, M. L. White, J. C. Jones, S. J. Ezell, and John M. Van Derveer.

District Meeting.

The members of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Goodwater Baptist church are preparing to entertain the meeting of the Eastern district of the Alabama Baptist Woman's Missionary Union on Wednesday and Wednesday evening, November 10, the district composing 11 associations, Chilton, Carey, Clay, Randolph, Central, Elmore, East Liberty, Tallapoosa, Russell, Tuskegee, and Unity. The Thursday evening session will be devoted to the young people's work, with Mrs. L. H Dawson, of Waverley, Young People's Counselor for the district, presiding. Mrs. Grady Broadhead, president of the district, will preside at the Thursday session, which will begin at 9:30 A. M. Miss Kathleen Mallory, corresponding secretary of the W. M. U. of the Southern Baptist Convention, will be the principal speaker of the morning. Miss Essie Fuller, a missionary from Brazil, will speak in the afternoon, as will Miss Hannah Reynolds, State Young People's leader. Several subjects of interest to the work will be spoken of by leading women of the district. If you are planning to attend, send your name to Mrs. T. D. Eppes, Chairman of Hospitality, Goodwater. Mrs. J. C. Hughes, Pub. Chr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hosts.

A most delightful affair was given on Monday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis entertained, honoring their house guest, Mrs. Clarence Foley of Montgomery, at their home on Second Avenue. Hallowe'en ideas were featured in the decorations of the home for this occasion, pumpkins, black cats, witches, etc., being used. A number of forty-two games were played at four tables, resulting in Mrs. Kin Vinson winnning the high score prize, a compact, and Mr. Julius Burnett received the gentleman's prize, a tie. Consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Wyatt and Mr. Vinson. Novelty hats suitable for the occasion were the favors presented to the guests.

An attractive salad plate with hot coffee was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Kin Vinson, Briggs Crumpton, W. M. Wyatt, Joe Calloway, Julius Burnett, Grady Taylor; Mrs. Lucien Duncan, the guest of honor, and the hosts.

Little Peggy Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Page, was hostess on Saturday afternoon, entertaining a group of little friends at a Hallowe'en party at the home of her parents on Sixth Street. Pumpkins, jack-o'-lanterns, witches, and cats gave the home a festive appearance upon this occasion. Various games were played, and a jack-o'-lantern contest was enjoyed, with Miss Dixie Johnson winning the prize, a Hallowe'en novelty.

Dainty refreshments were served to Dixie and Billie Johnson, Olive Rainer Elmore, Evelyn Maddox, Mildred Maddox, Mary Courtney Jones, Celia Gerald, Helen Moore, Hilda Hart, Sallie Mullins Mahan, Mary Frances Atkinson, Ruth Gowan, Nell Ross Mullins, Callen Alred, and Sam Johnson.

Missionary Society.

The Baptist Missionary Society met at the church Monday afternoon for the regular monthly business meeting. The president, Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, called the meeting to order and also conducted devotional. A card from Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Parrish, and Mrs. B. Smith, was read, expressing appreciation of the sympathy and floral offerings at the death of their mother and sister, Mrs. Gore. Motion was made and carried that the Howard Glee Club be isvited to present their program at the high school auditorium Monday evening, November 29. The society decided to have a bazaar two weeks before Christmas. The chairmen of the circles were asked to take the affair in charge.

The following circle members were present: Circle No. 1—4; Circle No. 2—4; Circle No. 3—7; Circle No. 4—15.

Miss Frances Hopkins left Friday for Philadelphia, where she will enter the voice contest sponsored by the Federation of Music Clubs of America.—B'ham Age-Herald.

Mrs. Geneva Calloway has returned from a month's stay in Birmingham with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor and Mrs. Bama Cox motored to Montgomery Saturday and spent the day at the fair.

Young Matron's Club.

The Young Matron's Club was entertained Thursday by Mrs. Briggs Crumpton at her home on Eighth St. Fall flowers of bright hues were used to decorate the home. After the games, Mrs. Latham Ellis held top score and was presented a box of powder. Dainty sandwiches and hot coffee were served by the hostess.

Enjoying Mrs. Crumpton's hospitality were Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Kin Vinson, Lucien Duncan, Latham Ellis, Julius Burnett, Grady Heflin, Joe Higgins, and Milton Smith.

P. T. A. To Meet.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the grammar school Friday afternoon, November 12, at 2:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present. The subject will be "Good Books." Mrs. Hester will lead the devotional. Supervision of reading in the home, Mrs. Hugh Jones; Good reading in Character Building, Mrs. Johnson; Roll Call Question; Tell of a deep impression made by a book read in your childhood.

FEED MADE the DIFFERENCE

A CUSTOMER writes us from Georgia that he had a cow that would only give 24 pounds of milk a day.

Our representative in his local town influenced him to buy 2 bags of Alfocorn Milk Maker, which is sufficient feed for a 30-day test on one cow. He kept a perfect chart, and at the end of 30 days this same cow was giving 40 pounds of milk every day. Today his entire herd of 16 cows has doubled his income because he fed them exclusively on Alfocorn Milk Maker and good roughage.

RED CROSS SERVICES SHOW UPWARD TREND

Disaster Relief, Veterans' Aid Foremost in Fiscal Year. Services All Vital.

Expenditures by the American Red Cross for the last year showed a mounting curve as compared with those for the preceding year—$11,892,869.35 as against $10,321,679.80. The outstanding appropriations were for disaster relief and assistance to disabled veterans. For disaster relief the American Red Cross expended $3,871,827, of which the National Organization contributed $3,642,827, and the Red Cross Chapters $229,000. For disabled veterans, a total of $3,628,178 was called for, of which National Headquarters appropriated $1,641,178, and Chapters, $1,987,000.

The disaster relief figures do not include the Florida operations, which occurred after the end of the fiscal year, in addition to the work for disabled veterans, the Red Cross continued its work on behalf of men in the Regular Army and Navy and Marine Corps, which called for a total appropriation of $509,451.

The enrolled nurses' reserve, from which nurses for disasters and other emergencies are called, cost $47,382, borne entirely by the National Headquarters. Public Health Nursing, a part of the Red Cross program of national health work, cost $866,823; instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick required $152,466 in nutrition instruction, $164,107 was expended.

The Red Cross campaign to reduce deaths from accidents and drowning, conducted by the First Aid and Life Saving Service, called for $352,385, and has shown tangible results in lives saved annually.

The Junior Red Cross, one of the foremost peace influences in the world, was carried on at a cost of $531,053. All local Chapter activities of the Red Cross cost $823,000, while other domestic operations of the Red Cross, borne by National Headquarters, amounted to $264,040.

The remainder of the fiscal year's expenditures were accounted for in insular and foreign operations, of which foreign disasters in which the American Red Cross served, absorbed $53,075; League of Red Cross Societies, $180,000; Junior Red Cross foreign projects, $74,065; assistance to insular Chapters, $49,599; other insular and foreign work, $54,783; supervision of service activities and general management, $270,629.27.

The total expenditures for the year ended June 30 last were divided: National Organization, $7,381,869.35; local Chapters, $4,511,000. In the Tenth Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 25, the public is invited to share in this vast work done in their name by enrolling in the American Red Cross as members.

Claim for the oldest volunteer knitter in the country is advanced by the Lincoln County Chapter of the American Red Cross at Wiscasset, Maine. She is Mrs. L. A. W. Jackson, who keeps busy knitting stockings for the Red Cross to send to destitute children abroad. The San Pedro, Calif., Chapter has a close second in a volunteer knitter 85 years old.

The annual report of the American Red Cross stresses the service of volunteers. In more than 3,000 Red Cross Chapters the officers and workers are volunteers.

They will act as solicitors in the Tenth Annual Roll Call for members, which the Red Cross will conduct from November 11 to 25.

NEW CEDRON

There will be a box supper and hen party at New Cedron on Thanksgiving night, November 25. All members come, bring a live hen. The public is cordially invited. t-11-25

Although the 1926 cotton crop is much larger than that of 1925, it will bring the growers only about two-thirds as much.

During the first six weeks of 1926 gasoline taxes in the United States brought in $84,000,000, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. More than 19,500,000 motor vehicles were registered and the gasoline consumption per vehicle was 225 gallons. All states, with the exception of Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York, impose gasoline taxes.

NEW DEMANDS FOR COTTON WILL HELP

With the price of cotton now very low and the purchasing power of an acre of cotton the lowest since records have been kept, economists of the Agricultural College and Extension Service at Auburn are suggesting that farmers improve their own situation by increasing the demands for cotton. They say that this can be done by farmers if they will demand cotton bags for fertilizer, cottonseed meal, feeds, cement, flour, and other products.

Already much cement is being sold in cotton bags but this is not true of fertilizer, cottonseed meal, feeds, sugar, and flour, for which either jute or paper containers are used.

Due to economic reasons, the United States is consuming anually about 800,000,000 pounds of jute, all of which is imported. While it may not be possible for cotton to replace all of this jute, cotton can at present prices replace a large portion of it, thereby taking from the market much if the low-grade cotton which is very effective in reducing the general price level.

Whether or not manufacturers of these products place them in cotton bags remains for farmers to decide. If all cotton growers were to demand cotton bags the manufacturers would comply and there would be an immediate improvement in the situation.

Although very little cotton goes into one bag, a very large amount would be consumed each year if cotton bags were used for all of the products named. It will establish a new outlet for this amount of cotton and cotton growers will profit by higher prices due to a greater demand.

BETTER THAN BARGAINS

We started our Used Car business with the idea that a good car at a fair price is better than a fair car at a bargain price. That idea has now become a definite policy. Our customers can tell you why.

$75,000,000

ADDED TO ALABAMA'S PAYROLLS IN SIX YEARS

Thousands of employes, receiving an annual average wage of $75,000,000 are working today in new industries which have been located since 1919 in the territory served by Alabama Power Company.

This astonishing disclosure of the growth of Alabama industry is contained in a report just issued by the Industrial Division of Alabama Power Company. The report is based on comparative surveys made in 1919 and 1926.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE STRIKING CONTRASTS IN THE 1919 AND 1926 FIGURES

In 1919 the company served 133 different companies representing 14 types of industry, and in 1926, 419 companies representing 21 types.

IN THESE SIX YEARS

COTTON SPINDLES increased from 1,155,000 to 1,530,000.

COTTON MILLS served increased from 13 to 56. Twenty of these were new mills. They employ 8,000 people. Their payroll is $6,000,000.

PIPE PLANTS served increased from 2 to 19. Thirteen are new. These and other foundries and machine shops located since 1919 brought 4,000 wage earners whose pay roll is $5,000,000.
BRICK PLANTS served increased from 1 to11. Six were new.

CEMENT PLANTS served increased from 2 to 6. One completely remodeled, the other 3 new.

LIME WORKS served increased from 1 to 5. Three new.

COAL MINES served increased from 34 to 70.

POWDER WORKS, none in 1919, one in 1926.

KNITTING MILLS, none in 1919, five in 1926.

Every three years in the past nine, the output of Alabama Power Company generating plants has doubled. Nine years ago the output was 294,000,000 KWH. Last year this had increased to 1,121,000,000 KWH. In 1932 it is estimated the output will be 2,350,000,000, and in 1940, 4,500,000,000 KWH.

WHY THIS AMAZING RECORD?

Low rates, adequate service, national advertising and the wholehearted co-operation of civic bodies and patriotic individuals with the vision to see and the will to achieve.

NEW SALEM

The United Singing Society will meet at New Salem church next Sunday afternoon, November 7. There will be preaching service in the morning, by Rev. Payne. We hope everybody will come. We expect the Devaughns will be with us. All singers are invited to come and bring someone with them.—R. H. Bean.

MOVED TO BIRMINGHAM

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Denty have moved to Birmingham where they will make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Cherry. Their address is 214 South Hawkins Street. Their many friends regret to see them leave Clanton. Our best wishes go with them.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for the kindness and sympathy shown in the recent death of our husband and father.—Mrs. T. J. Pinson and Children.

Mrs. Curry will be glad to have your orders for Noe-Equl hosiery and dainty knit underwear.

Faulty Elimination

Should Be Corrected—Good Elimination Is Essential to Good Health.

IF you would be well, see to your elimination. Faulty kidney action permits toxic material to remain in the blood and upset the whole system. Then, one is apt to have a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, a toxic backache or headache, and often some irregularity of secretions, such as scanty or burning passages. More and more people are acclaiming the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. Buy Lullwater Garments and make your family dollars do more work

Lullwater Play Suits and all other garments stand the severest kind of wear. They are all made from the famous Lullwater chambray produced in our own mills, from cotton we buy from farmers, and clean, dye, spin and weave into cloth. The play suits have semi-sailor collar and two pockets in waist. They are carefully and attractively tailored throughout and cut from an accurately fitting pattern.
Lullwater Play Suits will not shrink nor fade; little folks can wear them for either play or dress-up wear.

OTHER LULLWATER GARMENTS ARE Bungalow Dresses, Men's and Boys' Shirts, Pants, Overalls and Jumpers. Each garment is the product of the best material and tailoring. For sale at the best stores.

FROM COTTON BOLL TO YOU

The great Lullwater Mills with their immense annual output, are complete production units within themselves, converting raw cotton into high-grade finished garments, selling direct to your dealer and giving you the benefit of all middlemen's savings. Get acquainted with the Lullwater line.

Chilton 12, Marbury 0

Chilton County High, doped to win from Marbury High by at least four touchdowns, managed to eke out a 12 to 0 victory on the local field last Friday afternoon.

One of the Chilton backs said "that was the best line we have bucked this season, Cloverdale not excepted," and that explains the small margin of victory. Marbury has a line composed of muscular lads, and it is strong. Chilton's plunging backs were able to gain a little on every buck, but very few plays through the line were good for more than a few yards. The best buck through Marbury's line was in the third quarter, when Gore took the oval on Marbury's 15-yard line, and with a remarkable side-stepping, stiff-arming, twisting run through the secondary defense, slipped over the line for a touchdown. On this play Gore was tackled by three men, about the 5-yard line, and breaking into a twist, broke loose from the pack, with the remaining ground clear.

Chilton's first score came on a pass, Gore to Sanford, after the ball had been worked deep into Marbury territory on some nice end runs and bucks. The other counter has been described above.

Forward passes played a small part in the game, except when Chilton scored on theirs. The rest of the time honors were about even, each completing one or two, and having one each intercepted.

Marbury was unable to gain thru Chilton's line except on one or two occasions, their best buck being when Mitchell went over his right tackle for about 9 yards. In the last minutes of the game Marbury stiffened on their own 5-yard line, and staved off three savage Chilton plunges, and took the ball on down on her own 3-yard line. Marbury's last play, and the last play of the game, a long pass, was barely missed, the receiver juggling the ball, with 90 yards of clear field in front of him.

These two teams tie up at Marbury next Friday afternoon, and another good battle is expected.

Recent investigations on the Experiment Station at Auburn, indicate that a large number of boll weevils are going into hibernation this fall. The new growth of cotton plants following stripping by army worms gave boll weevils late food.

HAS STRENGTH OF A BEAR

"About 6 months ago my father was very sick with his stomach, which had been troubling him for several years. Three doctors said he had cancer and one said it was gall stones—all agreed an operation necessary, but on account of his age I was afraid to risk it. I told a friend about it who said his wife had been through the same trouble and had been cured by taking MAYR'S. I at once bought a bottle for father and he is now strong as a bear and can eat more ham and cabbage than any 3 men." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Saturday, October 30, was a happy day for a number of Clanton children, being the birthday of Ruth Jones. Ruth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jones, is beloved by all who know her.

Nearly 50 little friends went to Ruth's home between 3 and 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon to assist in the celebration. A number of games were played, and delightful refreshments were served out on the lawn. Mrs. Jones was assisted in the entertainment by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Calloway, Mesdames Fred Calloway, Marcus Polk, Alonza Parrish, Leonard Farley, and others. The many birthday presents were much appreciated by the honoree, who will cherish lasting recollections of the happy occasion on Saturday afternoon.

ECZEMA

Dries right up!

If you just realized how easy it is to stop fiery, itching, burning eczema by simply building up the red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S., you wouldn't waste another minute trying to do it any other way.

That's the only way to relieve irritated, broken out skin of any sort. You lack rich, red blood. Impurities are in your system. The blood is so weak it can't fight back and overcome the enemy, so the impurities break out through the skin.

S. S. S. builds the blood back—builds millions of new red-blood-cells. Eczema dries right up. Boils, pimples, blackheads, ugly blotches and irritating rashes all disappear.

Clear up your skin. Get S. S. S. All druggists sell it. The larger bottle is more economical.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Thorsby Chapter O. E. S. will give a dinner at the Masonic Hall November 6. Come and buy a well-prepared dinner for 40 cents.

The outstanding event in Thorsby for this week is the State Conference of Alabama Congregational Churches, beginning Friday night at Thorsby Congregational church, and continuing Saturday and Sunday, morning, afternoon and night. The principal speakers will be Rev. Malcolm Dana, D. D., and Dr. Stapleton, of New York, Rev. Chas. L. Fiske of Cleveland, O., Rev. Neil McQuarrie and Rev. J. F. Blackburn of Atlanta, Rev. Chas. T. Lunsford of Hackleburg, and Rev. R. A. McKay of Tallassee, Rev. Samuel Long and Rev. N. A. Long representing two or more Alabama churches, together with several local speakers. Delegates are expected from all parts of the state, and an interesting program has been prepared. The people of Thorsby and vicinity, rgardless of church affiliations, are cordially invited to attend the meetings.

Messrs. Leo Brewster and Luther Rowe, Thorsby Institute students of Bibb County, spent the week end with home folks at Camp Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Wood (Nolia Robinson) and mother, Mrs. Louise Robinson, and son, L. C., of Birmingham spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Franklin.

Rev. Rogers of Verbena has accepted a call to the pastorate of Thorsby Baptist church, and will move here this week, occupying the Robinson cottage on Franklin Street.

At a recent meeting of the congregation of Thorsby Baptist church the followng officers were elected:—Emmett Billingsley, Secretary; and Coy Gibbons, Treasurer.

Mr. Herbert W. Peterson has accepted a position with the Aabama Power Company in Birmingham, and has already taken up his work there. Many Thorsby people will wish him well in his new place.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Parrish will soon leave Thorsby to reside in Clanton. Mr. Grover Bice will move his family from Strasburg into the house Mr. and Mrs. Parrish occupied.

Mrs. Magna Anderson of Boyles sepnt several days in Thorsby last week visiting old friends, and attending to business.

Mrs. Relius Franklin gave a shower Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Webb Parrish. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, pink and white being the color scheme. About 70 guests were invited.

Rev. and Mrs. Each, accompanied by Alta, Cecil, and William, motored to Birmingham last Saturday on a shopping expedition; they also attended the big circus.

Mr. George Mims of Collins Chapel will move into his house on Michigan Avenue about November 15th; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Higgins, who now occupy the house will take rooms at the home of Mrs. W. L. Leary.

The Congregational Ladiês Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Each on Thursday afternoon, November 4th.

There will be a B. Y. P. U. social at the Baptist church Saturday night, November 6; Group No. 1 will entertain Group No. 2.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will hold their annual bazaar on Saturday after Thanksgiving, November 27th. Group No. 2 of the Ladies Guild met with Mrs. A. E. Reagan on Tuesday, and Group No. 1 met with Mrs. T. W. Robinson on Wednesday of this week, for work in preparation for the bazaar.

The Eastern Star will serve a dinner at the Masonic Hall on Saturday, November 6th.

Mrs. H. L. Walker and daughter, Mrs. Grover Bice, spent Tuesday in Montgomery.

Mr. O. L. Jackson was a visitor in Thorsby last Sunday.

Miss Lena Franklin was a week end visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Franklin.

Prof. C. H. Williams, who is teaching at Camp Hughes, spent the week end with his family. Mrs. Williams accompanied him when he returned to his school, and will remain with him for a week.

Misses Jean, Myra, and Elizabeth Johnson, Corrine Polk, Mary and Louise McSwain, Ralph Johnston, John Van Derveer, Euelle Hyman and Jas. Roberts of Thorsby Institute all spent the week end with their respective parents in Clanton.

Arnold Soberg, and Misses Bertha Littleton and Anna Werness of Birmingham were week end visitors at their homes in Thorsby.

Mr. Walter Parnell, who has been spending a week or more in Virginia, and visiting his sister, May, in Washington, returned last Friday.

Mr. George W. Freeman is working in Birmingham at present.

Miss Hattie Davenport of Birmingham was a visitor with her home folks, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davenport, Sunday.

Mrs. Nels Peterson and children returned Saturday night from a visit to Mrs. Petersen's parents at West Point, Ga.

Mr. Burt Bosworth and sons of Birmingham visited the home of his brother, J. M. Bosworth, Sunday.

Miss Lois Primm, who is teaching at Rocky Mount, was at home in Thorsby Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Gresham Lowery of Howard College was operated on in a Birmingham hospital for appendcitis about three weeks ago, and was brought home Sunday night, doing fairly well.

Mr. Tom Robinson of Birmingham spent Wednesday of last week with his mother, Mrs. T. W. Robinson.

Robert Hill of Birmingham spent the week end with his cousin, Henry Robinson.

A domitory Hallowe'en party was held in the dining hall Saturday night. The games were in charge of Miss Murray and Miss Arthur. Many wierd people were at the party, all masked, as practically everyone wore a Hallowe'en costume. Part of the program was to guess who each person was. Various games suggestive of Hallowe'en were played. Toward the close of the party, the guests were led on a treasure hunt. This carried them thru dark rooms and hallways then into a lighted room where they found directions for finding the treasure. In a dimly lighted room they found a large black cauldron, from which refreshments were served.

The Christian Endeavor Society was led by Isabella Gilbert. A short missionary play was given, and the following officers elected for the coming year: President, John Van Derveer; Vice President, Doris Freeman; Secretary, Jean Johnson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Butler; Treasurer, William Each; Organist, Dorothy Butler. Chairmen of committees: Prayer meeting, Miss Arthur; Lookout, Luther Rowe, Mr. Maddox assistant; Missionary, Mrs. Butler; Social, Gertrude Steiner, Miss Gerald Assistant; Music, Miss Williams; Press, Cecil Each; Flower, Meryl Freeman; Junior Clara Grigsby; Whatsovere, Ronald Lucas.

Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association met at the public school auditorium last Friday afternoon for their monthly social and business meeting. The hall was beautifully decorated with autumn colors and Hallowe'en designs. They were entertained by the faculty and students with an interesting Hallowe'en program. Following this the regular business program of the P. T. A. was held.

Where Proper Relief Lay

Late in life, Messrs. Abrams and Shapinsky took up golf. Both were retired cloak and suit merchants of the type made famous in Montague Glass' immortal stories.

On a glorious September afternoon they were going over the links of their country club. They were playing for a stake of a dollar a hole, and the competition was spirited.

Mr. Abrams drove into a bunker. With his iron he made four ineffectual swipes, raising the sand in clouds Then he stooped down, picked up the half buried ball and tossed it out on the fairway.

Mr. Shapinsky stiffened with indignation.

"Look a' here!" he whooped. "You couldn't do that. It's against the rules."

"I already have done it," said Mr. Abrams, calmly.

"But again I tell you it's against the rules," declared Mr. Shapinsky. "I have been playing this game longer as you have and I tell you it says in the book where you should not touch the ball with your hands at all. What am I going to do if by such tricks as that you should win the match?"

"Sue me," said Mr. Abrams.

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's comfort and well being is very important. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use Mother's Friend to keep the skin and muscles soft and pliable—thus aiding the tissues and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. No woman awaiting the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend.

Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the grandest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

Mother's Friend is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is applied externally.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 31, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet, "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

This bank has the distinction of being the first bank organized in Chilton County. It was, in the beginning, the financial center for the then little village of Clanton. It has become outstanding in Central Alabama.
Its history embraces seasons of panic and pestilence, good times and bad times, war times and peace times; but from the time of its beginning to this day of grace—almost a quarter of a century—it has discharged all trust and met all obligations with absolute fidelity.

EXTRA SESSION MAY BE CALLED SOME TIME IN DECEMBER

It has been reported in the daily papers of the State that there is probability that the legislature of Alabama will be called into extra session by Governor Brandon some time during the month of December, maybe December 13, for legislative action on the proposition of submitting another 25 million dollar road bond issue to the people of Alabama.

Prominent state officials are understood to be bending their efforts toward something that will enable the present road building plans to go forward without interruption. Governor-elect Bibb Graves is understood to be favorable to such action. He pledged himself in his campaign, as favoring a 25 million dollar road bond issue with which to continue road work.

The only way to avert a lapse of road building activities is to have a special session before the regular session convenes in January.

REPUBLICANS ELECTED ONE IN FAYETTE COUNTY

One Republican was elected in Fayette County on Tuesday, November 2. The successful one was Mr. John A. Rutledge, for County Commissioner of the Third District. The present Tax Collector, Mr. J. R. Fowler, Republican, was defeated by R. B. Newton, Democrat, by a majority of 176. The Democratic candidate for Sheriff won by a majority of 407. The total Republican vote for Fayette County was 1,187; Democrats, 1,363.

NOTICE! SHELBY READERS!

With this issue of the paper many subscriptions will expire. The reader is now in position to pass judgment as to whether the paper is worth the money or not. The price of the paper is $1.50 per year. I know that the price of cotton has gone to the bad, but if people will spend $1.50 for The Union-Banner I feel that it will be worth more than the price in winning the next fight. Our page will continue and we hope to make it better with each issue. I want all of the correspondents to get busy and send in all the local news from your respective communities. We would like to add others to our little club, and lets have the news from practically every community in the county. By doing this we will have a paper equal to one of our own, but we must all renew our subscriptions and see that our neighbors do. Send your subscription with your $1.50 to me, at Calera, Ala., or direct to The Union-Banner, Clanton, Ala. Trusting that every subscriber will renew and that new subscribers may be added, I am, yours for the paper and the best interests of Shelby County.—A. B. Baxley.

BAXLEY THANKS VOTERS

I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation to the voters of Shelby County who stood by and supported me and the Republican ticket in the general election. We fought a good fight; we kept the faith, and our defeat can be charged to only two things—the absentee ballot and disqualified voters. Let me insist that every man and woman between the ages of 21 and 45 qualify and be prepared for the next election. This is our best hope to win until the absentee ballot can be done away with. If you know of someone in your community who is behind with his or her poll tax, see him and persuade him to pay up now.

Again thanking all my friends for their loyal support, and trusting that we all may see a brighter day, I am, Yours for cleaner politics and better government,—A. B. Baxley.

EVERYTHING READY ROR FIDDLERS AT THORSBY

Prof. W. T. Bean reports that everything is getting shaped up fine for the big fiddlers convention at Thorsby Public School Saturday night, November 13. A number of musicians have replied to his invitation, stating that they will be on hand to take part in the program and compete for prizes. The merchants of Thorsby are cooperating in the arrangements and it is hoped that a prize will be available for every fiddler who takes part.

The following judges have been announced: Sheriff Littlejohn, C. R. Foss, and W. C. Martin.

Mr. Bean says the Devaughn quartet is expected to be there, which, in addition to the fiddlers, will insure a variety of music which will be pleasing to everyone.

Don't forget the date, Saturday night, November 13, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Admission, 20c and 35c proceeds for benefit of Thorsby Public School.

THE CLANTON DRAMATIC CLUB

The above is the name of one of Clanton's leadng organizatons. By that name it shall be known—an organization that stands for the betterment of our community. "What's in a Name?" That is a fair question, and we will try to answer it.

The Clanton Dramatic Club is made up of Clanton's own people—people who stand ace high in the community, people who lead—leaders. This is an organization Clanton has been in need of. Now it is here—here to stay; so let's all help and make it bigger and better club.

Tuesday night, November 9th the club held a meeting in the music room of the high school, and the attendance was fine. You just can't keep a good thing down. The weather did not have the least effect on the membership. One thing it did do—it pepped them up to a high pitch. The roll was called and only three members were absent, and they were all on the sick list. How's that? Fine, eh?

The club has decided on a play, which is to take place Monday night, November 22, at the Wadesonian Theatre, Clanton. "Double Crossed" is the name, and "boy howdy" what a play. It is a jaw-breaker, a side-splitter; full of laughs. It is rated as one of the best shows on the American stage today. It is supported by a cast that never fails to put a play over big. Remember, November 22, at the Wadesonian.

PERCY M. PITTS THANKS THE VOTERS FOR HIS ELECTION

To the Voters of Chilton County:

I desire to take this method of thanking you for the confidence reposed in me, in honoring me in the recent general election, to represent our great county in the next legislature. My desire is that I may conduct myself in the future, both as your representative, and otherwise, that you will never regret having cast your vote and influence for me.

For those who supported me, I am especially grateful; and for those who voted for my opponent, Mr. J. B. Atkinson, I hold no ill will. Now that the election is over, let us all strive for those things that are for the best interest of our great County and State.

I will gladly receive any suggestions from anyone, regardless of political affiliation, regarding any constructive legislation pertaining to our County and State.

Again thanking you for the honor bestowed upon me, I am,

Yours very truly,

PERCY M. PITTS.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT MAPLESVILLE NOVEMBER 25

We are requested to announce that there will be a fiddlers convention at Maplesville High School, Thursday night, November 25. Everybody is invited to come. Full details of the program will be published later.

ONE REPUBLICAN ELECTED IN SHELBY COUNTY

W. W. Wyatt, for Member of the County Board of Revenue, was the only Republican to stem the tide of Democratic opposition in Shelby County on November 2. Andrew Jackson was defeated for Sheriff by a majority of over 300, according to returns.

NEW SALEM

The United Singing Society met at New Salem Sunday afternoon, November 6th, and spent a pleasant afternoon singing beautiful songs of praise. A large crowd attended and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all. Directors for the afternoon were: Akins Collins, Henderson Hayes, Mr. Lowery, Roy Jackson, Messrs. Glasscock and others. Pianists were, Mrs. Cox, Jewel Bean and Mrs. Dorminey. We hope to have the society with us again in the future.—R. H. Bean.

Rev. F. B. Ticknor is spending the winter in Key West, Fla. His address is St. Paul's rectory.

THE BIGGEST POTATO WEIGHS NINE POUNDS

We have had many very fine samples of potatoes sent to The Union-Banner office this fall. They range in size all the way from five pounds to 35 inches long. The biggest one was sent to us by Mr. J. H. Moore, of Autauga County. It weighs nine pounds.

Sam Lockhart brought the longest one, measuring 35 inches. Other of the lateral specimens were brought by Mr. N. W. Latham of Lawley, and John A. Campbell of Jemison.

Squire Dennis of Beat 11 contributed a nice collection of old fashioned Spanish potatoes.

From all reports this has been one of the best potato years in our history. Everybody has made a good crop and there are now a lot of surplus potatoes. It would be very profitable if our farmers who have surplus potatoes could market them to an advantage. Co-operative marketing would make our surplus potatoes worth money now.

On Tuesday, W. H. Raybon, of Thorsby, brought in a Porto Rica measuring 27 inches in legnth.

FAMILY REUNION

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blalock was a scene of gladness last Sunday, when their children gathered there to celebrate the 69th birthday of their father. Many useful presents were given Mr. and Mrs. Blalock. A table had been made out in the yard, on which a bountiful dinner was spread at the noon hour. The evening was spent in jolly conversation, while the children played many games. Those present were Mr. Sam Smith and wife, Obie D. Smith and family, W. A. Blalock and family, Steve, Ivy, Charlie, Jim, Renzy, Ollie, and Ben Blalock, and their families, Audie and Allie Blalock, Mrs. Brown and children. The children were all present except three. About four o'clock all left for their homes, wishing mother and father many more years of health and happiness.

R. H. BEAN THANKS VOTERS

Dear Voters:

It is with the deepest and most sincere gratitude that I express to you my thanks for election as member of the County Board of Education. I will at all times be ready to listen to your suggestions, and will try to fulfill my promise, which was to do all I could to make the schools better.

Again thanking you, I am,—R. H. Bean.

PROVIDENCE—BEAT 13

There will be singing at this place next Sunday afternoon. We ask Oak Grove, and all other good singers who can to be with us We hope to have Prof. Robinson, Mr. Hayes and several other good singers with us.

There will also be a box supper at this place, 6 miles above Jemison, next Friday night, and possibly some good music. Come prepared to buy a box.

Cod liver oil will keep the poultry flock in good health and keep the eggs coming this winter.

With most crops harvested, this is a good time to bring tools in from the field and store them in a good shelter.

Report of Grand Jury As Made Last Week

To the Honorable George F. Smoot, Judge of the Nineteenth Circuit of the State of Alabama:

We, the Grand Jury empanelled aa this the July Term, 1926, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Ala., beg leave to make this, our final report.

We have examined 47 cases, and 112 witnesses, and have returned 15 indictments.

We have examined the bonds of the county officials and find the same with sufficient sureties to protect the county.

We have examined the books of the County Superintendent of Education and find them neatly and correctly kept, as far as we were able to ascertain.

We find the books of the County Treasurer, as far as we could understand, to be in good condition.

We find the fee book of the Probate Judge has been kept a provided by law.

We have examined the feed book of the Sheriff of the county and find it correctly kept.

We have examined the Poor House and we found the same in good condition, except one house that needs covering, and one chimney that needs repairing. We found 15 inmates—4 males and 11 females, no negroes. We talked with the inmates and they told the Committee from the Grand Jury that they were well cared for, and had plenty of food, clothing, and bedding.

We have examined the jail of the county and find that it is under repairs, that is, we refer to the roof and gutters. There were three windows with panes out and sash loose. The Grand Jury is of the opinion and it so recommends, that there should be a new stool in the women's closet; otherwise the jail is all right.

The Grand Jury recommends that the roads and bridges be looked after in certain parts of the county.

We find the court house in good condition except that the closets are in need of repair. It appears that the water supply is insufficient. It is to be hoped that this condition can be remedied.

The Grand Jury is of the opinion that crime conditions in our county are on the decline.

We want to thank the Court for his able charge, and the Solicitor for his able assistance, the Bailiff for his faithful duties and the Sheriff and his deputies for their assistance. We also thank our foreman for his counsel and advice in our deliberations.

Having completed our duties, we await the further orders of the Court.

Dated, this, the 5th day of November. 1926.

WALTER M. PARNELL,
Foreman.

The following were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fox at their home in Clanton last Sunday: Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Tucker and children of Camp Hugh, Mr. and Mrs. James McThornhill of Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Reynolds and children if Birmingham.

O'Dell Headley, a student at the University of Alabama, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Headley.

The Spirit of Thankfulness should pervade every heart, not only at this season of the year, but all the time because all classes are coming to a better understanding of their need for each other.

Our greatest source of THANKSGIVING is the fact that our patrons recognize our desire and ability to serve them faithfully.

AGRICULTURE HAS "FAIR" YEAR

The gross financial returns to agriculture probably will not be far from last year's figures, the Department of agriculture sums up the agricultural situation in its monthly report just issued.

"Spring wheat and cotton are the dark spots in the picture this fall, and the apple industry may also be noted as sharply depressed by low prices," the report says.

"Except for some depression in the territory of these crops, however, the season winds up with about average crop yields, and a probability of gross financial returns not far from last year's figures."

Discussing the cotton situation, the department says:

"The fall in cotton prices now fills the headlines. Predictions of the same last spring were given scant notice. For four years the growers of cotton have been doing just what other producers do when business is profitable—increasing production.

"In the last four years the South has turned out approximately 50,000,000 bales of cotton. During forty consecutive months beginning July, 1922, the average farm price of cotton never went below 20 cents a pound, and much of that time it exceeded 25 cents. Four good cotton crops sold well enough so that growers increased their acreage from 30,000,000 in 1921 to 47,000,000 acres this year.

"The South is not without resources for meeting the present situation and rarely have the farm and business leaders of any large region met an emergency in so united and comprehensive a fashion. Cotton is good property. The consuming world can and will use a lot of it this year."

Up in the spring wheat country there is a strip of territory extending from central North Dakota through South Dakota to central Nebraska, the report says, where drought and bad weather cut the crops and for which a lean winter looms ahead. South Dakota showed the lowest general crop condition in the country last month, only 56% of average. Other local areas of flood, drought, or frost damage claim some attention but they are less extensive.

Hog cholera, which "is showing up with rather serious losses in some counties of Illinois and Iowa," is giving producers considerable concern, although, it is pointed out, "general underlying conditions in the Corn Belt are better than last year.

"Corn prices are slightly higher but still low enough to encourage feeders. Hog prices stay relatively high and reports indicate a materially larger crop of pigs in prospect this fall. The small 1925 crop of higs, now in pack, cost the packers nearly $1,200,000,000. It brought producers more money than in any year excepting the wartime inflation years and measured in terms of corn prices during the marketing season was probably the most profitable ever marketed."

The department's general index of purchasing power of farm products, in terms of non-agricultural commodities remained at 83 for September, the same as in August, the five prewar years being considered as 100.

PROVIDENCE—BEAT 13

We wish to announce that on Thursday, November 18, we expect to meet at this place for the purpose of cleaning off the additional part of the cemetery. We ask all who are interested to come on that day, with suitable tools, to help do the work. We want to make a good job of this.

We hope to have our new heater by the date mentioned, and we hope to have help to put it up, besides the other work on yards, etc.

CHESTNUT CREEK

Our singing Sunday afternoon was good. The singing was opened with a song by chairman L. T. Grant, followed by prayer by Mr. S. M. Yates. Directors for the afternoon were Messrs. O. L. Devaughn, S. M. Yates, I. D. Huett, Ammie Boswell, Jesse Baker, Jesse Jones, R. T. Grant, and Jasper Robinson. Pianists were Messrs. Lee Grant and Ammie Boswell, and Miss Beatrice Grant.

Our society will meet again next Third Sunday afternoon. Everybody come and let's make our society a stronger and better one, instead of making it a waker one by not being present. Your presence is appreciated.—Mrs. Mollie Minor.

CEDAR GROVE

Mr. A. F. Mims and family made a business trip to Clanton Saturday.

Uncle Rube Childress of Sylacauga visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Ann Eiland is visiting in Birmingham this week.

There was a good crowd at the box supper, where several nice boxes were disposed of, and $15.66 was realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bean of Birmingham visited Mrs. Bean's father, Mr. A. F. Mims, Sunday.

Mr. Frank Mastin has purchased a new Westinghouse country home light plant, which he will install on his chicken farm. Mr. Mastin leaves nothing undone that will make his business more up-to-date.

Mr. Charley Eiland, who was operated on for appendicitis while working at Cherokee Bluff, has improved so that he will return to work next week.

Several of our young people attended the singing at Liberty last Sunday, which was conducted by able musicians, and which was enjoyed very much.

PINEDALE

There will be a box supper at this place on Saturday night, November 13, beginning at 7:00 o'clock, proceeds to go for benefit of the school. We hope to have a good crowd and plenty to eat.—Principal.

CHEVROLET ESTABLISHING NEW PARTS SERVICE SYSTEM

The Chevrolet Motor Company is spending $1,500,000 on the installation of a radically new system of replacement parts distribution which executives declare will assure uniformly prompt service for every Chevrolet owner in the United States.

The plan, involving the establishment of six new major supply depots throughout the country, has been worked out by President W. S. Knudsen and J. P. Little, manager of the parts and service division. In a service way it supplements the greater production capacity which will be available after completion of the $10,000,000 Chevrolet factory expansion program.

The new supply depots, in which will be stored reserve parts stocks, are to be located at the following points: Oakland, Calif.; Janesville, Wis.; Cincinnati, O.; Buffalo, N. Y.; St. Louis, Mo.; and Tarrytown, N. Y.; All of the depots except those at Tarrytown and Oakland will be new, specially-designed buildings of brick and reinforced steel concrete. The existing parts stations at Oakland and Tarrytown will be enlarged and refitted to meet the heavy demands that will be made upon them under the new system. The entire facilities of the central parts warehouse at Flint, which heretofore has been the central shipping point, will be retained. The ground already has been broken for the four new buildings, and all of the major supply depots will be ready for operation by January 31.

The new depots will serve as safety valves, smoothing out the peaks and valleys of demands made by the parts department on the production plants and service stations. They will perform a two-fold function: 1st—expedite the delivery of parts; 2nd—create a reservoir that will permit of uniform production of parts, regardless of seasonal variations in demand.

Under the new plan the major supply depots will, in effect, create huge concentrations of part stocks connecting the Chevrolet factories and the entire service organization. They will assure car owners far better and more efficient service through the constant maintenance of adequate stocks throughout the country. Parts will be shipped in straight carload lots from the factories to the supply depots.

The establishment of the major supply zones, outlined above, does not constitute the entire parts distribution program of the Chevrolet Motor Company. In addition to the concentration points previously mentioned, the company already has in operation 11 other parts warehouses which will continue in operation and be added to as necessity arises. The 11 other parts warehouses are located at Boston, Pittsburg, Baltimore, Charlotte, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Minneapolis, Denver, and Portland. These warehouses will receive their entire shipments of parts in carload lots from the nearest major supply depot guaranteeing faster service to the dealer and owner.

The new buildings are of uniform, monitor type construction, and will be equipped with the most modern types of power conveyors, gravity ramps, and stock bins.

Mrs. Curry will be glad to have your orders for Noe-Equl hosiery and dainty knit underwear.

CENTER HILL

Miss Lorace Cobb gave a Hallowe'en party at her home on the evening of October 30. The color scheme of orange and black was very effectively carried out in the decorations of owls, witches, and black cats.

A few of those present were dressed in Hallowe'en costumes and were masked, a prize being given to the boy and girl wearing the best costumes. Miss Amy Sammons, a witch, and Mr. Lonnie Cobb, dressed in a cat costume, were prize winners.

Games and fortune telling furnished entertainment for the evening, and refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Doris and Irene Dennis, Fraulien Cobb, Ida and Aldis Sturdivant, Roberta Satterwhite, Vera Sammons, Ruby Merchant, Coqueecie Barnes, Amy Sammons, and Miss Hand; Messrs. J. C. White, Rufus Scott, Green and Billy Thomas, Wilford Rasberry, Burness Lowery, Astro Wright, Rufus Childress, Marvin Merchant, William Satterwhite, Rubin Crowson.

FARMER HAS TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

"I don't think anybody ever suffered more pain than I have. Twice I was operated for gall stones and a third operation was advised. A friend in Iowa wrote me how he was cured by taking MAYR'S. I took a bottle on his advice with good results and have also taken the full course. My pains are all gone and I feel I am permanently cured." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Teachers Honored.

A pretty affair of the past week was on Tuesday afternoon, when the members of the Civic Club honored the teachers of the schools with a tea at the home of Mrs. Omar Reynolds on Eighth Street. Baskets and vases of dahlias, roses, and other flowers of the season adorned the home upon this occasion. The guests were received at the door by Mrs. D. C. Alred, and later invited into the dining room by Mrs. J. Hugh Jones and Mrs. Omar Reynolds. The Club colors, blue and gold, were effectively used in the dining room. The tea table was beautifully appointed. The centerpiece was a silver basket of dahlias, and silver candlesticks tied with gold tulle, held blue candles. The bon-bons and mints accentuated the color scheme. Mrs. W. M. Wyatt poured tea. Sandwiches and cakes were served by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Reynolds.

Among those enjoying this lovely affair were Misses Beatrice and Maud Alexander, Bess Thomas, Bailey, Thelma Guy, Terry, Florence Greer, Helen Evans, Evelyn Hix, Ivilyn Ingram, Catherine Donnelly, Louise Nichols; Mesdames Barney Roberts, Parrish, Bruner, L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, S. J. Ezell, S. A. Kicker, J. C. Jones, Hugh Jones, W. M. Wyatt, L. H. Reynolds, P. D. Wilson, Julius Burnette, J. E. Gowan, D. C. Alred and others.

McCrary-Hicks.

The marriage of Miss Annie Hicks and Lucien Paul McCrary was solemnized Sunday afternoon, October 31, at the home of the bride's mother Mrs. Bettie Hicks, in Randolph. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. W. Mims, pastor of the Baptist church at Maplesville. The home was attractively decorated. An improvised altar of ferns, roses, and chrysanthemums formed the background for the wedding group. Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Kitty Cottingham of Montevallo, and Worth Foshee of Maplesville. Mrs. Grady Heflin of Clanton was matron of honor, and little Miss Saidee Mims, niece of the bride was ring bearer, while Mr. Heflin served as best man. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. McCrary left to spend their honeymoon in Birmingham, Chattanooga, and other points, after which they will be at home at Randolph.

Mrs. Ellis Hostess.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Latham Ellis entertained the members of the Young Matrons' Forty-Two Club at her home on Second Avenue. A variety of fall flowers and potted plants were used to decorate the living and dining rooms. Following the games, Mrs. Briggs Crumpton held high score and received a silver celery tray. The hostess served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Kin Vinson, Joe Higgins, Lucien Duncan, Briggs Crumpton, J. E. Edgar, Julius Burnett, and Norman Roberts.

Bridge Club Entertained.

The members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others were delightfully entertained by Mrs. H. M. Simpson Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fifth Street. Gorgeous dahlias, chrysanthemums, and roses were attractively arranged about the rooms. A series of bridge games was played at two tables. The prize was won by Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Jones and Mrs. T. C. McSwain, served a tempting salad plate with hot coffee.

Those enjoying this affair were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, V. J. Heard, Oscar Jones, N. S. Johnson, T. C. McSwain, Hugh Jones, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Our Orthophonic and Vivatone phonograph records are better; so why not get the best. All latest hits 75c each.—Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., Clanton.

Bridge Club.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. F. Gerald on Fifth Street. The home was profusely decorated with dahlias, roses, chrysanthemums, and nasturtiums. Following the games, Mrs. Gerald was presented the high score prize, two decks of Congress cards. Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Gerald, served a delicious salad course with hot tea.

Those playing were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Victor Heard, L. F. Gerald, H. M. Simpson, Norman Roberts, Grady Reynolds, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Grand Chapter Attended.

On Tuesday a number of the members of the Eastern Star went down to Montgomery to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Chapter. Tuesday evening some of the members of the local chapter took part on the program, and in a beautiful manner, presented Mrs. Julia Beauchamp, for whom the chapter is named, a large brass vase. Mrs. J. P. Hayes, Worthy Matron, made the presentation address.

Those attending were Mesdames J. P. Hayes, H. T. Pipes, W. E. Martin, V. J. Gragg, P. T. Hinkle, M. L. White, J. M. Van Deerveer, M. Lande, Grady Heflin, M. A. Gore, Arthur Willis, C. Fenn Jones, W. Z. Hodges, J. C. Jones, Macey Jones, Bama Cox, E. E. Upchurch; Misses Dollie Mae Harris, and Thelma Guy.

Recently there appeared in The Birmingham News, by Dolly Dalrymple, a detailed account of a conversation held with Miss Roberta Curry by that writer, while in New York a short time ago. Miss Curry is the daughter of Mr. Thos. A. Curry, a former attorney of this city, and Miss Curry has many warm friends here to wish her success in her theatrical profession. She attended the Clanton Grammar School and graduated at Chilton County high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fox entertained a number of out-of-town guests at a turkey dinner Sunday. The home was beautifully decorated. The dining table was centered with a crystal bowl of pink roses. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Reynolds of Birmingham, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Tucker of Camp Hugh, Mr. and Mrs. Thornhill of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox of Plantersville, and the hosts.

P. T. A. Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Grammar School Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the school building Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A splendid program on "Good Books" has been arranged. The roll call will be answered with "The impression of a book read during childhood." All members are urged to be present.

"DOUBLE CROSSED"

At last the Clanton Dramatic Club is to have its first chance to make good. Hey, hey, let's go; come now, all together and boost this thing!

"Double Crossed" is the first, and we mean it is some play. Just wonder how it feels to be double crossed. Have you ever been that way? "Double Crossed" is full of pep, snappy, up-to-the-minute, and has a cast that could support any road show out of New York. Talk this play to your neighbors, your friends, and to any one who might stop to chat.

"Double Crossed" is one of the most timely plays on the American stage today. Remember, all that we have asked for is a chance. Give us that and you will never regret it. Every minute you will enjoy—Full of laughs laughs, laughs and more laughs!

Bring your family, your friends, your best girl. If you haven't a best girl, bring somebody else's. November 22nd is the date. At the Wadesonian theatre. Watch for further announcements.

Friends of Mrs. John C. Page will regret to know that she is in the Memorial Hospital, Montgomery, having undergone an operation.

Dr. and Mrs. Hughes B. Kennedy (Leona Pipes) of Birmingham announce the birth of a son on November 4, whom they have named William Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wade have returned from Centreville, where they were called on account of the illness of Mrs. Wade's sister, Miss Oglesby.

Mrs. L. F. Gerald and Mrs. Arthur Johnson spent Thursday shopping in Birmingham.

Mrs. S. A. Goodwin of Montgomery was the guest of Mrs. J. Watts Moore Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ross and little daughter, Anne, of Fayette, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sartor.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers—for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth a joy!

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 84, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

THE BANNER BEGINS ITS THIRTY-FIFTH YEAR

With the first issue in November this year The Banner started out on its thirty-fifth year of exisence, it having begun publication in November, 1892. The paper, however, is some years older than that, as it had been published as The Chilton View, a farmer's alliance weekly, previous to this time; but no files of this publication are on record and nothing definite is known about it.

On November 1st, 1892 The Peoples Party Banner was launched by T. H. White as editor and publisher. In June, 1894 it was taken over by Frank Crichton, who had been working for some time in the shop under Mr. White. During ths period the paper was known as "The Peoples Party Banner," and its slogan was "Let the People rule and the Politicians be Damned." During May and June, 1897, the paper was run as a daily by Frank Crichton under the caption "Mid-Ala. Daily News." After this it was called "The Banner."

"The Union," edited and published by Wallace C. Edler, made its first appearance in 1903, and was run as such for nine years, when it was taken over by The Banner.

On March 27, 1907, Mack Wyatt went to work in the Banner office under Frank Crichton, in the capacity of "Printer's devil." This role was assumed by Jean Wyatt on September 10, 1910.

In April, 1912, The Banner was consolidated with The Union; then began the publication of The Union-Banner. A stock corporation was then organized and known as The Union Publishing Company. Mr. J. E. Robinson was secretary of the corporaton and B. M. Crutcher was editor and manager of the paper. Mr. Crutcher managed the business for five months, when it was taken over by M. D. Foshee and edited again by Frank Crichton. After a few months Crichton was succeeded by Mr. F. B. Tichenor as editor, who steered the old ship for one year. Osce Bird succeeded Tichenor and managed and edited the paper for six months. The business was then taken over jointly by M. D. Foshee and W. M. Wyatt, the former as manager and the latter as editor. A year later J. B. Wells bought Foshee's interest. Two years later J. B. Wells sold his interest back to M. D. Foshee and T. E. Wyatt bought the half interest in the business from M. D. Foshee, forming the joint partnership of W. M. Wyatt and T. E. Wyatt.

The paper was run under this management until September, 1918, when the owners were called to the service of Uncle Sam in the World War. The paper was then leased to E. C. Powell, who had the sole management of the paper in charge until March, 1919. W. M. Wyatt and T. E. Wyatt again took charge and operated the paper until March, 1923. At this time W. M. Wyatt sold his interest to E. C. Powell and moved away to Ft. Payne, For two years the business was managed and edited by T. E. Wyatt. In the early part of 1925 W. M. Wyatt returned to Clanton and bought his interest back. Since this time the business has been run by W. M. Wyatt and T. E. Wyatt.

During the thirty-five years life of The Banner there have been connected with the business in various capacities, besides those mentioned above, a number of people, who got more or less printer's ink on their fingers. Following are some of them: J. Osmond Middleton, W. H. Sartor, Ousley Johnson, Bob Marcus, Clyde J. Davis, Cleve Giles, Osce McKee, Jim Middleton, Tom Butler Teel, Ruben Popwell, Sam Kanjutzky, Marshal Pounds, Tommie Taylor, Jim Lowe, Ewart Corley, Winston Mims, Chester Mims, Clyde Lowe, Lester Mims and Guy Deshazo.

In May, 1913 occurred the death of Frank Crichton, who managed the business longer than any other one man. Crichton was an Englishman by birth having been born in London. He was a sailor on the high seas for a number of years before joining the printing craft. He died and was buried in Clanton.

During the life of The Banner, it has gone through various and sundry circumstances, and all of them were not easy ones. It has lived through panics, pestilences, trials and trbulatons; but among all this we have no record of it ever completely missing a regular publication. While The Banner has been running it has seen close to half a dozen other publications rise and fall in Clanton. In 1909 there were four separate and distinct newspapers published in Clanton at one time. Some of the papers that have existed and seen their day were: The Socialist View, edited by L. B. Pounds; The Clanton Record, edited by Felix M. Wood; The Bayonet, edited by Fletcher O. Baxley; and the Clanton Press, edited by F. M. Wood.

It would be far from correct to say that all the sailing of The Banner has been over calm and peaceful waters, for there have been times when it looked more like The Banner was sinking than rising. But somehow it has always managed to keep its head above the breakers and continued to tell the good people of Chilton County what has been happening and going on pro and con in the various parts of the county. And too, we realize that what success we have achieved has not been solely due to efforts of the management, but it has been largely due to the support received at the hands of the people of the county. You have stood by us nobly during hardships as well as successes, and the paper is ever grateful for this fact.

We only hope that the future of the Union-Banner may warrant and receive the support of the populace of the county, and that we may be able to serve our calling even better as future years roll around.

A CACKLE OR TWO IN THE COURSE OF A DAY

Fellow stepped into our office to ask—"Hey, does wisdom come with old age?"

"So they say," we replied.

"Then why is," he queried further, "that so many old birds willingly part with their cash for this and that remedy guaranteed to grow hair on billiard balls or brass door knobs?"

(An inkwell followed him on the way out!)

* * * * * * *

A minute later, the same "wise cracker" stuck his head through the door and asked: "Would you say a bald-headed man is one with an open mind?"
(Our paste-pot missed him by inches!)

* * * * * * *

Next came the stenographer. She yawned and looked like she needed more sleep. Asked her the "why" and "wherefore" and she cackled something about:

"It's this restless age we're living in."

Further explanation brought out the fact that a "couple of wooden slats in her bed had broken down during the night and she was all of an hour trying to get settled again."

* * * * * * *

She had hardly stepped out, when in breezed a friend with—

"Listen, want to know what a pessimist is?"

"We bite—what is it?"

"It's a guy what goes to bed on cold nights and keeps his underwear and socks on under his pajamas!"

* * * * * * *

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"Some folks go so far around t' get t' th' romantic side o' life that they miss any part o' it that's really worth while ---"

* * * * * * *

While we were leading him out, he got another one across. He whispered—"Wouldja like to know what the height of double-crossing yourself is?"

Before we could answer, he giggled:

"Go to bed on a cold, cold night and purposely avoid settin' the alarm clock!"

* * * * * * *

After leaving our sanctorum, he sent back a note on which was written:

"If you and I had all the money we've carelessly thrown to the winds in our dreams, wouldn't life be a primrose path? But, durn it, who invented alarm clocks anyway?"

(Ho. Hum.)

* * * * * * *

The door knob turns again. This time the caller asks us to change a $20 bill.

"Not on your life. I'm no counterfeiter!"—was our comeback.

* * * * * * *

Next—an amiable stranger. Did we "mind how much of our time he took?"

"Not at all!"

Five minutes after he left—we discovered our watch was missing!

* * * * * * *

Now look whose smilin' face greets us. The office boy. Taps us on the shoulder and chuckles:

"I know a Dora who's so dumb she thinks 'osculation' has something to do with radio and that an 'orator' is a Spanish bull fighter!"

(Not so dumb—that boy.)

THE ELECTION

Election returns from the various states are now in and tabulated and an analysis of the result seems to bear out the statements made before the election to the effect that the results in practically all of the states would be based on local rather than national issues. From a Republican the outstanding losses in the senatorial contests were n New York and Massachusetts, both of which states ordinarily support the G. O. P. in general elections. But even in these two commonwealths the result was based largely on issues which have little bearing on national affairs, although one of these issues, that pertaining to the enforcement of the prohibition amendment, promises to become a national problem in the not distant future.

Practically all of the other senatorial losses sustained by the Republicans were in the so-called border states, which are normally Democratic especially in off years, and so far as the senatorial contests were concerned, there was a settling down to normalcy after the Harding landslide of six years ago which gave the Republicans a number of unexpected senators.

In the Republican states of the Middle West and the Northwest the Republicans were generally successful. One noteworthy feature of these Republican successes in the West is that they were gained in the main in agricultural sections.

We have heard a great deal in the past few months about the plight of the western farmer and how he was going to take his spite out on the national adminstration. This reported discontent did not crystallize into Democratic votes. The Republican losses were sustained in the larger centers of population where local issues were more of a factor.

From a Democratic standpoint the outstanding feature so far as 1928 is concerned at least, was the unexpectedly sweeping victory for Governor Al Smith, a victory which carried a Democratic senatorship along with it. Governor Smith is now the outstanding Democratic figure of the country. He is the big figure in the 1926 Democratic victories and looms larger now as a presidential possibility than he did in 1924. Just what his candidacy means to the future of the Democratic party, time alone can tell. There is little doubt that, while it will be greeted enthusiastically in the East, by the hosts of the Democracy, it will not be regarded as an unmixed blessing in the South and West.

Outside of this decisive Smith victory there is little in the 1926 elections which seems to have a bearing on the next presidential campaign. From now on in the Democratic Party the political students will do well to look out for the Smith Special.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The election is over. Already the people in the East and the West, the North and the South are settling down to business again. For no matter who is elected, whether it be Smith or Jones, White or Brown, the most of us have a living to make after the returns are all in and the celebration of victory or the sorrowing at defeat is over. Therefore, the day after the election, the "Business as Usual" sign is hung out again.

And the fact that we do forget our campaign prejudices, accepting the result with true sportsmanship, is one of the outstanding features of American elections. We go to the polls by millions on election day, deposit our ballots and go about our business. The clerks tabulate the returns, send them in to the various headquarters, the press associations assimilate them and announce the results, and the verdict is quietly accepted in every commonwealth in the land, by those who have lost as well as those who have won. That is all there is to it. There is little if any recrimination, and no thought of revolution or the setting aside of the verdict by force. No army of sheriffs is necessary to enforce the result. The theory of representative government, of the rule of the majority is accepted and the next day we start all over again.

It may be said that this cheerful acceptance of the result, whether it be Republican or Democratic is due to the splendid sportsmanship of the American people. This is no doubt true in part. The American people do not like a poor loser, and there is no way to lose popularity faster than to "squeal" after one has been beaten in a fair political battle. But it is not all sportsmanship which induces us cheerfully to accept the result. Back of it is the splendid heritage of American representative government, and our proper appreciation of its advantages. Representative government is typically American. It was given to us by our forefathers when they fashioned the American Constitution, a document which was regarded as an experiment at the time, even by its framers, but a document which has excited the admiration of the world by the manner in which it has given us a fair, workable government which has made the United States the greatest nation in the world.

So long as we appreciate the blessings of representative government, there is no danger that the result at the polls will not be accepted just as it was accepted in the various communities of the United States this year, quietly, and with real American sportsmanship. It will only be when we lose sight of party principles and the fundamental necessity of constitutional government, and follow off after false gods in the shape of vain personal ambitions, that armies will be necessary to enforce the decisions of American elections. We hope and believe that that time will never come. The way to see that it does not come is to keep fresh in our hearts the spirit of American representative government.

The Pan-Am franchise has been refused time and again to dealers whose business practice did not come up to Pan-Am standards. You can be sure of the dealer who has it.

GASOLINE PAN-AM MOTOR OILS

MEN and GASOLINE you can depend on

Every Pan-Am dealer is a man of known fair dealing in all his business transactions. And the high quality of Pan-Am gasoline never varies . . . yet it costs no more than the ordinary kind.

WHEN you leave a Pan-Am station, you will know why thousands of motorists look for the cream-colored pumps.

They are sure of getting, there, gasoline and motor oils of known high quality . . . on strange roads over in neighboring states as well as at home.

Moreover, they know that every Pan-Am dealer is a man to be depended upon in all his business dealings . . . so proved by rigid investigation.

There is a big difference in men and in gasoline. Be on the safe side always. Buy your gasoline and motor oils from men who display the familiar Pan-Am sign. There is such a dealer convenient to your home or wherever you may go. For all throughout the South, Pan-Am dealers are rendering honest service to the motoring public.

And this better gasoline costs you no more than the ordinary kind.

We are also careful to see that you are served by men who know the worth of courtesy . . . and the value of a smile.

CONCORD

Services held here Sunday, November 7, were enjoyed by all present, with Sunday school at 10 o'clock and preaching at 11, by our pastor, Bro. G. G. Williams, and in the evening at 6:30.

Singing was enjoyed in the afternoon. The following directors sang during the afternoon: S. V. Miller, M. Lockhart, S. L. Baker, J. E. Minor, and Melvin Mims. Organist for the afternoon's singing was Mrs. W. S. Wyatt.

We have preaching each firrst Sunday, morning and evening, and singing each first Sunday afternoon.

Everybody invited to attend all our services. Also, our W. M. S. meets twice a month—on Saturday afternoon after each first and third Sundays.—Julia Parrish.

STRAWBERRY MEETING AT COURT HOUSE NOVEMBER 27

All farmers interested in the raising of strawberries are asked to meet at the court house in Clanton on Saturday, November 27th at 10 o'clock a.m. Mr. J. M. Smith of Thorsby and others will be there to take orders for plants, give information as to planting and handling berries, and answering any questions that may be asked regardig the industry of strawberry raising in this section. It is hoped that more people will become interested in raising strawberries another year.

Sweet potatoes have a feeding value for hogs of about three pounds to one compared with corn.

Most of those who planted turnip seed late last summer are now enjoying turnip greens.

REPUBLICANS ELECT TAX ASSESSOR IN DeKALB

Wm. B. Gilbreath, Republican candidate for Tax Assessor, was the only Republican elected in DeKalb County on November 2. Democratic candidates for all other offices nosed out slightly ahead of their Republican opponents.

MULBERRY-ISABELLA

The box supper at Isabella last Saturday night was quite a success. The boxes brought $b7.00, and everyone enjoyed the stunts pulled by the pupils and teachers.

Miss Glois Manning went to Birmingham Sunday to spend a while with her sisters.

Miss Alpha Bentley spent last week with her sister, Mrs. R. E. Parker, in Birmingham.

Misses Olivia Latham, Lillie Burks and Claudie Smith attended the singing at Liberty Sunday afternoon.

Messrs. A. J. Lecroy and D. O. Manning made a business trip to Coosa last week.

Our boys played two basket ball games with the Lawley team Friday afternoon on the latter's court, losing one and winning one. Lawley will return the games on Isabella's court on November 19.

Mr. John Deshazo of Tuscaloosa is visiting his brothers, W. F. and W. G. Deshazo, this week.

Miss Bonnie Clyde Griffin of Marbury spent the week end with her father, Mr. J. D. Griffin.

Hear the genuine Victrolas and Columbia phonographs at Jesse French's. No tone like these new instruments. Easy terms.—Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., Clanton

TWIN TREE LUMBER COMPANY

Notice of Special Meeting of the Stockholders.

To the Stockholders of Twin Tree Lumber Company:

You are hereby notified that, in accordance with Resolutions passed and adopted at a special meeting of the Board of Directors of this Company, held on the 25th day of October, 1926 at 11 o'clock a.m., a special meeting of the stockholders of the Company will be held on Monday, the 29th day of November, 1926, at 11 o'clock a.m., in the office of W. H. Albritton, in the city of Andalusia, Covington County, Alabama, for the following purposes:

1. To vote upon the recommendations made by the Board of Directors of the Company at the special meeting above noted, to amend the Certificate, Declaration and Articles of Incorporation of the Company in the following particulars, and to consider the desirability of such amedments:

(a) To change the corporate name of the company from "Twin Tree Lumber Company" to "Warsaw Lumber Company."

(b) To change the location of the principal office of the Company in the State of Alabama, from the mill plant of said Company at Maplesville, Chilton County, Alabama, to Andalusia, Covington County, Alabama, and to abolish the branch office of the company in the City of Binghampton, County of Boon, in the State of New York, and the office of the company in the City of Chicago, Illinois, at the office of W. E. Barrett.

(c) To increase the authorized capital stock of the company from the sum of Two Hundred Thousand ($200,000.00) Dollars, common stock, and One Hundred Fifty Thousand ($150,000.00) Dollars, preferred stock to the sum of Five Hundred Thirty Thousand ($530,000.00) Dollars, by the issue of an additional sum of One Hundred Eighty Thousand ($180,000.00) Dollars, seven (7) per cent cumulative preferred stock,and in the event of the affirmative action upon the question of such increase and the authorization of the same by the Stockholders as required by law, to further consider and determine upon the attributes and characteristics of the increased amount of capital stock and the existing capital stock and the disposition to be made thereof.

2. To adopt such Resolutions setting forth said amendments recommended for adoption and deemed desirable by the Board of Directors, and to take such other necessary steps to legally complete and effect said amendments.

3. To amend the By-Laws of this Company to conform with the said proposed amendments to the Certificate, Declaration, Articles of Incorporation and Charter of the Company wherein and to such extent as the same may be necessary or desirable.

To transact any and all other business necessary to effectuate the objejct or objects of the meeting, and any other business that may be legally done at said meeting.

This, the 25th day of October, 1926.

NOTICE OF FILING OF BILL OF COMPLAINT

State of Alabama, Complainant, vs. One Ford Car, 1923 Model, Respondent.—In the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Ala., In Equity.

The Bill of Complaint of the State of Alabama, on the relation of G. C. Walker, as Deputy Solicitor of Chilton County, against one Ford Car, 1923 Model, being exhibited to me, and it appearing therefrom that on the 9th day of October, 1926, one Robert Owen did transport in One Ford Car, 1923 Model, certain prohibited liquors and beverages, from one point in the State of Alabama to another, and that said automobile was on said day seized by the Sheriff of said County, and said Bill of Complaint praying that said automobile be declared forfeited to the State of Alabama, and for an order of condemnation and sale thereof.

It is therefore ordered and decreed that notice of the filing of said Bill of Complaint be given for three successive weeks in The Union-Banner, a newspaper published in the Town of Clanton, Alabama, and that all persons claiming or asserting any right, title or interest in said automobile be required to appear and assert such claim by the 23rd day of November, 1926, and that failing so to do, the said right, title or interest will be forever barred.

Given under my hand, this, the 23rd day of October, 1926.

Pimples

What can I do?

"OH, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous, red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

S.S.S.

All drug stores sell S. S. S. Get the large bottle. It's more economical.

THE PENDULUM BEGINS TO SWING THE OTHER WAY.

The Department of Agriculture announced on October 25th that it had received from a responsible firm of cotton factors in New Orleans a telegram stating that many negro tenant farmers were refusing to pick any more of their low cotton raised on shares, which pays them no profit at prevailing prices, and were moving off the plantations in search of work which will pay them a daily wage in cash.

Informaton from the Black Belt in Alabama is much to the same effeit, and from portions of Mississippi. There will be hundreds of thousands of bales which will not be picked, but are included in the estimate by the government. These facts are being taken into consideration, as well as others, that rains have beat and damaged thousands of bales included in that famous estimate. Also, that the plans to take care of some 4,000,000 bales and carry them over are maturing fast. Additionally, that the bulk of the "distress cotton," which has to be sold has probably been dumped upon the market, and from now on the tendency will be to hold it off.

These are some of the factors which have stiffened the backbones of cotton producers, and which, notwithstanding the government report of last week increasing the estimate 827,000 bales additional, there was a rally in price. The export demand is good. Now the producers will sit tight, keeping cotton off the market, the reaction will carry the price along to better levels. It cannot be done at once; it is going to be a tug of endurance and strategy, but every bale held off helps the situation just that much. Those who hold will win out yet.—Birmingham News.

A press announcement from Cairo, Egypt, says that the government intends to issue a decree limiting tht acreage under cotton to one-third of the cultivatable land in Egypt. The decree will apply to foreigners and Egyptians alike and will be applicable for three years. This step is caused by low prices.

Keep Fit!

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

TO be well, you must keep the blood stream free from impurities. If the kidneys lag, allowing body poisons to accumulate, a toxic condition is created. One is apt to feel dull, languid, tired and achy. A nagging backache is sometimes a symptom, with drowsy headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scant passage of secretions. If you have reason to suspect improper kidney functioning, try Doan's Pills—a tested stimulant diuretic. Users praise them throughout the United States. Ask your neighbor!

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The meetings held in connection with the State Conference of Congregational Churches of Alabama, (white), at Thorsby November 5-6-7, were well attended by many of our town people. Some who took leading parts were new, notably, Dr. John Stapleton of Washington, D. C., whose address Sunday night on contributions for missions was a masterpiece liable to be remembered by all who heard it. The sermon Sunday morning by Rev. Malcolm Dana, D. D., on the words of Jesus to Simon Peter, "Lovest Thou Me?" held close attention of the audience from start to finish, and set many to thinking how much they really love Him. Others present and taking part on the program were Rev. Charles L. Fiske, Secretary of Young People's Work in the Southeast; Rev. Neil McQuarrie, Congregational Superntendent for Alabama and North Florida. Rev. N. A. Long, elected Moderator of the Conference, is a young man, who at one time resided in Thorsby and was a student at Thorsby Institute. Later he took a course leading to graduation at Atlanta Theological Seminary, was ordained, and is now in charge of a group of churches in Northwest Alabama.

The vistors were highly pleased with conditions, faculty, and the student body at Thorsby Institute.

In anticipation of the coming of Rev. Rogers and his family to Thorsby, where Rev. Rogers has been called to the pastorate of Thorsby Baptist Church, a number of the young people of the community took possession of the T. W. Robinson cottage on Franklin Street and set to work to make the place look "homey" while others brought or sent gifts of use to any family in the way of provisions or furnishings, in abundance, so that when the family arrived to take possession, there was such a reception and house-warming as Thorsby people know how to put over when they really want to extend a hearty welcome to people who come to live and work among them. No person can express in words what they feel in appreciation when made the recipients of such a welcome, and Bro. Rogers acknowledged his inability to do so. Next, Sunday Rev. Rogers will preach, morning and evening, at the Baptist church.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will hold their monthly social on Thursday afternoon of this week, at the home of Mrs. Ed Piper.

Mr. Earl Mead of Birmingham spent Wednesday of last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mead, in Thorsby.

Mrs. Harry V. Thompson has been spending a week in Thorsby.

Misses Doris Freeman, Jean Johnson, and Margaret Williams were visitors in Birmingham last Saturday.

Mr. Malcolm Manning of Verbena visited friends in Thorsby Sunday.

Herbert and Ruth Peterson spent Sunday with home folks in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Turner and family motored from their home at Powderly Saturday to attend the Congregational Conference at Thorsby.

Miss Jennye Robinson is expected home this week. She has been near Pensacola with her father, T. W. Robinson, who is temporarily working there, helping repairing railroad damage caused by the storm.

Henry Robinson spent the week end visiting friends at Helena.

Misses Bernice Williams and Pearl Steiner, teachers at Lock 12, were Sunday visitors at the home of their parents in Thorsby.

Mrs. S. C. Wood spent Wednesday in Birmingham, visiting and shopping.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid will hold their next social on Thursday, November 18, at the home of Mrs. Martha Grothe.

During the Congregational Conference, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Lucas entertained Revs. Neil McQuarrie and J. M. Blackburn, both of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Butler entertained Rev. Malcolm Dana, D. D., of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Karlson entertained Rev. Charles L. Fiske, of Cleveland, O. Mrs. J. E. Each told us she had six preachers at dinner Sunday. There were other preachers and laymen among the delegates, all of whom were provided with entertainment by the good people of Thorsby, whose names we did not get.

Mrs. H. O. Bean made a trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Rev. E. W. Butler and Miss Helen C. Jenkins left Monday for Atlanta to attend a Regional Conference of delegates engaged in promotion of Congregational activities in the southeast.

High School Play.

The first play of the season, "The Colonel's Maid" is to be presented on Thursday night, Nov. 11, at the high school auditorium.

Following is the cast: Colonel Robert Rudd, a widower of North Carollina, Philip Foshee.

Colonel Richard Byrd, widower of South Carolina, Cornelius Hand.

Marjorie Byrd, Colonel's maid, Lorene Murphy.

Bob Rudd Jr., alias Tom Foster, Grady Parrish.

Mrs. John Carroll, a widow, Col. Rudd's sister-in-law, Exie Baker.

Julia Carroll, Ned's sweetheart, Mittice Duncan.

Ned Graydon, young man with a faulty memory, Sam Martin.

Mr. James Baskom, Col. Rudd's lawyer, Tom F. Teal.

Ching-a-Ling, the Chinese cook, a bit impertinent but the most important character in the Colonel's household, Dick Demp.

Synopsis:—Act I—Early morning in the Rudd kitchen, bachelor establishment; Act II—The Rudd library, five days later: Act III—The same evening of same day.

The curtain rises on a scene of terrible confusion; Ching is cooking breakfast in the kitchen of Colonel Rudd's home. He is doing the work of several servants, as the Colonel's temper is too much for any but Ching.

Bob Rudd, Jr., is in love with Marjorie Byrd, daughter of his father's worst enemy, and brings her on the scene disguised as a maid. From then on complications arise. Mrs. Carroll and daughter arrive; Col. Rudd tries to arrange a match between his son and Julia Carroll. The second act is in the library five days later. Marjorie's father arrives believing his enemy has kidnapped his daughter. Ching plays tricks on him in his attempt to aid the lovers.

The third act finds Ned Graydon, Marjorie's sweetheart, forgetful as usual, selling suspenders to Mrs. Carroll and colored face powder to the Colonel.

Come and see what happens to the "Colonel's Maid."

Popularity Contest.

A cake contest will be held on Thursday evening at the high school play to determine the most popular girl in Clanton. Each vote will be one cent, which means, if a man votes one hundred votes for his lady fair, it will cost him the immense sum of one dollar.

HOWARD COLLEGE GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR HERE

Chilton County High School auditorium will be the scene Monday evening, November 29, of one of the season's most entertaining musical programs, it is indicated by the announcement that the Howard College Club will appear in Clanton at that time. The ability of the Howard song birds to make an evening entertaining is well known in this community.

The concert at Clanton will be the second of a series of nine performaces of the club. Concerts will be given at Montgomery, Troy, and other cities while the organization is on the tour.

The Glee Club is said to be better than ever this season. A majority of last year's members are back again this season, and a number of new members were added in the recent try-out. The program will consist of numbers by the chorus of 22 voices, varied selections by the quartet, and music by an 8-piece jazz orchestra.

SPECIAL MISSIONARY BIBLE CONFERENCE

A special Missionary Bible Conference will be held at the Temple Church of Clanton, local member of the nation-wide Church of God in Christ, beginning tonight (Thursday), and running until next Tuesday night.

Among those who will attend this conference are Rev. R. A. Forrest, Superintendent of the Southeastern District of the Christian Missionary Alliance; Rev. Ira E. David, Pastor of the Alliance Tabernacle, Atlanta, Ga.; and Rev. A. I. Garrison, missionary to India for 15 years.

An invitation is extended to all to attend these meetings, with a special invitation to all pastors and church workers of the surrounding country. These men come with a full message for all, and pastors and church leaders who attend may expect great things from these men of God.—L. P. Adams, Pastor.

NEGROES HAVE SPECIAL FARM PROGRAM

Mr. N. Kollock, manager of the "Booker Washington Agricultural School, on Wheels," made a visit to Chilton County Training School last Thursday. Thursday night he showed a picture on "Origin of Soil" to the farmers' evening class, which was very inspiring; 52 farmers and their wives were present. Friday, Mr. Kollock and Prof. Johnson, principal of the training school, visited the home of one of the school patrons and demonstrated the care and setting of fruit trees. Friday night a picture was given at the school for raising funds for indebtedness of the school. The sum of $24.85 was raised. It is reported that the training school is a source of much pride and benefit to the negroes of the county.

Chilton's Representative

PERCY M. PITTS

Percy M. Pitts, lawyer, of Clanton, was elected on Tuesday, November 2, 1926, to represent Chilton County in the Alabama Legislature. Mr. Pitts is a native of Shelby County. He is a Republican, as was his father, who served as Tax Collector of Shelby County many years.

Mr. Pitts is a law graduate of the University of Alabama. He was an officer in the United States Army during the World War. He served overseas for several months. He is married, his wife being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Reynolds, of Clanton.

A CORRECTION

It has been announced that the Clanton Dramatic Club would put on its first play, "Double Crossed," on November 22, at the Wadesonian Theatre. The date has been changed to Thursday night, December 2. This is one of the leading plays of the day and a good show is assured. Remember the date, December 2.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT CROSS ROADS—THORSBY

There will be a musical program given at Cross Roads school house, 2 miles south of Thorsby, on Friday night, November 19, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. This program will be different from the ordinary entertainments you have been seeing, and you will miss a special treat if you miss this. A small admission will be charged; proceeds for the benefit of the school. Everybody cordially invited, with assurance of a good time. —Mrs. Lillian Deason, Teacher.

STRAWBERRY MEETING AT COURT HOUSE NOVEMBER 27

All farmers interested in the raising of strawberries are asked to meet at the court house in Clanton on Saturday, November 27th at 10 o'clock a.m. Mr. J. M. Smith of Thorsby and others will be there to take orders for plants, give information as to planting and handling berries, and answering any questions that may be asked regardig the industry of strawberry raising in this section. It is hoped that more people will become interested in raising strawberries another year.

MULBERRY - ISABELLA

A pretty affair of the past week was on last Thursday, when Mrs. W. G. DeShazo entertained five of our young lady teachers at a squirrel dinner. The teachers were Misses Olivia Latham, Lillie Burks, Alpha Bentley, Nora Wood, and Claudia Smith.

We are glad to note that the last report from Mr. Max Hayes, and Mrs. C. H. Oliver, who are in the Baptist hospital at Birmingham, was that they were doing nicely.

Miss Lillie Burks is teaching a B. Y. P. U. course every Saturday afternoon, and we hope to make it an A-1 union soon.

Our W. M. U. met with Mrs. H. R. Oden Saturday afternoon, and our next meeting will be with Mrs. A. J. LeCroy on November 27. Each one will have 10 minutes in which to tell of a book read while they were young and the impression left upon them. We will have our Royal Service Program also.

Mr. Adams and others from Birmingham came down last week and went squirrel hunting with Mr. W. G. DeShazo.

Mr. Pete Barnes is moving near Selma, as all his children have positions in Selma, and he can be closer to them. Mr. J. D. Griffin will move his family from Marbury to the house Mr. Barnes is leaving.

OSCAR WALDROP KILLED

Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock Mr. Isaac Waldrop, just out northeast of Randolph, received a telegram containing the sad news that his son, Oscar, of West Frankfort, Ill., was dead and that the body would reach home Sunday night over the Southern. Sunday night, when No. 27 arrived at Randolph, it brought the corpse, accompanied by a sister and her husband of Illinois, a young friend and the dead man's other sister and her husband of Maben, Ala. They were met at the station by 10 cars of friends who accompanied them out home.

It was a sad scene. Everyone sympathizes with Mr. Waldrop in his great loss. He has had to bury in less than one year two sons and his wife who died in the North last fall. During the last few years two other of his sons were brought home dead, one from Marvel, Ala., and the other from Illinois.

Oscar was killed by a fall of coal Friday afternoon. The burial was held the early part of this week at Pleasant Grove west of Jemison.

JOE ADAMS AND GRADY DEASON ARRESTED LAST WEEK

Deputies Culp and Foshee were called to the Robert Williams place on Mulberry last Thursday. When they got there they found Joe Adams and Grady Deason drunk in a negro house and in possession of some liquor. The two were arrested and brought to jail, later being released on bond.

THE UNITED SINGING SOCIETY

On last Sunday afternoon at Union Grove, the writer, a Union-Banner man, had the distinct pleasuure of attending a regular session of the United Singing Society. As the old saying goes, we have been laying off to attend this singing society for a long time, but not until last Sunday afternoon was this rare privilege taken advantage of.

The weather was not altogether suitable for such occasions, nevertheless, a good crowd was present and a number of singers were on hand. The society was called to order by the chairman, Mr. E. L. Glasscock; prayer was offered, and the singing began. Those directing were E. L. Glasscock, Jasper Oaks, T. E. Wyatt, Herbert Lowery and A. H. Glasscock; organists: Misses Genie Collins, Emma Campbell, Lois Glasscock and Jewel Bean. A. H. Glasscock sung the closing song, and the society was dismissed with prayer by T. J. Dorminey.

The Union-Banner wishes to highly commend the United Singing Society for the splendid work they are doing toward the advancement of sacred song. The members of the society enjoy singing as well as any crowd we have ever met with, and they realize the necessity of organization even in singing, hence the society. Messrs. E. L. and A. H. Glasscock are especially to be commended for the untiring interest they are now and have been taking for the past several years in the United Singing Society. They are both very likable men, and if there is anything they enjoy better than singing it is telling some stale joke or other, of which they always have a full supply.

We hope soon to be able to attend another session of the United Singig Society.

WM. SELF OF CHATTANOOGA ARRESTED LAST SUNDAY

Deputy Harvey Foshee and Billy Foshee ran into a drinking party on the highway one mile north of Clanton Sunday afternoon and arrested one man, William Self, of Chattanooga.

A party composed of Self, three boys and two girls were returning to Chattanooga from Florida. They had stopped their car on the road and were drinking liquor when the deputies came along. Self had the bottle in his hands and the officers arrested him and brought him back to Clanton. After making bond, he proceeded with his party on their way to Tennessee.

CHILTON HIGH TIGERS SWAMP AUTAUGA COUNTY HIGH 40 TO 0

The Chilton County High School football team held a track meet at the expense of Autauga High here last Friday afternoon, Chilton winning 40 to 0.

Everything started just right for a good football game. Chilton received, made one first down, and then Autauga held for downs on her own 25-yard line. Autauga resorted to the way she has made most of her gains this season—through the air. Autauga's quarterback yelled "All right boys, let's put it across in the first quarter," and flipped a pass, intended for his own left end—that lad never got his hands on the pigskin. "Pete" Sanford got in the way, and gathering the oval to his bosom, galloped across for the first touchdown. Sanford failed to kick goal, and the score was Chilton 6, Autauga 0.

After the ice was broken, touchdowns came thick and fast, especially in the last quarter. Four touchdowns came through the bucking route, and the other two from passes. Sanford scored both touchdowns on passes, the one already referred to, and another from the good right arm of "Doodle" Gore.

At the beginning of the last quarter, Coach Bruner sent a team of substitutes in, and they held their own, playing about on equal terms with the Autaugans. With only 4 minutes of time left the "wrecking crew" returned to the game, fresh from a rest, proceeded to ease over two touchdowns, and bring the score up to what they had set their heads on before the game.

Chilton was not pushed at any moment in the game, and, keeping a sharp lookout for Autauga's deceptive passes, kept them well in hand at all times.

Autauga was outweighed, and outclassed in every department of the game, but deserve mention for their hot scrapping against a far superior eleven.

Chilton takes on the Shades-Cahaba High team here Friday afternoon (tomorrow), followed by the Shelby County High team the following Wednesday. Chilton expects to win from Shades-Cahaba, with a little more pep than usual to be put into the team this week, but the last named opponents come to Clanton about 2 to 1 favorites over the locals. To win from Shelby will take all Chilton can muster, and followers of the manly sport who are at Polk Park on Wednesday afternoon, November 24, at 2:30 o'clock will certainly get an eye full of football fight.

Champion Stalk of Cotton From Tom Miner

Tom Miner of Refuge community, Clanton Route 5, has brought to us a stalk of cotton which we think is surely a prize winner. Mr. Miner kept a close tab on the history and progress of this particular stalk, and some of his observations about it are interesting.

When brought to our office there were 162 grown bolls on the stalk. Tom is one of those fellows who likes to "prank" with things as they grow on his place. When the stalk of cotton first began to grow, he selected this particular stalk to keep watch over. He began to watch it and on the first day of July he was astonished to find that the cow had literally eaten his special stalk of cotton to the stub. He did not give up though but kept on watching his pet stalk. It came out soon and began to grow faster than ever. The first bloom appeared on July 20th. On October 20 there were 104 grown bolls on it. When the frost killed the leaves on November 9th there were 162 grown bolls on it. A careful study of these facts will reveal some interesting information about cotton growth and production.

Mr. Miner produced 16 bales of cotton on 14 acres of land this year. Four bales of this came from exactly three acres, upon which he used five sacks of commercial fertilizer and two sacks of nitrate of soda. Two bales of his crop grew on one and one-half acres. He had ten acres that produced ten bales. The cotton he grew is known as the "Beat 'em All" variety.

WILLIE C. WYATT DEAD

Willie C. Wyatt, age about 65, died Monday afternoon at the home of his brother, Elijah L. Wyatt, near Providence, in Beat 16. He was buried Tuesday afternoon in Providence cemetery.

The deceased was the oldest son of the late T. J., and Nancy Wyatt. He had never been married. He is survived by two brothers, Newt and Elijah Wyatt, and a sister, Mrs. Frank Lumpkin. Death was caused by pneumonia, from which he was a sufferer less than a week prior to his death.

Old Friend Writes From The Land of Flowers

Key West, Fla., Nov 16, 1926.

Dear Union-Banner:

Congratulations on your 35th birthday. I am glad to see the old paper looking so chipper and getting on so well, and hope it will continue to flourish for a great many more years.

You remember I told you that I wanted to spend the winter South. Well, I have come just as far south as it is possible to get and still be in the good old U. S. A. Key West, as you will see on the map, is the very last of a long string of little islands or keys that string out near a hundred miles from the very end of Florida. The East Coast railway built its line along from key to key, jumping from one to another on bridges of cement arches, some of them miles long.

I came down on the night train, so that I did not see much of the storm devastated part of Florida. At Miami I saw them working by electric light in straightening up the damage. Coming over the Keys I had some pretty moonlight views of the water we were passing over.

Key West Island is about 7 miles long from point to point and about a mile and a half wide at its widest place. It is just a great big coral rock only a few feet above sea level at the highest point. Key West is an old town and was once about the largest town in Florida. At first it was a settlement of fishers and "wreckers," then it commenced to manufacture Havana cigars, which brought over a great many Cubans. The fame of Key West cigars was widespread. It grew to a town of 30,000 inhabitants. Then the cigar factories decided to move to Tampa, where they founded the Cuban town of Ybor City and fully half of the Cubans followed them, leaving less than 15,000 people here now. They still make some cigars and very good ones they are, the best five cent cigars I ever smoked.

The migration left a great many vacant houses of the humbler sort, which are tumbling down, but there is a number of very nice residences in good repair. Rather to my surprise, all of the houses have a profusion of sub-tropical flowers, trees and shrubs, and there are a great many cocoanut trees with large clusters of nuts on them. You do not know how good a cocoanut can be until you eat a fresh green one. It is filled with a delicious white jelly which becomes the hard white meat of the nut as we know it up in the country. There is very little soil on the island but that little is very fertile and the underlying coral rock when broken up adds to its fertility. The people grow almost no vegetables, but I think it is because they are too darned lazy to work them. They are shipped in here from other keys and are rather high priced. There is plenty of fruit brought in the same way.

There are still a great many Cubans here and you hear Spanish talk so much that you feel like you are in a foreign country. The main business street, reaching across the island, has some nice stores and is well lighted up, but most of the stores are old-fashioned and Cubanesque. The drug stores sell only drugs and there is not a soda fount in town. Plenty of ice cream stands, however, and little coffee houses where the Cubans assemble to drink a very poor coffee.

In the afternoon it is the sleepiest town imaginable. Nobody seems to be doing anything, all taking their siesta. There are many taxi cabs and busses and are well patronized, nobody wishing to walk if they can help it.

Then as to fish, a matter which you know interests me—Yes, there are fish here, no end to them. There is a large number of small boats which go out around the various keys and bring in fish for shipment. I have not had a chance to go out with any of them yet, but the dock, a few squares from here where I am staying, furnishes a plenty of sport in that line. The water is so deep that you cannot use a pole but have to use a headline, which I do not like so well.

At times when the tide is just right the fish bite fast and many are caught in size from one pound up to ten or twelve. I have caught, or seen caught snappers, jacks, runners, mutton fish, grunts, yellow tails, sheephead, and some others, including a shark. They also catch here in nets, great big craw fish about a foot long which are delicious eating.

Yes, I was in the hurricane of October 26th, the one which hit Cuba so hard. It was not so bad here. We had warning in the morning and the Key West people who are used to such things went to work to get ready for it. Windows and doors were fastened up tight, some boarded up with boards kept for the purpose. We went inside and waited. It came on suddenly; the wind sounded like a thousand railroad trains overhead, the rain came down like a solid volume and beat in to every crack it could find open. The two-story house I was in rocked on its foundations, but nothing gave way. It kept up for about four hours and then stopped as suddenly as it started. We had heard about the lull in the middle of the hurricane, to be followed by the worst part of the storm, so we nervously waited for the worst part to come, when a man came along and told us that the barometer was going down and the storm was over. So we went to bed. In the morning the sun was shining brightly and we could see what damage was done. A number of trees were blown over and the streets were littered up and a few windows were broken in and that was all.

Of course Key West brags on its climate. And if you wish to escape frost, this is the place. There has never been a frost here. Most of the days I have been here have been quite warm, so that shirt sleeves were very comfortable. There were some days, however, when a north wind set in that a little fire would have felt good and we needed blankets at night. But there have been few days when a swim in the exceedingly beautiful water was not very enjoyable and they say it will be that way all winter.

So far, there have been almost no tourists here; it is too far down for them and there is an absence of attractions such as Palm Beach and Miami present. Along in January and February some come here.

If any of my friends should ask about the desirability of coming to Key West, I should say, if you want frost proof climate and plenty of fish, its the place, but don't come expecting to find anything to do by way of making a living. It isn't here and I don't see any prospect of its being here. There is no "back country," and no room for agricultural pursuits. As for a home to live in all the year round, I fancy I would not like the heat of summer, and none of my friends can afford a summer home and a winter home. To make a living and have a good all year round climate, I think I would rather risk it in Chilton County.

The East Coast railroad brings a good many passengers for Cuba who go on from here in a big steamer which makes a daily trip to Havana. The freight is taken over in big ferry boats which carry twenty-four cars at a time.

Wishing you continued success,

Yours truly,

F. B. TICKNOR.

PROVIDENCE—BEAT 13

We wish to announce that on Thursday, November 18, we expect to meet at this place for the purpose of cleaning off the additional part of the cemetery. We ask all who are interested to come on that day, with suitable tools, to help do the work. We want to make a good job of this.

We hope to have our new heater by the date mentioned, and we hope to have help to put it up, besides the other work on yards, etc.

On November 1, F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, Auburn, estimated that 54% of the Alabama cotton crop was either in the hands of bankers and merchants, or had passed on to the mills, and that 46% was in the hands of farmers.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Mrs. Reynolds Hostess.

A lovely affair of the past week was a bridge party on last Thursday afternoon, given by Mrs. Omar Reynolds, at her home on Eighth Street, honoring her sister-in-laws, Mrs. John M. Bridges and Mrs. Lewis of Bessemer. For this occasion a color scheme of gold and bronze was chosen to decorate the home. Beautiful chrysanthemums and marigolds were artistically arranged about the rooms. Tables for the games were in the living and dining rooms. The high score prize, a pretty perfume bottle was won by Mrs. Hugh Jones, and the consolation prize, a flower trowel, was presented to Miss Madelyn Orr. Candies were served during the games, and late in the afternoon the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Grady Reynolds, served a delicious salad plate with coffee.

Those enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mesdames Percy M. Pitts, Lawrence Gerald, Arthur Johnson, Norman Roberts, Julius Burnett, J. W. Hayes, J. Hugh Jones, H. M. Simpson, J. Hance Ared, Grady Reynolds, P. D. Wilson, Oscar Jones, Eric Hart, Hosea Downs, Victor J. Heard, John M. Bridges, Lewis, Grady Broadhead; Misses Madelyn Orr, Mary Sue Mullins, Kathleen Mullins.

B. Y. P. U. Social.

On Friday evening the members of the Intermediate B. Y. P. U. enjoyed a social in the basement of the Baptist church. Fall flowers, potted plants, and ribbons of crepe paper in red and black were used for decorations. Various games and music were features of the evening's entertainment. Fruit, jell-o, and cake were served by the members of the social committee, Misses Gladys Williams, Gertie Fiquette, Kathryn Hayes, and Ruth Sessions.

Enjoying this affair were Mildred and Janice Danforth, Mary Lee and Pauline Pyron, Ruth Sessions, Marjorie Mauney, Vera Jones, Mary Foshee, Bernice and Gladys Williams, Gertie Fiquette, Tommie Baker, Exa Baker, Engia Baker, Leora Mims, Mattie Arant, Kathryn Hayes, Virginia Alred, Pauline Lawrence, Mary Goodwin Jones; Edwin Bruner, Clyde Lowe, Arthur Burnett, William Arthur Willis, Bill Minor, Leroy Martin, William Hester, Willie Knox, Elwyn Gore, Olen Vardaman, Erle Ellis, John Ponder Lawrence, Roy Connatser, Gaston Robinson, Robert Alred, Luther Culpepper, and others.

P. T. A. Meets.

The Parent - Teacher Association met at the Grammar school Friday afternoon. The president, Mrs. J. A. Hester, conducted the devotional. A most interesting and instructive talk on "Children and Books" was made by Mrs. Hugh Jones. Mrs. N. S. Johnson gave a number of splendid suggestions on "Character Building With Books." In observation of "Book Week" each child in the school was asked to make a poster. These were on display and a committee composed of Mrs. J. B. Mauney, Mrs. J. C. Jones, and Mrs. J. A. Hester was appointed to judge the posters and award a first and second prize to a child in each grade. A book is to be the first prize, and a blue ribbon the second. A number of business matters were discussed and disposed of. The picture for having the most parents present went to Miss Florence Grier's room, and the picture for attendance was awarded to Miss Bess Thomas' room.

Forty-Two Party.

On last Tuesday evening Mrs. Briggs Crumpton entertained at a forty-two party at her home on Eighth Street, celebrating the birthday anniversary of her husband. The home was profusely decorated with a variety of autumn flowers and potted plants. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. W. M. Wyatt and Mr. Kin Vinson held high scores and were presented a box of powder and silk socks, respectively. The Consolation prizes were drawn by Mrs. Julius Burnett and Mr. Norman Roberts.

A delicious salad plate with coffee was served to Messrs. and Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Kin Vinson, Latham Ellis, Norman Roberts, Julius Burnett, and Mrs. Lucien Duncan.

Girl's Auxiliary.

Mrs. J. A. Hester entertained the members of the Girl's Auxiliary on last Thursday afternoon at her home on Tenth Street. Fall flowers were artistically arranged about the rooms. After a short business session, a program taken from "Royal Service" was rendered.

Mrs. Hester, assisted by her daughter, Julia Ruth, served jell-o and cake to the following: Vera Jones, Kathryn Hayes, Gladys and Bernice Williams, Marjorie Mauney, Engia Baker, Dorothy Duncan, Mary Foshee, Janice Danforth, and others.

Thursday Sewing Club.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. E. E. Upchurch entertained the members of her sewing club and others at her home on Eighth Street. Bright geraniums and growing plants made the home most attractive for this gathering. After a couple of hours spent sewing, the hostess, assisted by Miss Della Latham, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee.

Enjoying Mrs. Upchurch's hospitality were Mesdames S. J. Ezell, John M. Van Derveer, Bama Cox, Marcus Polk, M. L. White, John T. Ellis, W. W. Spigener, Laurie Farrior of Birmingham, and Miss Della Latham.

Young Matron's Bridge Club.

Mrs. Joe Higgins was hostess to the members of the Young Matron's Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home on Sixth Avenue. Fall bowers adorned the home for this occasion. Following the games Mrs. Latham Ellis held top score and was presented a set of score pads. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Milton Smith served a tempting salad course with hot tea.

Those playing were Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Briggs Crumpton, Kin Vinson, Latham Ellis, J. E. Edgar, McEathern, Flem Higgins, and Lucien Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart Hosts.

The members of the board of stewards of the Methodist church were delightfully entertained on last Thursday evening at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart at their home on First Avenue. A profusion of autumn flowers decorated the home. The dining table was centered with a silver basket of pink roses. Attractive place cards suggestive of the Thanksgiving season marked the places of the guests.

A four course dinner was enjoyed by Rev. C. C. Wilkerson, Messrs. R. C. McDavid, M. C. Broadhead, V. J. Elmore, M. L. White, J. B. Atkinson, T. H. Neighbors, and Eric Hart.

Mrs. Foley Honored.

A delightful affair was on last Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis were hosts at a forty-two party honoring their guest, Mrs. Clarence Foley of Montgomery. Baskets and vases of chryanthemums in bright hues decorated the living and dining rooms. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lucien Duncan and Mr. Kin Vinson.

A tempting salad course with hot chocolate was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Kin Vinson, Grady Heflin, Briggs Crumpton, Latham Ellis, Norman Roberts, Lucien Duncan, and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt.

Mrs. Luicen Duncan and baby, Betsy Ann, Misses Elizabeth and Dorothy Duncan, will leave Saturday for Louisville, Ga., where they go to reside.

Mrs. C. V. Heath returned Friday from a ten-day visit to friends at Jemison.

Mr. D. A. Wingard has gone to Mobile as a delegate to the State Baptist Convention.

Mr. Charles Moore returned to Auburn Sunday, having spent several days at home on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. J. Watts Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong motored to Birmingham and spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Lancaster.

Mrs. J. P. Hayes returned Friday morning from Montgomery, where she spent the week attending the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star.

Dr. S. J. Ezell left Monday morning for Mobile to attend the State Baptist Convention.

Mrs. C. Fenn Jones returned last Thursday evening from Montgomery where she had spent the week in attendance at the Grand Chapter of O. E. S. Mrs. Jones holds an office in the Grand Chapter.

Misses Elizabeth Duncan and Willodean Reynolds attended the game in Birmingham Saturday.

Another appropriation FOR

25 Miles of Second Track costing

$3,361,000

The great task of American railroad building goes uninterruptedly on, evidencing itself in bettered road conditions, bettered equipment, and a constant and successful striving on the part of the steam carrier to provide superior freight and passenger service.

The tremendous investments—averaging more than $700,000,000 per year—on the part of the American railroads, not only keep busy the wheels of industry (American railroads are the largest buyers of steel, lumber, coal and many other essential products of the Nation), but they serve to demonstrate the determination on the part of railroad managements to further improve the service on a transportation system that is already the best in the World.

It will be of particular interest to the patrons of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to learn that its appropriations, expended or authorized for the first nine months of 1926, amount to about $39,000,000. Such improvements, in addition to the second-track work pictured above, include additional locomotives and freight and passenger cars, and various other projects designed to improve its transportation system.

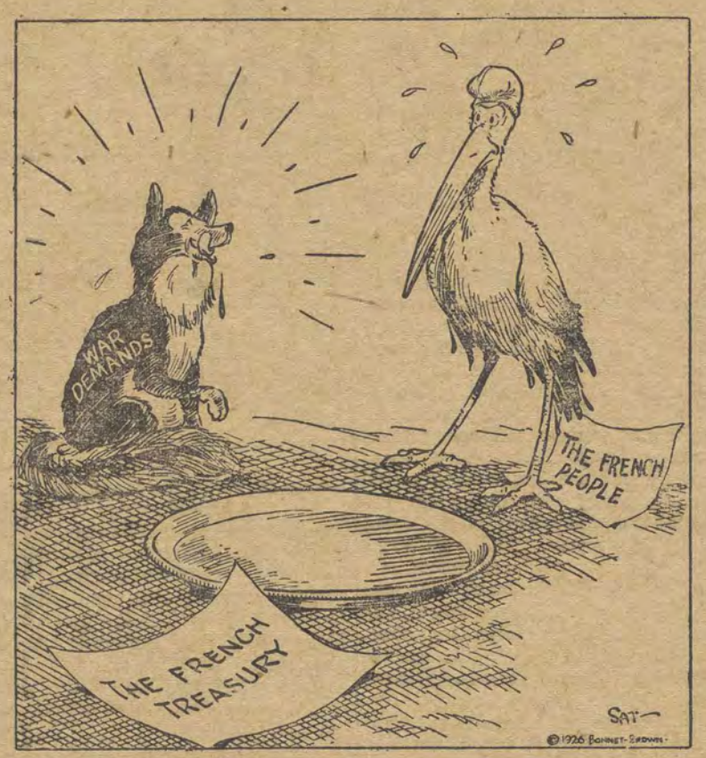
READ THE PINK LABEL ON YOUR UNION-BANNER

Here of recent date and more or less always in the past, we have people complaining because we did not notify them before their time was out on the Union-Banner, so that they could renew and not miss any issues of the paper. I answer to this request we refer each subscriber to the little pink label at the top of the right hand corner of your Union-Banner every week. This little label, besides carrying the name of the subscriber, bears the date when the subscription expires. The first set of figures represent the month, the middle set the day and the last set the year. For instance, if your label reads: John Jones, 12-14-26, it means that John Jones' subscription will expire on December 14, 1926, etc.



We have tried several means of notifying our subscribers when their paper would be out, but we find the above the most satisfactory all the way around. This plan would be perfect if our subscribers would only notice their labels. By doing this you would be able to tell any time of the year when your paper would expire.

We hope that our subscribers will get accustomed to looking at the pink label on your paper, and thus stay informed as to your expiration date. It is too expensive for us to mail every subscriber a letter and tell them the date their paper will be out, when ever we are informing them of the date of expiration every time they get a Union-Banner. Please take notice of the little pink label.

Kitchen windows should be placed on at least two sides of the room.

REPUBLICANS MUST STICK TOGETHER & PULL TOGETHER

Yes, we won the election in Chilton County all right, and that is fine; but let's don't forget to remember that there will be another election, and a still more important one, in less than two years from now.

A citizen of Chilton county once said: "It is just natural for the South to vote Democratic, and if Chilton county were let alone it would drift into the Democratic column automatically." The above statement is just as true as gospel. If water ever runs up hill there must be some force applied to make it do it. And too, anything that is worth much is gotten only by more or less effort. Things that just come about natural and without the effort of anyone are usually not worth much to anybody. This is true of politics. If our people neglect politics, we may not expect to get a good government out of it.

The Republican party in Chilton county is in good shape now, but unless we continue to work and pull our very best all the time, we will not be able to hold our own. If neither the Democrats nor Republicans work it is natural for the Democrats to win, and they will.

What do you hear from other counties over the State that have heretofore elected Republican officials? Some of them elected one Republican official this time and others went Democratic altogether. There is a reason for this. The Republicans in these counties were either divided and mad with each other or failed to put forth the proper efforts during the campaign, or both.

Chilton County is normally Republican—there are more Republicans than Democrats in the county by four or five hundred. But it won't do to fold our hands and say everything is all right. There will be another election in less than two years from now. At this time Chilton county will elect a probate judge and circuit clerk. Now, take it from us who have as much interest in the welfare of Chilton County as any other citizen in the county, this is going to be a warm fight, and is going to be a time deserving of much careful and conscientious work by the Republicans of the county. Just because this election is nearly two years in the future is no reason we can rest. We have got no time to lose. These two years will slip away before we know it, and if we don't watch we will not be prepared for it.

The Democrats lost this time; but are they downhearted? No. They figure that they won, in a way, and they are working with just as much or more vim than they did before the election. They have big plans laid for 1928 and they are working those plans to the utmost. The Republicans must do the same.

We must begin to get our heads together as to what is the best course to pursue and pursue that course. We must avoid division in the party ranks. We will have to get out candidates for the offices to be filled two years from now. and we want the best men in the county for these offices. We want to nominate men who will take well with the people, who will work for the interest of the party, and who the people will vote for. We have the men within the Republican party to fill the jobs—men who are worthy of the trust of the people—good Christian men. Let's begin to think over the proposition and keep posted.

The Republicans won the last election and the one before, and we want to continue to win. The way for us to do this is to stick together and pull together. Neither will make us win without the other, but nothing can cause us to lose if both are applied.

FOR MORE SMOKEHOUSES

The Montgomery Journal very aptly suggests that we leave at least for a while the slogan of "more smokestacks in Alabama," and adopt instead another, and we would say, more valuable rallying cry of "More smokehouses in Alabama."

Many communities in our state, particularly the districts close about rural towns, have been crying for more industries, more smokestacks, more weekly payrolls; all the while neglecting the one industry already within the grasp of us, and of greater value than all the smokestacks they might ever dream of seeing erected.

We refer to the neglect and inattention which is being and has been accorded to the agricultural industry.

We will use our own town of Clanton and Chilton County for instance. The proper attention to agriculture—production and marketing—would bring us the greatest possible development in the very quickest time.

Why worry about bringing a factory of some kind to Clanton? If we had a factory here to employ a thousand people it would not be the solution of our problem. It would not begin to consume the diversified crop possibilities of Chilton County.

Chilton County can grow enough of many kinds of farm products to make our rural people in good condition financially. But what about selling those things? There's the nut we must crack.

The markets are available and we can grow the stuff. Why not take the necessary steps to bring our production possibilities and our market possibilties together and forever solve the problem of profitable business for our farm population?

The Alabama cotton crop is estimated at 1,540,000 bales.

A litter of 17 pigs in Illinois was made to weigh 5,117 pounds in 180 days, setting a new ton-litter record.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The attention of the public is now gradually being directed toward the coming session of Congress. This, of course, will be a session of the old Congress, and not the one which was elected this month. Announcement comes from Washington that the House Appropriations Committee expects to have the big supply bill ready and out of the way by the middle of January so that the remainder of the session can be taken up with other important legislation.

Chairman Madden of the committee declares that there is no foundation for the rumor that appropriations for our national defenses are to be trimmed further. He states that there is no disposition to reduce the size of the army and navy and that the five-year aerial program of both army and navy will be carried on. This is reassuring news for those who have the interests of their country at heart and who believe that the best way to keep out of trouble is to be prepared for all eventualities.

It is encouraging to know that Americans are alive to the situation. Our Department of Commerce and our Postoffice Department are doing everything they. can to stimulate the use of airplanes in the United States. And it has just recently been announced that two aerial express routes are to be established by the American Express Company in conjunction with National Air Transport, Inc. These two routes will extend from New York to Chicago, and from Chicago to Dallas, and doubtless will be the forerunners of more routes to follow.

The United States needs air navigation for commercial purposes in time of peace, and as an adjunct to our army and navy in time of war. It needs an active merchant marine for the same reasons. The coming session of Congress will be an important one. And nothing this Congress can do will be of more ultimate benefit to the people of the United States than what it accomplishes in the way of building up an sustaining commercial aviation and the American merchant marine.

Our aerial development is becoming increasingly important, and it is generally agreed that we ought not fall behind in this important branch of the national defense. The best way to develop aerial forces is, of course, to encourage commercial aviation. It is a rather significant fact that Germany now leads all the countries of the world in commercial aviation. According to the New York Times, in the last five months, German planes flew 2,500,000 miles and carried 25,000 passengers, which was about five times what was accomplished by British aircraft. The Germans are extending the aerial activities all over eastern Europe and western Asia, and are now beginning to penetrate South America. There are 26 German companies manufacturing planes and 7 more turning out airplane engines. Under the Treaty of Versailles, Germany was prohibited from turning out war planes. Instead of crippling her in the air, this only served to stimulate production for commercial purposes.

None of us want war, and all of us hope that it can be avoided. But the wisest of us can not know when the danger will be upon us, and when it does come, we want to be prepared, not as a military people, but as a nation efficient and able to take care of itself in time of trouble.

Judging from the election returns those poor, half-starved Western farmers must have been too weak to vote the Democratic ticket.

A whole county ticket of redskins was elected in South Dakota, which is much better than electing a ticket of ordinary reds.

TIME TO BE THANKFUL

Now the time for the annual national inventory is at hand, and we approach the day when we ought to stop for a moment and give thanks for the blessings which have been conferred upon us during the year. And there is abundant reason to render thanks for the prosperity which has been showered upon us during the year 1926.

The present year has indeed been generally a prosperous one for the various communities which go to make up the United States of America. There have been some spots, of course, which have not had their full share of the good things, but the general tendency has been everywhere for the better, and, compared with the best Europe has to offer, our material record is one which might well excite the envy, if not the admiration of the world.

Measured by the great corporations which are usually the barometers of our well being, the year has been a good one and there is every evidence that conditions will continue favorable. The 12 greatest industries in the country are said, according to conservative estimates, to have earned a billion dollars so far this year for their stockholders. The figure is one which may well nigh stagger the imagination. The prosperity, however, has not been confined to these 12, but has been general. It is true that the farmer started the year with some foreboding as to his future, but agricultural conditions have steadily grown better, and the farmer is gaining renewed courage. The fact that this is true is abundantly shown by the election returns. Dissatisfied people usually take out their dissatisfaction on the party in power. But in this year of 1926 the party in power held its ground principally in the rural districts. It was in the great centers of population that it lost, and in the centers the issue was something quite different from the plight of the farmer.

Materially the country has much to be thankful for, but there are other things, too, worthy of mention. We are at peace with the world, and at home attending to our own business as a nation. This is something, too, that is worth being grateful for.

MORE LAWS COMING

Now that the election is over and the issues and the fortunes of the various candidates have been settled for the next two years, there is about to come to us again the season of lawmaking. Soon Congress will be in session, and then will come the meetings of the various state legislatures, all anxious to get the old legislative hopper ready to grind out laws by the hundred, laws for the regulation of the people and their business, and laws which a great many of us unfortunately will prepare to dodge whenever possible.

For the season of lawmaking always follows the election. Some of the experts on the subject are now predicting that at least 15,000 new laws will be made for the American people within the next few months—15,000 new laws to be added to the statutes which we now seem to be unable to enforce.

This number may seem to be tremendous, but it may turn out to be a conservative guess. In addition to our Congress, there will be about 40 legislatures in session. These lawmaking bodies turned out in the neighborhood of 14,000 laws 2 years ago and there seems to be no reason why they will not exceed this record in the coming year.

Just why we have to have so many new laws nobody seems to know. It would seem that legislators have a sort of mania for turning out new laws. They make the best sort of resolutions about fighting all unnecessary legislation, but when the boys get together down at the same capital a veritable epidemic of law-making always breaks loose.

Sometime perhaps the realization will come to us generally that what we need is not new laws, but a better enforcement of the laws already on the statute books, with the repeal of those which are found obnoxious in the enforcement. True, the editorial writers in the newspapers point out these facts occasionally even now, but nobody seems to be able to do anything about it. So until there is a change, doubtless we will continue to pile up new laws with the result that we shall increase the number of lawbreakers and throw the law as a general proposition still further into public contempt.

Still it must be admitted that there are several rivers for Governor Smith to cross between Albany and Washington.

Has your poultry flock been culled since August?

Before deciding what crops to raise along with cotton, take an inventory of your machinery and power and see if you are equipped to produce it at a profit.

The suggestion that Alabama be made a "fried-chicken state" is gaining headway.

The South's cotton crop is estimated at 17,918,000 bales, which is 1,180,000 bales larger than the 1914 crop of 16,738,000, the largest before 1926.

Birthday Party.

A happy occasion was on last Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Kin Vinson entertained a group of little folks at her home on Fifth Avenue, celebratng the fifth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Gertiwyl. The home was artistically decorated with roses, chrysanthemums and potted plants. A color scheme of pink and green prevailed. Various out-door games were played, directed by little Miss Ruth Jones. A contest, pinning on the donkey's tail, was enjoyed. Hal Broadhead received the boy's prize, a skull cap, and Dorothy Duncan, the girl's prize, a doll. Callen Alred and Frances Rasberry were given little toy pigs for booby prizes. Late in the afternoon the little guests were invited into the dining room. The table was centered with a large white birthday cake with eight pink rose buds holding eight tiny green candles. Pink and green ribbons extended from the cake to the places of the guests. Upon drawing, James Jones drew the ring, the guest of honor the thimble and Billy Retherford the button. The favors upon this occasion were toy animals. Mrs. Vinson assisted by Mrs. Curry served refreshments that further carred out the color scheme.

Child-birth

THOUSANDS of mothers for over three generations have praised Mother's Friend for relieving them of unnecessary pains during expectancy.

"Everyone was surprised how well I got along," writes Mrs. Alfred E. Ammon, Muncie, Ind. "My pains disappeared after using Mother's Friend and I was sick only an hour and a half at baby's birth."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It is made from a combination of highly refined oils and other wonderful ingredients and is for outward application. Mother's Friend aids the skin and muscles to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 33, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

PEP is Vitality

More energy will increase your earning ability

IT is the red blooded people who win success in this world! Red blood gives men and women the vitality—the energy—the strength and the activity to earn what they deserve!

Nobody can do justice to themselves when they are suffering for want of rich, red blood. It is this impoverished condition of the blood that causes so many failures in life. There's no place at the top for the weakling—the men and women with poor, weak blood.

Build up your blood! Get in the red-blooded class—and get the rewards you deserve. S. S. S. will do it for you! S. S. S. helps Nature build millions of red-blood-cells!

S. S. S. sends rich, red blood tingling to every fibre of your body and every pore of your skin. You are fairly radiant with energy, vim and vitality.

You'll look like success, too! The rich, red blood that S. S. S. helps Nature build for you will clear your skin of any ugly blemishes—your eyes will sparkle with enthusiasm — firm, solid flesh will round out your figure—strength and power will come to weak, flabby muscles.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed on the 14th day of January, 1926, by O. F. Scott, and his wife, Mollie Scott, in favor of C. A. Pattillo, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Book 210 of Mortgages, Page 277, the undersigned, C. A. Pattillo, mortgagee, will on the 29th day of December, 1926, in front of the court house door of Chilton County, in the City of Clanton, Alabama, during the legal hours of sale, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described property, to-wit:

The entire crop of corn, cotton, cotton seed, oats, hay, fodder, peas, and potatoes, and all other crops grown or raised by O. F. Scott and his wife, Mollie Scott, or in which they may have any interest, during 1926, until said notes or indebtedness are paid, as well as all rents due or to become due, and the crops grown or raised, by any tenants, hands or employees of said O. F. Scott and his wife, Mollie Scott, during said year. Also the following described property, being in the County of Chilton, and State of Alabama, to-wit: The west half of northwest quarter of southwest quarter, and all that part of the west half of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter lying north of the Montgomery and Tuscaloosa Public Road situated in Section 24, also three (3) acres in the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 23, containing 38 acres, more or less, and known as the tract of land obtained from J. D. and Ella Culp, and upon which said mortgagor's residence is located; also the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 23 and known as a portion of the 80 acre tract obtained from the Alabama Mineral Land Company, all the above land being in Township 21, Range 13, and containing in all, 78 acres of land, more or less; and one bay horse mule about 8 years old, name Jim, one bay mare mule about 9 years old, name Kate; one Weber two-horse wagon and harness, three steel beam plows, two cultivators, two plow stocks, one Joe harrow, one cotton planter, and one Cole guano distributor.

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, said sale will be made for the purpose of paying the indebtedness secured by said mortgage and the expenses provided therein, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

This, the 12th day of November, 1926.

Lullwater TRADE MARK GARMENTS

A Money Saving Investment in Wearing Apparel for the Family

Lullwater denim is a heavy service material, almost non-tearable, and every thread is a perfect unit spun from the best quality predyed cotton.

Lullwater Overalls and Jumpers are full and roomy. Pockets are made rip-proof by a heavy bar tack at each end of opening. All seams are felled and double sewed. Overalls have 2 front pants pockets, 2 in back and rule pocket on side; apron has extra pocket, making 2 apron pockets in all. They are made in suspender backs, reinforced to prevent ripping; also in continuous high backs, suspenders lined. Buttons are flexible top, rust proof.

Jumpers same quality and made with four pockets.

Other Lullwater Garments are bungalow dresses, play suits, men's and boys' shirts, and white, khaki and hongkong pants.

FROM COTTON BOLL TO YOU

The great Lullwater Mills buy cotton direct from the farmer and clean, dye, spin and weave it into denim and chambray; cut their own patterns and finish garments complete within their own organization. These the Lullwater Company sells direct to your dealer and passes the middleman's savings along to you. Get acquainted with the Lullwater Line today. For sale at the best stores.

FOREST LAND IS CAPITAL

Forest land that is not yielding full returns in the way of increased growth is much like a note that pays no interest, points out the Alabama Commission of Forestry. A factory that is not operated, a team standing in the stalls, a house that yields no rental, the skill of a worker not employed, and money kept in hiding instead of out at interest are all forms of idle capital. Land that is not being put to a profitable use ranks with these.

Under the laws of economics the possessor of any form of capital, whether it be real property, cash, or one's capacity for labor, is entitled to certain returns for its use. Such returns, however, do not flow automatically, but accrue only when the property or ability is put to work. Good management has a great deal to do with the amount of the yield returned to the owner from his investment. Management implies knowledge, initiative, and energy on the part of the owner or user of any form of capital.

Forest land is a form of capital which yields the greater part of its possible returns under comparatively elementary forms of management. As contrasted with the average wild land areas which are practically at a standstill as far as productiveness is concerned, forest areas that are protected from fire and from which only mature material is removed will readily yield over any considerable period of years a net return of from $2 to $4 per acre per annum. It is probable that no other use of extensive areas will yield as high a rate of net return upon actual value with as little operating cost.

S. J. M. WEBB THANKS VOTERS

To the Voters of Chilton County:

I desire to take this means of thanking you for honoring and electing me as a member of the County Board of Education.

So come on now, one and all, when you have school problems, and make them known; I will take pleasure in helping you solve them to the very best interest of your school, and will aid you in any school work that tends to make better schools and better boys and girls for our great County of Chilton.

I desire to especially thank those who gave me their vote and influence, and to those who did not support me I hold no ill will, but trust I shall be able to help make your school better too.

Again thanking you for the honor placed upon me, I am, yours very truly,—S. J. M. Webb.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

On Friday of last week, in company with E. W. Butler, Rev. J. E. Each, Mrs. Each and Mrs. S. C. Wood, the writer attended the dedicatory exercises of the new building for a negro public school located near the western part of the town of Thorsby. The land for the school site, some four acres, was donated by Mr. F. A. Gulledge, and as a mark of appreciation the school has been Christened "The Gulledge School."

For upwards of two years Thorsby's negro colony has given a lot of time and effort to raise money, not less than $500, necessary to secure the sum of $400 from the state and a like amount from the Julius Rosenwald fund to aid negroes to obtain better school facilities. Under direction of Joseph Sistrunk, a graduate of Morehouse Theological Seminary, in Atlanta, who has been principal of the school, and pastor of two negro churches in other sections of Chilton County, the goal has been reached, and they have today a modern one-room school building, well lighted and heated and ventilated, and an enrollment of 36 pupils, and it is hoped the number may be increased to 50 next year, which will permit the school to have another room and teacher. The principal is himself an illustration of what may be accomplished by having a good purpose and putting all one's resources and energy into it. He wanted a college education and got it by work to earn his expenses.

The fiddlers convention at the public school last Saturday night drew one of the largest audiences of the year. Sufficient money was raised to pay for a new sewing machine recently purchased for the domestic science department and pay the balance on the piano. Some was left for the benefit of the school. Miss Stewart, one of the faculty, was voted the prettiest girl and there was a landslide for E. W. Butler as the ugliest man. His prize was a hair cut and shave.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. J. E. Each was treated to a surprise by a few of her friends in celebration of her birthday anniversary. She received many useful presents and many good wishes for future anniversaries of a like nature.

On last Saturday Mrs. J. H. Goddard, Mrs. C. S. Howard and daughter, Ella, spent the day at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Foshee and daughter, Etta.

Rev. J. H. Roberts, the new pastor of Thorsby Baptist church preached to a full house last Sunday morning and evening. His regular services hereafter will be the second and 4th Sundays of each month. On Monday of this week he left to attend a Baptist conference at Mobile.

On Wednesday night at 7 o'clock there will be a union prayer meeting at the Baptist church to which Christian people of all denominations or no denomination are invited.

The Y. W. A. and the W. M. S. had a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Piper last Monday afternoon and decided to have their bazaar the second Saturday in December. They will also have an oyster dinner.

Mrs. Charles S. Peterson entertained Circle No. 3 of the Ladies Guild Wednesday, the 17th. A spend-the-day party was enjoyed and much work for the guild bazaar was accomplished. Mrs. Chas. H. Williams also entertained Circle No. 1 of the Guild at a spend-the-day party the same day.

On Saturday afternoon the dormitory folks were guests of the Misses Hastings and Murray at a Hare and Hound chase. At the end of the chase was found a pile of wood all ready for a bonfire. Games were played and then the bonfire was lighted. Weiners and marshmallows were toasted over the fire and with them were served delicious rolls and apples. Everyone had a splendid time.

At 7:30 next Saturday night, Nov. 20th, the first open meeting of the Helen Keller Literary Society will be held in the auditorium of Helen Jenkins Hall. Everyone is invited. A slight admission of ten cents will be charged all except the students of the school and faculty.

The leader of the Chrstian Endeavor on Sunday night was Clara Crigsby, who has charge of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society. John VanDerveer, who is president, presided for the first time over the business part of the program. He called for the executive committee's report which gave a list of the various ones appointed on committees.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson L. Palmer, parents of Mrs. Robert Davenport, have come to Thorsby to live with Mrs. Davenport.

Mr. R. A. Walker has sold his home in Thorsby and left Monday to reside in Troy, where he has bought up.

Willie Scott spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott in Thorsby.

Mr. Harry Peterson, wife and baby of Oxmoor spent the week end with Mr. Petersen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Petersen.

Misses Giula and Margaret Williams spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Miss Ruth Gerald spent Sunday at the home of her brother, L. F. Gerald in Clanton.

Henry Robinson of Thorsby and Wm. Howard Taylor of Helena spent the week end with Mr. T. W. Robinson at Pensacola.

There will be English services next Sunday morning at Thorsby Lutheran church.

Mrs. G. F. Harper returned home last week after spending several weeks in Birmingham.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. Martha Grothe.

Mr. Arnie Christiansen and wife, Mrs. Harvey, and Mr. Vance, all of Birmingham, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Anna Villadsen on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. C. Forsman is reported to be quite ill at present; Miss Rosa Forsman, a trained nurse, is with her mother.

The annual bazaar given by the Ladies Guild of Thorsby will be held this year on Saturday after Thanksgiving, November 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Linton A. Brown and little from near Troy were visitors at W. H. Raybon's recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Prim of Siluria spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prim at Thorsby.

Mr. M. N. Brown of Brattleton, Ala., spent last Thursday night at the home of W. H. Raybon.

Mrs. Josie Askins of Clanton is spending a few days with Mrs. J. C. Prim.

Lewis D. Kelley, a former student at Thorsby Institute is in school at Hartford, Ala., but says he "had rather be with old T. I."

Next Sunday night at 7:15 there will be a lecture by Rev. Each, illustrated by stereoptican views. The title of the lecture is "The Lure of Alaska." Many beautiful pictures of scenes in Alaska will be shown. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

Mr. Roy Kendrick of Fairfield spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kendrick, who also entertained Mr. and Mrs. Stone from Columbiana.

Miss Claudia Smith, who is teaching at Isabella, spent the week end in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Walker, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Grover Bice, went to Deatsville Saturday to attend the funeral of Mr. Walker's mother, 74 years old.

Arrangements have been made to hold union Thanksgiving service at the Baptist church. Rev. Thomas Bakke will preach.

W. CARY MARTIN DIED ON TUESDAY MORNING

Mr. W. Cary Martin, age 49, died at his home in Thorsby Tuesday a.m., after an illness of about a week. Burial was at Thorsby Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Martin is survived by his wife, three daughters and three small boys. He was the son of the late B. N. Martin. His brothers, who are still living, are, J. R., W. L., L. P., N. L., and L. G. Martin.

Cary Martin was known as one of the best men in Chilton County He was a consecrated Christian, who always stood for the best things of life. His influence for good in his community has always been recognized and appreciated by his friends and neighbors, and to say that he will be sadly missed is but feebly expressing the true feeling of those who have had the pleasure of his association in life.

REV. WILKERSON GOES TO MOUNDVILLE M. E. CHURCH

As a result of appointments coming from the Methodist Conference at De Funiak Springs, Fla., last week, Clanton will get a new Methodist pastor, and Rev. C. C. Wilkerson will go to Moundville in Hale County. The successor of Rev. Wilkerson here will be Rev. W. M. Cox.

Rev. Wilkerson has been in Clanton for the past three years, and his work here has been marked with much progress and sound accomplishment for the Methodist congregation. The many friends of Rev. Wilkerson and his fine family will regret that they are to go away from Clanton.

JEMISON WANTS VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE IN ITS SCHOOL

We understand through the office of the county superintendent of education that the people of Jemison are to make application for state aid in the construction of a vocational agriculture building in connection with the present buildings which constitute the Jemison High School. The plan is to inaugurate a vocational agriculture department at Jemison which is a duplicate of that phase of the Isabella school. It is expected that a vocational teacher may be secured for Jemison by January 1st.

When Jemison puts her plans thru, it will give Chilton County three vocational agriculture schools. There is one already in operation at Isabella, and one for colored folks at the Chilton County Training School.

In addition to the teaching of vocational agriculture in the schools, the farmers in those communities are finding the vocational teacher to be of immense benefit to them in the inauguration and practice of more advanced methods of scientific agriculture.

We hope that Jemison can be successful in their aims. They already have a very fine school there. The addition of the vocational agriculture department will do much to enhance the value of the school to the community which it is so nobly serving already in a literary way.

HOWARD COLLEGE GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR HERE

Chilton County High School auditorium will be the scene Monday evening, November 29, of one of the season's most entertaining musical programs, it is indicated by the announcement that the Howard College Club will appear in Clanton at that time. The ability of the Howard song birds to make an evening entertaining is well known in this community.

The concert at Clanton will be the second of a series of nine performaces of the club. Concerts will be given at Montgomery, Troy, and other cities while the organization is on the tour.

The Glee Club is said to be better than ever this season. A majority of last year's members are back again this season, and a number of new members were added in the recent try-out. The program will consist of numbers by the chorus of 22 voices, varied selections by the quartet, and music by an 8-piece jazz orchestra.

Do The People of Chilton County Want a County Farm Demonstrator?

Clanton, Ala., November 23, 1926.
Editor Union-Banner.

We, the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, take this opportunity to write through your paper to the people of Chilton County and say to them that the question has been agitated to some extent for the County to hire a county farm demonstrator, but up to this time, the Commissioners have not been convinced that a majority of the people of the County want the County to pay out of the county funds sixteen hundred and fifty dollars per year, the amount they would have to pay if they employed said Demonstrator.

The Court wants to do what the majority of the people of the County want done, and if some way could be suggested to ascertain the wishes of the majority of the people, the Commissioners Court would be glad to follow the instructions of the people, as the Court at all times wants to do what a majority of the people wants done.

MOVED TO MARTIN DAM

Mr. and Mrs. George Trotter are moving this week to Martin Dam, where Mr. Trotter has a permanent connection with Alabama Power Company. They have sold their home on Eighth Street in Clanton to Mr. John Armstrong.

CENTER HILL

Almost veryone here is through gathering their crops and the harvest seems to be very plentiful indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McGraw are spending the week in Birmingham visiting relatives.

Mr. Dick Sims spent the week end with his father, Mr. Jim Sims.

B. L. Cobb of Birmingham spent a few days recently with his family here.

Miss Frauline Cobb had as her guest this week Miss Opal Millander of Centreville. Miss Cobb is teaching out at Fremam, and she and Miss Millander spent the week end with the former's parents.

Miss Elsie Hand visited home folks in Deatsville recently.

Miss Aildes Sturdivant of Silluria spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sturdivant.

The writer has been making a survey of the community, and he finds that in almost every home the Union-Banner is read and enjoyed.

GOVERNOR BRANDON CAUGHT IN WHISKEY RAID NEAR FOLEY

Dozen Quarts Liquor Reported Found In Governor's Room at Fishing Camp in Baldwin County.

Bay Minette, Ala., Nov. 23.—Governor W. W. Brandon, of Alabama, and a party of eight friends were orer to appear in court here today as result of a raid last night on a fishing camp near Magnolia Springs, across the bay from Mobile, where more than a dozen quarts of liquor were found in a room occupied by the state's chief executive. Sheriff Ramsey Stewart, of Baldwin County, was to swear out a warrant charging the entire party with violation of the prohibition laws.

Members of the party were to be arraigned in a Bay Minette court today, according to statements issued by Sheriff Stewart.

The governor denied ownership of the whiskey He was expected to plead not guilty today.

The raid was conducted by a squad of deputies headed by Deputy Sheriff Barney Williams, who had a search warrant.

Those in the party with the governor were Atticus Mullin, of Montgomery; Jack Daniels, David Castleman, William Castleman, Charles P. Anderson, Addison R. Smith, Carr McCormick, Joe H. Suttle, and Will Reed, negro porter.

According to the arresting officers, the men were seated around a card table when the raid was made. Some of the liquor was found in a suitcase, and other bottles, partly empty, were found around the room.

According to Frank Barchard, editor of the Foley (Ala.) Onlooker, who was present when the raid was conducted, the governor characterized the raid as "merely to embarrass" him and members of his party. He was quoted by Editor Barchard as saying that ',if the boys are convicted all I cam do is to parole them."

Barchard said that the governor also stated that the raid was to be regretted because of the "injury it might do Baldwin county," and expressed the opinion that "my friends might not spend any further money in development in Baldwin county."

DR. J. M. DENNIS KILLED AT COTTON VALLEY, LOUISIANA

Mr. Jasper N. Dennis received a telegram Tuesday morning informing him of the death of his brother, Dr. J. M. Dennis, which occurred near Cotton Valley, La., about six o'clock Monday night. Report of the death says that Dr. Dennis was in his car, which turned over on an embankment and pinned him underneath, death resulting instantly.

Mr. Jasper Dennis left Clanton on Tuesday, going to the home of the deceased. When leaving here Mr. Dennis stated that the body would probably be brought here for burial.

Nr. Dennis was a practicing physician, having been engaged in that profession since graduating from college in 1903.

Members of the immediate family of Dr. Dennis were in Los Angeles, California at the time of the accident. It will probably be the last of this week before they can reach Clanton, in which event, burial of the body will probably be held up until they get here.

NEW MEMBERS TAKE PLACES ON COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

A meeting of the county board of education was held at the office of the county superintendent last Friday at which time the newly elected members of the board, Mr. S. J. M. Webb and Mr. R. H. Bean, were installed and started out on their official duties. These two gentlemen took the places of J. L. Vines and J. C. Pattllo.

Mr. J. M. Smith was also duly and legally installed as the successor of Mr J. P. Dykes. to which place the former was elected in November.

The personnel of the county board is now as follows: W. J. Billingsley, A. L. Robinson, J. M. Smith, S. J. M. Webb and R. H. Bean.

It will be pleasant news to the people of Chilton County to know that the legal technicalities which have complicated matters in connection with our school board members for recent years is now smoothed out and everything is clear for the members of the board to proceed with the work of the school business

Hereafter the meetings of the board will be held regularly on the last Friday of each month, unless special notice is given to the contrary. The school board and the county superintendent hope that they may have the assistance and cooperation nf the people of the county in their efforts to justly and effectively administer the school business to the best interests of our schools in the future.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION

There will be a fiddlers convention at Marbury Friday night, December 3, 1926. Everybody is invited. Admission is 25c and 35c. Twelve prizes will be given away: $5 in cash; $5 pair of shoes; $2.50 in cash; 1 sack of flour; 1 razor; $1.50 cash; $1. tie; $1 belt; and four cash prizes of $1 each.

FRANK JOHNSON AND WIFE ARRESTED WITH WHISKEY

Frank Johnson and his wife, Mrs. Ada Johnson, from Coosa County, were arrested by Deputies Foshee and Culp last Tuesday evening. They had ten gallons of liquor in a Ford car. The arrest was made just as they drove the car into the yard at the home of Edgar Baker near Highland church.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were brought to jail.

MRS. W. A. WEAVER DEAD

On Saturday, November 13, the spirit of Mrs. W. A. Weaver made its flight into that great beyond. She had been failing in health for some time, but only a few days ago a stroke ended her life. She was laid to rest in San Diego, California, having lived there since the death of her husband five years ago. She lived the greater part of her life in Chilton county. She was a member of the Methodist church and a good neighborly woman. She is survived by one daughter, one sister and two brothers.

WHY WE DID IT

Th Union-Banner is getting to you a day early this week. The reason for this is that we either had to be a day early or a day late—that is on the rural routes—since Thursday is a holiday and no mail carriers go on ther routes that day. We dislike for our paper to get out behind times, therefore, by the force tightening up a bit and working two or three nights, we are getting out to our readers on Wednesday instead of Thursday, our regular publication day.

MR. J. A. HUETT DEAD

Mr. James Alfred Huett died last Saturday about noon at his home near Enterprise Schoolhouse. Although Mr. Huett had been in declining health for some months, his death came as a shocking surprise to his many friends and relatives. Death was said to have been caused from high blood pressure.

The deceased was about forty-seven years old and is survived by his wife and four children, two boys and two girls.

The remains were buried in Shiloh cemetery Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. D. Hughes conducting the funeral ceremony.

BIBLE CONFERENCE HELD AT TEMPLE CHURCH IN CLANTON

A Bible Conference was held at Temple Church in Clanton the past week, beginning Thursday night, November 18, and closing Tuesday night, November 23.

Representatives of the Christian and Missionary Alliance were Rev. Ira E. David, and Rev. A. I. Garrison.

Rev. David, pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle of Atlanta, Ga., brought a good message to his listeners on Thursday night.

Rev. A. I. Garrison, Alliance missionary to India for 15 years, and now on furlough, spoke from time to time during the remainder of the services. His description of conditions in India, with her teeming millions who have never even been told that there has been a Christ, brought a word of wonder from everyone. He showed, by a map, the many different sections of India, with groups of from 3,000,000 to 40,000,000, where missionaries have never been and are not allowed to go, except for medical work. When that is done, they must get out—no preaching of the Christian faith is allowed. Rev. Garrison will return to India about next September, having a year off for furlough at the end of each 7 years.

ANNUAL TELEPHONE MEETING SECOND MONDAY IN DECEMBER

Rev. W. S. Cox wishes the people to remember the annual meeting of the Peoples Telephone Co., which is to be held on the second Monday in December at 10 o'clock, A. M. The lines are requested to hold their meetings the week before the second Monday and elect a representative for each line to the annual meeting.

ANNUAL SINGING AT PILGRIM REST HELD LAST SUNDAY

The annual singing in the Christian Harmony books met at Pilgrim Rest Sunday, with a small crowd on account of bad weather. Everyone enjoyed the singing, and at noon a bountiful dinner was spread

The annual singing met at Alpine on the Third Sunday. The singing will be held there on the Second Sunday in November next year.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT MAPLESVILLE NOVEMBER 25

We are requested to announce that there will be a fiddlers convention at Maplesville High School, Thursday night, November 25. Everybody is invited to come. Full details of the program will be published later.

CHILTON LOSES FREAK GAME TO SHADES-CAHABA, 7 TO 6

Chilton County was defeated by the Shades-Cahaba eleven last Friday afternoon, 7 to 6.

It was a good game, but turned out to be a kind of "believe it or not" affair, as shown by statistics of the game.

Chilton was on Shades-Cahaba's 5-yard line early in the first quarter, but failed to go over for the score. However, late in the second quarter, after sensational runs by Sanford, and bucks by Gore and Nivens, Chilton placed the ball behind Cahaba's goal line, but failed to kick goal for the extra point. Herein lies the story of defeat. Had that extra point been made a tie would have resulted.

To begin the second half Cahaba kicked off to Chilton. After two or three tries at the line, Culpepper lifted a short punt to Cahaba's safety man, who stepped 50 yards behind perfect interference, for a touchdown, and the extra point was added.

That's the story of the scoring, but falls far short of telling the relative strength of the teams. Chilton had Cahaba outclassed in every department except, possibly, forward passing. Cahaba worked their passes far better than anything Chilton has faced this year.

Below are given a few points that show the freakishness of the score, and give an idea of the relative strength of the two teams:

Three-fourths of the game was in Shades-Cahaba territory.

Any Chilton back except Culpepper, safety man, gained more ground than all the Shades-Cahaba team together.

Chilton's total yardage from all plays was almost 4 times that of her opponent.

Chilton was inside Cahaba's 20-yard line 8 times, and her 10-yard line 6 times including the touchdown.

Cahaba was inside Chilton's 20-yard line 4 times, and her 10-yard line 3 times, including the touchdown. On one occasion Cahaba took 4 good healthy punches from the 1-foot line but couldn't budge.

Chilton was forced to punt 3 times, while Cahaba kicked 10 times.

Throughout the game, Sanford alone gained almost twice as much around left end (without the line and right end) than the whole Cahaba team, while either Gore or Nivens gained more through the line alone than was netted by every play Cahaba ran.

To add to the freaks, almost the whole last quarter was played in almost total darkness. Times-out were frequent, and almost two and a half hours were spent before the final whistle.

Shades-Cahaba will be remembered at Chilton High for one thing if for no other—high, unsportsmanlike tackling. Everything not absolutely forbidden in the rule book was employed by Cahaba, and some of these were violated, Cahaba receiving 4 fifteen-yard penalties for various offenses, together with numerous 5-yard penalties; Chilton received 2 penalties for off-side and one for holding.

PECULIAR CHEVROLET UNIT IN TROUBLE-SHOOTING SERVICE

The novel combination of a covered wagon and a Chevrolet roadster mounted in front on skiis and in the rear on snowmobile caterpillar tractors, is the strange appearing vehicle used by the Black River Telephone Co., of Lowville, N. Y., for "trouble-shooting" on its lines in the heavy snow belt of New York State.

The difficult winter territory for the company's linemen extends from Lake Ontario to Raquette Lake in the Adirondack Mountains and involves the maintenance of service throughout a chain of 20 exchanges.

This type of vehicle, which will travel over the most formidable snow drifts, was assembled by H. O. Peebles, a mechanic in the employ of the telephone company.

FROM SHELBY COUNTY

Dear Editor:

Please allow me space in your paper to write in regard to the election held on November 2, which threw a dark cloud over Shelby County—a county that was always counted as a place of safety for her people until four years ago.

Then it was handicapped by a band of organized Democrats, and our candidates were handicapped in many ways in the recent election. They didn't have time to get a thorough canvass of the county to get the facts before the people. But we are very proud to say that our candidates are true citizens of Shelby County, and put up a hard, honest fight, with the interest of the people at heart, and backed by the true ctizens of the county. While we were defeated, yet the Democrats can not boast of having gone into office by the true and honest citizenship of the county, which should make every good Republican more eager to fight for his rights, and get ready for the future elections, to put in men who will safeguard our rights and our homes, and redeem Shelby County from a band of organized Democratic politicians. These politicians believe in destroying the homes and taking the liberty of our citizens at the muzzle of a gun, and destroy the morals of the people of Shelby county. It behooves us, as true citizens of Shelby County, to stand pat for our rights, and be ready for the future election. Let's show by our vote that we believe in a free government, of the people and for the people, which means freedom and liberty for all. Let's prove by casting a Republican vote that we don't believe in a Democratic one-man government, or government by a few individuals or by a party that threatens our citizens with the prison doors if they don't vote as they say.

We are proud of the citizens of Shelby County, who, after being so threatened, had the backbone to walk up to the polls and cast their vote for liberty and freedom. We should all go up on election day and let our conscience be our guide, and cast our vote for a system of government that will mean liberty and freedom for all.—A Shelby County Republican.

AN OVERCROWDED CURRICULUM

To the Editor The Birmingham News:

Common sense and scholarship, formerly considered essentials of education, are out of date in our modern system.

They are among many other relics of the dark ages which we have outgrown.

In the remote past, such teachers as Socrates and Plato, such orators as Demosthenes and Cicero, put it over on an ignorant people. Even in American history, such as Patrick Henry, Ben Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, Henry Clay, Dan Webster, and many others, knew no better. But we have discovered something—such "stuff" is irrelevant.

The ancients knew nothing of standardization.

Our education, our schools, our textbooks, and our teachers have been so standardized as to eliminate the lost motion caused by individuality, personality, and initiative among teachers and schools.

Since common sense is no longer a requisite, anyone may become a first class teacher by taking a brief course of standardized training prescribed for the purpose. Nothing else than the training is necessary.

Moreover, since scholarship is not the end in view, the irksomeness of study has vanished.

If parents can pay the bills, and the children are physically able to "lug" the books back and forth, the rest may be easily accomplished by a system of delightful games and plays!

However, some parents are so eccentric and parsimonious as to balk at this point. Some even have the audacity to want to know why a first grade child should require 8 or 10 books, or a second grade 10 or 12, or how a sixth grade can use 20.

These facetiously mentioned conditions may serve as sidelights to our embarrassing predicament.

Yet, we must face the facts. Crying will not help the matter. We are face to face with a problem that demands immediate consideration.

No difference how meritorious the textbooks might be, there can be no excuse for placing twice or three times as many in a grade as pupils can accomplish in the required time.

Who suspects that a six-year-old child, in the primer class, can accomplish 8 books? Who would imagine a child in the fifth grade carrfing 15, or one in the sixth doing 20?

Who expects a parent to pay, without a protest, $15 for a set of sixth grade books, when less than half that number may be used to advantage?

Why should the people of Alabama be requred to pay 3 or 4 million dollars each year for unnecessary books, that hinder rather than help by congesting the course?

Standard high schools and colleges allow pupils to carry 4 or 5 subjects. Yet, at that tender age, we have 13 prescribed in the sixth grade, with 1 or more basal texts on each, and supplementary texts on 5 of them.

In the fifth grade we consider 9 subjects sufficient, inasmuch as 4 supplementary subjects are carried!

Can't anyone see the absurdty, the utter impossibility of the situation?

Doubtless the course of study was arranged in good faith. No doubt the textbook committee did its work with a view to the best interest of the schools.

But, that doesn't relieve the congested condition, neither does it save the situation from failure.

Doesn't sanity demand that only as much be undertaken as may be accomplished? And that textbooks suited to conditions be used?

To be fair, most of the adopted books are scholarly, but that should be no argument for overcrowding the course, or that they meet our needs.

Our junior and senior high school English and mathematics texts are bringing extremely meager results, and should be displaced with more suitable books.

As important as is the subject, we have gone to extremes on health.

High school pupils should not be expected to use a text on health in order to learn science.

Such a conglomeration of subjects is probably the cause of much of our trouble in getting results.

Having had the subject of health through the lower grades, surely 1 good text on that subject should be sufficient for high school.

The present text for the junior high contains excellent subject matter, but the prominence of egotism in its phraseology renders it undesirable in those grades where attention should be given to style in English.

PRICES CUT

I know the price of cotton is very low; that it has caused a falling off in all trades, because money is hard to get. So, to show the public my heart is still right, I now cut my prices in all kinds of dental work, except in material, which is first class. Work is guaranteed to hold and give satisfaction. All work is strictly cash, and painless.

Chilton County High School Department

High School Orchesta.

The members of the orchestra have received most of their instruments, and are now taking lessons; 2 flutes, 1 clarinet, 2 trumpets, and 1 mellophone have arrived, with several on the way. Each evening after school the boys remain to practice for 30 minutes. Each Wednesday afternoon all the boys meet for a class lesson in the fundamentals of music.

Music Appreciation.

The case of music appreciation records arrived on Tuesday, and were immediately put to use in the class that afternoon.

Musical Tea.

The music theory class of Chilton County High School entertained at a musical tea in honor of their mothers on Thursday afternoon, November 18. Miss Ruth Session, a senior, was chairman of all committees, and was hostess for the afternoon. Each music student took part on the program, some playing scales, exercises, studies, or pieces, to show the progress they have made during the first two months of school.

Study Club Meets.

Mrs. Victor J. Heard entertained the Study Club Friday afternoon at her home on North Tenth Street.

Fall flowers adorned the living and dining rooms. Mrs. John M. Van Derver presided over the business session. Mrs. Hugh Jones served as secretary in the absence of Miss Mullins.

The resignation of Mrs. L. C. Ross as Treasurer was accepted with regret. Several other important business matters were discussed and dispensed with.

Mrs. J. E. Gowan, chairman of program committee reported that the program for next year had been completed.

An interesting program on American art was rendered. Mrs. J. E. Gowan read Mrs. Tom Johnson's paper on "Greater Progress in American Art." Prominent American Artists and Reproductions of their work was ably discussed by Mrs. Grady Reynolds. The roll call was answered with an American Arteist.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Grady Reynolds served a delicious salad plate with coffee

The members present were: Mesdames J. W. Hayes, L. F. Gerald, J. E. Gowan, Arthur Johnson, Hugh Jones, Grover Harris, Barney Roberts, J. A. Hester, Eric Hart, and John VanDerveer.

READ THE PINK LABEL ON YOUR UNION-BANNER

Here of recent date and more or less always in the past, we have people complaining because we did not notify them before their time was out on the Union-Banner, so that they could renew and not miss any issues of the paper. I answer to this request we refer each subscriber to the little pink label at the top of the right hand corner of your Union-Banner every week. This little label, besides carrying the name of the subscriber, bears the date when the subscription expires. The first set of figures represent the month, the middle set the day and the last set the year. For instance, if your label reads: John Jones, 12-14-26, it means that John Jones' subscription will expire on December 14, 1926, etc.

We have tried several means of notifying our subscribers when their paper would be out, but we find the above the most satisfactory all the way around. This plan would be perfect if our subscribers would only notice their labels. By doing this you would be able to tell any time of the year when your paper would expire.

We hope that our subscribers will get accustomed to looking at the pink label on your paper, and thus stay informed as to your expiration date. It is too expensive for us to mail every subscriber a letter and tell them the date their paper will be out, when ever we are informing them of the date of expiration every time they get a Union-Banner. Please take notice of the little pink label.

Easy for the Trained German Mind

Twelve years ago when I was a reporter on the New York Evening World, the body of a young woman, expensively dressed, was found in a thicket in a lonely and remote part of Long Island. She had been murdered—shot through the head. Harry Stowe of our staff, since deceased, was the first reporter to reach the place. The body had not been moved; and in searching about it Stowe happened upon something the local coroner had overlooked—a scrap of discolored paper, bearing printed and written words in German upon it.

Stowe quietly slipped the paper into his pocket and caught the first train for town. He couldn't read German himself, so he took his find to the office of the German consul. There he met an elderly, spectacled, exceedingly serious-looking undersecretary, who translated the printed and written inscriptions for him.

Then the secretary wanted to know what it was all about. Stowe told him, explaining that the identity of the murdered woman was still a profound mystery—that nobody could guess who or what she was. He described her clothing in some detail.

"Pooh!" snorted the German. "Stupid fools that these American policemen are! To the trained mind the whole thing is simplicity itself. By a process of elimination and deduction it is possible to ascertan beyond question exactly what manner of woman this was."

"Could you do it?" asked Stowe, hopefully.

"In one little minute!" said the undersecretary impressively.

"Go ahead then, please, and do it," begged Stowe.

"Very well," said the German. "My young friend, please follow me closely. This paper shows that some woman bought at a store in Leipsic certain small articles, kitchen utensils—a breadknife, a potato-masher, a coffee-grinder. No woman in Germany, unless she was a housewife, would buy such things. So!

"On the other hand, this woman, you tell me, wore forty-dollar corsets. No woman in Germany, unless she was an actress, would wear forty-dollar corsets.

"No actress would buy common household utensils. That would make her a housewife! No housewife would wear forty-dollar corsets. That would make her an actress! And there you are!"

OUR INTERNATIONAL MIND

With the commonly accepted view that the United States will not now enter the World Court, and that we are farther away than ever from the influence of the League of Nations, a great many people are rejoicing over the fact that the danger of our interfering with Europe's domestic troubles have passed. Nothing could be further from the truth. It is true that we are not going into the League nor into the Court for that matter, unless the European nations reverse themselves on our reservations.

But this does not mean that the danger is over. For so long as the United States remains the creditor nation and continues to pour billions of gold into Europe there will always be a demand that Uncle Sam interfere in European affairs, whenever the holders of European securities in this country feel that their interests are in danger.

If the holders of European securities were only a few international bankers on the eastern seaboard, it might be difficult, though not impossible, to move public sentiment. But this is not the situation. New York has become the money capital of the world. European nations owe us billions of dollars and they owe this not only to our government and to our bankers, but to thousands of investors in European securities in all parts of the country. It is estimated that in addition to the staggering sum already owed us, approximately another billion dollars in gold will be poured into Europe this year by American investors.

As an Associated Press report recently put it: "This golden stream which once seeped principally from sources along the Atlantic seaboard now flows in large volume from the reservoir of savings in the great Middlewest and Pacific Coast."

We have loaned nearly four billion in foreign lands during the past three years and the total of our private loans to Europe now approximates ten billion dollars. The internationalists who want us to become involved in European troubles are gleefully saying that these loans to Europe are bound to give us an "international mind" in place of the old American "mind-our-own-business" spirit.

An English newspaper recently commenting on President Coolidge's speech at Kansas City, consoled itself with the statement that before long we would be in the midst of Europe's problems whether we want to or not, because of our immense loans to Europe.

Of course these loans may be all properly secured and doubtless are from the purely financial standpoint, although of course no one can predict what the world situation will be ten years hence. But the fact remains that the internationalists are right when they say that our immense investments in Europe will make some of our people more and more interested in America in a financial way. The internationalists through these loans hope to increase sentiment for a cancellation of the government debts, and for a breaking down of our tariff system. In short they hope to do indirectly what they thought might be accomplished through the League of Nations and an unreserved adherence to the World Court, two agencies which they now find are ineffective.

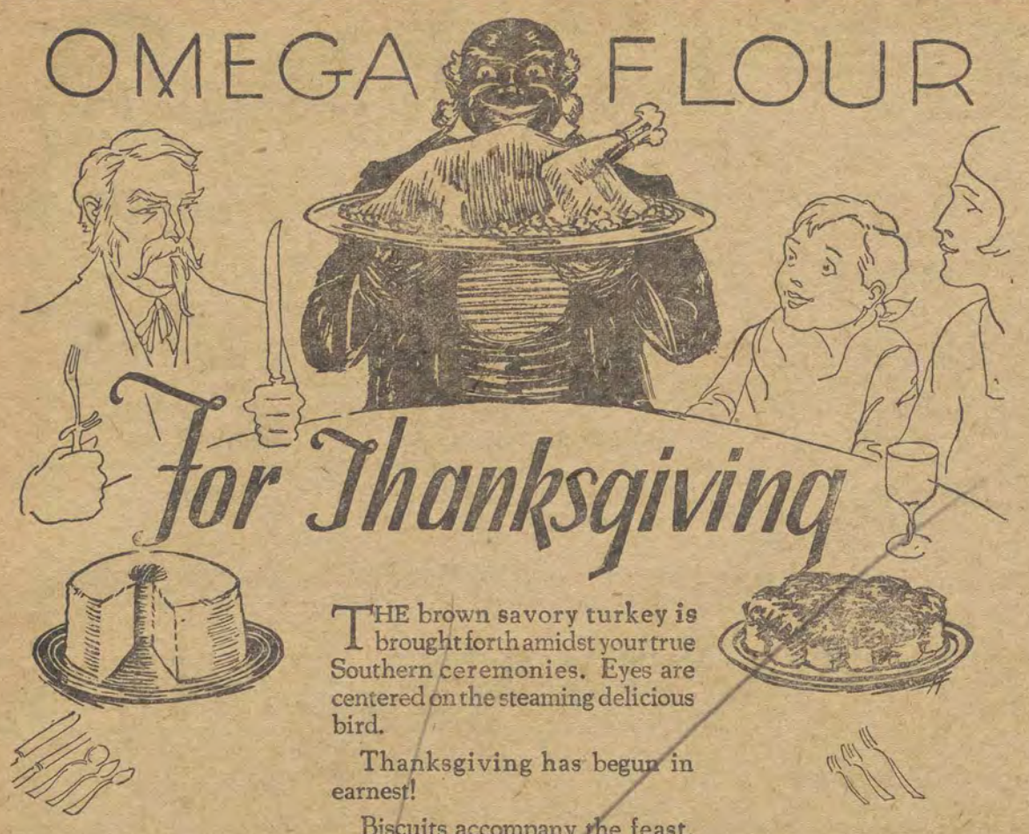
UNCLE JOE CANNON



The United States lost a real, stalwart American in the passing of Uncle Joe Cannon, venerable statesman and patriot. The death of the grizzled Illinois veteran was received with regret everywhere. Newspapers and public men who fought him in the hey-day of his powers, vie with each other in paying tribute when the Grim Reaper laid him low.

From this parting public tribute, the present day politician should gather a valuable lesson. The admiration for Uncle Joe was well nigh universal in America. He was loved by his friends because of his stalwart unflagging support of the principles in which he believed. He was admired by his political opponents, for his courage and his consistency. At all times, in the hour of victory and in the day of defeat, Uncle Joe stood by his principles. When it became evident that the principles for which he fought were to pass under a cloud, the grizzled old veteran did not desert the ship. He fought all the harder for what he believed to be right in the face of certain defeat. And then when the cloud had passed and his theory had been vindicated, he was the same stalwart cheerful Uncle Joe. Always the same, always the real constructive American.

That is why he was respected by friend and foe alike, and here is the lesson for the present day politician. The demagogue may gain passing power and popularity by bending to the popular passion, knowing that the temporary craze may be unsafe and unsound. But sooner or later his political sins find him out and he is buried under an avalanche that leaves him nothing but oblivion. The only way to gain lasting fame, and what is even better, the esteem of friend and foe alike, is to stand firm for principle in victory and in defeat. That is the lesson which the life of Uncle Joe Cannon has for the politician and statesman of the present generation.

A clean chimney will give more heat to each ton of coal.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Miss Orr Honors Sister.

One of the lovliest affairs of the season was given on last Saturday afternoon when Miss Madelyn Orr entertained at a bridge party at the Exchange Hotel, honoring her sister, Miss Louise Orr, who has recently returned from a two years stay in California. The parlors of the hotel were elaborately decorated. Autumn leaves and graceful hanging moss formed a background for tall vases and baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Attractive candle holders, made of apples, held yellow candles. These with other shaded lights, shed a soft glow over the lovely setting. Seven tables were arranged for bridge. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Catherine Donnelly, accompanied on the piano by Miss Louise Nichols. High score prize, a hand-embroidered luncheon cloth, was awarded to Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The consolation prize, a novelty tape measure, was given to Mrs. John M. Van Derveer. The guest of honor was presented a beautiful perfume atomizer.

Those included in this gracious hospitality were Mesdames Lawrence Gerald, H. M. Simpson, J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, N. S. Johnson, John Browder, Norman Roberts, Oscar Jones Eric Hart, Hosea Downs, J. C. Jones, J. P. Hayes, J. W. Hayes, R. C. McDavid, T. C. McSwain, John M. Van Derveer, C. Fenn Jones, Omar Reynolds, Percy Pitts, Barber of Birmingham, J. E. Edgar, Victor Heard, Grady Broadhead; Misses Bess Thomas, Ivilyn Ingram, Louise Nichols, Catherine Donnelly, Mary Sue Mullins, Kathleen Mullins, Bettie Mullins, and the honoree.

Dorcus Class Entertained.

The members of the Dorcus Class of the Baptist Sunday School were delightfully entertained on last Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. J. B. Mauney and Mrs. Grady Broadhead at the home of Mrs. Mauney on First Avenue. Tall vases and baskets of chrysanthemums and marigolds decorated the living and dining rooms. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. E. Edgar; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Kin Vinson; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Grady Heflin; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. Matthews; Secretary, Mrs. Grady Taylor; Treasurer, Mrs. F. P. James; Chairman of Decorating Committee, Mrs. Irene Rasberry; Reporter, Mrs. W. M. Wyatt. Plans were made for the class to have charge of the opening exercises Sunday, November 28. All members were urged to be present.

Enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Kin Vinson, Grady Taylor, Matthews, S. J. Ezell, Irene Rasberry, F. P. James, Dewey Eubanks, Grady Heflin, G. C. Walker, and J. E. Edgar.

Mrs. Ezell Hostess.

Last Tuesday evening Mrs. S. J. Ezell entertained the members of the Fidelis Class of the Baptist Sunday School at her home on Sixth Street. The home was artistically decorated with chrysanthemums, roses, and potted plants. A buffet supper was served in the dining room, after which a business meeting was held. A box of clothing, and also a box of books were packed to be sent to the Cajans. Plans for Christmas charity were made and other matters of business were dispensed.

The members of the class present were Misses Beatrice and Maude Alexander, Florence Grier, Terry, Thelma Guy, Evelyn Hix, Ivilyn Ingram, Jewel Minor, Dalene Williams, Lorene Murphy, Annie Bell White, Exie Baker, and Ruth Sessions.

Bridge Club.

Mrs. J. Hance Alred was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club on last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fifth Avenue. Fall flowers in gorgeous hues were attractively arranged about the rooms. Following a number of bridge games, Mrs. Lawrence Gerald held top score and was presented a pair of silk hose. A delicious salad plate with hot coffee was served.

Those playing were Mesdames N. S. Johnson, Frank Callen, H. M. Simpson, Lawrence Gerald, Arthur Johnson, John Browder, Victor Heard, Oscar Jones; and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Birthday Party.

A most delightful affair among the younger set was on Thursday evening, when Hugh Moses and William Simpson, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Simpson, entertained a large group of friends at the home of their parents on Fifth Street, celebrating their 18th birthday. The home was profusely decorated with gold and lavendar chrysanthemums. Wall vases were artistically arranged here and there. The table in the dining room was covered with a beautiful lace cover, and centertd with an immense three tier cake, embossed with yellow chrysanthemums tied with lavendar ribbons. The cake was surrounded by 18 lighted tapers. Crystal candlesticks tied with lavendar tulle held yellow candles. The ices, mints, and cakes also carried out the chosen color or scheme, which is the colors of the football team of Chilton County High School. Various games were played, and a contest enjoyed. Miss Nichols received the prize, a large box of candy.

Enjoying this affair were Ruth Sessions, Mary Goodwin Jones, Gertie Fquette, Sunset Polk, Kathrine Johnson, Mattie Arant, Vera Jones, Pauline Lawrence, Exie and Eugie Bawer, Clara Mae Popwell, U. L. and Annie Mae Foshee, Marjorie Mauney, Mary Lee and Pauline Pyron, Mildred and Janice Danforth, Gladys and Dalene Williams, Wilhelmina Kittrell, Vivian Sanders, Kathryn Hayes, Lillian and Edith Thompson, Virginia Alred, Lorene Murphy; Philip Foshee, Irby Popwell, Grover Harris, Henry Martin, Leon and Pete Sanford, Henry Roper, Raymond Mims, Willie Knox, Arthur Burnett, Cortland Retherford, Foster and Horace Miller, Edwin Bruner, J. Jones, William Hester; Mr. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Bruner; Misses Helen Evans, Ivilyn Ingram, Evelyn Hix, Louise Nichols, and Katherine Donnelly.

Circle No. 4 Meets.

Mrs. W. I. Mullins entertained the members of Circle No. 4 of the Baptist Missionary Society Monday afternoon at her home on Second Avenue. The living room was decorated with chrysanthemums and potted plants. After the devotional, the regular business meeting was held. Plans for a bazaar to be held December 10 were discussed. Mrs. Mullins, assisted Mrs. Frank Callen, and Miss Kathleen Mullins, served a delicious salad plate with hot tea.

Those present pere Mesdames J. E. Edgar, W. I. Mullins, M. A. Mullins, Bama Cox, Turner Dennis, P. M. Moore, F. P. James, W. Z. Hodges, Willie Bean, Mooney, Geneva Calloway, E. E. Upchurch, Charles Rasberry, George Willis, Matthews, Jesse Jones, Mattie Sewell, Grant, Hubert Jones, and Grady Broadhead.

Mr. J. Watts Moore made a business trip to Montgomery Monday.

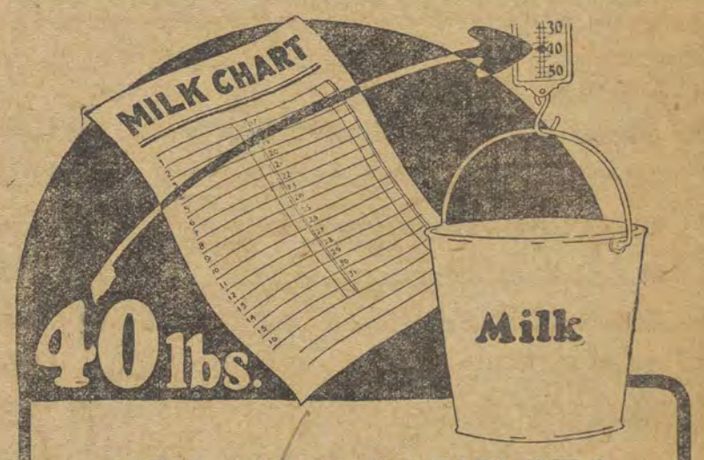
The Joy of Motherhood



JUST how to make motherhood a joy is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, mother-to-be! Learn the great truth; use the simple method of an eminent physician who dedicated his life's work to this great accomplishment for your benefit!

"I was in labor only 25 minutes with my last child, but suffered agonies with three previous children," writes an enthusiastic mother who used Mother's Friend. Great has been the praise of Mother's Friend for over three generations!

Mother's Friend aids the skin and muscles to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth!

Mother's Friend is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is applied externally.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 32, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

LET US PROVE IT!

MAKE a 30-day test on one cow. If we don't prove it—we pay.

Buy 2 bags of Alfocorn Milk Maker which gives you enough feed for a 30-day test. Feed it to one cow as per the directions in each sack. Keep a daily record on the chart which we furnish.

If that cow doesn't show a liberal increase and better milk than it ever gave before, or if you are not entirely satisfied with the results, the price you paid for the 30-day test will be refunded.

That's fair, isn't it?

And think of the increase in your profits.

Get More Miles Out of Your Gasoline

No matter what the price is, gasoline costs money—and we must have it. But why waste it? Using gasoline in a motor with leaky valves is like trying to drink out of a funnel—it can be done but you lose a lot. The chances are that the valves in your car NOW—they need refacing and reseating. After valves have been properly serviced by the KWIK-WAY SYSTEM, the best system known, the mileage per gallon of gasoline used is increased from 20% to 34%. Why? Because the valves are right. They hold compression. They do not leak gas. You get the full power impulse of every explosion. Drive in—we'll stop the leak, and the gas you save will soon pay for it. Drive in—Some Time Today.

ESSEX SIX

a FOUR door

Sedan

now showing for the first time

Answering an insistent demand for a beautiful, well appointed four door, five passenger body on the smooth and nimble Essex chassis, the Sedan is now being shown for the first time.

It has individuality in line, color and fittings. It is unusually comfortable in the seating arrangement. Upholstering is comparable in texture and quality with that used in costliest cars.

No car, regardless of cost, rides any easier. None is more easily handled in traffic. Essex is nimble, quiet and gives unusual gasoline mileage. It has fine car qualities in chassis and body that assure long service.

The cost is but little more than for any four—even less than for some four cylinder closed cars. It is much less than you will pay for any six cylinder Sedan.

EDUCATION—WHAT IS WRONG?

Editor The Birmingham News:

Somewhere in the back country there is a Red Mill school of which a man, named Benson, is the schoolmaster. I suspect he is a pretty good teacher and knows his stuff, which, of course, is the first requisite of a good teacher. For some time this country schoolmaster has been harping in The Birmingham News about the system of public education as administered in the State of Alabama. He has elaborated on the fearful waste of good raw material in the present method of making teachers out of common clay, and he has wailed over the uselessness of and the disappointment in the accrediting system in regard to the licensing of graduates of state normal schools to teach without an examination and the admission of graduates of so-called "accredited high schools" to the higher colleges without the formality of entrance examinations, their educational standing having been vouched for by the faculties of their several schools with reference to the course of study prescribed. And this man Benson's keynote is that poor teachers make poor schools and that just a recommendation, as it were, isn't worth a dingle anywhere.

No one wants to be unpleasant. But why should this country jake named Benson set down in the Red Mill schoolhouse, want to be such a hugger-mugger? Why? Dare I tell you? It is because he has the dope! Alas and alack! Today our chickens came home to roost. They are our chickens — our children — and, if straight legged with addled brains, who is to blame? What can we do? It looks as if Mr. Benson, of Red Mill school, has discovered us; we, who thought that we were at least the raisins in the educational pudding.

Of 52 Alabama high schools in the so-called "accredited" class, Phillips High, Birmingham's joy and pride, ranks eleventh. Woodlawn High, whose principal was let go recently for political reasons, beats it, ranking sixth, and Fairfield High still nearer the lead with a standing of five. Little Thorsby Institute down the road stood at the top and tied along with Decatur High. Then, there is Simpson High, preparatory school for Birmingham - Southern, easy to remember at 44. Loulie Compton School for Girls looks over the heads of 38 high schools with a score of 14. The rest who runs may read—and ponder.

Why carp? Why not helpful criticism? Such is apt to be the end of a pleasant hour's chat. Well, then, system is a good thing in any business providing it is a good system and works. Manufacturing plants and others hire system or efficiency engineers to find out why their shops run in a slip-shod fashion. There sits a schoolmaster in Red Mill schoolhouse. He may wear high water pants and a straw hat in October, but I'll bet he knows his stuff. He might be able to put his finger on this chronic trouble with the high schools.

ECZEMA

Dries right up!

If you just realized how easy it is to stop fiery, itching, burning eczema by simply building up the red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S., you wouldn't waste another minute trying to do it any other way.

That's the only way to relieve irritated, broken out skin of any sort. You lack rich, red blood. Impurities are in your system. The blood is so weak it can't fight back and overcome the enemy, so the impurities break out through the skin.

S. S. S. builds the blood back—builds millions of new red-blood-cells. Eczema dries right up. Boils, pimples, blackheads, ugly blotches and irritating rashes all disappear.

Clear up your skin. Get S. S. S. All druggists sell it. The larger bottle is more economical.

COTTONSEED MEAL FOR FERTILIZER

The current low prices for cottonseed meal as compared with nitrate of soda prices about the same as when cotton and cottonseed meal were much higher have presented a fertilizer situation which is expected by Prof. M. J. Funchess, dean and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Auburn, to cause farmers to use more cottonseed meal as a fertilizer for cotton next year.

To determine which to use, Prof. Funchess made a careful study of the results of 202 experiments conducted over a period of 12 years with farmers on all soil divsions of Alabama. He found that a ton of nitrate of soda (18% ammonia) produced 2.4 times as much cotton as a ton of cottonseed meal of 7.5% ammonia produced. This is the average for Alabama.

In pdactical terms this means that when the price of nitrate of soda is 2.4 times that of cottonseed meal they are a 50-50 proposition as a cotton fertilizer. At present, however, cottonseed meal can be bought for around $20 a ton and 2.4 times $20 equals $48, which is several dollars under prevailing prices for nitrate of soda.

Therefore, if present prices of the two products are the same when time comes to buy fertilizer, Prof. Funchess would advise farmers to buy cottonseed meal. At prevailing prices meal is more economical; and, at the same time, cottonseed meal is a cotton-farmer product, and by using it for fertilizer farmers are increasing the demand for their own product.

Prof. Funchess said that this figure is for the State as a whole, and that it is not absolutely true for all soil divisions. For this reason he advises farmers to consult their county agents for information about the results on their particular soils.

Auction Sales

I am glad to say to my friends that I am now back in the auction business with both feet up. I am ready to put on, push, and pull off auction sales of any kind anywhere in this part of Alabama, any time except on Saturdays.

Every Saturday I will conduct an auction sale of some kind at my store in Clanton. If you want to pick up some real bargains just stick around my place.

If you want to sell your farm just get in touch with me and I will turn your dirt into money.

If you don't want to put your goods up at auction, I will buy it and sell it myself.

Folks, I am going to do business now. If you want a share of the profits, I invite you to come on and let's go.

SMALL TREE LUMBERING IS A WASTE

Many saw mills fail to make a profit because of the excessive cost of handling small logs, according to data recently compiled by the Alabama Commission of Forestry. Practically all lumbermen have observed that it costs much more to fell, cut up, bunch, skid, and haul a thousasd feet of material in the form of small sticks than it does when the same amount is comprised in a lesser number of large logs.

It is not only in the logging costs, however, of small tress, that profits are eaten up, but the sawing, piling, and loading of the lumber also cost more per thousand feet than in the case of the larger boards and dimension stock from good sized trees. Trees under twelve inches at the height of a man's breast can only be sawed into such small material that every process in the utilization of such trees is accompanied by costs of operation considerably in excess of those pertaining to more mature timber.

Another element cutting into the saw mill profits in the case of small timber is the fact that the sawed material grades very low. The greater proportion of clear lumber is found in the larger trees, and if the operator works up small timber almost exclusively he has very little of the higher priced products to put on the market.

MRS. ULMA KLINNER

On October 26 the death angel visited the home of Mr. Henry Klinner and took from him his wife, Mrs. Ulma Klinner. She was 33 years old last August, and had suffered with tuberculosis for about 8 months. Everything was done that could be done. Neighbors were tireless in their efforts to comfort and attend her every want. We especially commend her husband and Mr. and Mrs. John Klinner for their attention, for never did she want for anything.

We thank all who helped with her both with kindness of heart and effort of hand.

She left 3 children—1 girl and 2 boys, the baby being about 3 years old.

May God soon disperse the awful gloom that this death has cast over the entire community.—R. E. Roper, her father.

What Is a Diuretic?

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

COTTON HOLDING COMPANY STOCK OVERSUBSCRIBED

Stock in the Alabama Cotton Finance Corporation has been oversubscribed, Oscar Wells, head of the work of forming such an organization, announced Tuesday.

Stock pledges of nearly $1,100,000 were announced by Wells before he went into an all-day conference with Alabama Bankers named to handle the details of the corporation.

These, as appointed Monday by Wells, are Sam C. King, president of the Alabama Bankers Association, and vice president of the Bank of Ensley; A. M. Baldwin, Montgomery First National president; D. P. Bestor, Jr., Mobile First National president; and Donald Comer, vice president of the Avondale Mills corporations. Wells is an ex-officio member.

The finance corporation will retire 300,000 bales of the 1926 crop from the market for 18 months or longer. It will do this by borrowing $10,000,000 from the intermediate credit bank of the federal farm loan board.

This money will be loaned to farmers who agree to allow their cotton to remain in the 18-month pool and who also agree to reduce the 1927 acreage 25%.

Subscriptions to the fund as announced Tuesday by Oscar Wells follow:

JAMES MONROE SIMS DEAD

James Monroe Sims, age 87 years, died last Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, at the home of Mr. Thomas S. Pyron in Clanton. Mr. Sims was an uncle of Mrs. Pyron, with whom he had made his home for several years past.

Cause of his death was cancer, from which he had been a sufferer for a long time. The body was buried Thursday of last week at Evergreen, three miles west of Verbena. Rev. S. J. Ezell of Clanton preached the funeral.

WILLIAM H. GILES BURIED AT MAPLESVILLE

William H. Giles died last Thursday in a hospital in Montgomery. The body was brought through Clanton Sunday by Diffly's hearse, and carried to Maplesville for burial.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION

There will be a fiddlers convention at Marbury Friday night, December 3, 1926. Everybody is invited. Admission is 25c and 35c. Twelve prizes will be given away: $5 in cash; $5 pair of shoes; $2.50 in cash; 1 sack of flour; 1 razor; $1.50 cash; $1. tie; $1 belt; and four cash prizes of $1 each.

Proceeds will go for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers Association.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

On Thanksgiving afternoon, his home and the entire community was saddened by the death of George William Shaw, age 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw, of Providence, Beat 13. He and his little comrade, Jack Harrell, were hunting near his home, when he was accidentally shot and instantly killed.

Not only will he be missed in his home community, but also at Jemison High School, where he was an exceedingly bright student, and had endeared himself to teachers and student body alike.

Burial was in the Providence cemetery, with Rev. R. M. Honeycutt in charge of the funeral services. The beautiful floral offerings carried with them the love any sympathy for the bereaved family.

George William is survived by his father, mother, and one smaller brother, Leo.

Active pallbearers were W. T. Hand, Dick Martin, William Satterwhite, Ira Stevens, P. J. Shaw, and Robert Rasberry.

Honorary pallbearers were Lois and Lola Erwin, Preston Shaw, Hugh Shaw, John Adams, Charles Durbin, Johnnie Mae Watson, Lexie Watson, Erin Littlejohn, Mildred Jeffries.

In round numbers the foreign commerce of the United States increased from $2,000,000,000 in 1904, to $9,000,000,000 in 1925.

PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK IS TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

A quarter of a century ago, December 7, 1901, the Peoples Savings Bank opened its doors for business. It was the first banking house ever attempted in Chilton County.

From the day of its opening it grew and prospered. It has successfully weathered every storm and today enjoys the happy circumstance of being one of the best banks in Alabama.

The story of the Peoples Savings Bank would be in truth a story of Clanton and Chilton County over the period since 1901. The men who have made the bank have been men who have made their mark upon the progress and development of Clanton and Chilton County.

Many good men have been identified with the bank in course of its career. In this brief story we can not go into the many details which we could mention about all of them. We can only mention the high spots, so to speak. And with all due credit and courtesy to every man who has been connected with the bank, we feel justified here in doing particular honor to the name of "Uncle Pete" Callen. To our mind he was the "highest spot" in the story of the Peoples Savings Bank. He was in the original organization, and ever afterwards until his death he was an active figur in the business. No doubt his wisdom and forethought contributed more than any other individual to the wonderful success of the bank.

When the Peoples Savings Bank started out on its career twenty-five years ago The Banner was among those who extended best wishes. Today we are glad to say to this worthy and well-tried institution that we hope its good fortune may be continued in full measure and that it may build more and more upon the splendid foundation which is its heritage from those who have gone before.

A TAXPAYER WRITES ON SOME COUNTY PROBLEMS

Editor Union-Banner:

I see that we are asked the question—"What about a farm demonstrator for the farmers of Chilton County?" I want to ask—What For? The last crop the farmers made is too large, or at least the government says so, and I can't see why we should hire someone to help us make more just so some man can have a fat job at the expense of the taxpayers. I think we know how to prepare our land and pick out good seed, and how to cultivate the same, and how to fertilize our crop. We are on to canning and preserving our home supplies. I don't know what a demonstrator would add to our vocation, but if he can help us, I'm open to knowledge. I would like for the farmers to discuss this matter well.

I would like to meet the Commissioners Court and discuss the matter of road working, for our roads are ditched to death, and are getting so narrow that in many places we can't pass. I think we should change the machinery so as to push the dirt back so that they can reach the bank instead of cutting down in the ditches to get dirt for the road. This would widen the roads and not have them so slanting on the sides. I'm not grumbling nor criticising — our roads are getting too narrow.—S. E. Waldrop.

JACK HARREL ADMITS SHOOTING WILLIAM SHAW ACCIDENTALLY

At an inquest held to determine the facts surrounding the accidental shooting of George William Shaw, age 12, a statement of Jack Harrell, companion of the Shaw boy at the time of the accident cleared up the mystery surrounding the fatal circumstances.

The statement of Harrel in the coroners trial is essentially as follows:

The two boys, Shaw and Harrell, were out hunting on Thanksgiving day. They were setting in the road with Harrell in possession of Shaw's gun, a double barrell hamerless shot gun. When they were ready to proceed Harrel got up first and handed Shaw's gun to him, the barrel end pointing toward Shaw. The gun was accidentally discharged and the load entered Shaw's head. Death was instantaneous.

OAK HILL

The United Singing Society met in regular session here Sunday afternoon. On account of so many of the people of this community attending the Alabama Conference of the M. E. Church, which was in session in Birmingham, the attendance was not as large as usual, but the singing was good.

Directors were Messrs. Akins Collins, A. H. Glasscock, H. H. Hayes, and Vester Campbell. Organists were Misses Emma Campbell, and Lois Glasscock. Profs. Akins Collins and A. H. Glasscock directed the second time.

The Society will meet with Thorsby next Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.—E. L. Glasscock.

ELMER BLOW ARRESTED FOLLOWING AUTO WRECK

Elmer Blow, from Mineral Springs community, on his way to Lock 18, near Wetumpka, Saturday afternoon, about four o'clock, ran his car into two other cars on the highway near Cordrey's old mill south of Clanton. The drivers of the two other cars were Bud Boswell of Cooper, and a man named Woolley from Montgomery.

During the mix-up of the wrecked cars it was observed that there was a five-gallon can of liquor in Blow's car. Officers Culp and Foshee answered the call, and took charge of Blow and his car, making a charge of violating the prohibition law against Blow. He was brought to jail and released on bond Sunday.

Reports say that Blow paid the damages caused to the cars of Boswell and Woolley. Blow was driving a Chevrolet, Boswell a Ford, and Woolley a Dodge.

REV. G. B. GOLDEN GOING TO SPRING HILL, ALA.

Rev. G. B. Golden, who has been pastor of the Methodist church at Walnut Creek for several years, will leave in about two weeks to take up his new work on a circuit near Troy. He will live at Spring Hill. Rev. J. R. Helms of Wilsonville will take the place of Rev. Golden at Walnut Creek.

During his pastorate at Walnut Creek Rev. Golden has made many friends. He and his excellent family have become a fixture in the community where they lived and their going away will be deeply regretted.

BOX SUPPER AT PROVIDENCE SCHOOLHOUSE, BEAT 16

There will be a full-grown box supper at Providence Schoolhouse, in Beat 16, next Saturday night, December 4, beginning at 7 o'clock. Everybody is urged to be present and enjoy the occasion.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT VERBENA

There will be a fiddlers convention at the Verbena High School auditorium Friday night, December 10. All fiddlers are invited to come and compete for prizes. Several prizes will be given for both new and old music; also prizes for young people and for adults. Watch next week's paper for full information.

FATE OF BACHELOR WILL BE DECIDED SOON

A dispatch from Montgomery says that the appeal in the case of Clyde Reese Bachelor, convicted of the murder of his father-in-law, Judge Lamar Smith, of Wetumpka, will be formally submitted to the Supreme Court of Alabama within the next week. It is presumed that final submission of the case of the negro accomplice, Hays Leonarl, will be made at the same time as that of the Bachelor case.

Bachelor and the negro are now under sentence of death. Execution is stayed pending their appeals to the Supreme Court.

GOULD, REPUBLICAN, ELECTED AS MAINE SENATOR

The special election in the State of Maine Monday resulted in the election of Arthur R. Gould, Republican, to succeed the late Senator Fernald. Gould defeated his Democratic opponent, Fulton J. Redman, by a majority of 50,000, carrying every county in the State.

"As Maine goes, so goes the country," which leads us to remark that "the country is still safe." The election of Gould gives the Republicans a majority of one in the United States Senate.

MISS RADER MADDOX DIED ON LAST SUNDAY MORNING

Miss Rader Maddox, age 29, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Maddox, died at the family home in Clanton about five o'clock last Sunday morning, after an illness of several weeks. The body was buried Sunday afternoon at Concord. Rev. G. B. Golden and Rev. Grady Williams conducted the funeral. Burial was in charge of Martin.

CORINTH TO HAVE STRAW VOTE ON FARM DEMONSTRATION

Editor Union-Banner:

I noticed in your last week's issue that the Commissioners Court wanted to know if the people of the county wanted a county demonstration agent. I will say for myself that I have wanted one all the while. An agent with the prosperity of the people at heart would make and save the county many times his salary.

We need more interest on the farm and in farm work With the help and advice of a demonstration agent, possibly we would be able to help the boys of today on the farms, the right and logical place for him.

We need better farming, not necessarily more acreage, but more common sense and agricultural farming; more corn, feed stuff, hogs, cattle; in fact, we should grow practically everything that is consumed in the average home. We have a particularly favorable climate for the needed and much to be desired varieties.

We should be able to sell more and buy less; to sell and buy more efficiently; a demonstration agent could help us in doing this wonderfully.

It is not the man who makes the most who is the best farmer, but the man who makes the most with the least expense.

The farmers of Chilton County, as voters, are often called upon to be loyal to our party; but now, I ask you to be loyal to yourself and to your fellow man.

District 19 is going to meet at Corinth Friday night, December 3, to take a straw vote in regard to the matter. We hope others will take the same or similar action.—E. A. Norris.

DR. DENNIS BURIED AT BETHEL LAST SATURDAY

The body of J. Marion Dennis arrived from Lake Charles, La., last Friday and was buried at Bethel Saturday. Rev. Kelley conducted the funeral. Burial was in charge of Martin.

Dr. Dennis was killed in an automobile accident early last week near his home at Cotton Valley La. He was a brother of Mr. Jasper N. Dennis of Clanton.

The wife and one son of Dr. Dennis came from Los Angeles, California, to attend the burial. He has another son and daughter who were unable to get here. Dr. Dennis was 56 years old. He had been practicing medicine since 1903.

THANKSGIVING CELEBRATION

Last Thursday was a joyful day at the parsonage, when about 75 friends met to celebrate Thanksgiving Day with Rev. G. B. Golden and family.

The morning was spent pleasantly and socially. At the noon hour a sumptuous dinner was spread. After thanks had been offered and a picture had been made of the table, all took part and enjoyed the good eats.

Early in the afternoon two car loads of Shady Grove members came, which added much to the joy of the occasion.

At 3 o'clock the pastor delivered his farewell address, the text being 2 Cor. 13:11. The closing prayer was led by Bro. T. J. Powell. The closing hymn was the parting hand.

The memories of this day shall linger long in our hearts.—Rev. G. B. Golden.

FURNITURE SALE THIS WEEK AT OSCAR JONES' STORE

Our readers this week will observe a special advertisement by the Chilton Hardware Company covering a wonderful sale of furniture and house furnishings which this popular store is putting on for ten days beginning Saturday, December 4th.

A careful study of this advertisement will reveal furniture bargains the like of which have never before been offered in Clanton. Mr. Jones makes the statement that he will put his furniture down in price so that it will make a real buying opportunity for the people of Chilton County. We think the prices he is offering will bear out that statement.

The Chilton Hardware Company has a widely selected line of things which are useful in the home. We commend his exceptional offer to our readers, believing that those who take advantage of this opportunity to buy furniture will find it a means of effecting a real saving in dollars and cents.

The sale opens Saturday and will continue ten days. Special offers are made for the first to buy in this sale.

A NEW KIND OF SALE FOR USED AUTOMOBILES

Polk Brothers furnished the cars and W. W. Fox played the chin music. The combination thus made worked splendidly last Saturday in causing about eighteen persons to become the proud possessors of as many of Polk's celebrated "O. K." used cars. The stunt was accomplished via the auction route. It was a new venture here. Mr. Fox has sold many different kinds of things in his vivid career as an auctioneer. But last Saturday was the first time he ever rang his bell over a whole flock of used cars. It worked well.

Polk Brothers have been putting some push behind their used car business here of late. They give close attention to used cars, and the public has learned that confidence in them is merited when backed up by the Chevrolet dealer's "O. K." tag.

WILL PREACH AT FRIENDSHIP

Rev. M. Lockhart of Refuge will preach at Friendship church next Sunday night, December 5th, beginning at 7:00 o'clock. Rev. Lockhart is a young preacher and it is hoped that a good crowd will be out to hear him.

The pastor, Rev. W. P. Lowery, preached both morning and evening last Sunday. Rev. T. J. Deason was present at the morning service and made a short and pointed talk. Rev. Deason has moved into the Friendship community and will make his home there. The people of this community are glad to have this good old Christian man and his charming daughter in their midst, and extend to them a cordial welcome in the community.

Singing was held Sunday afternoon. Only a few directors were present—H. W. Lowery, A. D. Huett and T. E. Wyatt, however, the singing was very good and enjoyed by all present.

At his home in Reynolds Addition Rev. T. J. Deason will hold dedication services on the Second Sunday afternoon in December at 2 o'clock.

Shop early for Christmas. Our holiday line is now ready for your inspection.--Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton.

One Fourth of One Century---

Twenty-five years ago, December 7th, the good ship, "Peoples Savings Bank," started on what has proved, through wise counsel and generous support, a long and successful course.

Patrick Henry once said: "The only lamp by which our footsteps can be guided is the lamp of experience." Past achievements, past success, but point the way to fresh and greater accomplishments.

When an institution has proven to your satisfaction that it has accomplished certain things in the past, then it is certainly reasonable and logical for you to presume and expect that it is capable of repeating a similar performance.

Here Is Another Dose of Doctor Scott's Famous "Ignorance Drops."

Editor Union-Banner:

In my last article some months ago I promised your readers that I would hand out some more of my ignorance drops some time soon. I have been very busy and am some what delayed in writing; but here we are just the same in spite of delay.

To begin with, I will go back to the election on November 2, and start off by saying that we Republicans won a great victory, and none of the gang is more pleased by that victory than myself. It was a greater victory in some respects than I looked for, having heard so many express themselves when I was canvassing the county, saying they expected to vote for some of the candidates on the other side. But I guess some of those who were talking that way changed their minds.

Of course we can not afford to vote for people who are not friendly towards the Republicans of this county and the Republican party. There have been some Democrats elected to office in this county who could have helped in building up our county. While so doing they could have built a monument of honor to their record and one that would have stood out for democracy. But for spite and through prejudice towards the Republicans of the county they used their influence in making laws that hurt the interests of the people of our county.

To make it plain, I will say that Judge Adams, while State Senator, went to Montgomery and had our county court legislated out of existence. This took away from our county about $3,000 a year in revenue, which we could have had to put on our roads or to use for other beneficial means. If there had been a Democratic Probate Judge in office at that time, do you believe that our Democratic Senator would have passed such a law? I say no. He did it to spite Judge Reynolds and the Republican party which placed him in the office. Our Republican officials have long been laboring under adverse conditions to bring our county to overcome the handicaps that were left upon us by the famous Deason Democratic administration. The program of the Democrats seems to be to try to keep the Republicans from bringing our county out from under the embarrassment that has come upon us from Democratic administration.

Now, just a few words about our Governor, poor old Bill Brandon. Bill has proven to be just another specimen of Democratic office holder who went into office on promises, and failed to live up to his promises. When Bill was running for Governor he was such a thoroughbred prohibitionist that you could fairly hear his bones rattle when he walked. He said he intended to have the dry laws enforced, and would put in the pen every man who violated those laws.

Much has been said in the newspapers about Bill turning out more liquor law violators than he put in the pen; and of course we understand all that now. He didn't want men in the penitentiary who were no more guilty than himself.

Wasn't it somewhat naughty of those officers to put Governor Bill and his party under arrest, break up their midnight card game, and take possession of their grip sack and thirteen quarts of good old 36-year-old cats-a-fightin'? I know it must have been bad on Bill and his big friends. But I want to give it as my opinion that those officers are to be congratulated. They only did what they had sworn to do—enforce the law.

And poor Mr. Carr McCormick. I was sorry to learn of him being caught in such company. Carr, I thought you had quit that by this time. Twenty years is too long to keep up such practices.

Yes, we can see that Brandon has gone contrary to what he promised the people before he was elected. I imagine when he goes on his next fishing trip, he will go some place besides Baldwin County.

Oh well, we shall soon have a new Governor, and of course we are expecting greater things of Mr. Graves. But I want to suggest to the boys that they keep their eyes on the fishing camps. You never can tell what a fellow will do until he gets to going fishing in the winter time.

Of course the Republicans lost out in the State in the last general election. But I say cheer up, boys. Let's work harder than ever. It is a long lane that never turns. Something will come our way after a while if we will just be faithful and not give up hope. If we could only get a few high offices in this grand old State filled by Republicans, our State government would be so much better that I believe everybody would rejoice heartily.

Of course we know that graves are useful, and in fact a necessity; but the most of them contain dead men's bones.

This is my dose for this time. Success to the editor and his many readers. Next week I expect to give you a dose of my ignorance drops on the farming situation and the question of a county farm demonstration agent. Yours as ever, the same old doctor.—J. N. Scott, Jemison, Ala.

"PEOPLE WHO SUCCEED"

A lecture will be given by Paul Oden at the Isabella school on Saturday evening December 27, at 7:30 o'clock.

You cannot afford to miss this opportunity to learn why it is that some people succeed and others do not. If you follow the line of action which the speaker will indicate, you cannot fail.

Don't forget to come and spend a profitable evening.

Admission—15c and 25c. Half of the proceeds will be given to the Isabella school.

"DOUBLECROSSED" TONIGHT

Tonight (Thursday) at 7:45 p. m., the Clanton Dramatic Club puts on its first play. Full of pep, laughter, and a situation that is not very pleasant to get into. Just suppose you proposed to two girls, they both refused you, then accepted. How would you feel? What would you do? It sure is some fix to get into, and the only way out is to be worked out at the Wadesonian Theatre tonight. The play is supported by a good cast.

In connection with the play is the feature picture "The Sea Beast"—starring John Barrymore. A better program cannot be found anywhere. Come and enjoy a full evening of entertainment. Bring a friend.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed on the 14th day of January, 1926, by O. F. Scott, and his wife, Mollie Scott, in favor of C. A. Pattillo, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Book 210 of Mortgages, Page 277, the undersigned, C. A. Pattillo, mortgagee, will on the 29th day of December, 1926, in front of the court house door of Chilton County, in the City of Clanton, Alabama, during the legal hours of sale, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described property, to-wit:

The entire crop of corn, cotton, cotton seed, oats, hay, fodder, peas, and potatoes, and all other crops grown or raised by O. F. Scott and his wife, Mollie Scott, or in which they may have any interest, during 1926, until said notes or indebtedness are paid, as well as all rents due or to become due, and the crops grown or raised, by any tenants, hands or employees of said O. F. Scott and his wife, Mollie Scott, during said year. Also the following described property, being in the County of Chilton, and State of Alabama, to-wit: The west half of northwest quarter of southwest quarter, and all that part of the west half of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter lying north of the Montgomery and Tuscaloosa Public Road situated in Section 24, also three (3) acres in the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 23, containing 38 acres, more or less, and known as the tract of land obtained from J. D. and Ella Culp, and upon which said mortgagor's residence is located; also the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 23 and known as a portion of the 80 acre tract obtained from the Alabama Mineral Land Company, all the above land being in Township 21, Range 13, and containing in all, 78 acres of land, more or less; and one bay horse mule about 8 years old, name Jim, one bay mare mule about 9 years old, name Kate, one Weber two-horse wagon and harness, three steel beam plows, two cultivators, two plow stocks, one Joe harrow, one cotton planter, and one Cole guano distributor.

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, said sale will be made for the purpose of paying the indebtedness secured by said mortgage and the expenses provided therein, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

This, the 12th day of November, 1926.

WHAT ABOUT A FARM DEMONSTRATOR?

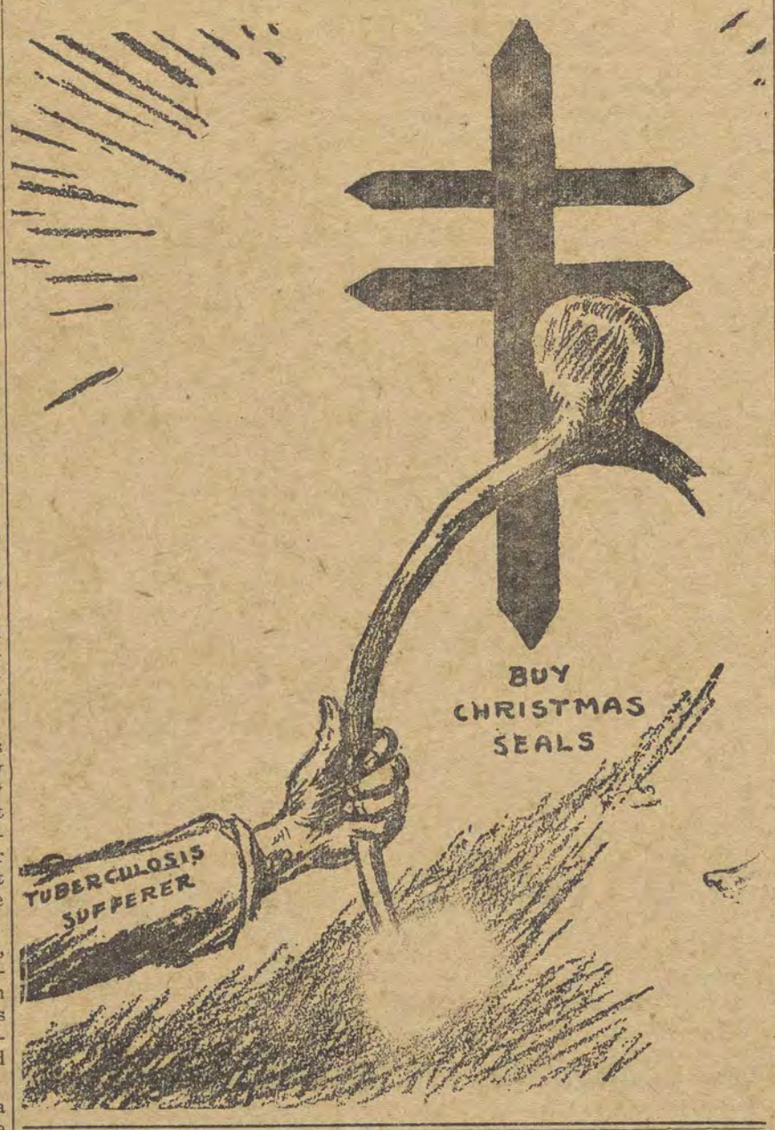
Do the people of Chilton County want a farm demonstraion agent?

This question has been asked by the Commissioners Court of Chilton County. It is now up to the people of the county to make the answer.

For several years there has been more or less agitation on this question. The matter has been presented to the Commissioners Court a few times but no action has been taken.

The reason the Commissioners have not appropriated the necessary money out of the county funds may be, we think, correctly stated that it is because they did not have evidence of anything like a universal or popular demand from the people that the appropriation be made and the demonstrator installed.

There are many of our people, leading farmers, who have heretofore expressed a desire that a farm demonstrator be employed. Perhaps those who have expressed such a desire are in the minority as compared with the whole of our citizenship.



The Union-Banner believes that a farm demonstration agent would be worth many times the money it will take to get him. But we endorse the position of the Commissioners Court in their request for an expression of favor for the proposition from a majority of the people before they make the appropriation.

If the majority of the people want the farm demonstrator, and are willing for the Commissioners Court to make the necessary appropriation out of the county funds, they can say so.

What will you do about it, folks? Now is the time to study this matter carefully, and take action.

Mrs. Sam Cox and children, accompanied by her brother, Mr. Ashur Durham, spent the past week end with Mr. Cox in Attalla.

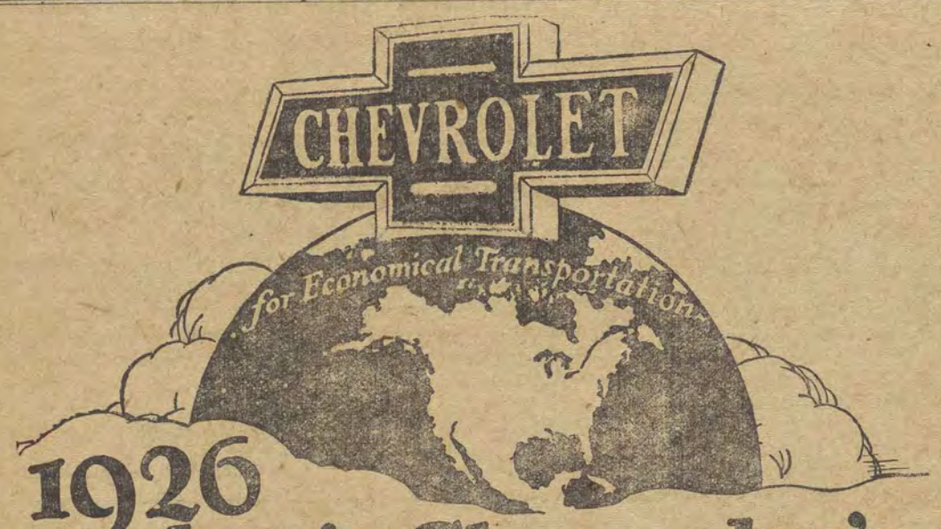
TREES PLANTED ALONG THE HIGHWAYS



A significant development in the use of trees is that of highway planting, points out the Alabama Commission of Forestry. A number of communities in the State have undertaken to plant shade trees along the highways entering the towns and cities.

Trees used in this manner not only shade travellers, but they also serve as dust screens, windbreaks, and as objects beautiful to the eye. The latter is particularly true in the case of such trees as acquire brilliant autumn coloring.

In the case of unpaved roads which shed their leaves in the fall are preferable, since they admit the sun and air during the cool but wet seasons of the year and permit the roads to dry out rapidly. On paved highways, however, where the drying out of the road is not a material consideration, evergreens may be used to good advantage.

Several cities of the State are contemplating planting the highways entering their limits. Jasper has already made material progress in this line, and recently the city of Dothan has completed an initial project.

Mr. Ashur Durham of Carrollton, Ala., spent Thanksgiving in Clanton with his sister, Mrs. Sam Cox.

1926 Again Chevrolet's Greatest Year

In 1925 Chevrolet astonished the automotive world by attaining an annual production never before reached by any manufacturer of gearshift automobiles.

Yet, so spectacular has been the increase in demand for Chevrolet cars, that a new and even more brilliant record is the climax for 1926.

Thus, for two years in succession, Chevrolet has broken all its previous records and has set a new mark in automotive history.

This splendid achievement results from a steadfast adherence to the fundamental Chevrolet policy of building a car of the finest possible quality to sell at a low price.

That the vast majority of buyers now demand a car of this type—and that Chevrolet has been successful in building such a car—possessing the highest degree of smooth performance, smart appearance, and economical operation—is proved by Chevrolet's success during the year now drawing to a close. Come in and see this record-breaking car.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

A TEMPERANCE LESSON

We presume that our readers have already learned that the governor of Alabama recently became entangled in an alleged violation of the prohibition laws. The Union-Banner wishes to say that, although we published an account of the raid in which the governor was apprehended just as we always publish similar affairs of lesser importance, yet in this case as in all others of like nature, we were sorry to make known such occurrence—in fact we are shamed for the outside world to know that we have men in such high positions who have so low regard for the laws which they are sworn to uphold and execute. But after such things happen, it is best for the people to know about it; so, maybe they will be more careful in selecting officials in the future.

It is bad for a citizen to be caught violating any law of the land, but it is infinitely worse for a high official, who was elected on a prohibition platform, to stoop to the depths of violating the very law that he was elected under pledge to enforce and protect. We can't imagine much worse a thing. If a man does not believe a law is right and violates it, he is only forced to give an account to his government. But if a man knows that a law is right and just and still violates it, he is not only guilty of ignoring the sacred statutes of his land but is also trampling under foot the dictations of his conscience as to what is right. Such violation as this is totally uncalled for. The same is hypocrisy, plain and simple.

And look how the governor and the others of his company are trying to evade the law. They are planning, and making no secret of it, to have one member of the company claim the liquor and swear that the rest were innocent. That may clear the others in the party in the sight of the law, but there is no difference in the guilt of those in the party. They were everyone aware of the whiskey being there, and were, no doubt, all partaking of it. Therefore, they are all guilty of violating the law and should be forced to drink the dregs of the bitter cup. If some poor hillbilly is caught with a tin can still making whiskey to keep his children in clothes, he is given the full penalty; and we have no word of sympathy for this type of criminal. But when the high-up is caught in his game violating the same law, is he dealt with the same as is his brother hillbilly? We dare say that they both should be fed out of identically the same spoon.

We believe that the prohibition law is a just law and the most deserving of enforcement of all on the statute books. Whiskey is a bad thing, and if people haven't got care enough for themselves and the human race to leave it alone, the law should take it in hand and make them do it. Of course, we are aware that prohibition as it is today is only a farce so far as enforcement is concerned, but it is a good law and will be enforced some day to the glory of all that is high and noble.

MARINES WHO GUARD MAILS PREPARE FOR EMERGENCIES

U. S. Marines, guarding the mails, must know how to act in case of sudden illness or injury when no regular medical attention is available. Orders recently issued by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, U. S. N., direct that Marines assigned to this duty be given more complete instruction than that normally required for first aid.

Although medical attention, either naval or civilian, is available at all cities from which the mail guards operate, several routes traveled by the Marines cover points far distant from such relief. Training of the mail guards will cover the proper procedure in case of accident or other emergency when the services of a physician can not be promptly secured.

ALABAMA EDITORS WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEET IN NEW YORK

Directors of Association Complete Arrangements for 1927 Gathering; Will Make Ocean Voyage.

The annual meeting of the Alabama Press Association will be held in the city of New York some time in April, 1927. The editors will be domiciled at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel and will hold their sessions at that place. They will go to New York by steamer, sailing from Savannah on the City of Birmingham.

This was definitely decided by the officers and directors of the Association Friday at a meeting held at the Exchange hotel in Montgomery. They can make the trip for $25.76 each in cash, the difference to be provided for by means of advertising arrangements with the Central of Georgia and the steamship line. This advertising arrangement is effective in Georgia. The editors will assemble in Columbus and there buy their round trip fare. They will go thence to Savannah and after a pleasure visit in Savannah will sail for New York. They will spend two days in New York.

Those attending the meeting in Montgomery Friday were Webb Stanley, Greenville Advocate, president of the A. P. A.; Horace Hall, of the Dothan Eagle, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. T. L. C. Vail of the Baldwin County News; F. G. Stevens of the Oneonta Democrat; Howard S. Doster of the Prattville Progress; L. H. Nunelee of the Centerville Press; N. C. Cady of the Western Newspaper Union, Birmingham; and Grover C. Hall of The Montgomery Advertiser. The members of the Association met for a brief business session, and adjourned.

The exact date of the New York trip has not been fixed, but it will be in the latter part of April.

Get More Miles Out of Your Gasoline

No matter what the price is, gasoline costs money—and we must have it. But why waste it? Using gasoline in a motor with leaky valves is like trying to drink out of a funnel—it can be done but you lose a lot. The chances are that the valves in your car NOW—they need refacing and reseating. After valves have been properly serviced by the KWIK-WAY SYSTEM, the best system known, the mileage per gallon of gasoline used is increased from 20% to 34%. Why? Because the valves are right. They hold compression. They do not leak gas. You get the full power impulse of every explosion. Drive in—we'll stop the leak, and the gas you save will soon pay for it. Drive in—Some Time Today.

Words of Wisdom from the Wise man of Bagdad

IN the city of Bagdad lived Hakeem, the wise man. Many people went to him for counsel, which he gave freely to all, asking no compensation.

There came a young man, who had spent much time and money seeking wisdom and acquired but little. "Tell me, wise one," he said, "how may I know that the goods I buy in the bazaar possess the greatest value?"

Hakeem answered: "That which is bought or sold has no value unless it contains that which cannot be bought or sold. Always look for the Priceless Ingredient! My son, the Priceless Ingredient in the commodity you purchase, is the honor and integrity of him who sells it. Buy nothing that bears not the name of a reputable maker."

CHILTON HIGH LOST HARD FOUGHT GAME LAST FRIDAY

Chilton High lost a hard fight on the local field last Friday, losing to Shelby County High, 13 to 9.

Shelby was conceded a two touchdown margin by those "in the know" as to the strength of the two teams, and with Nivens, big Chilton fullback out of the game with a twisted ankle it looked like a walk-away for the Shelby team. However, after the first fwe minutes Shelby found that they must fight and fight hard to win.

In the first few minutes Chilton scored 2 points on a touchback. After a while Shelby put over a touchdown, bringing the count to, Shelby, 7, Chilton, 2. In the third quarter, after the ball had been worked to the 5-yard line, Pete Sanford was given the ball, and the Chilton line opened a hole big enough to drive a truck through, for another touchdown. Score, Chilton 9, Shelby 7. In the last quarter the break came. In the last quarter, and in the last few minutes of play, Shelby worked the oval to Chilton's 10-yard line. Finley took it on the next play to the 4-yard line, but fumbled on the play, and "Mitch" Williams recovered for Chilton on his own 3-yard line—at least it seemed that he had recovered it, and the Shelby team began taking their places for defense. However, Referee Newton couldn't see it that way, and gave the ball back to Shelby, and Finley leaped the line for a touchdown on the next play. A few minutes later the game ended.

All who saw the play, friend and foe alike, said the ball was safe in the arms of little "Mitch" Williams on that play that proved to be the turn of the tide. Everyone thought and said that it was Chilton's ball except the referee, and his one bad decision of the afternoon was enough to give Shelby a touchdown and an all-important football game. Any man on Shelby's team was honest enough to say that the ball was Chilton's.

The Chilton team got a good game out of its system, fighting as it has not fought before this season. It outplayed the squad from Shelby by a margin, and had victory snatched from it on a bad decision. The boys were there, alright, giving all they had, and it should have been enough, although the hefty Nivens was sadly missed, both on offense and defense.

There is some talk of a post-season game, if permission can be obtained from the State Athletic Association.

Next week will appear a summary of the Chilton team's record for the season—the men, their play, etc.

SELLING PECANS

Camden, Ala., Nov. 30.—The pecan crop in Wilcox County is very fine this season. The nuts are large and well filled. J. L. Bonner of Rose Bud, 10 miles from Camden, has gathered 15,000 pounds of nuts, he being one of the largest growers in the county. Other members of the Bonner family grow pecans, and the total yield from them alone is 22,000 pounds. They are being shipped all over the United States, and some orders have been filled to parts of Canada.

While arrangements are being made to name Governor Brandon to a judgeship, how about some appointment for Henry Hudson?

An Earnest Cry for Help

Our town—I mean the one where I was born—formerly abounded in characters—"types" they'd call them in a larger place. One of our local institutions 20 years ago was a black driver named Abe, but called Old Abe for short. Abe was popular with both races, good-natured, loud-mouthed and friendly. He had one social shortcoming, though. About once in so often he would slip out on a dark night and acquire something of value without the formality of speaking to the owner about it. For awhile he escaped a penitentiary sentence.

But eventually he was caught with what the grand jury and the prosecuting attorney regarded as the goods, the said goods consisting of a stray calf. He was lodged in the Blue Eagle jail to await trial. His cell was in the upper tier. On the Sunday afternoon following his incarceration his wife, accompanied by five or six of Abe's pickaninnies, came to pay him a visit. It was the first time she had seen him since his arrest.

On her way out she was halted by the deputy jailer, whose name was Grady.

"Dora," he said, "have you hired a lawyer for Abe yet?"

"Naw, suh," she said, "effen Abe was guilty, right away I'd git him a lawyer. But he p'intedly tells me he ain't de leas' bit guilty. So, of co'se, dat bein' de case, he ain't needin' no lawyer to git him clear."

From the floor above, down the iron stairwell, came floating the voice of Abe:

"Mr. Grady, oh, Mr. Grady!—you tell 'at fool nigger 'oman down thar to git a lawyer—an' git a d—n good one, too."

The Deceased Had Been Forehanded

In the spring of 1919—a few months after the Eighteenth amendment went into effect—a Texan passed from this life.

While the funeral services were in progress at the late home of deceased, two of the men mourners stood on the front porch of the house lamenting the passing of their friend and praising his virtues.

Said one of them:

"There wasn't no finer feller anywhere than what Bill was, but the main trouble with him was he wasn't forehanded. He had a wife and a whole passel of children and he should a-been more saving than what he was. He might a-knowed he couldn't live on forever. But no, he lived up to everything he made. And here now, right in the very prime of life, with a family on his hands, he hauls off and dies without leaving no estate as I knows of."

"The h—l he didn't leave no estate!" exclaimed the other. "He left mighty nigh a gallon!"

Why the Major Didn't Suit

On a voyage of one of the Cunard liners from New York to Liverpool a Maj. H. Reynolds of London was registered on the passenger list. The purser, running over the names, assigned to the same stateroom as fellow travelers, this Major Reynolds and a husky stockman from the Panhandle of Texas.

A little later the cattleman, ignoring the purser, hunted up the skipper.

"Look here, cap," he demanded, "what kind of a joker is this here head clerk of yours? I can't travel in the same stateroom with that there Major Reynolds. I can't and I won't! So far as that goes, neither one of us likes the idea."

"What complaint have you?" asked the skipper. "Do you object to an army officer for a traveling companion?"

"Not generally," stated the Texan—"only this happens to be the Salvation army. That there major's other name is Henrietta!"

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space for a few words this week.

Our farmers are all about done gathering their crops. Some have sowed oats, and they are looking fine.

Now, a word to the phone holders of The Peoples Telephone Co. We have the most independent system in the county, and why not keep it up? There are companies that would like for us to quit and be subscribers to their company, but when we do that, we will be at the mercy of those who operate phones for profit instead of accomodation. But as it is our own, we can make our own laws and do our own charging for upkeep and operation. Now let each and every line hold a meeting of stockholders, elect a delegate to the annual meeting to be held the second Monday in December at Clanton, and instruct them as to what we want in the way of improvements, upkeep, operation, etc. We all have a voice if we go at it right and elect for officers men who have stood through thick and thin and worked for the success of the company regardless of whether it was exactly suiting him or not. Our officers and employees should cooperate with each other, and must to make a success.

We hope to have one of the best meetings The Peoples Telephone Company has ever held in Chilton County.

DESTROY ELEVEN STILLS

In the counties of Montgomery, Barbour, Mobile, Shelby, and Colbert, state law enforcement officers, in raids carried out Monday and Tuesday,, destroyed 11 stills, 13,420 gallons of beer and 41 gallons of whiskey. Three arrests were made for distilling and two for violation of the prohibition law. A Reo truck and a horse and wagon were seized for confiscation in connection with the raids.

Washington's Early Adventures Now Assuming New Significance

By HENRY BOTSFORD

AFTER well nigh a century and three-quarters a new interest has recently been aroused in the earliest military adventures of George Washington. When barely twenty-one years old, in 1753, Washington was sent by Governor Dinwiddie of Virginia into the far northwestern wilderness—that is, northwestern Pennsylvania—to warn the French that they must cease their efforts to occupy that region. Recent researches have given a new historical significance to that expedition, during which Washington, always reckless of his personal safety, had one of his narrow escapes from death at the hands of a treacherous Indian guide.

The French at that time occupied Canada and claimed the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys. Though the fringe of English speaking colonies along the Atlantic contained the chief European population, France maintained sovereignty over most of North America's area. They were apparently determined to occupy northwestern Pennsylvania, partly because it was known even then to be rich in petroleum.

Region's Wealth Known

Pioneers and missionaries, English, French, German and Dutch, had all reported to their governments that the petroleum was of great potential value. There is, however, no reason to believe that Washington knew of its existence or value until his adventure of 1753. Then he learned that the oil had long been used by the Indians and the pioneering whites for fuel and light, for medicine and in making war paint. Washington was so much impressed with its possibilities that he later became owner of a large area of oil-bearing lands. Although the petroleum industry in its modern form was then undreamed of, Washington was so sure that a fortune resided in his oil-bearing lands that in his will he listed them as his most valuable holdings. In the property schedule attached to the will he wrote:

"This tract was taken up by General Lewis and myself on account of the bituminous spring which it contains, of so inflammable a nature as to burn as freely as spirits and as nearly difficult to extinguish."

The Will of Washington

Some historians declare that in an earlier will Washington dedicated this "burning spring" to the public. At any rate, it had passed from his ownership before his death. He sold this tract for $200,000, but, suspecting it might revert to his estate under a mortgage, he warned his heirs that should it do so it would be worth much more than the $200,000.

Although Washington's first knowledge of petroleum was gained within a few miles of the place where the first oil well in the world was drilled, that first well was not opened until one hundred and six years later, 1859. In that year Edwin Laurentine Drake bored the first well, just south of Titusville, Pennsylvania, and really started the modern petroleum industry.

A Development Wonder

Today the American industry is the major part of the world's oil business. Americans are directing oil developments all over the world. It is all part of the huge problem: to make sure that the tomorrows shall see America's requirements met. Every decade the production of petroleum has doubled. Science and technical progress have met all demands. Foreign investment and development are in the nature of insurance for the future.

In the days of Drake and the industry's beginnings petroleum's value lay in lubricants and kerosene. The age of machinery was only beginning, with its insatiate demand for lubricants, while kerosene, though the best illuminant ever known, was dangerous because poor refining left gasoline that was liable to explode. It is difficult nowadays, when the world is being combed for more petroleum to make more gasoline, to realize that gasoline was once a nuisance and a menace. The internal combustion engine created the demand for gasoline, now the primary product of petroleum. The demands of millions of motor cars increasing constantly, invention and chemistry were set at work by the captains of the industry to make the barrel of petroleum turn out a larger and larger proportion of gasoline. This was done by the cracking process, through which every year now sees a larger proportion of crude oil turned into gasoline.

High and Growing Demands

Today well-nigh 2,500,000 barrels of petroleum are required every day to satisfy the demand for motor cars, tractors, trucks, buses, artificial gas plants and the innumerable by-products. Invention is constantly finding new uses, as enterprise just as constantly finds new supplies of petroleum. The wonderful and rather mysterious fluid has revolutionized social habits and industrial methods; yet it is only two-thirds of a century since the industry had its feeble beginning in the Pennsylvania oil country.

This year the country will use about 750,000,000 barrels of petroleum. The country will use 700,000,000 gallons of gasoline and will export 1,900,000 more. The production, processing and marketing of petroleum is probably second only to agriculture among American industries.

Roundly, 70 per cent of the world's petroleum industry is American. Ten billions of capital is invested in it—half the valuation of the national railroad system. It employs just about 1,000,000 people. The petroleum pipe line system, gridironing a good share of the country, aggregates about 85,000 miles. Petroleum revolutionized naval warfare by bringing in the oil burning ship; it is fast revolutionizing merchant marines in the same fashion. Multiplication of motor cars, along with the special taxation of their gasoline, has made possible the modern highway system.

A True Social Service

Perhaps the most nearly revolutionary result of Drake's modernization of the petroleum industry is to be found in the change it has brought in the life of rural America. It has carried the city to the country, the country to the city. It has, by making possible the cheap and quick transportation that everybody nowadays enjoys, enabled country and city to know and understand each other as they never did before. It has brought social and educational privileges to country dwellers that a few decades ago seemed absolutely denied to them. On the one hand it has enabled the cities to spread out into suburban areas and the zone of country estates; on the other, it has enabled the people of the open country to have neighbors, society, church and school privileges, intimate acquaintance.

It is a historic fact that the tendency toward division of interest and understanding between city and country is the most serious internal menace to the security of nations, to the integrity of society.

More than anything else, country and city need to know and understand each other and each other's problems. The easy transportation, the ready opportunity for association and acquaintance that have come with the Age of Petroleum have made possible, in this favored country at least, exactly this new intimacy and understanding.

LOCAL MARINE GOES TO CUBA FOR THE WINTER

With the prospect of spending the winter months in the tropics, Oscar Belvin Popwell, of Clanton, is now encamped with the 2nd Battalion, 5th Regiment, U. S. Marines, at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. He left the United States, recently, when his battalion was ordered abroad, and he will probably remain in Cuba until next April.

Oscar is 21 years old and was born near Clanton. He lived at the home of his father, James W. A. Popwell, on Route 8, prior to joining the Marine Corps at Birmingham last January, and in recent weeks has been stationed at Quantico, Va., near Washington, D. C.

The battalion has an ideal encampment on the shores of the bay. The camp has its own electrical and ice plants, and fishing, boating, and swimming are enjoyed every month of the year. Every six months a detachment leaves Quantico for Cuba, for a period of military training and recreation.

Of all the telephones in the world, 62% are in the United States.

A lovely skin

THAT'S what makes beauty—a lovely skin! A skin perfect in its texture—free from pimples, blackheads or blotches.

And how everybody loves to look at beautiful skin! How they admire the fresh, clean, healthy appearance a perfect skin gives!

And do you know what makes skin lovely? Well, it's healthy, rich, red blood. Healthy blood purifies the system—throws off the impurities that cause skin eruptions.

And S. S. S., that great blood cleanser and builder helps Nature make rich, red blood. You never have to worry with embarrassing skin blemishes when you keep your blood full of healthy red-blood-cells.

Take S. S. S. and have the beautiful skin that belongs to you. And while it's making your skin lovely, S. S. READ THE PINK LABEL ON YOUR UNION-BANNER

Here of recent date and more or less always in the past, we have people complaining because we did not notify them before their time was out on the Union-Banner, so that they could renew and not miss any issues of the paper. I answer to this request we refer each subscriber to the little pink label at the top of the right hand corner of your Union-Banner every week. This little label, besides carrying the name of the subscriber, bears the date when the subscription expires. The first set of figures represent the month, the middle set the day and the last set the year. For instance, if your label reads: John Jones, 12-14-26, it means that John Jones' subscription will expire on December 14, 1926, etc.

We have tried several means of notifying our subscribers when their paper would be out, but we find the above the most satisfactory all the way around. This plan would be perfect if our subscribers would only notice their labels. By doing this you would be able to tell any time of the year when your paper would expire.

We hope that our subscribers will get accustomed to looking at the pink label on your paper, and thus stay informed as to your expiration date. It is too expensive for us to mail every subscriber a letter and tell them the date their paper will be out, whenever we are informing them of the date of expiration every time they get a Union-Banner. Please take notice of the little pink label.

IS THERE A HOME FOR A HOMELESS CHILD?

Today a young woman, the daughter of a prominent physician in Alabama, a young woman who is a worker of the State Child Welfare Department, is leaving Montgomery on the noon train for another city in the State. She carries with her a chubby little blue-eyed girl who is to placed for adoption in a good Christian home. Six months ago this baby came to the Child Welfare Department a sick, neglected, unwanted little waif, having been committed to the department by one of the juvenile judges of the State. Hospital care has been furnished the baby. The noted physician who has given his services left no stone unturned to restore the little one to health, and now a good man and woman have said, "We want her for our own little daughter, to grow up in our hearts and our home."

The Children's Aid Division of the Child Welfare Department has under its care today 136 homeless children, not all babies to be sure, but attractive children waiting for their chance. Aren't there other homes in Alabama and Chilton County that will open their doors this Christmas time and take in a little child?

June 16-22, 1927, has been named for the first National Farm Boys' and Girls' Club Camp, in Washington. Alabama is to send 2 boys and 2 girls.

BUTCHER'S WIFE DIDN'T EAT ANY MEAT

"My wife suffered for five years and practically lived on toast and hot water. Doctors said she would have to be operated for gall stones. A lady advised her to try MAYR'S and after taking 4 bottles over two years ago, she has been entirely well ever since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. When all the Family Wear Lullwater Garments

Economy, Comfort and Good Appearance Are Assured

True economy, without sacrifice of comfort, or good appearance, commences the day you buy your first Lullwater shirt or other garment. They are made from cotton we buy direct from farmers and clean, dye, spin and weave into the famous Lullwater chambray that never fades, and wears like the old-fashioned "homespun" our great-grandmothers used to make.

Lullwater shirts are cut full size, with double seams, reinforced pockets, 3-ply collars, continuous sleeve bands and curved armholes and rounded shoulders, tailored to fit the wearer.

OTHER LULLWATER GARMENTS are Bungalow Dresses, Overalls, Jumpers, Play Suits, Men's and Boys' Pants, and they are all equally as good as the shirt. FOR SALE AT THE BEST STORES.

FROM COTTON BOLL TO YOU

The great Lullwater Mills with their immense annual output, are complete production units within themselves, converting raw cotton into high-grade finished garments, selling direct to your dealer and giving you the benefit of all middlemen's savings. Get acquainted with the Lullwater line.

Keep Fit!

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

TO be well, you must keep the blood stream free from impurities. If the kidneys lag, allowing body poisons to accumulate, a toxic condition is created. One is apt to feel dull, languid, tired and achy. A nagging backache is sometimes a symptom, with drowsy headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scant passage of secretions. If you have reason to suspect improper kidney functioning, try Doan's Pills—a tested stimulant diuretic. Users praise them throughout the United States. Ask your neighbor!

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Sunbeam Party.

The Sunbeam Band of the Baptist Church enjoyed a Thanksgiving party Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jesse Jones on First Street. A variety of bright flowers and autumn leaves decorated the home. The punch table was presided over by Miss Eloise Jones. Many games were played, and late in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. John M. Robinson, who is leader of the organization, Mrs. Jesse Jones, Mrs. Milton Smith, Mrs. G. C. Armstrong, and Mrs. Willie Bean.

Among those enjoying this affair were John and Grace Ezell, Anne Cordelia and Frances Smith, Frances Bean, Ruth Gowan, Margie Nell and Eloise Jones, Mary, Harvey, and Kathleen Armstrong, Elizabeth, Helen, Deweyrene and Gertrude Eubanks, Virginia and Lennelle Eubanks and others.

Bridge Club.

The members of the Wednesday Bridge Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Grady Reynolds on last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Eighth Street. Baskets and vases of yellow chrysanthemums were used to decorate the home. High score prize, two decks of Congress cards, was awarded to Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Omar Reynolds, served a tempting salad plate with hot coffee.

Those enjoying Mrs. Reynolds' hospitality were Mesdames John Browder, Victor Heard, N. S. Johnson, Hugh Simpson, Oscar Jones, Frank Callen, Hugh Jones; and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Girl's Auxiliary.

On Thursday morning the members of the Girl's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Hester on Tenth Street. A Thanksgiving program was rendered, and afterward a dinner was prepared for an unfortunate family living in the country. About noon the members, accompanied by Mrs. Hester, Philip Foshee, and William Hester, motored to this home and took several baskets of good eats. A cottage prayer meeting was held.

Those taking part in this kind deed were Eugie and Exie Baker, Mary Foshee, Marjorie Mauney, Julia Ruth Hester, Eloise Jones, Janice Danforth, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis entertained a few friends at a forty-two party on last Thursday evening. Fall flowers adorned the home. Mrs. W. M. Wyatt was presented a cut glass mustard jar for high score prize.

Sandwiches and hot chocolate were served to Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Crumpton, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Calloway, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis.

Football Boys Honored.

One of the most delightful affairs given during the Thanksgiving season was on last Thursday evening, when Elwyn Gore entertained in honor of the members of the Chilton County High School Football Team, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs M. A. Gore, on Second Avenue. The colors of the team, purple and gold, were carried out in the decorations of the home. Festoons of ribbons and chrysanthemums were artistically arranged about the rooms. Footballs, holding yellow tapers, were placed in the living and dining rooms. Several games were played, and a contest enjoyed. Miss Pauline Pyron won the prize, a box of candy. Delicious refreshments, further carrying out the color scheme, were served.

Those included in this hospitality were Edwyn Bruner, Pete and Leon Sanford, Lewis Williams, Willie Knox, Philip Foshee, Robert Alred, William Hester, Arthur Broadhead, Houston Nivens, J. Lansford, A. Connatser, Ruth Sessions, Erin and Mildred Danforth, Pauline Pyron, Vivian Sanders, Exie and Eugie Baker, Sunset Polk, Wilhelmina Kittrell; Misses Catherine Donnelly, and Louise Nichols, Allie and Elsie Busby, Lorene Murphy, Lurline Minor, Alphonza Sanders, Clyde Lowe, and others.

B. Y. P. U. Social.

On last Tuesday evening the members of the Senior Baptist Young People's Union enjoyed a social in the basement of the church. Ribbons of yellow and black were festooned about the room. Baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and potted plants completed the decorations. Various games, music, and contests furnished amusement for the evening.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Grady Heflin, Misses Beatrice and Maude Alexander, Florence Grier, and others.

Circle No. 4 To Meet.

Circle No. 4 of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union will meet Monday afternoon, December 6, at 3:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bama Cox. All members are urged to be present.

MINOOKA NEWS

On Thanksgiving Day the citizens of Minooka met at the school building, bringing basktts and boxes overflowing with food prepared for the occasion.

After song by the congregation, and prayer by W. M. Aldridge, school exercises were rendered by the children, in which all acquitted themselves with much credit. Among the selections of special mention was "The First Thanksgiving Day," rendered by Puritans and Indians. The Puritans were Elva and Harmon Barefield, and Annie Mae Aldridge; the Indians were Lois and Lola Conway, Ruth Watts, Robert Anderson, and Henry Adams

At 11 o'clock Rev Geo. Bailey preached—subject, "From Grumbling Alley to Thanksgiving Street," with wonderful force and power.

A bountiful repast was spread at the noon hour, in which real pumpkin pie lead.

The old peoples' service was most enjoyable, being participated in by both men and women in prayer, song, and thanksgiving.

On the following night a box supper was given for the benefit of the school, which was enjoyed very much by everyone. The amusements were a fishing pond, and a cake for the prettiest girl, which was won by Miss Lillian Haynes, in close competition with several beautiful competitors.—Mrs. W. M. Aldridge.

A Farmer Boy's Success

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine was the course Dr. Pierce pursued. Finally he determined to put up in ready-to-use form his 'Golden Medical Discovery' so the public could easily procure it. This 'Discovery' is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young.

All dealers. Large bottles, liquid, $1.35; tablets, $1.35 and 65c.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package tablets.

Interesting Story About Mexican Border Patrol

Their uniforms may not be as brillant, but their work is just as colorful as that of the Canadian Mounted Police. Their organization is too young to have the traditions of the Texas Ranger behind it, but they are making interesting history every day. They ride a "beat" that stretches from the pleasant coasts and cliffs below San Diego to the blazing heat of Sonora Desert east of Yuma, over trails that even those hard bit Spanish pioneers of long ago christened the "Jornado del Muerto"—journey of death.

They are the boys of the Border Patrol of the United States Immigration Service, who, 24 hours out of the 24, and 365 days of the year, watch the Mexican Border for Uncle Sam to see that no unwanted aliens "crash the gate," and make their way illegally into this country.

Four or five years ago there were only 16 men employed on the Border Patrol between Tia Juana and the point 60 miles east of Yuma where the Southern California district ends. Then came the passage of the Johnson bill restricting immigration from the European nations, and where the patrol before had the single job of keeping out smuggled Chinese, there was added the much more difficult job of barring the way against natives of a dozen European nations. Entrance to Mexico is open to any alien and from Mexico thousands of Europeans who have been unable to obtain legal entry to the United States yearly attempt to cross the line.

Today there are 71 men in the Border Patrol in this district. They are mounted, not on horses, but with a fleet of Chevrolet cars, recently purchased for their use by the government. Hitherto the men have owned their own cars but a late change in policy led to the purchase of the Chevrolet fleet for their use.

Few persons are aware of the tight watch maintained on lonely mountain roads, on dim tracks through the desert or the high meadow lands of San Diego's back country. You never know where you will find the Border Patrol at work, which, of course, is decidedly inconvenient for the men who make a business of smuggling aliens.

The very first trip of one of the Chevrolet fleet, for example, resulted in the arrest of three smugglers and two Chinese. Patrol Inspectors E. Spies and R. V. Armstrong were camped in the Warner ranch meadows, where old Butterfield trail forks from the San Diego road and goes east over the pass down the valley of the San Felipe. In the chilly November dawn they halted a car with a single passenger. A search showed nothing suspicious in the car, and the driver, obviously nervous, was told to proceed. A few moments later came a second car, but it held four passengers, two of them Chinese and two alleged smugglers Realizing that the first car was a scout car, Spies held the prisoners while Armstrong leaped into the Chevrolet and set out after the scout car. In spite of the fact that his car was stiff and new and that the fleeing car had a long headstart, Armstrong caught his man at Oak Grove. The three alleged smugglers face the prospect of a two year jail sentence, and the Chinese will be deported.

From 90 to 150 arrests per month are made by the men in the Border Patrol service working along the Mexican line. Perhaps half of these are Chinese and the remainder are chiefly aliens from the south of Europe. While the smuggling of aliens has scarcely reached the excellent degree of organization that the bootlegging industry has attained, it is practiced by an even more ruthless class of citizen.

Their price scale runs from $100 to $1,000, depending upon where the smuggled individual is landed, and the difficulties attending it. Border reports have it that smugglers are quite as apt to murder their customers as to make an attempt to deliver them across the line, and that many an alien is summarily ushered into quite another country than that to which he sought entrance.

It is no easy job, this Border Patrol service, and has more than its share of long hours, danger and discomfort. It requires a degree of initiative, of tact, of quick observation and resolute courage that not every applicant for the work possesses. The men long in the service develop an uncanny skill in picking out aliens.

Their initiative is proven by an act of the Imperial Valley Inspector, who through an emergency faced the task of guarding four roads at once. He flooded two of the roads from the irrigation canals, commandeered a crow bar and tore up a bridge on a third and stood guard on a fourth until he was relieved. It put some travelers to a little inconvenience, but there was no hole in the border net that night.

No Engine Fumes in Buick closed cars

In the 1927 Buick, the new Vacuum Ventilator pulls engine fumes and gases from the crankcase and ejects them outside the car.

This vital new Buick improvement does away with noxious odors. It adds greater luxury and pleasure to enclosed car operation.

The Vacuum Ventilator serves another very important purpose. It prevents crankcase vapors from condensing and diluting the oil. Owners of 1927 Buicks are advised to drain their crankcase oil only 4 times during the year.

For luxury, and for economy, own a Buick.

Advertising Will Help Farmers In Selling

With the biggest crop in several years, of things to eat, thousands of Alabama farmers are now confronted with the problem of —selling one or more miscellaneous products; and one of the best means for disposing of these products is by advertising in the local newspapers, say agricultural workers at Auburn.

It has been observed frequently that farmers have a surplus of products which fail to bring them satisfactory returns because nearby consumers are unaware that nearby farmers have them for sale. By advertising, a farmer lets consumers know what he has, and frequently turns it into cash.

In addition to eggs, butter, vegetables, and similar products, farmers now have for sale dried peas, beans, fruit, canned goods, etc. Frequently a fraction of a dollar spent in inserting an advertisement in a local paper will result in sales when the product would not have been sold had no advertising been done.

The fact that the biggest and most successful business men in the country advertise liberally, spending hundreds of thousands of dollars annually for this purpose, is conclusive evidence as to the value of advertising. It is a part of successful selling and a big need of farmers is to sell successfully. Advertising will help.

Before doing this advertising, the Auburn workers point out that a farmer should be sure about the quality and pack wanted and should plan from the beginning to establish a permanent business. When he makes a contact he can turn it into a permanent customer by giving a high-quality product and satisfactory service just as successful as merchants do.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association are planning to build a warehouse of concrete construction, on property they now own, to care for the business which is growing slowly but surely, and will be of great benefit to Thorsby and community in marketing farm products.

Several of the members have placed oders for Dewberry plants which we think will lead in a few years to more members taking up this phase of fruit growing which will permit marketing in car lots. Dewberries are more easily grown than Strawberries, and while the first cost of planting is very high, a field does not require replacing every few years. This fruit usually sells at a high price hence brings big money when acreage is considered.

Fred Howard, Eugene Davenport and Nat Bentley who went to Baldwin county on a fishing trip last week returned with a catch exceeding 150 pounds, mostly speckeled salt water trout. Davenport caught the biggest fish, weighing nearly six pounds. These trout are fine for table use, as we can testify from the experience we had with one Fred Howard gave us. He is planning to go again soon.

Mr. Emmet Billingsley was the lucky holder of the ticket that drew the Standard Range offered as a prmium for trade by H. W. Peterson & Co.

Thanksgiving dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Howard were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard and Mrs. Fred Howard and daughter Lucile, and Mr. Andrew Franzen.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert Childress and Mr. Fred Krahman, the 88 year old father of Mrs. Diefenderfer, who is still able to do justice to a good dinner. Mr. Krahman, is, we believe among the oldest if not the senior Thorsby citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mead had as dinner guests Thursday Mrs. Will Aldridge, of Hoyden, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Barrett of Selma, Mr. and Mrs. E .F. Mead.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg had as their Thanksgiving guests their son Arnold, from Birmingham, Mrs. H. M. Gerald and daughters Ruth and Mary Ella.

The ladies Guild Bazaar, held Saturday afternoon, was a very successful affair, nearly everything offern ore than was expected.

The Congregational Ladies Aid will meet Thursday afternoon December 2, at the home of Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer.

Mr. George Jasperson and Mrs. Ella Green, both of Birmingham were united in marriage by Rev. J. E. Each at 3 p. m. Saturday November 27 at the home of Mr .and Mrs. Harry V. Thompson in Thorsby.

Mrs. Anna Rasmussen Forsman and her three children spent Thanksgiving at the Forsman home in Thorsby. They also visited with Mrs. Charles S. Howard and other friends in Thorsby, and left for their home in Wylam Monday evening.

Mrs. C. W. Karlson left for Chicago Monday night, to attend the funeral of her brother who died Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mead with Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Barrett, motored to Birmingham Friday and spent the day.

Roy Raybon of Birmingham spent Thanksgiving with his parents in Thorsby.

Mr. C. W. Williams from Camp Hughes in Bibb county and Miss Bernice Williams from Lock 12 spent Thanksgiving and the week-end at their home in Thorsby.

Miss Pearl Steiner from Lock 12 spent several days last week with hed parents in Thorsby.

Mr. Cody Bell of Howard College and Robert Shepard of Birmingham, graduates of Thorsby Institute, arrived Saturday night in time to attend the Class Stunt night entertainment at T. I. spent Saturday night at the Boys Dormitory and were entertained at dinner Sunday by Mrs. H. M. Gerald and her daughter, Ruth. They returned Sunday night.

"International Golden Rule Sunday" occurs next Sunday, December 5th. All who are inclined to observe it, eat a simple orphanage type of dinner that day, for example, a stew, bread, appricots and cocoa, and give what they would otherwise spend to the Near East Relief Orphans. Mr. Butler will receive contributions and forward it to Near East Relief headquarters in New York.

Thorsby public school cleaned and oiled floors during Thanksgiving week end, the Parent Teachers Association have purchased new desks for one of the rooms, and will work to raise money for more to somewhat relieve the congested condition in all of the rooms, which are overcrowded that two and sometimes three occupy seats intended for only one.

Next Saturday night, December 4th, there will be a Box social in the public school auditorium, voting contests will be held for the prettiest girl and the ugliest man.

Miss Mamie Sue Stewart spent the Thanksgiving holidays in West Point Georgia and LaFayette Alabama.

The Chest of Linden, to be given away by Thorsby Eastern Stars on December 22, to party holding lucky ticket, will be on display in D. L. Wards Store window after Saturday Dtcember 4.

Last Thursday the dormitory folks and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Butler and Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Norton and Rev. F. E. Jenkins, enjoyed a splendid Thanksgiving dinner. A friend of the school had given the money for this dinner, and it was very much appreciated. In the afternoon the annual ride to the County Poor Farm was taken. After it an outdoor supper was eaten on Mrs. Butler's grounds.

The Institute folks gave about seven dollars for provisions for the County Poor Farm and recently gave also eleven dollars to make Christmas a happier time for the lepers.

The annual Stunt Night of Thorsby Institute took place last Saturday night in the auditorium. A large crowd gathered for the entertainment. Each class kept secret its own stunt. Miss Robinson was in charge of the Freshmen stunt which came first and featured a children's party. Miss Hastings had charge of Sophomore stunts, which consisted of "take-offs" on school life. Mr. Maddox was in charge of the Junior stunts, which pictured an automobile scene, and also had a large orchestra. The Senior stunt in charge of Miss Hawkes, showed various tricks, and as a final feature maidens dressed in old-fashioned costumes who sang "Ben Bolt." The admission paid by those not members of the school has been placed in a fund for purchasing auditorium chairs, so much needed.

At Christian Endeavor, the subject was "Christian Endeavor the whole world around." The leader was Mary Wells. The members were divided into groups representing different countries, and various articles were read about each country.

The stucco finish for the outer wall of Thorsby Institute has now been completed by E. E. Mead & Son, who had the contract for the concrete work on the building. Outwardly, the whole building has an artistic finish which harmonizes with the dining hall recently built.

Dr. Will S. Wilson of Fairfield was a visitor to Clanton Monday.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shaw wish to publicly acknowledge their appreciation of the many expressions of sympathy in the recent loss of their son, George William.

In an address by radio from Station WAPI at Auburn, Congressman W. B. Bowling of LaFayette, Ala., said that while Henry Ford paid $16,000,000, and John D. Rockefeller $12,000,000 in taxes last year it was really the people paying taxes through them, because they collected the tax in selling their products. He explained that a refund by the government on income taxes will not reach those who actually paid it, but will be returned to those who have collected it from the consumers.

As a result of sentences imposed by Judge Smoot in the Circuit Court, six men were carried away from Clanton Wednesday to serve time in the coal mines of the Alabama By-Products Co.

The names of those who went away are John Mims, Doll Edwards, Dan Maddox, William Baker, Rollie Waldrop, Erman Crumpton, all white; and Curtis Floyd, negro.

The postoffice of these men will be Quinton, Ala.

HENDERSON HAYES REPORTED CAUGHT WITH LIQUOR AT JEMISON MONDAY

Report has come to the Sheriff's office that Henderson Hayes was caught at Jemison Monday in possession of five gallons of whiskey. The apprehension and confiscation of the liquor was said to have been made by County Deputy Loss Robinson, and city officer Robinson, of Jemison. Further information reveals that Hayes was not placed under arrest at the time of the finding of the liquor. It is understood that his wife is in a hospital in Birmingham, and that he was permitted to go to Birmingham to see her. The officers expect to make further dispotision of the case upon his return to Jemison.

C. WILLIAMS WANTS FARM DEMONSTRATOR

Mr. C. Williams, former Chilton citizen who now lives near Plantersville, was in the Banner office today. In conversation with Mr. Williams he tells us that he will soon move back to Chilton County and be one of us again. He will live near Pletcher. We are glad to have Mr. Williams back with us.

Mr. Williams has noticed the question of a farm demonstrator for Chilton County being discussed through the paper, and he says that he is in favor of the County employing such demonstrator, provided they will get a man for the job who will really get out among the farmers and tell them something about farming that they don't already know and show them how to put their plans and suggestions into every-day practice. Mr. Williams said that if the man were going to have a nice office prepared for him in the court house and would stay there most of the time, then he did not figure we needed a demonstrator.

According to Mr. Williams, the proper way to go about determining the attitude of the people concerning the matter would be to let each voter vote upon the question just as we do regarding bond issues, etc. This would be absolutely fair to everybody. If the people want a demonstrator, then let the commissioners hire them one, and let the man they hire do the work he shall be paid to do. If he doesn't do work commensurate with his salary, then turn him off and try somebody else.

Mr. Williams is a life long farmer, having tilled the soil all his life except a couple of years he was in the army. He knows the real problems of farmers, and he is capable of speaking from actual experience between the corn and cotton rows.

THE BRANDON RAID

Conviction of one of the nine men arrested with Governor in a liquor raid on a Foley fishing camp ends an unsavory episode in Alabama's history.

The conduct of Governor Brandon has not been such as to excite admiration either before or after the raid on the camp.

Whatever one may think of the raid and the motives that caused it, Governor Brandon's actions throughout have shown a disregard for law and for the courts of the State that sit poorly on the chief executive of a State.

Alabama has found it hard to understand Governor Brandon's silence regarding circumstances of the raid. On the testimony in court at Bay Minette yesterday, Governor Brandon is convicted of countenancing a violation of the law if not actually participating in it.

The odor of liquor was so strong in the room where Governor Brandon was playing cards that one of the citizens with the raiders was forced to stand near the door, so he testified.

The governor told the officers at the time of the arrest that he knew nothing of the liquor.

Such ignorance is as startling as his silence since then.

Governor Brandon chose to disregard the due processes of a court of the state of which he is chief executive. He ignored the case against him that was supposed to have been tried yesterday.

His Tennessee speaking engagement, forsooth, made it impossible for him to attend.

Perhaps as governor, Brandon has the power to thus ignore the courts of the State, but certainly it will not commend him to those people who believe in impartial law enforcement.—The Birmingham Post.

MR. JOHN PATTERSON LOST HIS MONEY

Some days ago Mr. John Patterson of Poplar Springs lost his pocketbook while in Clanton. It contained a rather large sum of money. When asked about the matter Monday of this week, Mr. Patterson stated that he had obtained fairly accurate information leading to the fact that his money was taken from his pocket by a man who is reputed to be a notorious gambler and pickpocket. Mr. Patterson says the man whom he suspects is named "Charley," and lives not far from Clanton. He is still working on the case and expects to have the evidence completed soon. If the man who got the money will return it to Mr. Patterson, there will be no further questions asked. Otherwise, somebody is liable to get in a snap.

BIG STILL RAID MADE IN SHELBY COUNTY

Federal officers Gillespie, Burns, and Newton made a raid in Shelby County Monday night just across the creek from the steel bridge, which brought down four 300-gallon stills all loaded with beer and ready to run. The plant was not in operation and no arrests were made. This was one of the biggest whiskey making outfits that has ever been reported by officers here.

BALTIMORE DRY GOODS CO. NEW CLANTON BUSINESS FIRM

The general merchandise store formerly known as Baker & Taylor, which has been operated in Clanton very successfully for several years past has been sold to the Baltimore Dry Goods Co. Operation will be continued at the same place. Hereafter the store will be known as the "Baltimore." Mr. Jesse Baker, who has been owner of the store in the past has been retained as manager by the purchasing firm.

Announcement is made that for the present the policy of the "Baltimore" will be to sell strictly for cash, and further, that the markets of the country will be scoured for the very lowest prices at which reputable merchandise may be offered to the Clanton retail trade.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the "Baltimore" in this paper. The firm has authorized Mr. Baker to make still further reductions in prices on all goods now in stock. So if you want to buy at real bargains, now is the time to do so. Don't fail to see their advertisement in another place in this paper.

BOX SUPPER AT PROVIDENCE SCHOOLHOUSE, BEAT 16

There will be a full-grown box supper at Providence Schoolhouse, in Beat 16, next Saturday night, December 11, beginning at 7 o'clock. Everybody is urged to be present and enjoy the occasion.

O. M. CARTER OPENING NEW ELECTRICAL SHOP

Mr. Marvin Carter is making preparation for the opening of a new electrical shop which will be located in the Wade Building on Main Street, formerly occupied by Main Street Garage. The new shop will specialize in electrical and battery work for automobiles, which will include a full line of new equipment of this kind as well as repair work covering every phase of batteries, generators, and starters.

A very attractive feature of the new shop will be the radio department in which Mr. Carter will carry the full line of Atwater Kent radios and supplies and expert service on the same.

Mr. Carter expects to have his new place opened within te next week, ready to serve his trade.

Mr. Leonard Gentry will be with Mr. Carter in charge of the battery department.

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY IS TWENTY YEARS OLD

Saturday was the 20th birthday anniversary of the Alabama Power Company, its charter having been granted to Capt. W. P. Lay, Earl Lay and O. R. Hood, all of Gadsden, December 4, 1906. Seven years later, in 1913, it began to function as a hydro-electric power distributing concern with only five customers and a total load of 6,500 horsepower.

Now, 13 years later, the Alabama Power Company is recognized as the state's leading industrial enterprise, its more than 4,500 miles of lines extending to every section of the state and serving more than 200 cities, towns and rural communities. More than 400 major industries, more than 3,000 farms and rural enterprises, more than 1,500,000 people living in the territory its lines traverse are directly or indirectly dependent on its service, which emanates from steam and hydro plants having a combined generating capacity of more than 700,000 horstpower and representing an investment of more than $200,000,000.

In 1912, soon after Thomas W. Martin, president, first became connected with the company, headquarters were maintained in a single office room of the Bell Building in Montgomery. Today its office and construction forces of 4,000 people are located in more than 60 cities, while the general and executive offices occupy the company's own home in Birmingham, a 17-story structure, which is said to be one of the most imposing public utility buildings in the world.

There was no celebration of the company's birthday in Birmingham or eleswhere, the occasion finding its forces performing the daily routine in the usual manner.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. May the richest of blessings abide upon them, is our prayer.—Mrs. Lela Martin and Children.

FATE DAVIS ARRESTED

Fate Davis was arrested Monday night by County officer Foshee and Federal officers Gillespie, Burns and Newton. He was charged with transporting wine in his car on the road between Jemison and Union Grove. Davis was brought to jail and released on bond Tuesday morning.

REV. COX IS NEW PASTOR AT METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. W. M. Cox and family arrived in Clanton last week from Lakeland, Florida, and took up their abode in the Methodist parsonage. Rev. Cox is the new pastor of the Clanton Methodist Church. He held his first services last Sunday and Sunday night, when he was greeted by a large congregation. The greeting of Rev. Cox Sunday night was a joint event of worship participated in by all the denominations of the city.

The family of Rev. Cox consists of himself, Mrs. Cox, and two daughters, Frances and Elizabeth.

Along with the whole of our citizenship, we extend to them a most hearty welcome to Clanton. We hope that their stay in our city will be one of much pleasure and mutual benefit.

"ONE ROOM PLUS"

The Clanton Dramatic Club presents "One Room Plus" at Chilton County High School, Friday night, December 17, at 8 p. m.

The contrast of two types of married life is the theme.

Fred (Frank Mullins) and Julia (Mrs. Norman Roberts) are living a life of gayety in a 1-room apartment plus kitchen and bath.

Barbara McCord (Miss Louise Nichols) a young woman troubled with advanced ideas, has influenced Julia in living her individual life, with her husband playing second fiddle. Julia holds a good position in order to have the luxuries she desires.

John (Oce Webb) is the dominating force in his suburban bungalow; while Mollie (Miss Thelma Guy) is a loving, obedient little wife, of the clinging vine variety.

"Dad" Carmichael (Jack Wade) comes to the city to visit his two sons and leaves his wife at home on the farm. He is highly entertained in the "One Room Plus," and also is amused by Barbara's modern ideas.

Come and see the play, and discover how "Dad" helps solve the troubles that arise in the two homes.

Come and spend an enjoyable evening!

UNCLE DOCK WELLS WRITES

Editor Union-Banner:

As I have been away from home so much of late I guess my friends have all decided I was entirely gone. I went to Talladega about 3 weeks ago to visit my saughter, and while these I received a telegram that my brother, Sam Wells, who lived in Montgomery, was very sick and wanted me to come at once. Si I went down last Friday. I got there at 10:30 and he died at 3:00 that afternoon. I just did get to see him. He knew me but couldn't speak. He had told the family that if I did not get there before he died to tell me he was perfectly safe; nothing between him and the Lord, which was great consolation to me. He was buried Saturday in Montgomery. Out of 6 brothess I am the only one left. I am looking for my summons every day and night, but I ask everyone to pray for me that I may be ready and my passport ready with faith, hope and charity, and signed by the blood of Jesus Christ.

Many good wishes to the good old Banner, the editors, and all the readers is my prayer for Christ's sake.—A. C. WELLS.

BIG WILDCAT RAID STAGED NEAR QUINSEY, IN COOSA

Federal officers Gillespie, Myrick, and Burns staged a big raid near Quinsey, in Coosa County, last Thursday, the result of which was the arrest of John and Bud Blankenship, George and Thomas Adams, and Ira Maherg, all of whom were engaged in the actual operation of a still when the officers came upon them. The still was a copper outfit of 100 gallons capacity. The men who were operating it had just started in on a run in which they had 5,000 gallons of beer ready to manufacture into moonshine. About three pints had run out of the faucet when the Federal officers broke into the arrangements and placed the party under arrest.

CORINTH MEETING WANTS THE COUNTY FARM DEMONSTRATOR

According to the announcement in last week's Union-Banner, a meeting was held at Corinth in Beat 5 last Friday night, and a straw vote was taken on whether or not a county farm demonstrator was wanted. The result of the voting was as follows:

Legal voters present voting for demonstrator, 11; legal voters voting by proxy for demonstrator, 2; non-legal voters present voting for demonstrator, 7; non-legal voters voting by proxy for demonstrator, 4. Total vote in favor of county demonstrator, 24.

There was not a dissenting vote cast either by anyone present or by proxy.

At this meeting a Farm Club was organized by the people of Corinth. The object of the club is to promote the better interests of the farming class of people in general.

LIQUOR CASE AGAINST GOV. BRANDON DISMISSED

Charges of violating the prohibition law against Gov. W. W. Brandon, seven of his friends, and a negro servant were nolle prossed in the county court of Baldwin County Monday. Jack Daniels of Birmingham, a member of the Governor's party on the famous fishing trip, plead guilty to ownership of the liquor that was seized. Daniels was fined $250 and costs.

Governor Brandon and four of his co-defendants did not appear in court.

HAD BIRTHDAYS SATURDAY

We think there were an unusual number of birthdays of Clanton folks observed last Saturday and Saturday night. December 4th was the birthday of Kin Vinson, Mrs. Paul C. Mims, and J. Renfroe Jones, and Jean Wyatt's birthday was a day later, the 5th, so in order to be in line with the rest he observed Saturday too. Mrs. Wyatt gave Jean and Mrs. Mims a party at the former's home Saturday night, and Kin Vinson also gave a party at his home. We learn that Renfroe observed the occasion with more or less prominence.

The Alabama Power Company also had its twentieth birthday Saturday, but not so much importance was attached to their anniversary. They held no birthday party so far as we were able to learn. Probably because the officials of the company overlooked the fact and probably because they did not necessarily need any birthday presents from their friends.

One Fourth of One Century---

Twenty-five years ago, December 7th, the good ship, "Peoples Savings Bank," started on what has proved, through wise counsel and generous support, a long and successful course.

Patrick Henry once said: "The only lamp by which our footsteps can be guided is the lamp of experience." Past achievements, past success, but point the way to fresh and greater accomplishments.

When an institution has proven to your satisfaction that it has accomplished certain things in the past, then it is certainly reasonable and logical for you to presume and expect that it is capable of repeating a similar performance.

A Valuable Paper Dealing With the Farming And Marketing Problem In Chilton County

"Necessity is the mother of invention," it is said. Working upon this theory, on last Armistice day, a few progressive citizens met at the county courthouse to informally discuss the possibilities of forming a county-wide organization for the purpose of placing agriculture in this county upon a more profitable basis.

Jasper N. Dennis has been selected as chairman of the proposed organization and has already made considerable headway in perfecting plans to bring the organization into reality.

Cooperating with Mr. Dennis is C. E. Marcus, who has during the past few years had a wide experience in organization work of various nature, has prepared a very comprehensive report of present conditions in the county and has given the only apparent solution of the serious economic condition facing the county at this time. This report is published below in part:

Never before in the history of our county have we faced such an economic crisis. The conditions which have brought this about are so well known to most of us, I do not believe it necessary to enumerate them. In my opinion, they should be forgotten, except as a reminder of our folly in longer attempting to carry on successful agriculture without the aid of cooperative organization.

Without question, the salvation of agriculture in this county is diversified farming. Even with that, it will not be successful unless we go a step further and standardize our crops and provide for their systematic marketing. As an example of our urgent need for diversification, I wish to give the following statistics, which were compiled from information secured from the State Agricultural College at Auburn, covering 7 principal crops (other than cotton) produced and cossumed in Chilton County, with the cost to buy shortage in 1925:

Grain, including corn: Production, 450,000 bushels; consumption, 925,000 bushels; shortage, 475,000 bushels; cost to buy shortage, $330,000.

Hay: Production, 2,000 tons; consumption, 25,000 tons; shortage, 23,000 tons; cost to buy shortage, $94,000.

Sweet Potatoes: Production, 36,000 bushels; consumption, 38,000 bushels; shortage, 2,000 bushels; cost to buy shortage, $2,000.

Irish Potatoes: Production, 1,000 bushels; consumption, 25,000 bushels; shortage, 24,000 bushels; cost to buy shortage, $28,000.

Syrup: Production, 36,000 gallons; consumption, 100,000 gallons; shortage, 64,000 gallons; cost to buy shortage, $22,000.

Meat: Production, 1,794,000 lbs.; consumption, 2,700,000 lbs.; shortage, 906,000 lbs.; cost to buy shortage, $93,000.

Total cost to buy shortages in Chilton County, $569,000.

It will be seen that the enormous sum of more than half a million dollars were sent out of the county last year to buy the shortage consumed by the people of this county over that produced in the county, in these 7 principal crops alone.

The above condition cannot be attributed to the unfertility of our soil, unfavorable climatic conditions, lack of initiative among our people, or any of the natural conditions that go to make up the foundation of a prosperous community. The power to make a profitable community is not a question of luck. It is not alone a question of nature. It is not a matter of chance. On the contrary, it is the accepted belief that communities are built, where and when men want them. Where men of business initiative, business imagination, and business cooperation want them and determine they shall be built.

Chilton County is not suffering from a lack of a large population or many industrial plants, but from a lack of community spirit and cooperation, through which it is possible to create a profitable growth. This can not be accomplished without organization.

During the past 20 years there has been a steady march of progress thruout the entire United States, and especially through the Southern States. Many sections have caught the vision and are working as a unit, to make their section not only a better place in which to live, but a better place in which to work and play. Without an exception, wherever this favorable condition is found, its existence can be traced to a cooperative spirit, brought about through the functioning of some cooperative organization.

Any number of samples could be cited to corroborate this statement, but the mere fact that the cooperative movement is of such magnitude and importance at the present time, that more than 285,000 organizations in all parts of the world are connected with it, with a total membership of more than 40,000,000 persons.

The importance of farmers's cooperative organizations as agencies for improving marketing methods is gaining rapid recognition at the present time. The existence of at least 12,000 farmers marketing associations in the United States shows clearly that American farmers appreciate the value of organized effort in effecting savings and improving service in the marketing of their products. Chilton County is one of the only 5 counties in the State of Alabama that has no organization of this nature.

Chambers of commerce, farm bureaus, marketing associations, etc., owe their existence today to the fact that they are agencies of service. They have powers to persuade people because they do not exist for the purpose of solely promoting the business interests of their members. They get men and women to work unitedly for the whole community and they have thus far developed a type of citizenship which results to the success of community undertakings and consequently has paved the way for a considerable amount of effective effort.

Chilton County needs more than a chamber of commerce functioning for the benefit of the commercial interests of those within the towns and villages of the county. It needs a county-wide organization working unitedly for the benefit of every man, woman, and child within the county. As soon as the business interests of this county realize that this is an agricultural county and that the business interests of this county depend almost solely upon the man who tills the soil and

A DRIVE THAT DIDN'T DRIVE

One of the outstanding features of the election this year was that the tariff figured so little in the results. Several months ago it was announced by the free traders that the campaign would be based on the tariff issue. It was asserted that the farmers were not getting any benefit from protection, but were penalized by it, that the West was seething with political revolt, and that the protectionists would be buried under an avalanche of votes in November.

But nothing of the kind happened. Constructive farm leaders pointed out that what farmers need is not less, but in some instances, more protection against the products of Argentine and other cheap producing countries. They showed that practically everything which the farmer uses exclusively in his business is already on the free list, and that nearly everything he raises and sells is protected. They prove that he is getting the benefit of protection by showing that products of the soil coming into the United States paid more tariff last year than the products of foreign factories.

The drive against the tariff therefore died aborning. It was felt that seldom during the campaign and wherever free trade argument was used in the debatable states, the free traders generally had the worst of it. The protectionist candidates running for the Senate and House of Representatives in the farm states were generally more successful than were their brethren in other parts of the country, where local issues were against them.

The reason why the free trade campaign didn't get started was that the political leaders of all parties realized that free trade would not be a popular issue this year. The demand for protection is getting less sectional and more general in America every year.

Indications now are that corn prices will be higher next year.

President Coolidge's attitude on the world court seems to be: "If you don't like my apples, don't shake my tree," and 95% of the people agre with him. regardless of politics, for this is not a political matter.

In 1850 it took 38 hours of labor to produce one car of corn. Now 7 hours or even less, is sufficient with power and equipment.

A few dairy cows on the average Alabama farm will pay well if the owner feeds them properly and takes care of them.

Man's success as a farmer depends more and more upon using his brains to direct the application of mechanical power and less and less upon using himself as a source of power.

SHADY GROVE

We were sorry to hear that we must give up our pastor, Rev. G. B. Golden, but his words and work will ever remain with us at Shady Grove.

We are much displeased with the evil spirit that is working in churches of today. Remember, the Bible says the time will come when people will not stand sound doctrine—it is here right now, among our church members.

We again express our regret that Rev. Golden must leave us, and pray that his new work be blessed, and that he will ever speak the truth, no matter whom it may concern. — A Reader.

A NICE POUNDING ON SURPRISE

Edtor Union-Banner:

Permit me to express my heartfelt thanks for the kindness of my friends which was demonstrated last Saturday night by the many good things which were sent to me. As you know, I am a cripple. I understand that my good friends, Ed Miner and Johnnie Johnson, began to talk about giving me a surprise, and others joined in with them until the list numbered representatives of 39 families. Many nice presents were brought, and I want to say that they were most highly appreciated. The Scripture teaches that it is more blessed to give than to receive, and he that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord. I pray that everyone who has extended such kindness to me may be repaid four-fold. —William Rhodes.

Miss Fraulein Cobb, teacher at Freeman, is gaining golden opinions from her pupils.

Do we need a farm demonstrator? We say both yes and no. If we are going to stay where we are, never advance in agriculture, never make the soil richer, and sell crops for less than cost, always be poor and dependent, always buying high priced fertilizer, continuing year after year in the same old routine of the past 100 years, we don't need him. One thing sure—we are not going to stay always where we are in agriculture. Costs are consuming our profits. No merchant can succeed without a profit, neither can the farmer. The man with rich soil can produce a crop with less cost than the one on poor soil. We need the demonstrator to teach us how, and to get the habit of enriching the soil by growing fertilizer instead of buying. thus reducing costs. We need the demonstrator to assist us in marketing products—we need a market as well as good soil. We are not making too much. This country can use more than the value of what we make, but the cost of production on poor soil is too great, then the lack of markets is included in the cost. Better soil and better markets seems to be where the secret lies. We never will advance on our poor soil by the old program. Unless we have improvement in markets and soil we can not eliminate the costs. The cost has ruined us this year so it seems there is need for a demonstrator. We are now going through a crisis. If a demonstrator can ever do good, it must be now.

We are looking to our new officers with hope—we believe they are worthy, and believe they will give us in West Chilton as fine roads as any other part of the County.

Get More Miles Out of Your Gasoline

No matter what the price is, gasoline costs money—and we must have it. But why waste it? Using gasoline in a motor with leaky valves is like trying to drink out of a funnel—it can be done but you lose a lot. The chances are that the valves in your car NOW—they need refacing and reseating. After valves have been properly serviced by the KWIK-WAY SYSTEM, the best system known, the mileage per gallon of gasoline used is increased from 20% to 34%. Why? Because the valves are right. They hold compression. They do not leak gas. You get the full power impulse of every explosion. Drive in—we'll stop the leak, and the gas you save will soon pay for it. Drive in—Some Time Today.

EARL MARCUS "UP IN THE AIR"

Earl H. Marcus, a Clanton boy who lives at Tuscumbia, sent us a check for his subscription this week, and along with his remittance he also sent word that he had recently been "up in the air" about something. Further investigation revealed to us that he had taken a trip in an airplane, flying over the very interesting Musle Shoals district.

U. S. POSTOFFICE IS WORLD'S BIGGEST BUSINESS

There is an interesting story of the activities of the United States Postoffice Department in the current issue of the National Republic. The story is in the form of a personal interview with Postmaster General Harry S. New, by Henry Olney, and it gives some facts not generally known about this "biggest single business in the world." Concerning the size and scope of postoffice activities, Mr. New is quoted as saying:

"Every year the postal service, on an average, delivers 112 letters to every man, woman and child in the United States.

"Every year the postal service handles 23,000,000,000 articles. Every year the increase in number of articles in the mails is more than a billion.

"Old man Atlas would have had a tough time of it lifting the annual load of letters alone that the postal service moves. It is estimated to total 133,350 tons.

"Every second of the 24 hours of every day there are 389 letters dropped into letter boxes; every minute, 23,334; and very hour, 1,400,000.

"Close to 49,000 postmen daily deliver mail to millions of homes and business houses in American cities. The farmer is not neglected by the postal service. Today 45,314 rural routes supply mail to 7,620,000 families, or 31,000,000 individuals.

"Out west the postal service has established a veritable automobile railroad 125 miles long to the fruitful Unitah Valley in Utah, to which no private rail line has penetrated.

"At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1926, the Postoffice Department had more than 363,000 people in its employ. Besides the 48,715 letter carriers, there are 67,671 clerks, 45,181 rural carriers, 50,601 postmasters and 20,411 railway postal clerks.

"The 50,601 postmasters run as many offices. There is one postoffice for every 58 square miles of territory.

"The 363,000 full and part time postal employes are paid approximately $441,622,517 annually for their services.

"Almost every conceivable type of transportation is used to move the mails—railroads, steamboats, automobiles, airplanes, motor boats, wagons, horses, pneumatic tubes, belt conveyors, motorcycles, bicycles, the sled of the Arctic, and even the 'dog car.'

"The 'dog car,' by the way, is an Alaskan invention. An abandoned railroad runs out of Nome to a mining camp. The enterprising Arctic Circle mailman hitches his dog team to a hand car and scoots up the mountainside with the mail.

"Last year the air mail planes flew 2,500,000 miles, carrying 14,145,640 letters."

1926 IS RECORD YEAR FOR CHEVROLET MOTOR CO.

Again shattering all production records in the history of 3-speed automobiles, the Chevrolet Motor Co., this month, closes its greatest year with an output of 728,697 cars—an increase of more than 40% over the previous record year.

The unparalleled public favor which has attached itself to the Chevrolet car has enabled the company to exceed by 209,637 cars its own record of 1925 when 519,060 units were produced.

Under pressure of the most sensational demand the great organization has ever witnessed, factory wheels turned at a record clip throughout the year, building a Chevrolet car every 12 seconds of each working day. Daily production averaged 2,450 cars and reached a high monthly level in September when daily output averaged 3,381 units.

Output for the year far exceeds that of the combined total production in the first 10 years of Chevrolet production, 1912 to 1921 included.

With production capacity for 1927 greater than ever before, Chevrolet, next month, enters on what promises to be a new record year for the world's largest manufacturer of 3-speed transmission cars.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

The next regular State examination for teachers will be held at the Courthouse on December 20, 21, and 22. All applicants not known to me must be properly identified and no applicant will be permitted to take who does not live or teach in this County, or who does not present a permit from the State Department of Education, if living in some other County, to be transferred to this County.

No one will be permitted to take for Second Grade who has not finished at least 2 years of High School or its equivalent, and no one will be permitted to take for First who has not had the equivalent of a full High School Course.

All applicants should be present at 9 a. m., on Monday, except those who turn in valid certificates to take for a higher certificate. Those turning in Thirds to take for Second should report at 3 o'clock Monday p. m., and those taking for First and submitting valid Seconds need not report until 1 o'clock Tuesday p. m.—B. Lawrence, County Superintendent of Education. 12-9-2t-c

OBSERVATION TOWERS BUILT BY FORESTRY COMMISSION

The second of a number of 80-foot forest fire observation towers planned by the State Commission of Forestry has jst been completed. The structure is located on State land in Sumter County, the site having been donated by a public spirited citizen of the community. The location is about 10 miles sout hof York.

The policy of the Commission is to erect such structures only in those locations where the landowners are actively exerting themselves to prevent and suppress fires. The Sumter County community has an enviable record in this respect. The tower overlooks the forest land holdings of a large number of individual owners and will form an important part of the protective system. By its use fires have already been detected which otherwise would have burned many hours before discovery.

Primarily, an observation tower is erected because there is no suitable natural point from which large expanses of forest territory can be viewed by the rangers and patrolmen. It thus supplies the artificial equivalent of a mountain peak. However, during very bad fire seasons an observer may be stationed at the tower continuously, enabling the rangers to continue the ground patrol seeking out special hazards and engaging in direct suppression wor. The towers are to be equipped with telephone lines so that the observer can notify the landowners of threatened danger, and the ranger from various points in his patrol can ring back to the tower for information regarding fires that may be in view.

It is said that France is planning to cut her standing army from 650,000 to 400,000 men. In this way she might even save enough money to pay an installment on the debt.

COOPER SINGING SOCIETY

Our society met last Sunday afternoon with a very large crowd. We were indeed glad to see the crowd back again, as our number had been small for the last few times.

Opened with a song by our chairman, Mr. Grant, after which prayer was offered by D. S. Robinson. We had several good directors with us, among whom were Messrs. L. T. Grant, W. M. Devaughn, A. O. Boswell, J. R. Robinson, O. L. Devaughn, T. E. Wyatt, and Mr. S. M. Yates. Pianists were Misses Birdie Grant and Claudie Hughes, and Messrs. Ammie Boswell and Lee Grant.

We had some good quartets, rendered by Mr. Grant and his "girls." We hope to have more of these next time, as everybody enjoys listening to good quartets.

Our society meets promptly at 1:30 each first and third Sunday afternoon.

Dismissed in prayer by Mr. S. M. Yates to meet again next Third Sunday afternoon. Come!—Mrs. Mollie Miner.

A Discussion of Farm Demonstrator Question

As the county commissioners have asked for an expression from the people as to the need of a county demonstration agent, I agreed last week to have something to say about the proposition this week.

In the first place, I want to say that I approve the action of the court in asking the people if they think it best to employ a county demonstration agent . They seem to want to know the wishes of the people and to be servants of the people and not bosses, which I think is just and right.

I believe if the proposition were left to a vote a majority of the people would say no to the county demonstration agent proposal, and prefer to have that $1,650 put on our roads or put on our county debt. I believe it would do us more good than to pay it out to someone to run around all over the county trying to tell the farmers how to make bigger crops. The thing the farmers of Chilton County need is a place to market what they already make. They have shown this year that they understand the production side of farming, as they have raised more corn, potatoes, syrup, and watermelons, as well as cotton, than they can market at a profit. What we need most is a market.

Yes, a few years ago we had all sorts of demonstrators and paid out thousands of dollars for men to go around and tell us how to make 200 bushels of corn to the acre and two bales of cotton to the acre. Some of the farmers made it, and at last in 1914 we made so much cotton until we could not get a bid on it. So we felt the need of a market all over the South. The merchants and bankers joined in with the farmers to secure a market. Did they succed? No. But many of them went into bankruptcy, and many of us have not forgotten it.

I want to say that the greatest demonstrator that ever went into the fields to teach the farmers of the Sooth, was Mr. Boll Weevil. He has taught the farmers the greatest lesson they ever hed. He taught us how to get 40 and 45 cents for our cotton and how to have plenty of meat, lard, wheat, corn and other things at home. Yes, Mr. Boll Weevil taught us how to pay off our 1914 debts and have some money to spend. He taught us how we could economize and save money and purchase for ourselves automobiles, and how to be able to keep them up. I want to say again he has taught the people of the South the greatest lesson they have ever had, and he did it by keeping them from raising too much cotton.

There were a lot of us who thought Mr. Conway was a great instructor, and he was. But he didn't obtain for us a good price for our cotton as Mr. Boll Weevil did. If we will heed the lessons taught by Mr. Boll Weevil, everything will work all right.

We can raise less cotton, get a better price for it, put that $1,650 a year on our roads or debts. I think that a road demonstrator would pay us better than a farm demonstrator, as we sure do need better roads. In my next article I shall have something to say along that line.

A VALUABLE PAPER DEALING WITH FARMING AND MARKETING IN CHILTON COUNTY, ALA.

that without his success the success of the entire county is in jeopardy—then with close harmony and proper cooperation among the entire citizenship Chilton County will take the place it justly deserves in this great commonwealth.

Organization Only Solution

The statement has been made and often repeated that a cooperative organization will not succeed unless it springs from necessity. If this is true, the time was never more opportune nor the chances so favorable for the successful operation of such an organization in Chilton County. As much as we deplore the fact, the crying need in our county is education. I do not mean academic education, as much as we realize its importance; but education along agricultural and economic lines. To accomplish this it is impossible without organization. Briefly summing up our needs in order that we may visualize the necessary factors to assure successful agriculture, I am setting out the following:

1. Complete survey and study of local problems.
2. Encouragement of diversified farming.
3. Introduction of new crops.
4. Improve livestock and poultry.
5. Initiate and introduce better methods pertaining to all phases of agriculture.
6. Analyze needs and standardize farm products for profitable marketing.
7. Cooperative marketing.
8. Develop leadership for carrying on community and county programs, including cooperation with all proper agencies working for the good of the county, such as churches, schools, etc.

It is impossible to carry out such an extensive program without organization. With a county-wide organization pitched along spiritual, educational, non-political, unemotional and non-spectacular lines for economic production and distribution a rapid and permanent development of rural life, the rural home, fountains of youth and the leadership necessary to make Chilton County a garden spot in Alabama will take place.

It was announced that a meeting representative of the entire county would be held at the county courthouse Monday afternoon, December 13, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of completing the organization, such as the election of officers, board of directors, and necessary committees. In the meantime, it is planned to hold a series of meetings over the county for the purpose of pointing out the needs for such an organization.

Watch Elimination!

Good Health Depends Upon Good Elimination.

RETENTION of bodily waste in the blood is called a "toxic condition." This often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Thousands have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. 50,000 users give Doan's signed endorsement. Ask your neighbor!

REV. J. TOY WILLIAMS WRITES FROM CHINA

Following is a letter received by The Union-Banner from Rev. J. Toy Williams, Baptist Missionary to China on December 6:

"Shanghai, China, Nov. 10, 1926.
Editor Union-Banner:

You have been very kind to me to continue to send the paper to me when it has been so long since I wrote anything for you. I am ashamed that I have not written for so long a time, but we get so awfully busy out here that some times we neglect writing as much as we should. I have thought of writing many times, but when there was a little lull, there was not energy and inspiration enough left to get busy and write. I am sending herewith something with regard to the use of Christian literature in China. This has been sent to The Alabama Baptist, but many of your readers do not take that paper, so I am sending you a copy, thinking that many of your readers would like to see it.

Within the coming months I want to write more than I have the last three or four years. I have in mind several things that I think will be of interest to the people at home.

Let me thank you most sincerely for your continuing to send me The Union-Banner. I enjoy it very much. It is a message from home every week.

Thanking you for your service you are rendering to the people of the County, I am

Sincerely yours,
J. TOY WILLIAMS."

Following is the article written by Rev. Williams for publication in The Union-Banner and The Alabama Baptist:

Christian Literature in China

One of the very important phases of mission work in China is the printing and distribution of Christian Literature. There is no country in the world where there is more reverence for the printed page. Baptists are doing this work through the China Baptist Publication Society which was organized in Canton nearly 28 years ago. Recently a young Chinese who was educated in Fork Union Academy and Richmond College in Virginia, has taken up the work of manager of our book store in Shanghai. In a letter which he sent out to all the Baptist missionaries in China, he said some very interesting things which I pass along to you:

"We have often heard it said that China is a great giant that is fast asleep. This giant is no longer asleep. She is waking up to stir the whole world. When she is fully awake, will she be a power for good, or will she be a menace to the peace and order of the universe? Will she be so saturated with the love and words of God which are the only means that will lift the millions of Chinese out of perdition, or will she be poisoned by teachings of the Bolshevists who declare that there is no morality, no righteousness, no truths, and no God in this world?

"The teachings of the Bolshevists and their ideas are spreading like a prairie fire through the length and breadth of China at the present time. The morality of the Chinese youths is fast declining to the zero point wherever there is some Bolshevick influence found. Even some of the weak-minded Christians have been ensnared by them, not to speak of the thousands of Chinese students and scholars, who will be the future leaders of China, who are under the influence and power of the Bolshevick movement. Do you want to see a China like this, or do you want to see a China that is ruled by reason, righteousness, order, and the sweet love of God?

"How came these Bolshevick teachings to spread so rapidly in China, especially among the Chinese youths? This question is easily answered. It is simply by literary propaganda work. The 'Red' Russians spare not their time, energy, men, power and money to attain their goal. Today you can find Bolshevick literature in almost every home in China, from the most accomplished scholar's to the lowliest coolie's. Do you wonder then that their teachings have such a great hold in the hearts of the inexperienced and untutored minds of the Chinese in such a short time? The Russians in Canton have said that they have accomplished more for their movement in China than that of the missionaries in over a hundred years. This singular remark of the Russians ought to make us think and rise to action. What is the cause of the Russians' seeming success? The distribution on a wide scale of their literature."

Is not the above enough to open the eyes of all who love the Lord and want His Kingdom to make progress in China? The China Baptist Publication Society has recently moved to Shanghai and a more central place from which to render a much greater service in China than it has ever done before. There is a wonderful opportunity before us. Though we are living in the full realization of our opportunities, we are hampered for lack of a proper building for our work. We are renting a little space here and there, wherever we can find it, doing the best we can under the circumstances. We are hoping and praying that in some way a building that will be a credit to our denomination and glorify the Lord, may be provided here in Shanghai. Will all who read this join in prayer with us that we may have this building, to be used to the glory of the Father in spreading His precious Word all over China?
Shanghai, China, Nov. 10, 1926.

ATKINSON - HAYES

A marriage that came as a surprise to many was that of Miss Clemma Hayes and Mr. Byron Atkinson, which was solemnized last Thursday at the home of Rev. Honeycutt of Jemison, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. Frank Hayes, a prominent farmer of Route 7. The groom is the son of Mr. A. J. Atkinson of Jemison.

They will make their home in Jemison until after Crristmas, when they will move to Birmingham, where the groom holds a responsible position.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed on the 14th day of January, 1926, by O. F. Scott, and his wife, Mollie Scott, in favor of C. A. Pattillo, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Book 210 of Mortgages, Page 277, the undersigned, C. A. Pattillo, mortgagee, will on the 29th day of December, 1926, in front of the court house door of Chilton County, in the City of Clanton, Alabama, during the legal hours of sale, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, the following described property, to-wit:

The entire crop of corn, cotton, cotton seed, oats, hay, fodder, peas, and potatoes, and all other crops grown or raised by O. F. Scott and his wife, Mollie Scott, or in which they may have any interest, during 1926, until said notes or indebtedness are paid, as well as all rents due or to become due, and the crops grown or raised, by any tenants, hands or employees of said O. F. Scott and his wife, Mollie Scott, during said year. Also the following described property, being in the County of Chilton, and State of Alabama, to-wit: The west half of northwest quarter of southwest quarter, and all that part of the west half of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter lying north of the Montgomery and Tuscaloosa Public Road situated in Section 24, also three (3) acres in the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 23, containing 38 acres, more or less, and known as the tract of land obtained from J. D. and Ella Culp, and upon which said mortgagor's residence is located; also the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 23 and known as a portion of the 80 acre tract obtained from the Alabama Mineral Land Company, all the above land being in Township 21, Range 13, and containing in all, 78 acres of land, more or less; and one bay horse mule about 8 years old, name Jim, one bay mare mule about 9 years old, name Kate, one Weber two-horse wagon and harness, three steel beam plows, two cultivators, two plow stocks, one Joe harrow, one cotton planter, and one Cole guano distributor.

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, said sale will be made for the purpose of paying the indebtedness secured by said mortgage and the expenses provided therein, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

This, the 12th day of November, 1926.

GATHERING AT C. C. BAKER'S ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Quite a few of the relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baker, former Chilton County people, who now live near White City, in Autauga County, gathered at their home early on Thanksgiving morning. Two hunting parties were formed, who went their separate ways and gathered at Mr. Baker's home at noon with a nice bag of game, and then—just such a dinner! Anything from turkey and squirrel on down—yep, Mr. Turk lost his head that morning and helped out in the festivities wonderfully.

Another hunting round was taken in the afternoon, with fair results.

All bundled up and returned to their homes when night came, tired, yet wishing that every day could be Thanksgiving day if it could be such an enjoyable occasion every time.—One who was there.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Probate Court, Clanton, Ala., November 18, 1926.—In the matter of the estate of W. R. Robinson, deceased.

This day came J. M. Robinson, Administrator of the estate of said deceased, and files his account, vouchers, evidence and state for final settlement of his said Administratorship.

It is ordered that the 20th day of December, 1926, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

Witness my hand, this 18th day of November, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
11-25-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

CAME HOME TO DIE

"Three years ago I came home thinking 2 or 3 weeks would be my limit to live. I had suffered for 15 years from colic attacks and severe liver and stomach trouble. I happened to see an advertisement of MAYR'S and purchased a bottle at the drug store and after taking the first dose I felt better than I had for 15 years. I am now in the best of health—thanks to MAYR'S." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Holiday gift goods in abundance, now ready for you. Come and look them over.--Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Don't pout or sulk if your Union-Banner stops coming. Nobody is to blame but you. The address label on every paper you get tells you exactly when your subscription will expire. That should be all the notice you need, unless you expect to get something for nothing. The publishers have no choice but to stop the paper until it is paid for. If you live where you get your mail at Thorsby postoffice or Thorsby rural route, you are in Thorsby Section and for new subscriptions or renewals should see Mr. Norton, who attends to Union-Banner business in Thorsby Section.

Mrs. H. M. Gerald had a fall a few days ago, and although no bones were broken, received internal injury which later put her in bed and under care of a doctor.

Miss Anna Lou Arthur, a student at Thorsby Institute, was taken to Central Alabama Hospital at Clanton on Wednesday of last week, in care of Dr. Wood, who, by request, called Dr. Wallace of Birmingham, who performed an operation for appendicitis, assisted by Dr. Wood. Dr. Wallace immediately returned to Birmingham, leaving Miss Arthur in care of Dr. Wood. She is reported to be making rapid recovery.

A surprise party was given last Monday afternoon to Mrs. E. W. Butler in honor of her birthday anniversary. About 20 ladies were present, who brought gifts and refreshments.

Mr. Sereno G. Norton spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Norton, in Thorsby. He was en route to attend the convention of The American Association of Chemical Engineers, who are spending a week in Southern cities and inspecting numerous industrial plants. He reports much bad weather in New Jersey, where he lives, and through the eastern states, and expressed surprise and satisfaction to find the weather so mild in Alabama.

The box social, erroneously announced last week to be held at the public school building in Thorsby last Saturday night, should have given the date as Saturday night, December 11. This is another effort of the school and P. T. A. to raise funds for the benefit of the school to purchase equipment, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance, especially of young people, who will be interested to know who get the prizes for being the prettiest girl or the ugliest man.

Within a little more than a year the Parent - Teachers Association of Thorsby, in cooperation with the faculty and students of Thorsby Public School, have raised $365 for a piano, $45 for a sewing machine, and have assumed obligations for $208 worth of new patent desks, recently installed and partly paid for. Last Saturday night the Maplesville High School sent representatives who made up a cast for a play entitled "Little Miss Jack." Miss Hicks, who trained the company and acted as coach, is worthy of special mention for her successful work with the young amateur players. Owing to lack of advertising the attendance was not as large as it should have been.

Mrs. Johnson of Chetek, Wis., is visiting her son, a student at Thorsby Institute, and her mother, Mrs. Aaron Danielson, in Thorsby.

E. F. Mead & Son have commenced work on the new concrete warehouse for Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association. While this is not a large building, it will facilitate the business of the Association.

Some Thorsby people will remember that during the reception given for the returned soldiers May 17, 1919, a cornet player from Birmingham High School Band helped our Thorsby boys in their band music for the occasion. This boy was Billy Tehan. It was thought this jolly boy would not be seen in Thorsby again, but much to the surprise of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Howard, with whom he stayed in 1919, he called one day recently to renew his acquaintance. He is now a strapping big jolly man. He has promised to bring his wife the next time he calls. They live in Birmingham.

Mr. Fred Howard and W. L. Leary went fishing again Saturday at Coosa River. They had good success.

Miss Jennye Robinson has returned to her home in Thorsby after 2 weeks delightful visit with friends in Nashville and Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The Baptist W. M. S. will have a bazaar Saturday, December 11, at the old hotel in Thorsby. Sales will begin at 10 a. m., sharp. Beginning at 11:30 an oyster dinner will be served, fried 35c, or stewed 20c, with coffee. Pie, 5c extra. Last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. C. Wood there was a business meeting of the W. M. S. and Y. W. A., to complete plans for this bazaar and dinner. Let's go!

Mrs. S. P. Franklin and Mrs. Chas. Spivey spent Sunday with Mrs. Franklin's mother in Randolph.

Mrs. Robert Davenport had a quilting party Tuesday afternoon. Refreshments were served to several ladies.

Mrs. J. E. Each entertained at dinner last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Peterson, Misses Hastings and Bertha Kirkman.

Friday night, December 24, Christmas Eve, is the time set for the Christmas entertainment of the Congregational Sunday School. Preparation for the program is already well in hand, a special feature will be a poinsettia drill by 12 young ladies. It receives its name from the fact that the finish of the drill represents a giant poinsettia flower in its natural colors. Those who have seen the drill say it is beautiful.

Miss Grace Stanley, of Hartford, Conn., Miss Jenkins' aunt, has donated to Thorsby Institute a set of Walter Camp's phonograph records for use in gymnastic exercises by the students. The other set they had was destroyed in the Bates Hall fire.

The Christian Endeavor meeting on December 5 was well attended and was led by the president, John Vanderveer. The subject was "Character—What Is It?" It being Consecration meeting, when the roll was called each one responded with something pertaining to the subject, followed by open discussion of the subject.

Last Sunday morning at the Congregational church in Thorsby, Mr. Butler, as chairman of the Budget Committee, presented the budget which was adopted at a called meeting of the church the previous Wednesday night. This budget includes all the anticipated expenditures of this church for the current year 1927, and does not vary much from the budget adopted a year ago, but owing to the loss by death or removal of some who were liberal contributors, the income left a small deficit. During the closing weeks of this month the "Every Member" canvass will be put on, when authorized persons will call on members of the church and congregation for definite pledges of support of the activities of the church for the ensuing year. All people of Thorsby and vicinity not affiliated with other church organizations are invited to have a part in this work, and feel that they are doing something to sustain the religious life of Thorsby and vicinity and the benevolent work of the church.

Card of Thanks

We, the teacher and students of Thorsby Colored School, known as "The Gulledge School of Thorsby," now occupying our new building, highly appreciate the gift of a number of books from Thorsby Institute, and also a lot of magazines from Mr. and Mrs. Norton of Thorsby. This will make a beginning for a much needed school library. In the hope of adding to our present collection we have set apart February 22, 1927, as "Book Shower Day."

We opened an adult night cshool last Monday night, December 6.—Jos. Sistrunk, Principal.

NEGRO ARRESTED AT FROLIC IN FROG LEVEL

Dputy Harvey Foshee went over to Frog Level about midnight last Saturday night and arrested Humphries Floyd, negro, who was in possession of a pistol at a negro frolic. Humphries was placed in jail, and has not made bond at the time of this writing.

SMITH - POLK

A marriage of interest and surprise was that of Miss Jimmie Polk, and Mr. Marion Smith of North Carolina, which took place December 6, in Birmingham.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Polk. She has many friends in Clanton and Columbiana, her former home, who wish for her every happiness. For the past two years she has held a responsible position with the United Rubber Co., in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are expected to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Polk.

Frank Nelson and August Larsen, assisted by M. Oberg, are engaged in making a new 4-inch bored well on Thorsby Institute campus.

CHRISTMAS LIQUOR SEIZED IN BIG RAIDS

Heavy inroads on illicit distillers, particularly in northwest Alabama, were reported Monday to Chief Walter K. McAdory. Capture of a 200, a 300, four 500, a 600, and a 700-gallon still was reported from Winston County, with seizure of 13,200 gallons of beer, 110 gallons of whiskey, and 1 arrest; Russell County, seizure of 25 gallons of whiskey and 1 arrest; Mobile County, a 250-gallon still, 600 gallons of beer, and 1 arrest; Shelby County, two 100, one 150, and four 200-gallon stills, 6,800 gallons of beer, 23 gallons of whiskey, and 4 arrests; Pickens County, a 35-gallon still and 60 gallons of beer; Tuscaloosa, a 150, a 300, a 400, and four 500-gallon stills, 3,700 gallons of beer, 22 gallons of whiskey, and 1 arrest; Lee County, a 750-gallon still; Jefferson County, an 800-gallon still and 1,080 gallons of beer.

TWO FINED FOR HAULING OVER ROADS AFTER RAIN

Two cases in the Circuit Court last week are of particular interest because of their bearing on the county road law of Chilton County. Howard Henson and Ben Williams were up on a charge of violating the county road law, and entered pleas of guilty. The charge was made that they had violated that section of the county road law which prohibits hauling over the roads immediately after a rain.

When the plea of guilty was entered, Judge Smoot assessed fines in each case, which were paid by the defendants.

"ONE ROOM PLUS"

The Clanton Dramatic Club presents "One Room Plus" at Chilton County High School, Friday night, December 17, at 8 p. m.

The contrast of two types of married life is the theme.

Fred (Frank Mullins) and Julia (Mrs. Norman Roberts) are living a life of gayety in a 1-room apartment plus kitchen and bath.

Barbara McCord (Miss Louise Nichols) a young woman troubled with advanced ideas, has influenced Julia in living her individual life, with her husband playing second fiddle. Julia holds a good position in order to have the luxuries she desires.

John (Oce Webb) is the dominating force in his suburban bungalow; while Mollie (Miss Thelma Guy) is a loving, obedient little wife, of the clinging vine variety.

"Dad" Carmichael (Jack Wade) comes to the city to visit his two sons and leaves his wife at home on the farm. He is highly entertained in the "One Room Plus," and also is amused by Barbara's modern ideas.

Come and see the play, and discover how "Dad" helps solve the troubles that arise in the two homes.

Come and spend an enjoyable evening!

MERRELL - HUCKABEE

MULBERRY - ISABELLA

There will be an oyster supper and "cake walk" at Isabella high school next Saturday night, December 18, from 7 to 10 o'clock—10 cents for each couple. Come on, everybody, and win a big cake for 10 cents, besides lots of fun to see the boys and girls walking to win a cake. Plenty of good hot fried oysters. This is to be put on by the P. T. A. and the school.

Misses Glois Manning and Jewell Wright have returned home from an extended visit to relatives in Birmingham.

Mrs. C. H. Oliver of Birmingham spent last week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning.

The P. T. A. meets next Friday at 2:30 at the school house.

Mr. Jim Atchison died last Sunday morning at his home, and was buried in Mulberry cemetery Monday. Rev. Grady Williams preached the funeral.

Miss Alpha Bentley spent last week end with her sister, Mrs. T. E. Barham, in Birmingham.

Miss Nora Wood visited her parents in Clanton last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lillie Burkes spent last Sunday in Birmingham.

Mrs. Earle Thomas' only brother, Mr. Denson Laney, of Montgomery, spent Sunday with her.

We have taken over all accounts due Baker and Taylor, and will ask all who owe them to see Mr. Baker and settle at once as we will turn all account over to a collecting agency Jan. 1st.—Baltimore Dry Goods Co.

WHAT OUR TARIFF IS DOING

Seldom has a better and tenser exposition of the workings of our present tariff been given than that contained in the recent general message of the President at the opening of Congress. The American people will greet with general approval the suggestion that there be no changes at this time in our protective tariff laws looking toward a general reduction of duties.

Just how any change could be made that would help the American people is difficult to see. We have now reached the high tide of our general prosperity. The agricultural situation is improving, and certainly could not be improved to any greater degree by lowering the tariff. In fact many wise farm leaders believe that what the farmer needs is not any general reduction in the tariff but an incrase in the rates on certain farm products.

Occasionally some theoretical free trader rises to talk about how the American people are being taxed and plundered by the protective tariff. Such assaults are not nearly so numerous as they were a few years ago, but they will happen now and then.

The statistics contained in the Prsident's remarks on the tariff are clear and convincing and show how wide these free trade utterances are of the mark. Some free traders have been fearful that our present tariff rates would destroy our world trade. Yet, as the President points out, it is estimated that our customs receipts for the fiscal year will exceed $615,000,000, the largest in the history of the country. Our imports for the last fiscal year amounted to $4,466,000,000, an increase of more than seventy per cent since the present tariff law went into effect. This pretty effectually disposes of the argument that our tarif is strangling foreign trade.

But this is only a part of the story. About sixty-five per cent of these imports, or nearly three billion dollars worth came in free of duty, and we are importing more goods duty free than any other country in the world excepting Great Britain. So much for the tariff barrier which the free traders say we have built against other nations.

We are, as the President points out, levying duties on about $1,550,000 worth of imports, but of these nearly, half, or $700,000,000 worth, are subject to duties for the protection of agriculture and originate in countries outside of Europe. It is to be seen therefore that nearly half of our imports, which are protected, are imports which come into competition with what our farmers raise at home. So much for the free trade statement that the tariff is not aiding the farmer.

And again, another $300,000,000 worth of imports are costly imported rugs and other luxuries, such as furs and diamonds. Certainly the tariff on these articles does not over burden the farmer and the laboring man. This leaves about $550,000,000 worth of goods which pays a duty coming in, only twelve per cent of our total imports. And as the President points out it is the duty on this twelve per cent of manufactured goods which marks the difference between our present prosperity and a possible depression which would follow free trade.

And with a recession of prosperity would come hard times which would not only close our own factories but injure the market of the European importers, concerning whom our free traders and other internationalists seem so anxious and solicitous.

CENTERVILLE GIRL CALLED BY DEATH

Centerville, Ala., Dec. 14.—Miss Margaret Oglesby, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Oglesby, prominent family of Centerville, died this afternoon at 2:30, after an illness of more than a year.

Miss Oglesby was one of Centerville's most popular young women and took an active part in church work. As a leader of the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian Church of which she was a member, she was very active, and an inspiration to her class.

Miss Oglesby was born in Montgomery, where she spent the early part of her life. Mrs. Oglesby, her mother, was before marriage Miss Betsy Fuller, who was also born and reared in Montgomery.

Besides her parents, Miss Oglesby is survived by one brother, Robert, Jr., and two sisters, Miss Lora Oglesby and Mrs. Jack Wade, the latter residing in Clanton.

BACHELOR'S PLEA BEFORE SUPREME COURT DEFERRED

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 14.—Clyde Reese Bachelor, sentenced to death for the murder of his father-in-law, Judge Lamar Smith of Wetumpka, will not make his fight for life in the supreme court of Alabama until next April.

Information came to the capitol Tuesday that the time for the filing of the bill of exceptions will not expire in time for the submission of the case during the call this year and that the case will not be ready until the call of the fifth division, April 11. Reports had been that the case would be ready for submission and argument in the supreme court during this month.

The record of the trial in the Elmore circuit court has been completed but the bill of exceptions has not been prepared or approved by the trial judge and will not be until some time next year.

Elmore county is in the fifth division and the second call of this division for the present term will be taken up April 11. On agreement of counsel for the defense and state the case could be submitted at the call of another division; however, it is not considered probable that such an agreement can be reached.

Bachelor was convicted after a sensational trial. Evidence showed that he forced a negro accomplice to fire the shot that took Judge Smith's life, that Bachelor was present at the time and that he planned the death of Judge Smith so that he could collect his wife's share of Judge Smith's property.

Bachelor is now confined in the Jefferson county jail at Birmingham. After his arrest he was held in the Montgomery county jail for safekeeping, but was moved to Birmingham shortly after a jury imposed the death penalty. Although no reason was given for the transfer it was understood that Bachelor had too many visitors in the Montgomery jail and the transfer was made as a measure of safety.

IS PROHIBITION A FAILURE ? IF SO, WHY ?

We chanced to find this week in the Age-Herald, a letter by a preacher up in Jackson County which we are glad to pass on to our readers. His name is Rev. C. A. Stearnes, of Stevenson, Ala. His statements are as follows:

To the Eidtor of The Age-Herald:

I have read with much interest the letters published in The Age-Herald in regard to the escapade of Governor Brandon and his colleagues, and have watched with much interest his administration and am not surprised at all. You remember that Governor Brandon made his first race as a state's rights man and was defeated by Kilby, a prohibitionist. He tested the strength of the prohibitionists, and found that he was on the wrong side so it did not take but four years for him to be converted, but you know that we Methodists believe in a possible apostacy and Governor Brandon is a son of a parsonage, consequently the fall came before the four years expired. They tell us prohibition is a failure. If it is, why are they fighting so hard against it? They tell us it has done more harm than good. The real honest to goodness pro doesn't say that. When I hear any one say such I know at once he is a whiskey sympathizer and just as long as we vote for such men it makes it harder on us and if Governor Brandon is aspiring for United States senate he will never get there via the whiskey route.

Prohibition is right because it is ordained of God and right is going to triumph. We know that Oscar Underwood has tried to go to the presidential chair by that route and failed and still he came to Alabama recently and says that Al Smith can be elected if nominated on the Democratic ticket and he, an outspoken enemy to prohibition. I believe that I speak the sentiments of every prohibitionist in Alabama that if Al Smith is the nominee of the Democratic party there will be the largest Republican vote cast that ever was if they put out a prohibitionist. We will certainly drop party lines in that case. We cannot have open saloons any more.

They tell us that there is more liquor made now than ever was before and statistics show that there is not as much as 20 per cent made and drunk as there was in the open saloon; and that it costs the government millions to maintain the law enforcement corps. That is nothing compared to the amount of misery and heart aches and blood-shed that it would cost people of the United States. With the automobiles there are today I doubt if the undertakers could care for all that possibly would be killed. In conclusion will say long live prohibition, let's all that believe in her keep her banners unfurled and I intend to die in her army.—Rev. C. A. Stearnes, Stevenson, Ala., Dec. 8, 1926.

Miss Madelyn Orr spent the week end with friends at Talladega.

AGAINST THE DEMONSTRATOR

Editor Union-Banner:

I notice in your issue of November 25 that the commissioners want to know if a majority of the people want a county farm demonstrator. I notice some articles in the paper since then—some in favor of, and some against it.

I have talked with some of my neighbors in regard to the matter, and their opinion seems to be against it. I do not think that very many people would be benefitted by a demonstrator. In the first place, a demonstrator would not do much more than make appointments for speakings. What per cent of the people do you think would hear him speak and then go home and put into practice what they hear? What per cent of the farmers of Chilton County are financially able to do scientific farming? Any farmer will agree with me that it takes considerable means to do scientific farming. How many of us would carelessly go ahead and do a piece of work when we did not expect any profit thereby? There are not many farmers who would not do better farming if they were financially able, and the remainder would scarcely be influenced by a demonstrator. Neither do I believe there is a farmer who wants information on any farm problems who could not write, or get his neighbor to write to the experiment station at Auburn for advice. Of course the county pays her part of the tax to run the experiment station, and any problem that we might have that has not already been tried out would gladly be tried and the result published.

I know one man who wants a demonstrator who went from one County to another to vote against a three-mill district school tax, where he did not have an inch of dirt in the district, and I dare say, in the county.

Now, the taxpayers are the ones who should really be interested, and I don't believe the commissioners will spend $1,650.00 of their money every year until they have good reason to believe the majority of them want it done. I don't know how they can determine the minds of the people without an election, or it might be that the teachers or the trustees of each school might be public spirited enough to hold an open ballot for a certain time and then report.

I think the farmers have ably demonstrated their ability as to production this year. I say if you want to spend any money, help us to find a better market and a place to buy cheaper goods, or gravel the mud holes and slick hills on our roads, or pay that much on our indebtedness.

There are many ways to spend money.

Yours for majority rule.—R. W. Kendrick.

FRAUDULENT ADVERTISERS ARRESTED IN ATLANTA

The arrest of D. W. Nichols and two accomplices in Atlanta, and his indictment for using the mails to defraud, and confinement in the Fulton County jail under $10,000 bond, is news of interest to the public thruout the South.

Nichols has done business under fifteen different names in a number of states, especially Alabama.

It has been found out by evidence submitted in the case that Nichols was the man behind the Fulghum Hatchery and Acme Farms, both of which ran advertisements in Alabama newspapers offering oranges and poultry at reduced prices. It is said that people who answered such advertisements and sent money to those firms have been defrauded of their money.

The Union-Banner carried such advertisements, and we learn that some people have answered the advertisements. We are sorry of such occurrence, and regret that any of our readers have been the victims of such crookedness. We urge everyone to disregard such advertisements in the future.

PEOPLES TELEPHONE CO. ELECT OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Peoples Telephone Company was held Monday of this week. The following officers were elected for the next year:

W. W. Fox, president; J. N. Dennis, vice-president; G. O. Foshee, secretary and treasurer; Board of Directors, J. M. Robinson, G. W. Willis, John E. Littlejohn, H. W. Devaughn, and W. M. Wyatt.

COTTON GOES UP

New York, Dec. 14.—The cotton market was quiet and steady again today, the price of January contracts fluctuating from 11.96 to 12.05 and closing at 12.00, compared with 11.96 at the close yesterday. The general market closed steady, at net advances of 4 to 10 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 9 to 11 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and a renewal of the buying or covering movement which has been in progress here for two or three days: December contracts sold up to 12.53 and May to 12.52, net advances of 9 to 13 points.

Sentiment appeared to be rather bullish impressed by the report of the census bureau showing domestic consumption of 583,950 bales for November, compared with 568,532 for October, and 543,488 for November last year.

ATTORNEY FALLS TO DEATH

Augusta, Ga., Dec. 14.—Joseph S. Watkins, prominent Augusta attorney, fell from an office window on the fourth floor of the Marion building here today and was killed almost instantly. He was in conference with several Augusta attorneys when the accident occurred. The other attorneys were leaving the office and Mr. Watkins, who was sitting in the window, was in the act of getting to the floor when he lost his balance and fell backwards.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid and son, Cameron, Jr., left Monday for Atlanta, Ga., on a business trip.

One Fourth of One Century---

Twenty-five years ago, December 7th, the good ship, "Peoples Savings Bank," started on what has proved, through wise counsel and generous support, a long and successful course.

Patrick Henry once said: "The only lamp by which our footsteps can be guided is the lamp of experience." Past achievements, past success, but point the way to fresh and greater accomplishments.

When an institution has proven to your satisfaction that it has accomplished certain things in the past, then it is certainly reasonable and logical for you to presume and expect that it is capable of repeating a similar performance.

STATE FOREST LANDS TO BE MARKED MORE CLOSELY

Special investigations are being conducted by the State Commission of Forestry with view to demarcating more closely the forest land areas of the state. A more exact defining of the regions that are likely to remain in forest growth as distinguished from other uses of land is regarded essential in order to make the limited funds available for forestry work go as far as possible. Frequent requests for the establishment of forestry districts are received by the Commission of Forestry, and in all cases these are given very close consideration.

The two guiding principles in the establishment of forestry districts are the forest character of the land to be included and the desire of the local residents to cooperate among themselves and with the state in protecting and developing the forest resources of the community. The territory within the districts thus far established is 81% forest land and the districts average nearly 300,000 acres each.

Obviously no single ranger through his own physical exertions can suppress all the fires that may originate over such an extensive area. However, he can assist materially in coordinating the efforts of the forest landowners, meanwhile doing all that one man can in the way of detecting and extinguishing fires in their incipiency. During times of high hazard, the bulk of the work in extinguishing fires must naturally be performed by the owners of the treatened property, and their friends and helpers. In most localities the realization of the harm done to the entire community through damage to its forest resources has resulted in large numbers of volunteer workers turning out to fight fire.

Mrs. Cox Hostess.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Bama Cox was hostess to the members of Circle No. 4 of the Baptist Missionary Society at her home on west Second Avenue. Vases and baskets of chrysanthemums adorned the room for this occasion. The following program was given:

Devotional — Luke 2; Psalm 96, Mrs. Grady Broadhead; prayer, Mrs. W. I. Mullins; "China's Spiritual Awakening," Mrs. Willie Bean; "China's Day of Trouble," Mrs. Hubert Jones; "China's Christian Army," Mrs. Matthews; Hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers"; "Talking With Jesus," Mrs. W. Z. Hodges; "The Average Member," Mrs. W. I. Mullins; "Personal Service Period," Mrs. M. A. Mullins; "Missionary Beatitudes," Mrs. Turner Dennis.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hubert Jones, served a delicious salad plate with iced tea to the following members: Mesdames W. I. Mullins, M. A. Mullins, Hubert Jones, Sewell, Gantt, Turner Dennis, Matthews, Willie Bean, W. Z. Hodges, Marion Marcus, Grady roadhead, and Bama Cox.

Sewing Club Entertained.

The Thursday Sewing Club was entertained by Mrs. Bama Cox last Thursday at a luncheon at her home on west Second Avenue. The home was artistically decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and holly. The centerpiece on the luncheon table was of yellow chrysanthemums. An attractive place card marked the place of each guest. Mrs. Cox, assisted by Mrs. Grady Taylor, served a delicious 4-course dinner. The afternoon was spent doing various fancy work. It was decided that the Club have a Christmas tree at the home of Mrs. John M. Van Derveer on Thursday, December 23. Names were drawn for the presentation of gifts.

Enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mesdames E. E. Upchurch, C. Fenn Jones, M. L. White, W. W. Fox, P. T. Hinkle, J. Watts Moore, J. P. Hayes, J. C. Jones, Hugh Simpson, J. Lee Smith, John M. Van Derveer, T. C. McSwain, and John Armstrong.

Bridge Club.

Mrs. Frank Callen was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others on last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fifth Street. Roses and chrysanthemums were attractively arranged about the home. Mrs. John Browder won high score prize, two hand embroidered guest towels. The hostess, assisted by Miss Kathleen Mullins, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee.

Those enjoying Mrs. Callen's hospitality were Mesdames J. Watts Moore, H. M. Simpson, N. S. Johnson, John Browder, Oscar Jones, O. Kyle of Decatur, J. Hugh Jones, T. C. McSwain, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Young Matron's Club.

Mrs. Loren Smith delightfully entertained the members of the Young Matron's Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home on Eighth Street. Flowers of the season and potted plants were used to decorate the home. Following a number of bridge games Mrs. Briggs Crumpton held top score and was awarded a pretty vanity set. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Joe Higgins, served delicious refreshments.

Included in this hospitality were Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Latham Ellis, Briggs Crumpton, Joe Higgins, John M. Van Derveer, Kin Vinson. Julius Burnett, Norman Roberts, Luther Foshee, Milton Smith, and Miss Madelyn Orr.

Mrs. Hayes Hostess.

The members of Circle No. 3 of the Baptist Missionary Society were entertained by Mrs. J. P. Hayes Monday afternoon at her home on Seventh Street. The chairman, Mrs. J. B. Mauney, was in charge of the meeting. A splendid missionary program was rendered. Mrs. S. J. Ezell made a most interesting talk on "Star Light in Lands of Night."

Those present were Mesdames J. B. Mauney, Tom Parrish, Arthur Willis, Grady Taylor, S. J. Ezell, J. P. Hayes, and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Mrs. Caldwell Roper and children of Birmingham spent a few days here last week with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith and Mrs. Turner Dennis.

A LITERARY TREAT

The Manuscript Found in the Family of Hon. Jacob Held, Deceased.

A gentleman in the city is in receipt of a letter which recalls a religious sensation way back in the Forties. It reads as follows:

Elon, Ind., April 20, '63.

Dear Sir—About the year 1854 there was an old man by the name of Jack Shingler, who lived in Henderson at the upper end of town where the coal mines were at that time. I think he kept the post house and fished and sold fish for a living. He was a well read man and had quite a number of books. He used to let me have copies of them to read. One day I found in one of his books a letter that claimed to have been written by Jesus Christ. This copy was written with pen and ink. I showed it to the old man. He was 80 years old at the time. Whether or not he ever told me how he came by that letter I do not recollect, but anyway I persuaded him to have a lot of them printed, which he did and sold quite a number of copies at 10 cents each. I think there must be some of the letters in Henderson yet, and why I write you is to procure a copy. It is quite likely that some citizens recollect me. I bored an artesian well for John G. Holloway, also for the coal company, and bored the salt wells for David R. Burbank. Hoping you will assist me in getting a copy of the letter, I remain, yours truly,

JOHN W. BYERS.

Elon, Orange Co., Ind.

The gentleman written to could find no printed copy of the letter referred to, but curiously enough found a letter in manuscript that was in possession of the family of ex-Mayor Jacob Held, deceased. It was copied by Mr. Held himself in the year 1843. While we do not entertain a belief in the purported authenticity of the letter, we republish it as a curiosity on account of its age as much as for any other reason. The title page and letter is as follows:

COPY OF A LETTER

Written by Our Blessed Saviour, JESUS CHRIST.

Found eighteen miles from Iconium, 65 years after our Blessed Saviour's Crucifixion; transmitted from the Holy City, by a converted Jew; faithfully translated from the original Hebrew Copy, now in the Lady Cuba's Family of Mesopotamia. This Letter was written by Jesus Christ, and found under a great Stone, both Round and Large, at the Foot of the Cross, near a village called Mesopotamia; upon that Stone was written and engraven, "Blessed is he that shall turn me over." All people that saw it prayed to God earnestly, and desired He would make known to them the meaning of this writing, that they might not attempt in vain to turn it over. In the meantime there came a Child, about 6 or 7 years old, and turned it over without help, to the admiration of all the people that stood by; and under this stone was found a Letter, written by Jesus Christ, which was carried to the City of Iconium, and published by a person belong to the Lady Cuba. On the Letter was written, the Commandment of Jesus Christ, signed by the Angel Gabriel, 93 years after our Saviour's birth and which is added, King Agbarass' Letter to our Saviour, and our Saviour's answer, also His Miracles.

Copy of the Letter

Whosoever worketh on the Sabbath Day shall be cursed; I command you to go to Church and keep the Lord's Day holy, without doing any manner of work. You shall not idly mispend your time in bedecking yourselves with superfluities of costly apparel and vain dresses, for I have ordained it a day of rest. I will have that day kept holy, that your sins may be forgiven you. You shall not break my Commandments, but observe and keep them, written with my own hand, write them in your hearts and steadfastly observe this was written with my own hand, spoken by my own mouth.

You shall not only go to church yourselves, but also your man-servants and maid-servants, and observe my words, and learn my Commandments. You shall finish your labor every Saturday in the afternoon by six o'clock, at which hour the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to Fast Five Fridays in every year, beginning with Good Friday, and to continue Four Fridays immediately following, in remembrance of the Five Bloody Wounds I received for all mankind. You shall diligently and peaceably labor in your respective vocations, wherein it has pleased God to call you. You shall love one another with brotherly love, and cause them that are not baptised to come to church and hear the holy sacrament, viz: Baptism and the Lord's Supper, and be made members thereof; in so doing I will give you long life and many blessings, and your land shall replenish and bring forth abundance. I will give you my blessings, and comfort you in the greatest temptations; and surely he that doeth the contrary shall be cursed unprofitable. I will also send hardness of heart upon them, till I have destroyed them, but especially upon hardened and impenitent unbelievers. He that hath given to the poor shall not be unprofitable. Remember to keep holy the Sabbath Day, for the seventh day I have taken to rest myself.

He that hath a Copy of this Letter written with my own hand, and spoken with my own mouth, and keeps it without publishing it to others, shall not prosper, but he that publishes it to others shall be blessed of me, and though his sins be in number as the stars in the sky, and he believe in this, he shall be pardoned, and if he believe not this writing, and my commandments, I will send my plagues upon him, and consume both him and his children and his cattle; and whosoever shall have a Copy of this Letter and keep it in their Houses, nothing shall hurt them, neither Pestilence, Lightning or Thunder shall do them any hurt.

If a woman be with and in Labor, and a Copy of this Letter be about her, and she firmly puts her trust in me, she shall safely be delivered of her birth. You shall have no news of me, but by the holy spirit, until the Day of Judgment.

All Goodness and Prosperity shall be in the house where a Copy of this Letter shall be found.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 29, 1843.

Go North For The Holidays

Get a breath of cold air in your lungs and see a "white Christmas". The big cities reached by the L. & N. are thronged with gay, holiday crowds. Scores of things to interest you both in and out of doors. Musical and theatre seasons are at their height.

During the year just drawing to a close, the railroads of America have performed the greatest transportation task in the world's history—handling greater volume, with more efficiency, than ever before.

"CAL" LAUDS ADVERTISING

President Calvin Coolidge, speaking at the annual banquet of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, in Washington, said it would not be remiss to describe advertising as the foundation for much of the success of the American industrial system. Among other points made by the President, are the following:

"Advertising is the most potent influence in adopting and changing the habits and modes of life.

Under its stimulation the country has gone from old hands and costly methods of production to mass production with the astonishing result of low cost and high wages."

"Advertising's part in industry and trade is that of education."

"Advertising ministers to the true development of trade."

"There can be no permanent basis for advertising except a representation of exact truth."

OUR PROSPERITY

Every American will take pride and satisfaction in the information which is gathered together in the annual report of Secretary Hoover of the Department of Commerce. The report states, among other things, that the American standard of living is now the highest in history, and that the prosperity of the people of the United States as a whole, has never been surpassed by any nation. There is almost no unemployment in the United States, the report continues, and the volume of production and consumption exceeds the figures of the period during the World War. There has been a general improvement in agriculture during the year and although there are still some unsatisfactory spots in this industry, the general trend is upward. Conditions in Europe are also gradually improving, the report sets out.

The condition of the country at this time is the best proof of the effectiveness and soundness of the constructive national policies which have been in effect during what is generally called our reconstruction period. The policies have included a protective tariff, a program of economy and sensible tax reduction, and an international policy which has kept the United States free from foreign complications, enabling us to center our attention and activities on the development of American progress and prosperity.

In spite of those "international Americans," and fortunately they are few in number, who decry what they call our nationalistic spirit and seem to find something better in European ideals and civilization, the American nation has come into a general realization that these policies are right. It is good indeed to be an American in this second quarter of the 20th century, at a time when American civilization and material prosperity have reached a level which surpasses anything before known in the history of the world.

And in spite of the dire predictions of the pessimists who said that our American policies would send us to the dogs, there is no reason to believe that the American standard of living will not continue to go higher and higher as time rolls on. Our progress will continue because of our constructive policies and our own efforts, and not because we are exploiting "unfortunate Europe." Europe is on the upgrade too, and it will continue to improve if the nations of that great continent will pay less attention to mutual recrimination and distrust and adopt part of the American idea for their own.

THE LACK OF WHISKERS

An official of a prominent farm organization, who recently made a tour of the agricultural regions of the United States, is said to have expressed surprise after returning from a visit to 25 states, that he found almost no farmers with long flowing whiskers. This should have been no great surprise to a man who keeps in touch with the farmers of America, but a great many of our people who live in the big cities might find out even more surprising things about our rural communities than this newly discovered whiskerless era.

Farmers no longer wear whiskers for the same reason that city men no longer wear them — because whiskers are no longer the fashion. There may have been a time, in our pioneer days, when the farmer looked different from the fellow who lived in town. And he may have been a little more innocent in some ways. But that day has gone forever.

Nowadays when the farmer goes to the city he dresses and acts like the fellow who lives in the city. There are now more "greenhorns" living in New York City, than in the rural portion of the state. The farmer is rapidly becoming a suburbanite. Good roads, the automobile, the telephone, radio, rural electric power, and so on, are extending the suburbs to all parts of the country. The farmer now knows better what is going on in the city than the city man does. In spite of his long hours of toil he has more time to read and think than the average city man who is constantly struggling for a living.

Nowadays, when the city slicker wants to sell the Brooklyn Bridge or the Field Museum to some sucker, he doesn't pick on a farmer. He tries out his stuff on some city "greenhorn" who has never been more than 8 or 10 blocks from home.

WHY AGAINST FREE TRADE ?

Secretary Mellon produces figures showing the American tariff has not reduced the import of goods and raw materials. American dollars, earned by American labor, are buying most of the world's silk, nitrates, coffee, shellac, and rubber. Labor made prosperous by American tariff schedules is using foreign products in vast quantities.

Reduced tariffs would mean a temporary flow of more foreign goods into America, resulting in lessened employment and reduced buying by Americans at home, and abroad America would be harmed and Europe would not be helped. With America now the world's greatest customer, any reduction of that buying power would harm the trade not only of Europe, but of the world.

Europe has various standards of living. These are below the living standards in America. To a very great extent the standard of living on this side of the Atlantic is protected and maintained by American tariffs; and as Mr. Mellon notes:

"Unless we are willing to bring our standard in America down to the level of that of Europe, we cannot consider a change in our tariff, however desirable such a change may seem in Europe."

There is, of course, no good or compelling reason why this nation should lower its own standards to those of the Old World, or why it should hand over to Europe the advantages it now has, by removing the tariff, permit more manufacturing to be done in Europe, where the labor costs are less. Nor is it likely that these advantages will be lightly surrendered. As the Mellon statement says:

"It is inconceivable that American labor will ever consent to the abolition of protection, which would bring the American standard of living down to the level of that of Europe, or that the American farmer could survive if the enormous consuming power of the people in this country was curtailed and his market at home destroyed."

It is, indeed, "inconceivable." By reason of its tariff-guarded prosperity this country has no unemployment problem. Its "real wages" are the highest paid anywhere in the world. America has not seen a soup house since 1914. It has no desire to ever see another. For that reason its face is set against the doctrines and policies of free trade.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

MR. HULL ON TARIFF

One of the most ardent disciples of free trade in the House of Representatives is the Hon. Cordell Hull of Tennessee. In a recent outburst of wrath against this "iniquitous system," Mr. Hull declared that the "excesses, the injustices and the anomalies of the present Fordney tariff are without parallel today except in the case of Russia." He charged that the tariff was devised for the benefit of 15% of our population, and that the other 85% pay the freight. He blamed all agricultural troubles on to the tariff and declared that the best way to get rid of the present treasury surplus would be to lower the tariffs.

Mr. Hull is right in the last statement. Abolishing the protective tariff would get rid of the treasury surplus without doubt. Most of our experiences with free trade have brought us empty treasuries and even bond issues to pay the current expenses of the government. We could without doubt cut down our revenue from imports and tht same time cut down our revenue from income taxes. For the flood of importations following such action would trim a lot of incomes, big and little, and so, of course, decrease the income tax revenue. For the less prosperity, the less incomes and the less taxes.

But Mr. Hull forgot to tell us what would go along with this sort of tax reduction. With cheap foreign goods would come local depression, a big army of unemployed and bread and soup lines. This is not theory, it is a statement based on past experiences. If the free traders want this kind of tax reduction they are welcome to say so, but they are speaking only for themselves and not for the great body of Americans, capitalists and wage earners alike.

It was a little unfortunate for Mr. Hull's statement that it was followed so closely by the report of the Department of Commerce, showing that we are now the most prosperous nation in the world with the highest standard of living the world has ever known. We not only have a surplus in the treasury, but we have a job for every man. Our working men have comfortable homes, equipped with radios and other modern accessories, and many of them can ride to work in their own automobiles.

We are innocent enough to wonder how this could all be true if the protective tariff is as iniquitous a thing as Mr. Hull seems to think. Why is it that the only country in the world which is really prosperous, which has a real standard of living, happens to be the one with this same terrible Fordney tariff?

COTTON STORAGE AT SEAPORT

Cotton storage facilities recently completed by the Alabama State Docks Commission are intended for the use of individual farmers and merchants, as well as cotton buyers and exporters. This brings the practical use of Alabama's port terminal system home to the producers of the exterior.

Assurances are given that one bale of cotton consigned to Alabama State Docks Bonded Warehouse, at Mobile, will receive the same care and attention as would a 1,000-bale shipment. An individual warehouse receipt is issued for each bale and it shows the weight, grade, and, when desired, the length of the staple.

The warehouse takes care of compressed or uncompressed cotton received by rail or river, and is equipped to compress cotton to standard or high density. Compressed cotton is stored at a monthly charge of 10 cents per bale, and uncompressed at 15 cents.

Because of the fireproof character of the building, made entirely of steel and concrete; the sprinkler system and other facilities for fire prevention, cotton stored there carries the lowest possible insurance rate, which is effected by the owner of the cotton.

The warehouse has a capacity of 25,000 bales, and the storage facilities at the State Docks will be many times multiplied with the completion of other units of the system now under construction. It is the purpose of the Commission to make the docks, for which the people voted the credit of the State to the amount of $10,000,000 a valuable asset to the farmer and merchant in emergencies such as the low price of cotton has brought about.

Ira Marshall of Hardin County, O., has made an average of 168.86 bushels of corn to the acre on 10 acres this year, according to announcement from the Ohio State College at Columbus. In 1925, Mr. Marshall made an average of 160 bushels an acre, which was said to be a new world record in corn production on a 10-acre field.

The New York Times of November 26 comments editorially on the closing of a cotton mill at Ware, Mass., and adds: "This is not the first instance of mills closing down in order to move to the South near the source of raw material and where labor can be had cheaper. The trend has been evidenced for a number of years, and has alarmed thoughtful economists of New England."

You may drive in with a Grouch ---We'll send you out With a Smile---

It's not the way a man feels when he drives into a garage, it's the way he feels when he drives out that counts.

If your car isn't working right; if it snorts and spits and sputters and fires back thru the muffler; if it shakes and rattles and vibrates until your teeth chatter, you have a right to feel grouchy. But the trouble is not serious—it is caused by faulty, warped, leaky valves. They give you an uneven compression. That throws the motor out of balance and causes most of the auto's ailments. Ever think of that? Fact!

Properly centered, faced and properly seated valves will do more to put pep and performance in a car than any other one thing you can do for it. Have your valves properly serviced—we can do it—and she'll purr like a tabby cat before a grate fire. We have installed the most scientific, the most complete and more modern method of servicing motor valves that has ever been devised. It is the KWIK-WAY SYSTEM and it sure does the business. Steer your auto this way and give us a trial. We'll send you out with a smile. Do that TODAY.

FIREFLY PRODUCES LIGHT

The age-old controversy as to whether the firefly simply glows or produces actual light has been officially settled by the United States Bureau of Standards, which has been studying the distribution of energy in the light produced by various animals and vegetable materials. The Bureau said that the firefly is 10 times as efficient a producer of light as a modern electrical plant, and that if an electric lamp could be constructed that would be as efficient as the bug that the cost of current for illuminating the home would drop to about one-tenth of the present cost.

Perhaps the National Electric Light Association may resort to its usual disputant methods to prove through its publicity artists that their lamps are more powerful than the firefly. Or it may be that some rare public utility genius may devise methods for the propagation of fireflies in sufficient quantities to light the cities.

You can't tell what will happen, as nothing has been impossible since the coming of the radio.

Mr. and Mrs. Span Jones of Mulberry were shopping in town Tuesday.

OVER THE MILLION MARK IN HIGHWAY BUILDING

Chilton and Shelby Counties are the only counties in Alabama to receive over a million dollars from the State and Federal Funds for permanent highway construction.

During the past six years Chilton received highway construction to the amount of $1,084,697.06. Shelby went a little more, receiving $1,100,398.35 worth of roads.

These expenditures cover construction of parts of Birmingham - Montgomery paved highway through the two counties.

FARM RELIEF BRINGS WORRY

Southern Democrats Face Fire For Stand on Measure.

Washington, December 9.—For solid south members, the opening of Congress was anything but a gala occasion.

Grief, in shape of a revised McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, hangs over their heads from the start.

Justly or not, the Dixie Democrats are given credit, or blame, for defeating this bill during the last session. Since the bill, if passed, would theoretically have helped lighten the present cotton catastrophe, they find themselves in a peculiarly trying position.

And this position isn't made easier by the fact that Senator Charles McNary of Oregon intends to reintroduce his bill the first opportunity he gets.

The bill, as offered at the last session, provided, among other things, a $75,000,000 revolving fund for cotton. This fund, according to the bill's opponents, would have purchased 3,000,000 bales of southern cotton and would have lifted today's cotton price from 11½ cents to about 18 cents a pound.

W. R. K. STANFORD WRITES ABOUT THE DEMONSTRATOR

Which is best for the agricultural interests of our county—to have a county farm demonstrator, or not?

First, I wish to say that if the people do decide to have one, one of the best farm demonstrators in the state is Mr. W. H. Conway of Jemison. I know whereof I speak.

For myself, I can't see where the farmers can benefit by paying out $1,650 for a demonstrator to go about telling them how, when and what to plant. I have studied this problem for many years; what we need is co-operation — get-together meetings. Let every farmer be a demonstrator; have meetings in every school district as often as possible—once a month or more often; let each farmer tell his experience in farming; have at each meeting a stenographer to take down every word spoken by each person; have these records printed in our county papers, so that all who could not attend the meeting can read what was said and done. We farmers can learn much by having these get-together meetings and discuss our business plans. There is not a farmer in our county or any other county that I can't learn something from by listening to him talk. I can learn a hundred times as much from 100 farmers as I can from one.

It would, no doubt, cost something to have these meetings—pay for a stenographer, and to have the proceedings published. I, for one, am willing to put up 50 cents a month or more if needed, but I am quite sure that we could get our Commissioners to agree to pay for this. I don't think the expenses would be over $150 a year. I would prefer paying this out of my pocket and run our — the farmers' — own business. Co operation is the farmer's salvation.

Yours for co-operation,—Wm. R. K. Stanford, R 2, Lawley, Ala.

What Is a Diuretic?

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

MRS. RITTIE ROBINSON

A good Christian woman has gone to her reward, and a devoted model wife and mother has been called home by Him who giveth and who taketh away.

Mrs. Julia Ann Rittie Robinson, age 65, wife of William Henry Robinson, died at the family home near Providence, in Beat 16, on Saturday, December 4th. The good woman had been sick and expected to die for several weeks and had been in ill health for months. Funeral services were held at Providence Sunday, the 5th, Rev. J. D. Hughes conducting the funeral. Rev. Hughes was assisted by Rev. M. J. Parrish. Both these men, especially the latter, had known Mrs. Robinson for a number of years, and expressed their satisfaction of her complete devotion as a Christian, a good wife, and noble mother.

Mrs. Robinson was the daughter of Mike and Marthena Powell, being born August 21, 1861. The living brothers are Jack Powell of Providence, and Lawrence Powell now residing in Florida. Sisters are Mrs. Georgie Ann McKee of Birmingham, Mrs. Virginia Maitland of Humbolt, Tenn., and Mrs. Janie Wilson of Clanton. She was married to W. H. Robinson on May 15, 1881. To them were born ten children. Two died in infancy, and the oldest to reach maturity was O. Zeddie Robinson, who died from injuries sustained while Lock 12 was being constructed about 14 years ago. The living children are: O. Rennie Rennie Robinson, Mrs. Cora Thomas, Mrs. Dora Mims, Mrs. Etta Patterson, Mrs. Lillian Alford, Mrs. Naoma Culver, and Miss Alee Robinson.

The deceased was a Missionary Baptist by faith and had belonged to Providence church for 47 years. She was at all times very loyal to her church and a faithful believer in the principles of the Christian religion.

Mr. Robinson and the children express the deepest gratefulness to their friends and neighbors for the help extended them during the extended illness, and the unstinted sympathy extended them in their great bereavement.

LOOK! FUN! LOOK- WHERE?

Concord school house, 3 miles east of Clanton, a play, "My Awful Dad," will be given Friday night, December 17, at 7:30 P. M. Admission, 15c and 25c. Special music by Northrupt Orchestra, from Maplesville. Don't miss the music.—Leo C. Langston, Principal.

Messrs. Clay Marcus, Luther Foshee, and Julius Burnett made a business trip to Atlanta this week.

The Home of Jesse French & Sons

MAMMOTH PIANO FACTORIES LOCATED AT NEWCASTLE, IND.

In order that local music lovers may know more of the products from the "House of Jesse French" we are presenting to you this week a picture of the wonderful piano plant of this world renowned concern. This factory is "L" shaped, and covers over 10 acres of land, with large lumber yards, supplied over three private switches; located at Newcastle, Ind., in the very center of population and manufacturing activities of the United States, with coal mined only a few miles away, lumber obtained from nearby mills, living costs low for employees, all these serve to make for an organization able to produce the "world's best" at the lowest cost.

Jesse French pianos and players are shipped from here to every corner of the world, as they are manufactured under conditions which enable them to meet competition in every sense as to quality and price.

Montgomery is the headquarters for this great institution in the Southern section, and Clanton is served from both the factory and Montgomery headquarters.

G. W. Moore has charge of the Clanton store, and is ably assisted by Mrs. C. G. Mims. Every lover of good music in Chilton County is invited to visit the Jesse French & Sons Piano Co.'s store in Clanton.

The Jesse French instruments, which include the new "Orthophonic Victrolas" and "Columbia Viva-Tone" phonographs, are located in the storeroom with "Barney's Place" on the Birmingham highway, Seventh Street.

All the latest Victor and Columbia records, as well as small musical instruments, can be had at all times now, so Mr. Moore states.

WEST CHILTON

How rapidly time flies! Here we are at the close of another year. While everything is not entirely satisfactory, yet all things considered, we have cause to congratulate ourselves. We have reaped an abundant harvest; public roads are being looked after, schools are going, and we have painstaking county officials, and one of the best, if not the best county papers (The Union-Banner) to bring the local news, with the tireless rural mail carrier to deliver it.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandford Smitherman of New Orleans were here last week to attend their brother's burial at Pleasant Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Redding made a business trip to Clanton Saturday.

T. J. Hubbard was out visiting Saturday afternoon.

Monroe Crumpton and wife have located on the Pratt Crumpton farm for next year.

Hon. W. E. Thomas of Sylacauga, one of Chilton County's former representatives in the Legislature, was here last week to attend Mr. Smitherman's burial. His many friends were glad to see him.

Married at Macedonia on the 5th inst., Mr. Justus Waldrop and Miss Jessie Gibson. We etend congratulations.

D. . Warren has located on the old Martin place, at the crossing of the Shelby Springs and Montevallo roads.

We are expecting fine things from our new board of education; hoping to see the rural schools greatly advanced, and other schools adequately cared for.

We wish the Banner force and all the Banner readers the happiest Christmas and brightest New Year ever.

Died at Sylacauga last week, Mr. Decatur Smitherman. He was born and raised in West Chilton, near Pleasant Grove. He was married in early life to Miss Anna Gibson, who preceded him to the grave several years ago. Mr. Smitherman was a man of great kindness— a noble, big-hearted citizen. He leaves a large family of children and many friends and relatives to mourn his departure. He now rests in peace, waiting the call of the resurrection. Though dead, his memory lives, and he will live again. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Honeycutt, and attended by a large gathering of friends. His remains were laid to rest Friday in Pleasant Grove cemetery, Martin, of Clanton, in charge. The floral offerings were very beautiful.

ANCIENT WEAPONS USED IN DEER HUNT

New proof of the efficacy of an ancient weapon was demonstrated recently when Melvin R. Clover and John McCollum of Ventura, Calif., returned from the Kaibab forest in northern Arizona, with their Chevrolet decorated with the horns of two 200-pound bucks, which they had killed with bow and arrow in the ancient fashion which Robin Hood and his merry men practiced in Sherwood Forest long ago. They brought with them a written statement from the forest ranger, verifying the fact that the deer were killed with bow and arrow.

"Our hunt began at the ranger station at Cane," said Clover in describing their expedition. "The ranger there offered to eat all the deer meat we brought in when he gave us our licenses to shoot and the remainder of the hunters who were in there with high powered rifles also kidded us quite a bit.

"We did not get our deer right away. The main thing we had to learn was that we couldn't hunt with boots on the way the other hunters went out, for we could not get close enough to the game without alarming them. When we finally resorted to tennis shoes instead of boots and moved as quietly as possible, we were each successful in getting a buck. Both were killed on the run at about 75 yards."

The bows which Clover and McCollum used were made for them by Mart Johnson of Ventura, an expert in this almost forgotten art. They are beautifully fashioned of California yew. The arrows are of ash, topped with turkey feathers and pointed with a wicked steel barb. If you have a lingering idea that a bow and arrow is a harmless sort of plaything dismiss it when you see what Clover can do with his 6-foot weapon. He drove an arrow clear through one of the bucks to finish it after the first shot had wounded it.

Shop early for Christmas. Our holiday line is now ready for your inspection.--Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton.

REFUGE

Mr. Jodie Connell and Miss Senia Baker were happily united in marriage at the home of the former last Saturday, December 11. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baker of near White City. The groom is the son of Mr. R. N. Connell of Refuge community. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. Lockhart. The writer wishes for the young couple a happy and prosperous life together.

Sometimes I think of marriage as more serious than death, and that it is not at times considered at its full value. If it were, there would not be nearly as many divorces; records show that there is one divorce for every 5 marriages; this ought to make the young people of our land and country think about just what marriage really is—give it more serious thought than they sometimes do.

Just a few words in regard to our singing society. We are expecting to have a singing at this place next Sunday afternoon, December 19, and we hope for a large crowd to be present. We have promise that some of the best talent in the county will be present, so everybody come, bring your 1927 books and be prepared for one of the best singings you have ever attended.

Also, there will be preaching at this place next Saturday and Sunday. You have a cordial welcome to attend these services, and will be welcomed gladly. And, don't forget Sunday afternoon; come and bring someone with you.—T. N. Minor.

Everybody Invited

In our report of the Anna Lou Arthur case published in last week's issue of The Union-Banner, an error occurred which unintentionally did an injustice to Dr. Wood, who, in fact, by consent of all concerned, performed the operation himself, assisted by Dr. Wallace, of Birmingham. Miss Anna Lou Arthur returned to Thorsby from Central Alabama Hospital on Tuesday of this week.

All who hold tickets on the chest of linen to be given away by Thorsby Eastern Star remember to be on hand at D. L. Ward's store on December 22, at 3 p. m., when the drawing will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones and daughter, Agnes, and sons, Sam and Chester of Clanton, Miss Lillie Mae Jones and Mr. Lancaster of Birmingham, and Mrs. Webb Sharpe and son, William, of Thorsby, were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard.

Mesdames R. R. Franklin, J. E. Each, S. C. Wood, and Miss Mattie Mims spent Thursday Christmas shopping in Birmingham.

Mrs. S. C. Wood entertained at a spend-the-day sewing party on Monday, December 13. At noon lunch was served to 9 ladies, cafeteria style.

The Y. W. A. of the Baptist church were entertained by the public school teachers Tuesday afternoon at the school building. Games and refreshments were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Massey and Mrs. Elsie Kelley of Liberty Hill were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard last Monday nght.

Mrs. Grover Bice has been on the sick list more than a week, most of the time confined to her bed.

Mrs. Bice's mother, Mrs. Walker, has taken their little girl to her home to care for, and Mrs. Bice's sister, Miss Pauline Walker, is substituting for her as assistant to Mr. Bice in the Thorsby post office.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard entertained at a chicken dinner on Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Lucas, son Ronald, and a sister of Mrs. Lucas' from Michigan.

Owing to the fact that the Baptist Ladies bazaar was held on Saturday of last week the box social and supper at the public school that evening was not as well patrontized as it should have been. Thorsby is hardly big enough to have two money raising affairs pulled off the same day without one or both of them being somewhat disappointed.

Pupils are constantly being enrolled at the public school until now there are upwards of 225 crowded into a space intended for not more than 150. Surely some plan must be devised and adopted to relieve such congestion.

On last Friday afternoon Collins Chapel school's basket ball team played Thorsby public school, Collins Chapel winning 23 to 15.

A program for a public school entertainment is in preparation and is expected to be given Thursday, December 23. Particulars next week.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday afternoon, December 16, at the home of Mrs. Carl Grenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson of Oxmoor, with their little daughter, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Peterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Petersen, in Thorsby.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Queen, of Thorsby, on Sunday, December 12, a daughter; weight, 11 1-2 pounds; name, Mamie Lucile.

The Lutheran Sunday school will hold its Christmas exercises Monday night, December 27.

Mr. Ivey Horn and son, Richard, and Mrs. Magne Anderson, of Boyles, motored to Thorsby on Sunday and spent a few hours.

The Helen Kellar Literary Society will give their Christmas program at the auditorium of Helen Jenkins Hall at 7:30 p. m., Saturday, December 18. This entertainement will be open to the public. Admission, 10 cents.

Misses Barbara Hastings and Lois Hawkes of Thorsby Institute faculty attend the opera, "The Barber of Seville," at Birmingham last Monday night.

Thorsby Institute will close for the Christmas holidays at 3:05 p. m., on Wednesday, December 22, and will re-open at 8:30 a. m., Tuesday, Januady 4.

Mrs. H. M. Gerald, who has been confined to her bed for the past week is so much improve as to be able to be up and about the house part of the time.

Mrs. A. M. Piper is quite ill at her home in Thorsby.

Mr. L. O. Whitley of Birmingham was a week end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson in Thorsby.

Mrs. T. W. Robinson made a business trip to Montgomery Saturday.

Mr. J. S. Bentley, a young man preparing for the ministry, will preach at Thorsby Congregational Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Bentley, who has been a student at Thorsby Institute for some time, has received preaching appointments in the vicinity of Selma, and will in the near future move there with his wife, and continue his studies at some Selma school.

Sunday night, December 19 at 7:15 Rev. Joseph E. Each will begin a series of three stereoptican illustrated lectures on the various religions of the world. The first one will be about Hinduism. There will be a collection to defray expenses.

Rev. J. E. Each has been confined to his home for several days with a severe cold. He is improving and hopes soon to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Spivey are occupying as a home the building on the highway erected about a year ago for use as a cafe.

Miss Pearl Carlson, of Rockford, Ill., arrived in Thorsby last Wednesday for a visit with her father, Mr. John Carlson.

Mrs. C. W. Carlson returned from Chicago last Wednesday, where she went about 10 days ago to attend the funeral of her brother.

The Christmas entertainment of the Congregational Sunday School will be held Friday night, December 24. An interesting program is being prepared.

Thorsby Baptist Church has taken new life since our pastor, Rev. Roberts, has cast his lot with us. Thorsby received him with glad hearts and a big pounding. With gospel sermons to full houses, the election of two young men to deaconship, new members added at each service, a full graded Sunday School, W. M. S., B. Y. P. U., and a live prayer meeting all workng in unison with the pastor, we hope to accomplish much in the Master's Kingdom here. Brother Roberts is a preacher of the old time Gospel, even so plain that a way-faring man, though a fool, may not err therein.—M. Woods.

An Attack on the Affiliated Talent

Two professional confidence-men made the acquaintance of a wealthy sportsman. He admired their sprightliness while privately deploring their vocation.

When the acquaintance had ripened into friendship he invited them to shoot in his private preserve. Before daylight they were paddled out in a skiff and put in a blind which, the night before, had been stocked with wooden decoys. There the guide left them, for the time being.

As the dawn began to break, one of the pair suddenly was aware of the wooden birds bobbing about in front of him. The light was poor and he was green at the duck-shooting game. He arose and fired both barrels of his gun into the flock.

His partner straightened up, took one look, and cried out in distress:

"My G—d! You're shootin' the boosters!"

With All Good Wishes

The colonel of one of our negro regiments serving in France during the World war impressed it upon the rank and file of his command that in the field a soldier addressing his superior officer invariably should have regard for correct military procedure and, as nearly as might be, for correct military language. The lesson must have gone home, because now among the treasured possessions of that colonel is a certain document sent by runner from a forward trench to company headquarters back of the second line of defense.

On a scrap of paper, with a stub of pencil, the author of the communication, a much-harried black corporal then undergoing his baptism of shelling, wrote as follows:

"To Lieutenant Seth B. McClintock.

"Commanding Company F.—Blank Regiment.

"Blank Division, A. E. F., U. S. A.

"Dear Sir—I am being fired on heavily from the left. I await your instructions.

"Trusting these few lines will find you the same, I remain.

"Yours truly,

"James Jordon."

SMITH WILL BE HERE IN INTEREST OF AUTOMOBILE PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

Mr. R. A. Smith, manager of the Montgomery office of the Automobile Protective Association, will be in Clanton this week end for the purpose of opening a local office of the association. He wants to secure four or five high class experienced salesmen or sales ladies, also a local office manager.

Anyone interested in connecting up with this proposition may leave their names and addresses with The Union-Banner, and we will deliver same to Mr. Smith when he comes here at the end of this week.

Sauce for the Goose

An East Sider of foreign birth and short term of residence in this country prospered to the extent where he graduated from the ranks of the Forsythe street sidewalk merchants and became a regular business man, with a store and showcases and everything. Also, for the first time in his life he was able to start a bank account.

One day he was engaged on the telephone by the assistant cashier of the bank where he kept his checking fund.

"Mr. Abrams" stated the cashier, "I called you up to tell you that on the first day of this month your account appears overdrawn $108."

"So?" droned Mr. Abrams. "Say, young man, would you do it for me a favor?"

"Sure."

"Then, please, you should look at your books and tell me how stood the account on the foist day of last month."

In a minute or two the bank functionary was back at the 'phone.

"Oh, Mr. Abrams," he said, "on the first day of last month you had a balance to your credit of $322.25."

"So!" shouted Mr. Abrams. "Und did I call you up?"

AUCTION SALE

Saturday, December 18th.

I am getting ready to move my stock of goods to my new location across the street. And to begin with I am going to sell a great many of the odd things I have on hand rather than move them.

Therefore I am going to put on an auction sale at my store next Saturday, beginning at 10:30 o'clock, and continuing all day, or until these things are sold. Here is what I am going to offer:

Sewing machines, 1 cottage organ, 1 heater, a 1-horse wagon and mule, dressers, chairs, bedsteads, springs, mattresses, wash pot, 1 lot of carpenter tools and chest, 1 big swinging lamp and 2 metal lamps, five-gallon oil cans, 2 wardrobes, a lot of center tables, 2 couches, and lots of other stuff.

Bring your wagons and be prepared to take this stuff away from here. I am going to sell it if anybody bids on it.

"Wrong No One by Neglecting Your Bank Account!"

No wonder reports like this are coming in from Pan-Am dealers everywhere—

"... We have not only increased our gasoline sales materially, but have done more business on all other items as well since changing to Pan-Am."

C. F. GOBER
Gober Motor Company
Red Bay, Alabama

Why thousands look for the cream colored pump

This better gasoline costs no more than the ordinary kind. And people know they can depend on every Pan-Am dealer.

THERE is no question about the way motorists have accepted Pan-Am gasoline and oils!

The letter quoted above is typical. Hundreds of people write the story of Pan-Am success—more miles per gallon ... honest service ... increased business for Pan-Am dealers.

One reason why people prefer Pan-Am is that they know they are taking no chances at a Pan-Am station. They know that every Pan-Am dealer has been investigated and found trustworthy in all his business conduct ..., else he could not sell from the cream-colored pump. They know that every gallon is four full quarts and that it is Pan-Am.

Then, too, the genuine concern Pan-Am dealers show in the best interests of their customers has much to do with it.

You will appreciate these things. There is a Pan-Am pump near you ... and this better gasoline costs no more than the ordinary kind.

FARMERS CAN FORCE A MARKET FOR COTTON

The farmer's income from cotton can be increased in a number of ways and especially through the use of more cotton, according to the Alabama Markets Journal for December, issued by the Department at Montgomery this week, which contains a full account of a nation-wide shipping demonstration of the ability of cotton bags to carry fertilizer from coast to coast successfully.

The State Department, James M. Moore, Commissioner, supervised the shipping demonstration as carried on by the Alabama Chemical Co., of Montgomery, Ala. The object being to determine whether 7-ounce osnaburg sacks would carry a very high acid fertilizer from coast to coast, as parcel freight shipment, and under far more severe tests than would be encountered in domestic carlot shipments.

Three brands of fertilizer were shipped to ten different states at distances ranging from 15 miles to 3,400 miles—from Virginia to California. Regulation stitching was used on bottom and sides and the top was closed in the usual hand-sewn manner. No effort was made to secure careful handling, on the contrary, the single 100-pound sacks were given the hardest possible conditions in parcel shipments. Nearby sacks were handled 8 times; those more remote, many more times.

To date, over 150 shipments have been reported on. The verdict everywhere is the same. Further reports will only add to the facts already found, which prove that cotton bags will carry fertilizer.

Fertilizer was shipped to bankers, farmers, Professional men, merchants, farm bureau officials, commissioners of agriculture, experiment station workers, and county agents in 10 different states. Only 3% of the sacks suffered from small 3-cornered holes, caused from snagging against nails and none were otherwise broken.

As a check on the shipments, a number of 100-pound sacks were filled and stored in a warehouse for 46 days, under conditions similar to a freight car. The sacks were piled over every 10 days. At the end of 33 days they were examined by the Department and found intact in every particular and with no visible signs of decay. This check lot is not considered as being such conslusive proof as the actual shipments by parcel freight.

At the present prices, cotton bags can be used successfully, since the bags cost but 2 cents more each than Asiatic Jute. The staggering sum of $108,491,000 is paid annually for jute. This is equal to 2,712,275 bales of cotton, far more than Alabama produced this year, and about one bale in six of all the cotton that will be picked. This large amount of cotton would wrap the 18 million bales of this year's crop, furnish sacks for the 7 million tons of the United States' fertilizer bill and sack up all the cotton seed meal, commercial feeds, grain, sugar, rice, cement, and other products for which jute has been largely used.

Farmers who face low prices and deprivation due to 10-cent cotton are interested to know that the proper use of low grade cotton would wipe out over half the present big surplus and all the surplus in ordinary years. Cotton can hardly rise in price until the present surplus is consumed. The more cotton used, the higher the price and the sooner the present ruinous price will rise.

Farmers have it in their power to demand the use of cotton sacks and thus trade at home with themselves. Congress should be petitioned to pass an import duty on jute to assist the cotton farmer.

Every sack of Asiatic jute you buy crowds a pound of cotton off the market.

Low grade cotton is an ecellent replacement for jute.

Bigger markets will overcome low prices.

If farmers must hold the bag, let it be made of cotton.

Co-operation and new uses for cotton will boost the price.

Lullwater Garments Represent

The Utmost in Service and Appearance at a Moderate Price.

Lullwater Men's and Boys' Pants are as carefully cut and tailored as any custom-made wearing apparel. This assures good appearance in addition to long and satisfactory service. They are made up in Hongkong and Khaki for service and sport wear and in white duck for service, dress or sport. All seams are double sewed. Pockets are deep and of durable white drill. Waist bands, pockets and front openings are perfectly finished.

The Lullwater garment family includes men's and boys' shirts, overalls and jumpers, women's bungalow dresses, and children's play suits. These are produced in their entirety in our own mills. We buy cotton direct from the farmer, and clean, dye, spin and weave it into Lullwater chambrays and drills. From these we cut our garments on our own patterns and finish them complete in our own sewing and tailoring departments.

FROM COTTON BOLL TO YOU

The great Lullwater Mills with their immense annual output, are complete production units within themselves, converting raw cotton into high-grade finished garments, selling direct to your dealer and giving you the benefit of all middlemen's savings. Get acquainted with the Lullwater line.

CARY MARTIN DEAD

On November 23, the death angel entered the home of Brother Cary Martin and carried his spirit to its Heavenly reward, leaving a widow, 6 children, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Bro. Martin was a man of modest and unassuming disposition, yet loyal to the truth and a power in Christian and civic works, having joined the Baptist Church early in life, served as Superintendent of the Sunday School, and deacon for a number of years; also, he was a member of the town council and board of trustees of the public school at the time of his death. His life in every respect has been consistent and a blessing to all he met, and worthy of our emulation in his following the Lord.

We bid his grief stricken family "Weep not, as those who have no hope," for our Lord has said "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live again." So, look not to the grave, but on past the resurrection to his glorious home not made with hands, but eternal in the Heavens.

May the Holy Spirit overshadow and keep each of you until that grand reunion in the Glory Land where no sorrow nor death can ever enter.—W. P. Lowery, G. F. Harper, W. H. Raybon, Mamie Woods, Committee.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, in the dispensation of our Heavenly Father, our beloved brother Cary Martin has been called to rest, we, therefore, Resolve:

1. That we bow in humble submission to the Will of God, Who doeth all things well.
2. That the family has lost a loving, affectionate husband, and a devoted father.
3. That the Church and Sunday School have lost one of their most useful and efficient members; the community, one of its best citizens.
4. That a copy of these Resolutions be sent to The Alabama Baptist, and to the county papers, and to the family, and be spread upon the church minutes.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most sincere thanks and appreciation to the doctors, and people of Clanton and Mulberry for their faithful service during the sickness and death of Robert Lindsey Smith.—Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Smith and family.

NEGRO MINSTREL

There will be a negro minstrel at Union Grove schoolhouse next Saturday night, December 18, at 7:00 o'clock. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

We promise you a laugh every minute, also plenty of good music. Be sure to come. Proceeds will go to the school.

EASTVIEW

Our school at this place is progressing nicely. We have two good teachers.

Our Sunday school last Sunday was fine, although some of our teachers and pupils were absent. We had some new visitors with us Sunday, and we invite them back again.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff Burkhalter visited Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Driver Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Rushing visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas Sunday.

Miss Nolia Traywick is spending the week in Montgomery with her sister, Mrs. Harris Williams.

Messrs. Hubbard Griffin and Elous Courtney of Montgomery spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents and friends of this community.

Mrs. Marshall Driver and Edna Driver visited Misses Lela, Bertha, and Mary Taylor Saturday afternoon.

Miss Mavis Griffin returned home Sunday, after spending two weeks with her aunt, Mrs. E. J. Vinson, of Clanton.

We were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Bell Nelson at church Sunday, and hope they will come again.

Smooth Sailing

Quiet, smooth motion . . . . the most enjoyable part of motoring . . . . is due to the film of oil or grease that separates each moving part. Without this oil and grease, there would be a shriek of metal scraping metal, of pistons tearing cylinders, and wheels grinding axles. The smooth operation of your car depends upon the quality of the oil you use, the quantity you use, and how often you have it changed. If you use POLARINE, a good heat-resisting motor oil, and change it every 500 miles, you will have smooth sailing, few repair bills, and a motor in good condition when you are ready to trade it in.

The foundation has already been laid for the vocational building which will be a part of the plant of the Jemison High School. Material is now being assembled and the work will be pushed to a rapid conclusion. The new building will be located just north of the present main building, and will be 61 x 49 feet. The cost of the vocational unit will be about $3,500 with an additional outlay of about $600 for tools and other shop equipment.

It is stated from the office of the county superintendent of education that it is hoped that the additional teacher for the vocational department may be added by the time the school takes up work after the holidays.

When the new unit is completed and the vocational teacher added Jemison will become one of the Smith-Hughes class of schools. There are at present already two of such schools in the county—Isabella School for white children and the Chilton County Training School for negroes.

The Jemison school has a tract of land, two acres of which will be devoted to experimental work in agriculture. Particular stress will be laid on the teaching of all phases of farm life by a man who ranks high in ability and training.

THE HIGH COST OF SCHOOL BOOKS

In the six grammar grades there were enrolled in the public schools of Chilton County last year a total of 4,308 pupils. The books for these children cost $29,670.74, which was an average of $6.98 plus per school child.

JAMES ALFRED HUETT

Since the beginning of the human race, people whom God created in His own image and likeness and whom He loved have often been made to stand as it were in awe of the great workings of God among men.

God's ways being so far above man's, and since He works in mysterious ways His wonders to perform, we finite creatures, the crowning handiwork of His creation, cannot understand all of His great purposes.

One of these mysteries is in that of the recent and seemingly untimely death and passing away of so noble a character as that of the late James Alfred Huett of the Enterprise settlement.

Brother Huett was born in Coosa County, Alabama, in 1897, but in early childhood moved with his parents to Chilton County, where he has made his home practically all his life here on earth, and for 15 years or more a resident of the Enterprise settlement.

He, in early manhood, did the manly thing. As Mary of old, he chose the good part. When the time came for him to choose whom he would serve he cast his lot with God, and thereby gave God his life as well as his soul, and joined himself to the Missionary Baptist Church, and lived a consistent church and Christian life until, for some cause beyond our comprehension except that by faith and His Holy Word we know that because of sin death is abroad in the land and that mortality must put on immortality, God, in His great purpose and plan, visited the earthly home of Brother Huett on November 20, 1926, and wafted his great spirit to the great beyond, from whence none hath ever returned.

We feel assured that Brother Huett's pain and sufferings are all over now. We believe that his soul is now in the beautiful realms of paradise with God Who gave it, there awaiting the great judgment day, when body and spirit will be reunited and permitted to dwell with God throughout the eternal ages.

Brother Huett was a noble man. He was of a quiet, peaceful, unassuming disposition, always a friend to the friendless; a man whom to know was to love. It is beyond our understanding to know just why God should call so noble a man so early in life, he being only 47 years of age at the time of his death, but that is not for us to question. The only thing for us to do is—in a childlike manner wholly resign ourselves and our wills to the will and purposes of God. We know He doeth all things well to them who love and serve Him.

Brother Huett leaves in his immediate family a loving wife, Mrs. Florence Huett; two daughters, Mrs. Allie Prickett, and Mrs. Mary Williams; two sons, Lonnie and Johnnie Huett (twins); together with two brothers, whom the writer knows, Mr. C. B. Huett of Billingsley, and Mr. W. J. Huett of Verbena, a number of grandchildren, and a great host of friends to mourn his loss.

To the family, we would say—Weep not, now. He cannot come to you, but emulate his great spirit and life, and it will be but a short time until you can go to him, and be permitted to meet and be with him in the very presence of God forever.—One who knew and loved him, J. Z. Mims.

Mrs. H. B. Oliver of Verbena was here shopping Monday.

Commissioners to Hold Both A Morning and Afternoon Session Tuesday Jan. 4

The commissioners court of Chilton County, and also the two members elect of said court, wish to advise all people in Chilton County who are interested in roads, that there will be a public roads meeting in the court house on Tuesday, January 4, 1927. One session will be held at 10:00 o'clock a. m., and the other will be at 1:00 o'clock p. m. This will give all a chance to be present at said meeting, either at the morning or afternoon session.

We urge every person who is interested in roads to come to the meeting as we are contemplating making some changes in the working system and we want the advice and assistance of all interested.

We especially urge you to make any suggestions as to improving the system in the county, and also voicing any criticisms that you might have that will in any way help to improve the system, and thus get better roads for our county.

The commissioners court feels that many improvements have been made on the roads of the county and realizes that there are many yet to be made. However, with the co-operation of the good people of the county in this matter, stirred by a good public meeting on the above date, we think this will have a great influence for the betterment of our roads in Chilton County in the future.

We trust that all who can will be present at one or the other meetings on said date. Would be glad to have reply with any suggestions or criticisms you care to make. We want your advice and help on improving the roads.

Yours Very Truly,

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.
T. J. DORMINEY,
J. M. MIMS,
J. L. BURNETTE,
A. P. VINSON,
Commissioners.
J. P. BEAN,
T. A. MADDOX,
Commissioners-elect.

HEALTH SURVEY BEING MADE OF GRAMMAR SCHOOL PUPILS

Prof. Martin, principal of the Clanton Grammar School, reports that there is in progress at the school this week a health survey of all pupils. The move is one that has been sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association, and is being done by Dr. Hill of the International Department of Health, and Miss McElderry of the State Department of Health.

Every pupil in the school will be given a thorough physical examination and the results of the findings will be recorded in the name of each individual pupil on a card that will become a permanent record in the State Health Department.

After the records have been finished in the State Health Department, a copy of the report on each pupil will be sent to the parents, with suggestions as to the necessary steps to be taken in correcting diseases and defects.

So far as the examinations have progressed at this time, Mr. Martin says that the outstanding defects that have been shown most generally existing is bad teeth and bad tonsils. Commenting on the subject of bad teeth, Mr. Martin says: "I have seen children come to school and sit in their desk nursing an aching tooth and totally unable to do their mental work; yet the parents of such children send them to school day after day and expect them to be promoted at the end of the term. The expected promotion is almost impossible without correction of the defects which stand so badly in the way."

CHILTON COUNTY MINUTES NOW READY

The minutes of the Chilton County Baptist Association are now ready for distribution at the Union-Banner office. Clerks of the different churches may get their allotment by calling for or sending for them at any time.

PLANS ADOPTED FOR OPERATING PEOPLES TELEPHONE BUSINESS FOR THE NEXT YEAR

At a meeting of the board of directors Monday morning a plan was outlined and adopted providing for the operation and maintenance of the Peoples Telephone system for the year 1927.

It was determined that the upkeep of the lines would be under the supervision and direction of the person who might be employed to operate the central and keep up the lines, and that such program of upkeep should extend from central over the entire distance of every line to every phone upon which central service is paid. In other words every phone holder who pays central service will have his line kept up to his door, no matter where he lives. For this service and for central service a central fee of $5 was adopted for residence phones and $7 for business phones, such fees covering all assessments for service for the year 1927.

After adopting this plan of procedure the board deferred the matter of contracting with parties to operate the switchboard and keep up the lines, because under a former statement of the matter parties who had put in bids had bid only for operating the switchboard and keeping up the lines in Clanton. The board now requests all who desire to do so to revise their bids so as to cover operating the central switchboard and the upkeep of the lines of the entire system both inside and outside of the town of Clanton.

The board meets again next Monday at 10 o'clock at which time the business will be completed.

CLANTON METHODISTS BOUGHT MATTHEWS HOUSE

The Clanton Methodist Church has bought the old Matthews residence next to the church and facing Eighth Street, which will be used as a parsonage. The present parsonage next to the church on Third Avenue will be removed and the space it occupies will be utilized in some manner for beautifying the church property.

OAK HILL

The Ladies Aid Society is giving a pie supper at this place Friday night, December 24, at 7:15 o'clock. We will have a guess cake, also peanuts, pop corn, candy, and sandwiches to sell. A musical program will be rendered. There will be a Christmas tree. Proceeds will go for benefit of the church. Everybody come and bring plenty of money.

We will have a full line of candies, nuts, fruit, etc., at very lowest possible prices. See us before making purchase for Christmas. — Baltimore Dry Goods Co., Jesse Baker, Mgr.

WINNING $5,000 FOR A NAME BOY'S DREAM COMES TRUE

A case of "when dreams come true" was brought into stern reality this week when Hans Simonson, of Bismark, N. D., went to Chicago to receive a $5,000 cash prize he had won in a world contest, conducted by Sears, Roebuck & Co., to find a name for a new tire. Until a few days ago young Simonson was bending over a drawing board in the Drafting Department of the State Highway Commission at Bismark. The $5,000 prize was awarded the other night in the Hotel Sherman at a banquet in honor of the successful contestants in the contest, when the announcement of the winners was made. Mr. Simonson won over close to a million competitors, with the name "Allstate."

Young Simonson for a good part of his twenty yars has known what he would do if he ever got enough money to carry out his life's ambition. One of a family of six brothers and three sisters, he spent the romping years of his boyhood on a cot in a hospital, amusing himself drawing pictures. From the hospital cot he graduated to crutches and promoted himself from his pencils to oils. A few years ago he triumphed over the crutches and last July secured a position in the drafting department of the Highway Commission at Bismark in the hope of picking up some of the technique of drawing.

When asked after he had received his check for the $5,000, how he would spend the money, he said: "I am going back home to spend Christmas with the folks. Then I am coming back to Chicago to go to the Art Institute to study." Advertising art? Oh, no. His life ambitions are two—to draw political cartoons and originate a comic strip.

This tire naming contest, which is probably one of the largest ever staged in point of response, brought entries from close to a million people, submitting a total of 2,353,476 names. They were entered from every state in the Union, every province of Canada, from Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, South America, and several points in Europe and in 25 different languages, including one in Winnebago Indian and several in the raised letter writing of the blind.

The second prize of $1,000 was awarded to Donald S. Gray, of Ames, Iowa, for the name "Dearborn S. R. Cords," and the third prize of $500 was taken by a woman, Mrs. E. N. Decker, of Ft. Thomas, Ky., who submitted the name "S. R. Argosy." In addition to these three capital prizes the company awarded 1,957 honorable mention awards for names of unusual interest and merit.

JOHN L. GORE MOVING TO STUMPS HILLS

Ex-Sheriff John L. Gore is preparing to take up his future abode in that favored and famous section of Chilton County known as Stumps Hills. He has swapped with Doctor Robinson on a deal whereby Mr. Robinson becomes the owner of Mr. Gore's home in the Gowan Addition, and Mr. Gore obtains the farm of Mr. Robinson up the country.

At present Mr. Gore is engaged in setting his place in order, and he expects to move to the farm early in the new year.

TWO WOMEN ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF GOODS

Miss Ella Ellison and a married sister, Mrs. Evie Mink, were arrested in Clanton Monday afternoon charged with theft of goods from the store of W. H. Sartor and M. Lande. A kimona valued at $6.95, which was in possession of the women, was identified by Mr. Sartor. Also a dress valued at $3.95 was identified by Mr. Lande. The arrest was made by county deputy Harvey Foshee, who turned the parties over to city authorities. They made bonds of $200 each, pending action on their cases in Mayor Atkinson's court. The cases were heard Tuesday, and each of the parties were fined $10.00.

The women live near Smith Schoolhouse in Stumps Hills.

ENTERPRISE ADDING ANOTHER ROOM TO SCHOOL

An additional room has been added to the Enterprise School, which makes the building consist of five standard classrooms and one other room. There are six teachers in the school. G. C. Weldon is the school principal. The school spirit of the Enterprise people is excellent. They have made constant progress toward improving their school in the past few years.

CANE CREEK

Next Saturday and Sunday are our regular preaching days, and we hope to have a large crowd present. We are expecting an excellent message from our pastor, Bro. Bailey.

On Sunday afternoon the singing society meets in regular session. We especially invite the adjoining societies to be present.

Remember, everybody is invited to attend the services which are to be on Christmas Day and the day following.—Secretary.

NEGROES AT RIDERVILLE HAVE BUILT NEW SCHOOLHOUSE

The negroes of Riderville community have just completed a new school building at a cost of $3,300. They obtained $700 from the Rosenwald fund, and also the regular state aid.

Statistics at the office of the county superintendant of education show that in the past two years there has been spent about $160,000 for new school buildings in Chilton County.

REV. J. R. HELMS NEW PASTOR AT WALNUT CREEK

Rev. J. R. Helms, the new pastor at Wanut Creek Methodist Church, has arrived and taken up his residence in the parsonage near the church. Rev. Helms came here from Shelby and takes the place of Rev. G. B. Golden, who has gone to Troy.

CHICKENS AN TURKEYS DISAPPEAR

Reports come in that a few nights ago 125 fine young frying-size chickens showed up missing at Leonard Farley's chicken farm three miles up the Lock 12 road. Also, Hardy Hurt who lives a mile from town on the same road is short three young turkeys. Reports say that Mr. Farley had been offered $2 each for his fryers a few days before they disappeared.

The South Would Starve if We Didn't Get Foodstuff Elsewhere

"If the South could not import foodstuff it would starve to death unless its system of agriculture was changed," is the statement made in a pamphlet issued by E. J. Bodman, Vice-President of the Union Trust Co., of Little Rock, Ark., according to an article in a recent issue of The Birmingham Post.

"What should be the most productive area in the United States does not feed itself," he says, and cites figures gathered in Alabama, the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas.

These figures were gathered in cooperation with the federal department of agriculture and the census bureau, and are looked upon as being authorative. They show that out of every 100 farmers in these states—73 raise cotton, 12 raise no corn, 54 raise no hay or forage, 86 raise no oats, 56 raise no pigs, 46 make no butter, 37 have no dairy cows, 33 raise no chickens, 58 raise no sweet potatoes, 76 no cane syrup, 95 have no pure-bred animals, and—23 farmers out of every 100 have no garden!

Commenting on these figures, the Wall Street Journal answers the question—"What is wrong with Southern agriculture," and says, according to the article — "Diversification is the crying need of the South."

What is true of the "South" must certainly be true of Chilton County. A few weeks ago there was published in The Union-Banner some figures compiled from information secured from the agricultural college at Auburn, which showed that Chilton County had to import more than a half-million dollars' worth of foodstuff to feed our citizens last year.

As much as we are sometimes prone to "crab" at Wall Street for its accused injustices to the farmer, we are strongly inclined to believe that the mighty house organ of that world-famous street has imparted a fine bit of wisdom to the farmers of the South when it says that diversified farming is the crying need of the South and that goes for Chilton County also.

"It is of prime importance to the country that the farms shall furnish homes. All else is subordinate to that. But this cannot be when the land is devoted to one crop requiring about 150 days labor a year, and the family be fed out of tin cans and paper bags.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON OR PAROLE

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, will make application for pardon or parole. I was convicted at the July, 1926, term of the Circuit Court of Chilton County on a charge of distilling, and sentenced to the penitentiary for a year and a day.—J. W. ADAMS. 12-23-2t-pd.

FIRE AT H. F. McCARY'S

About 3 o'clock on Thursday morning, December 9, Miss Marie McCary was awakened by fire in a side room next to where she was sleeping. She gave the alarm to the rest of the family, and soon business began to pick up. Mr. Linn Jones and Mr. Will Bean reached the scene in time to help save the home. The fire was not serious, but there was an excellent chance of complete destruction of the home. It is thought that a rat set fire to the cotton.

Mr. McCary lives right near Friendship church, about two miles north of Clanton.

CAMPBELL - NIBLITT

Sunday morning, just before the Sunday school hour, one of our most efficient teachers and church workers, Miss Ruby E. Campbell, was quietly married to Mr. William D. Niblitt of Birmingham, at the home of Rev. F. M. Weston, near Oak Hill, who performed the ceremony in the presence of friends. A bountiful dinner was spread at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Campbell, after which the bride and groom left on their honeymoon for Mobile and other points in the sunny South. On their return they will make their home in Birmingham, where Mr. Niblitt holds a responsible position with the Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Miss Campbell will not only be missed by the church and Sunday school, but will leave a vacant place in the United Singing Society, for she is a fine singer, as well as a Sunday school and church worker. We hope she will continue to let her light shine, that she may still be a blessing wherever she may go.

"PEOPLE WHO SUCCEED"

A lecture will be given by Paul Oden at the Isabella school on Saturday evening December 27, at 7:30 o'clock.

You cannot afford to miss this opportunity to learn why it is that some people succeed and others do not. If you follow the line of action which the speaker will indicate, you cannot fail.

Don't forget to come and spend a profitable evening.

Admission—15c and 25c. H lf of the proceeds will be given to the Isabella school.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CHRISTMAS EXERCISE

The Christmas exercises of the Sunday school of the Temple church, Clanton, will be given Friday night, December 24, at 6:30.

The exercises will consist of singing, special songs, quartets, plays, dialogues, and recitations, closing with a drama, "Visit of the Shepherds and the Wise Men to the Manger." This will be awe-inspiring and heart-stirring to all.

The church will be beautifully decorated, with the manger of Bethlehem in the center of the stage. An invitation to attend these exercises is extended to all.—The Church.

MT. CREEK

Mrs. Maggie Cannon delightfully entertained the members of the Ladies Aid and the W. M. S. of the Mt. Creek Baptist Church with an old fashion quilting on Tuesday. Each member pieced a square of the quilt and it will be given, along with other articles, as a Christmas gift to the Baptist Orphanage at Troy. At the noon hour a delicious luncheon was served. A business meeting was held in the afternoon. Those present were Mesdames S. R. Hudson, R. L. Duffey, Marion McGalliard, Harris Hudson, Will Coburn, Frank Hudson, G. C. Kicker, A. B. Burton, and the hostess.

My Favorite Stories

Working by the Time Card

Indianapolis fairly radiates interurban car lines. From Indiana's capital city, in all directions, electric railroads carry Hoosiers to and from isolated farms and towns. The conductors and motormen of these lines mainly are products of the farms and graduate to these jobs. Everybody along the line knows them by their first name; their passengers very often are kinfolk. To win a job and a uniform on the interurban is no mean accomplishment.

The "limited" for Lafayette had cleared the suburbs of the city and was running fancy-free through the corn fields of Boone county. The conductor was busy collecting fares, but for once in his life he had little to say and that little was said with chin raised and lips but partly opened.

"Why don't ye spit, Jess?" asked one of his farm-boy acquaintances who himself had had similar experiences with sweetened tobacco.

Jess leveled his face and explained in cautious words:

"I ort to have spit at Zionsville, but some wimmin gettin' on jimmed my chances and now I've got to wait till we git to Lebanon."

"ONE ROOM PLUS"—JANUARY 14

The Clanton Dramatic Club presents "One Room Plus" at Chilton County High School, Friday night, January 14, at 8 p. m.

The contrast of two types of married life is the theme.

Fred (Frank Mullins) and Julia (Mrs. Norman Roberts) are living a life of gayety in a 1-room apartment plus kitchen and bath.

Barbara McCord (Miss Louise Nichols) a young woman troubled with advanced ideas, has influenced Julia in living her individual life, with her husband playing second fiddle. Julia holds a good position in order to have the luxuries she desires.

John (Oce Webb) is the dominating force in his suburban bungalow; while Mollie (Miss Thelma Guy) is a loving, obedient little wife, of the clinging vine variety.

"Dad" Carmichael (Jack Wade) comes to the city to visit his two sons and leaves his wife at home on the farm. He is highly entertained in the "One Room Plus," and also is amused by Barbara's modern ideas.

Come and see the play, and discover how "Dad" helps solve the troubles that arise in the two homes.

Come and spend an enjoyable evening!

REV. G. B. GOLDEN MOVED

On last Thursday Rev. G. B. Golden and family moved to Spring Hill, 8 miles south of Troy, where he will take up his pastorate, which is one of the best rural district works in the state. Spring Hill is a nice little town, situated in one of the most prosperous communities the writer has ever been in. They have a nice 10-teacher school there.

Rev. Golden has been our pastor at Walnut Creek for the past four years. He and his good wife and his children will be greatly missed here and in the surrounding communities. Sister Golden and daughters have been a great help to us in Sunday school. Their going away will be deeply regretted by their many friends.

May God's blessings be with them wherever they go.—C. D. Duke.

OBERA JACKSON

A few weeks ago The Union-Banner carried an article from the State Child Welfare Department. Pursuant to this appeal, Mr. A. A. Jackson of Lomax made application to the board for a child to bring into his home. The result was the adoption of a pretty little eight-year-old girl. When the child was brought to the home Mr. Jackson asked her, "what is your name?" The girl promptly replied, "My name is Obera Jackson."

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are the parents of 11 children, all of whom are grown and are married and doing well. Eight of them live in Birmingham.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Executive Board Meets.

Mrs. G. C. Harris entertained the members of the executive board of Unity Woman's Missionary Union on last Wednesday at her home in South Clanton. Mrs. S. J. Ezell presided over the meeting, and also conducted the morning devotional. The program for the Annual Meeting to be held at Billingsley in January was planned, and other arrangements made for the meeting. Miss Willie Kelly, returned foreign missionary, is expected to make the address of the day. A delicious four-course dinner was served. Chrysanthemums and Christmas cactus formed a centerpiece for the table. Place cards, bearing the seal of the W. M. U. were used to mark the places of the guests. The afternoon's devotional was led by Mrs. Harris, and followed with a short business session.

The members present were Mesdames G. C. Harris, S. J. Ezell, J. E. Gowan, Lester Gilbert of Marbury, J. A. Hester, and Mrs. Grady Broadhead. The guests were Mrs. Pauline Redding of Mobile, Mrs. Durbin, and Dr. S. J. Ezell.

Bridge Party.

A delightful affair of the past week was on Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts were hosts at their home on Fifth Street. The home was artistically decorated with vases and baskets of carnations. A series of bridge games was played at three tables. At the conclusion Mrs. W. M. Wyatt held high score and was presented a box of dainty handkerchiefs. Mr. Latham Ellis received a pair of socks for high score prize also. A tempting salad course with hot coffee was served.

Those enjoying this affair were Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Crumpton, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Kin Vinson, Mrs. Lucien Duncan, and Mr. and Mrs. Roberts.

Dr. and Mrs. Hinkle Hosts.

Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. P. T. Hinkle entertained a few friends at dinner at their home near Clanton. Decorations of holly, mistletoe, and red and green ribbons made the home bright and attractive for this affair. The dining table held a beautiful Christmas cactus for its central motif. Attractive place cards marked the places of the guests. A delicious course dinner was served.

Around the table the following were seated: Mr. and Mrs. John C. Page and little daughter Peggy, Mr. and Mrs. Bostick of McMinnville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Pipes, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ezell and little daughter Grace, and the hosts.

P. T. A. Meets.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held at the High School last Tuesday afternoon. The devotional for the afternoon was conducted by Mrs. S. J. Ezell, choosing "Feed My Lambs" as the topic. A piano solo was rendered by Miss Marjorie Mauney. Mrs. Hugh Jones, in a most pleasing manner, spoke on "The Influence of Books in the Home." A reading was given by Clara Mae Popwell, and little Mary Courtney Jones gave "The Christ Child." A business session followed the program, with Mrs. Marcus Polk presiding.

Young Matron's Club.

Mrs. Kin Vinson was hostess to the members of the Young Matron's Club Thursday afternoon at her home on Fifth Avenue. The living room was decorated with American Beauty roses and growing plants. Bridge was played at two tables. The high score prize, a deck of Congress cards, was won by Mrs. Norman Roberts.

A delicious salad plate with hot coffee was served by the hostess to the following guests: Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Norman Roberts, Julius Burnett, Latham Ellis, Lucien Duncan, Briggs Crumpton, and Miss Elizabeth Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt delightfully entertained a few friends on Monday evening at their home on Eighth Street. The home was made festive with decorations of the season. Late in the evening a plate luncheon with hot coffee was served.

Enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Kin Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Crumpton, Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts, and Mrs. Lucien Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinson Hosts.

On last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Kin Vinson entertained a group of friends at their home on Fifth Avenue. Roses and potted plants were used to decorate the home for this occasion. Late in the evening a salad course with hot coffee was served.

Included in this hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Crumpton, Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis, Mrs. Lucien Duncan, and Mr. and Mrs. Vinson.

IMPORTANT MEETING AT THE COURT HOUSE FRIDAY DECEMBER 31

The most important meeting of its kind ever held in Chilton County has been called for Friday, December 31, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the county court house. Every citizen of the county is invited to attend this meeting, which is called for the purpose of perfecting a co-operative association to foster diversified farming, co-operative marketing and other important civic and social activities in the entire county.

A committee has already held one meeting for the purpose of drafting a constitution and by-laws and will be ready to submit their report at this meeting on the last day of the year.

Much interest has already been manifest in the undertaking and the leaders of the movement are anxious to have a large attendance at this meeting.

Chilton County is unquestionably facing the greatest economic crisis in its history and without united effort, unselfish leadership, a definite program, and immediate action, chaotic conditions are sure to be our lot during the next few years, is the prediction of the farsighted leaders of the county.

The citizens are urged not to forget the date and hour—December 31, at 10 a. m., at the county court house in Clanton.

COMMISSIONERS CALL GOOD ROADS MEETING FOR DEC. 24

On the front page of this issue of The Union-Banner we are carrying a letter from the Probate Judge and Commissioners calling a meeting at the court house on Tuesday, January 4, for the purpose of discussing road matters. The public is urged to meet with the commissioners and discuss road matters.

The commissioners contemplate some change in the road working program, and they want the voice of the people in regard to this matter. Our Commissioners Court has done some good work on the roads of the county, but they feel that there are still other things that might be done to the betterment of the roads. They are acting very wisely and impartially by calling a public meeting and giving their constituents a chance to give them their ideas of what is most needed.

The building and maintenance of the roads of Chilton County is a tremendous job and it takes lots of thought as well as time and money to keep them going

Read the call of the commissioners for this meeting and set your stakes to come and discuss the matter with the court. Two sessions will be held during the day—one at 10 o'clock and the other at 1 o'clock. Make it a point to attend one of these sessions.

Parent-Teachers Association.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Grammar School met Friday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Gowan, Vice-President, opened the meeting. A beautiful scripture reading on the Christ child was given by Mary Courtney Jones. The Christmas carol, "Silent Night," was sung by the Fifth Grade pupils, led by Miss Bess Thomas, teacher of the grade. Mrs. S. J. Ezell talked on "The Fourth Wise Man." Miss Thelma Guy, teacher of the Second Grade, led her pupils in singing "Little Baby in a Manger." "The Moral Influence of the Home," was the subject of a splendid talk made by Mrs. J. E. Gowan. Mrs. J. A. Hester, President, had charge of the business session. The pictures on attendance were awarded the rooms of Misses Thomas and Grier.

TWO ARRESTED FOR STEALING

Sheriff-elect Collins and Deputy Foshee went out to the home of Tom Roberts on the Candler place just west of Clanton Wednesday morning in search of property alleged to have been stolen from the Leader in Clanton two or three weeks ago. The articles, a coat and dress, were found in the home. Bessie (Roberts) Pearson and Ruby Roberts were arrested. The preliminary was held before Justice of the Peace, J. L. Wilson, Wednesday afternoon.

MERRY CHRISTMAS —

With 1926 drawing rapidly to a close we can look back over its twelve months as they have passed in this community, and we find in them much that we will wish to remember, and but very little we will want to forget.

The Christmas season of 1926 brings to us a record of twelve months of community peace, of community good will, of community prosperity, and an increased community hope for the dawning year of 1927.

During 1926 we have enjoyed our neighbors; we have laughed with them in their hours of merriment, and we have grieved with them in their bereavements and consoled them as best we might. This is as it should be. It is such things that the spirit of Christmas teaches us. It is the lesson brought to us by the Man of Gallilee nineteen hundred and twenty-six years ago.

During 1926 we have grown better individually and collectively; we have evinced a greater degree of tolerance, of human kindness, of love and faith, than in any previous year, and this is but an evidence of the increasing betterment of the race.

With a backward glance over the records of 1926 we find every good reason for believing this Christmas season is to be the best we have ever enjoyed. We know that those blessings, faith, hope, love, peace, that were brought to the race with the dawn of the Christian era are with us today in greater degree than ever before. We know we will receive a greater number of hearty Christmas greetings, a greater number of friendly smiles, and what comes to us will come to each and every individual in our community, including our Merry Christmas to each and every one.

THERE REALLY IS A SANTA CLAUS

Folks, read the following paragraphs penned by L. O. Dawson and printed in last Sunday's Birmingham News. This is a masterpiece and we want to pass it on to the readers of The Union-Banner:

Oh, yes, there is a real Santa Claus, all right! And He is not father, nor is He mother. He is not anyone else that the wise guys have guessed. I grant you that He does not look like the grotesque figures you see all about dressed in red clothes and long white whiskers, but He is real all the same, very real, joyously, happily true.

* * *

Instead of His being less glorious than you thought, He is better and truer than you have ever dreamed. You have never seen Him, but you may see Him some day if your heart keeps right.

Certainly He can come down the chimney if He wants to, through the keyhole, or, as for that matter, through a solid wall if it suits His purpose.

He can and does visit the children in Alabama, New York, Alaska, and everywhere else all in the same night without the least bit of trouble. All the reindeers and all their sleds are easy for Him to harness, and if He desires He can ride on the wings of the wind, or travel on the beams of light.

* * *

He slips into the hearts of father, mother, friends, and all sorts of good people, and under His power they do all kinds of beautiful things. He uses their hands and feet to do His errands. You may have caught them doing some of these tricks, and that is why you say that father is "old Santa." He is not. Father has only been hired by Santa to help Him out with His big job. And he pays dad good wages in the coin of a realm whose beauty is such as has never been seen by human eye, and whose melodies are sweeter than any ever heard by mortal ears.

* * *

Santa Claus is the Spirit of Love—and so far from being a myth, He is one of the few things that are to abide forever.

Do not be disturbed by those knowing folks who wisely inform you that "there ain't no Santa Claus." You haven't seen Him, but you have felt His power and been the recipient of His goodness since you were born.

And you need not worry about His ever changing. We may change, but He will not.

He once had a friend by the name of James. Now James had a lot of friends who were having a hard time of it where they lived. They may have thought that this Great Friend had forgotten them, so James wrote to them a beautiful letter. Among other things he said: "Every good gift and every perfect gift cometh down from the Father of Lights, with whom there is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

All those good gifts you will get this Christmas will have on them the names of your friends and loved ones but they will come straight from that Father of Lights.

"No variableness, neither shadow of turning!" There is some wonderful music in those words, and all Christmas songs of cheer are set to that joyful tune.

WHAT LIBERTY IS

One word in our language often misused is the word liberty, according to George B. Lockwood, writing editorially in the National Republic. Under the caption, "The Meaning of Liberty," Mr. Lockwood says:

"Liberty is not the right of every man to do as he pleases. Every man cannot do as he pleases, since such an exercise of liberty would limit the similar right of others

"Liberty is only the right to do as one pleases insofar as this does not sacrifice the freedom of others and the welfare of society.

"The savage in the jungle alone has that liberty which some conceive to be the right of every individual; that is to say, no law restrains him from working his own will.

"But in such a case the ambition of others to have that same liberty restrains its exercise. The strong prevail; the rights of the weak are sacrificed.

"In an ordered state the individual must sacrifice his 'right' to maintain a public nuisance, disregard sanitation, defy quarantine, refuse schooling, and satisfy his anti-social appetites in order that the people as a whole may have freedom from annoyance, disease, pauperism, ignorance, or violence due to the exercise of what in a more primitive state of society would be considered natural rights.

Our crop of anarchists — rebels against regulation in the interests of society—seems to be growing. Without counting the advantages of the protection which society gives them, they wish not to be bound by the statutes and ordinances necessary to the protection of others. Such an attitude seems to be chiefly the result of excessive self-esteem.

"Especially is respect due social regulation when the safeguards that complaint is made against have been effected by a legal process in a republic where law is public opinion crystallized.

"We have no law in this country which cannot be repealed whenever a majority of the people so decide. We have provided in our federal Constitution for the preservation of certain personal rights essential to freedom which even statutes cannot invade. We have a larger measure of true liberty in this country—the liberty of every man to work out his own destiny—than is found in any other country in the world.

"If every citizen should turn rebel against every law which does not suit him, the result would be anarchy, and the rights of all would be sacrificed. To expect society to extend to us the protection of the laws we like and in turn to denounce and defy those laws which impose disagreeable restraints upon us, is evidence of the lack of an underlying sense of fairness. People can live together only by mutual concession and a decent regard for the rules of the game. Those who refuse to do so are not 'square.' They attach too much importance to themselves and too little to others.

"We hear much praise for the spirit of revolt. When people revolt against society they revolt against themselves Those who sneer at the past and the institutions it has bequeathed to the present generation, too lightly estimate the value of their social and political and economic inheritance and the cost at which it has been gained. A little more time devoted to study of the good in what exists, and a little less to inventing something theoretically better out of thin air, would be beneficial to millions of Americans."

A NATION OF TELEPHONES

A third transcontinental long distance telephone line will be completed shortly after the first of the year.

The first, or central line, was opened to San Francisco in 1915. The second, or southern line was built to Los Angeles about 2 years ago; now the third, or northern line, terminates in the Pacific Northwest.

Transcontinental service will not be at the mercy of storms in any one section of the country. This is simply another link in the network of telephone wires which make a neighborhood of this nation. No other country has a service that can begin to compare with our unified system, which has made the telephone so common in the United States that nearly every family has one and any child can use it.

Vice-President Gives Views On Selecting Political Nominees

CHARGES PRIMARY IS CAUSE OF BIG CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Vice-President Dawes Urges the Old Method of Selecting Political Nominees by Party Conventions.

New York, Dec. 18. — Top-heavy campaign funds, and all the evils that attend them, were laid at the door of the direct primary system tonight by Vice-President Dawes, who argued in an after-dinner speech here for a return of the old methods of choosing political nominees by convention.

The vice-president mentioned no names, but he reminded his audience of "recent political events" under the primary plan and declared politics had reached a state where a candidate for state or national office must have either a fortune or a going political organization behind him if he hopes to succeed.

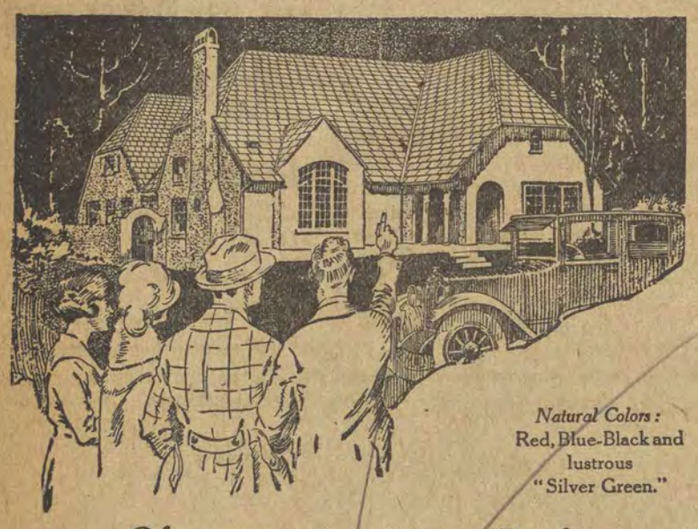
With this declaration, Gen. Dawes linked a renewal of his plea for revision of the senate rules, to prevent a few individuals in congress from so obstructing legislation as to put the government into a predicament "against which the common sense of the whole country cries out."

The address was delivered before the Pennsylvania society of New York and was the second in which the vice-president had attacked the primary system.

"That which distinguishes the American republic from the many republics of the past which have failed is the fact that its constitution has made it a representative government," he said. "This principle was long recognized in the government of political parties in this country but in the reaction against political corruption and inefficiency we have passed primary laws which have done away with representative government of political parties.

"The rapid expansion of state and municipal business and patronage, coupled with the indifference of qualified voters, half of whom do not go to the polls at the general election, and many less to the primaries, often results in the nomination of candidates selected and controlled by those having a business interest in the continuance of an existing administration. Their election afterward because of the habit of party regularity on the part of the impartial voter, means the rule of an oligarchy and the loss of free and clean government.

"Under the old convention system such a condition would encourage the drafting and nomination of clean candidates by the opposition party in order to gain an advantage from a clear issue at the polls between clean and unclean government. Under the primary system, however, the opposition cannot draft its strongest men as candidates to emphasize the issue. The opposition party will likely choose unknown or incompetent men as candidates as if the chance did not exist to make good government an issue by proper nominations.



"The primary system is responsible for an enormous and improper use of money in contests under it and is steadily tending to debauch our electorate.

"Since it lessens the opportunity of minority parties properly to make an issue of corruption before the public it largely insures immunity to vote buyers from political or legal consequences with resultant increase in their activity.

"So immense are the sums which must be spent to advertise himself to the people under the primary system, even along legitimate lines by a comparatively unknown candidate for a state or national office, that under those circumstances only a very rich man, a man with rich men behind him, or a man with an organization behind and generally controlling him, is likely to succeed.

"The primary system is responsible for the election by parties of some men whose chief effort after election seems to be to disorganize their party and fight its policies. Congress, therefore, tends to lose the power of constructive action. The primary system of nomination, lessening the dependence of candidates for nomination upon their party record and relation to their party organization, adds constantly to the number in congress of those wearing the party label who fight their party's policies. They are aided by rules in the senate which extend the power of minority obstruction far beyond anything intended by the constitution.

"Largely because of the primaries, therefore, we are threatened with a regime of the bloc system in congress from which if it is not arrested, we are in danger of a breakdown in parliamentary efficiency which today is such an outstanding characteristic in the government of European countries; a situation so acute as to have resulted in the abandonment, at least temporarily, of parliamentary government in Poland, Belgium, Italy, and Spain."

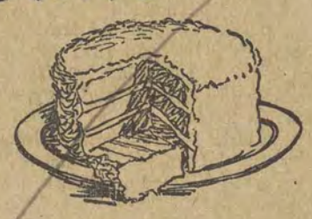
OMEGA FLOUR

At Christmas Time



THE DAY of all days arrives — a day for the renewal of old family ties. It is a family festival.

Now, of all times, the dinner must be perfect in every detail.

Biscuits, rolls, cakes, muffins — done to a "queen's taste" — with Omega flour — beautify the table and enhance the enjoyment of the meal.

Use Omega this Christmas for all your bakings — for Omega is the all purpose flour.

And Omega will not fail you — there are no baking failures with this wonderful flour.

For nearly a hundred years the Cole Mills have supplied the housewife with the flour for her most particular meals. Since 1839 she has depended upon Cole's flour for her delightful cookery at Christmas.

EVIDENCE WANTED AGAINST FRAUDULENT ADVERTISERS

United States Attorney Grady Reynolds has requested The Union-Banner to make an effort to obtain evidence that may be available concerning the fraudulent operations of the man named Nichols, whose advertising has been inserted in this paper recently under the names of Fulghum Hatchery and Acme Farms. Mr. Reynolds states that his department has been after this man for a long time, and it is hoped that conclusive evidence of his illegal and fraudulent operations may be obtained to place him in the penitentiary, where he belongs.

If any subscribers or readers of The Union-Banner have been the victims of this man's schemes we will appreciate it if you will let us know just what evidence you have in order that we may place same in the hands of Attorney Reynolds.

The Least of His Worries

Down in southern Alabama a person of color was fetched into court to be arraigned for his preliminary hearing on a charge of wilful murder.

"Mose Tupper," said the judge, contemplating the prisoner over his spectacles, "you are accused here of one of the most serious crimes known to our laws—to wit, the taking of a human life. Are you properly represented by counsel?"

"No, suh," said the darky cheerfully.

"Well, have you talked to any one about your defense since your arrest?"

"I told de sheruff 'bout de shootin' when he come to my cabin to bring me heah," said the prisoner, "but tha's all."

"And have you taken no steps whatever to engage a lawyer?"

"No, suh," said Mose. "I ain't got no money to be wastin' on lawyers. Dey tell me lawyers is mighty costive."

"If you have no funds," insisted the judge, "it lies within the power of the court to appoint an attorney to represent you without expense on your part."

"You needn't be botherin' yo'se'f, jedge," answered Mose.

"Well, what do you propose to do about this case?" demanded his honor. "You must be properly defended—the law so provides."

"Jedge," said Mose, "ez fur ez I'se concerned you kin jest let de matter drap!"

Keep in Trim!

Good Elimination Is Essential to Good Health.

THE kidneys are the blood filters. If they fail to function properly there is apt to be a retention of toxic poisons in the blood. A dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches, headaches, and dizziness are symptoms of this condition. Further evidence of improper kidney function is often found in burning or scanty passage of secretions. Each year more and more people are learning the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. Scarcely a nook or hamlet anywhere but has many enthusiastic users. Ask your neighbor!

Everybody Invited

Miss Mabel Howard returned from Chicago last Monday evening.

Mr. Verner Carlson and Edwin Grenn motored from Chicago, arriving in Thorsby last Wednesday.

Mr. Waldemar Lefstead, a theological student, arrived in Thorsby Tuesday morning to spend the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Johannah Lefstead.

A serious automobile accident happened Monday night on the highway near the old charcoal ovens. Some negroes with a truckload of furniture had stopped to repair a tire, when a man supposed to be Willie Lewis, a junk buyer from Montgomery, going south at a rapid rate, crashed his truck into the rear end of the truck load of furniture. Mr. Lewis was so badly injured it is reported he was rushed to the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton, where it was thought he could not live long. His damaged truck was hauled to the Franklin Garage for repairs.

Mrs. G. L. Foshee spent Tuesday in Thorsby, visiting old friends and attending to some business.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and children motored from South Carolina, arriving in Thorsby Sunday afternoon. Mr. Wood is a brother of Mrs. Ed Piper and Miss Wood.

Mrs. Ed Piper is visiting friends in Blocton.

Rev. Roberts met with a painful accident Saturday evening, when the little finger of his left hand was caught in a closing automobile door. Although the bone was broken it is hoped amputation will not be necessary.

Mr. Relius Franklin is making a notable improvement by giving his house at Summit and Michigan Avenues a new dress of white.

After January 1, Dr. S. C. Wood will be located in Clanton, but will have his Thorsby office hours—7 to 8 a. m., and 5 to 6 p. m. He will retain a residence in Thorsby for the present.

Dr. and Mrs. Wood and son, Frank, will spend Christmas Day with Mrs. King in Selma.

Horace Franklin, of the University of Alabama, is spending his Christmas vacation with his parents in Thorsby.

Miss Agnes Leary is at home from Howard College for the holidays.

Miss Agnes Gerald, who is teaching in the high school at Bladenboro, N. C., is at home to spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald.

Mrs. Clyde Mead will entertain the Ladies Guild on Thursday afternoon, December 23, at her home on Wisconsin Avenue.

Miss Rachel Peterson of Cullman is spending her vacation among friends in Thorsby.

Mrs. Clarence E. Bice of Palatka, Fla., and children, Virginia and Eliza, are spending two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson.

Miss Mary Sue Robinson who has been attending school in Florida is at home for her Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Arthur T. Villadsen is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson.

Mrs. T. W. Robinson made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Thorsby Public School will sponsor a community Christmas tree at the school Thursday night. An interesting feature of the occasion will be a free music recital under the auspices of the Jesse French Piano Co.

The Junior High School students are taking examinations, previous to closing December 23 for vacation, which will extend to January 3.

Saturday night, December 18, the Helen Keller Literary Society of the Thorsby Institute gave a Christmas program, opening with a four-hand piano number, in which Miss Guila Williams and Miss Barbara Hastings played on two pianos "A Prelude in C sharp," or "The Bells of Moscow," by Rachmaninoff, a difficult selection, but beautifully played by these two experts. Readings were given by Elizabeth Johnson and Eva Mae Lynch. A drill with Christmas bells and wreaths was an interesting feature, participated in by a number of girls from both sections of the society. A debate, "Should the Allied War Debts be Cancelled?"—for the affirmative, John Van Derveer and Wendell Johnson, and for the negative, Olin Williams and Loyd Howard, was argued. Both sides did creditable work, the judges deciding in favor of the negative side. Two plays were given—"The Birds' Christmas Carol," in part, by Kate Douglas Wiggin, and "A Christmas Story — Scrooge and Marley," by Chas. Dickens. Both were very interesting. The most notable of numbers given by the students was the singing of "Holy Night," by a chorus, and "Silent Night" by a sextet, which for expression and tone quality was very creditable to all having a part in it, and greatly enjoyed by the audience.

For the holidays the students will visit their homes or accept invitations from friends. The teachers will visit their home folks who are not too far away. Miss Jenkins goes to St. Louis to meet her father and mother; Miss Murray will visit an aunt at Eufala; Miss Williams and sister, Margaret, will visit their folks at Cherokee, Ala.; Miss Leech, Miss Hawkes, and Miss Fairbank will make short visits to other towns.

Miss Barbara Hastings has very creditably filled the position on the faculty as science teacher for the full time she promised to stay when employed. She now returns to her home in Atchison, Kansas, much to the regret of faculty and students. When school opens on January 4, a new teacher will take Miss Hastings' place, Miss Iris McGee of Oklahoma a friend of Miss Olive Pearson. Miss McGee has a B. S. degree from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, has taught six years, and attended the C. E. Convention in London.

Mrs. English will entertain the P. T. A. at her home Thursday afternoon, December 30. Let all forget work and worry and meet together that day for a pleasant time, for it is the happy Christmas season.

Carl W. Grenn died December 15, at 9 o'clock, and was buried in the Lutheran cemetery at 9 o'clock Saturday, December 18. There was a short service at the house, Lutheran funeral services at the church, and burial rites at the grave.

Mr. Green leaves a brother in Mississippi, a sister and brother in Chicago, three sisters and a brother live here. Edward Grenn of Mississippi attended the funeral. Mrs. Turngren and Sam Grenn of Chicago did not receive their telegrams in time to attend. Miss Marie Grenn, Mrs. Conrad Carlson, Miss Ida Grenn, and Andrew Grenn, all of whom live here, attended.

Carl Wilhelm Grenn was born October 19, 1863, in Smaaland, Jon Kjopings Lehn, Swenden, and came to America in 1904, coming to the state of Mississippi, where they lived until 1907, when they moved to Thorsby, and have resided on their property north of town ever since.

Mr. Grenn married Miss Mthilda Zakrisson in 1893. They have no children, but a foster-daughter they had died in 1915 at the age of 17 years. Her name was Hilma Marie Ingeborg.

Mr. Grenn was a faithful member of the Swedish Concordia church, always in his seat. We shall miss him much, especially for his fervent faith and childlike observance of same—praying, as he did, that God would take him to Himself in Heaven. Rest in Peace!

Mrs. Grenn wishes to thank all relatives and friends for sympathy, flowers, help, or other attentions extended during these trying days.

The topic for the Christian Endeavor for December 19 was "How Can We Express the Christmas Spirit?" Eva Mae Lynch was the leader. The meeting was opened by singing "Joy to the World." A portion of every meeting has been set aside for the Expert Endeavor class. Mr. Each was the teacher for last Sunday. Mr. Maddox lead devotions. Special music was rendered by Miss Agnes Gerald, who sang "The Lowly Nazarene."

No Repetitions for Hubby

A few months ago an English illustrated paper published a joke which struck me as having merit. When I repeated it in company of a gentleman who is supposed to know nearly all the jokes in the world he told me that in slightly different guise the same wheeze was current on the Pacific coast twenty years ago. He may or may not have been wrong. In any event, I like the British version.

A couple from the country have come up to London for a week's visit. They have seats in the first gallery for a performance of a society drama. To them the play proves exceedingly tiresome. In one of the intervals the husband, stifling a yawn, turns to his deeply bored wife:

"What comes next?" he asks.

She consults the program.

"It says 'ere, 'Act four, sime as Act one.'"

"Ow!" he exclaims, "let's 'op it. I couldn't sit through all the hawful mess again."

Lawrence C. Johnson, principal of the Chilton County Training School, has just returned from Tuskegee Institute, with new ideas and information for the boys and farmers of his vocational class. He has been attending a 2-days conference of instruction under the direction f J. B. Hobdy, State Director of Agricultural Education. There were speakers on the program, and a good conference is reported.

NOTICE

To C. B. Brown, Take Notice:

That whereas on the 15th day of December, 1926, F. J. Callen, as president of the Peoples Savings Bank, a corporation, complained to me, as Clerk of the Circuit Court in and for Chilton County, Alabama, that, C. B. Brown was justly indebted to Peoples Savings Bank, a corporation, in the sum of $438.54, which affidavit was made as required by law in such cases.

And, whereas, on said 15th day of December, 1926, there was issued out of the said Circuit Court of Chilton County, a writ of attachment in said cause directing the Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, to attach so much of the estate of said C. B. Brown, as would be sufficient to satisfy said demand and costs.

And, whereas, on said 15th day of December, 1926, the sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, did levy said attachment on the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the North side of the Montgomery and Birmingham Highway where said highway crosses the line dividing the lands now owned by C. R. Mullins and P. D. Wilson and running thence in a Northerly direction along said line a distance of 200 feet,, more or less, to the North line of the NW 1-4 of the SE 1-4 of Section 35, Township 22, Range 14, and running thence East along said line 75 feet; thence in a Southerly direction and parallel with the line between the land of C. R. Mullins and P. D. Wilson to the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway; thence in a Westerly direction along said highway 75 feet to the point of beginning. Said lot of land being and lying in the NW 1-4 of the SE 1-4 of Section 35, Township 22, Range 14. Also Lots No. 1 and No. 2 in Block No. 1, of the J. W. P. Murphy addition to the Town of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, as the same appears of record in the office of the Judge of Probate of said county, and lots No. 1 and No. 2 in Block No. 2 of the above described addition to the Town of Clanton, situated in Chilton County, Alabama. One red Mare eight years old, named Maude.

And, whereas, on said 15th day of December, 1926, the said Sheriff did make return of said writ and levy, as required by law.

The said writ is based upon a claim for money loaned and the writ of attachment is issued on the ground that the said defendant C. B. Brown, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and said writ was issued without bond.

Witness my hand this the 21st day of December, 1926.

BOY SHOOTS BROTHER THROUGH A MISTAKE

A young man by the name of Dugless was shot through mistake by his brother Tuesday night about midnight on Hatchett creek across the river in Coosa County.

Reports say that the two Dugless boys and another boy, school boys from Birmingham, were camping on Hatchett creek. About midnight they hear some wild geese going over. One of the Dugless boys grabbed a pump gun and went down near the creek. The other brother went another way and was stooped down about a boat. The boy with the gun saw the boy stooped down there and thought he was a wild animal of some kind and shot him with the pump gun. The boy's arm and side were sprinkled right sharply, but was not thought to be seriously hurt.

The three boys got in a motor boat and went down to Mitchell Dam. Mr. Benziger took the boys in a car and brought them to Clanton. They went from here to Birmingham.

NEW ICE MACHINERY BEING INSTALLED

Work is now under way toward the installation of some new ice-making machinery at the plant of the Clanton Ice Co.

"New machinery is arriving daily," says Mr. John Pierce Wade. "We hope to make better ice in the future than we have in the past, due to the many improvements which we shall have done by the time the rush season starts."

ENTERPRISE HIGH SWAMPS COLLINS CHAPEL 24 TO 12

Enterprise and Collins Chapel engaged in a basket ball game on the former's court Friday, December 17, Enterprise winning, 24 to 12.

Enterprise scored first, followed by Collins Chapel, then Enterprise took the lead and held it for the remainder of the game.

Stroud at forward, and Taylor and Neeley, guards, starred for Enterprise, Stroud finding the ring for 18 of Enterprise's 24 counters. Vance was good at center, also. For Collins Chapel, Retherford played the court fine, and Mims was good at forward.

Following is Enterprise's line-up. The line-up of Collins Chapel is not known:

Player	Score	Position
Stroud	18	Forward
Martin	0	Forward
Vance	4	Center
Neeley	1	Guard
Taylor	1	Guard

Referees—Weldon (Enterprise) & Edwards (Clanton).

LIBERTY HILL

The Liberty Hill - Cedar Grove Singing Society met here Sunday afternoon, with a good crowd out. The president being absent, Mr. D. T. Melton acted as chairman. We had with us Prof. R. A. Smith of Birmingham. Prof. Smith is one of the best singers in the state, and we are always glad to have him with us. Directors were D. T. Melton, R. A. Smith, Kermit Lowery, Leonard Culp, and Harrison Hayes. Organists were Leonard Culp and Misses Lucile Price, Onzell Eiland, and Leila Martin. The singing was good, and everyone present seemed to enjoy it.

We will meet at Cedar Grove next Sunday afternoon and elect new officers for next year. All members of the society are requested to come. Vistitors are invited also. We meet at Liberty Hill the first and third Sunday afternoons, and at Cedar Grove the second and fourth.—Sec'y.

DOUBLE RIBBON CANE

Mr. J. F. Rawlinson of Pletcher has the distinction of bringing in Monday a unique stalk of ribbon cane. It is a normal size stalk of cane and a sucker grew from the fifth joint from the ground nearly as long as the main stalk.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT STANTON

There will be a fiddlers convention at Stanton Junior High School on Friday night, December 24, at 7:30.

Cash prizes will be awarded, and supper will be served to all contestants. All fiddlers are invited to come and take part in the contest. Everybody invited to come and have a good time. We will have an oyster supper, and other refreshments.

This is given for benefit of the school. Admission, 20c and 35c.—H. A. Harris, Principal.

You may drive in with a Grouch ---We'll send you out With a Smile---

It's not the way a man feels when he drives into a garage, it's the way he feels when he drives out that counts.

If your car isn't working right; if it snorts and spits and sputters and fires back thru the muffler; if it shakes and rattles and vibrates until your teeth chatter, you have a right to feel grouchy. But the trouble is not serious—it is caused by faulty, warped, leaky valves. They give you an uneven compression. That throws the motor out of balance and causes most of the auto's ailments. Ever think of that? Fact!

Properly centered, faced and properly seated valves will do more to put pep and performance in a car than any other one thing you can do for it. Have your valves properly serviced—we can do it—and she'll purr like a tabby cat before a grate fire. We have installed the most scientific, the most complete and more modern method of servicing motor valves that has ever been devised. It is the KWIK-WAY SYSTEM and it sure does the business. Steer your auto this way and give us a trial. We'll send you out with a smile. Do that TODAY.

R. F. ATKINSON WRITES ABOUT DEMONSTRATOR

Editor Union-Banner:

May I have my say about a farm demonstrator or county agent?

If there ever was a time when the people of Chilton County needed someone to tell them what to do for a money crop other than cotton for next year, that time is now. What we need, as I see it, is a man to get a market for things we already know how to grow. Let's stay out of secret order meetings with its dues and pass-words. The same leaders will be there to get themselves elected President, Secretary, and Treasurer—especially Treasurer.

In other counties of this state they have a competent county agent. His job is not to tell farmers how to produce things other than cotton for a money crop, unless you need his advice, but to arrange the best market price, and to get pay when the produce is delivered. It is practiced in many other towns in this state, and has the backing of the bankers and business men. Co-operative marketing, except for a few, will never be a success in Chilton County, unless we get our pay when we make delivery. This can be done easily—if a packer in St. Louis wants a car of hogs, it would be the agent's job to secure an order at top prices, set a hog day for Chilton County farmers—every one who has a hog for sale take it to town, weigh, deliver, and get his pay check, with the same procedure for cattle. I am sure the commissioners would provide pens, etc., and scales to use until a car was loaded.

These are some of the things a county agent is supposed to do. Some seem to think his job is to show us how to grow more crops, and nothing else. Hog or cattle days could be set for certain towns, like, Jemison—Monday, Thorsby—Tuesday, Clanton—Wednesday, etc.

Mr. Editor, let's not vote no to hiring a man who knows more than we do, at least until we can meet and talk these things over with a man who knows how to get a cash market and pays us in our own home town the day we make delivery. Let's request our commissioners to set a day for a mass meeting at the court house. We will be doing as they have done in other parts of the state, and they are going right ahead.—R. F. Atkinson.

PLAN CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

A meeting of about 25 citizens was held at the courthouse last Saturday for the purpose of perfecting a co-operative association for the benefit of the agricultural interests of the county.

Jasper N. Dennis presided at the meeting and C. E. Marcus served as secretary. After briefly stating the purpose of the meeting, Mr. Dennis called on Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of the Clanton Baptist church, to sound the key note of the meeting. Dr. Ezell brought to the small assembly of men one of the most practical and important addresses the writer has ever heard. It was brim full of the most logical statements relating to the present conditions of the farmers of the county, and the unquestionable reason for their sad plight. Dr. Ezell spoke not only from practical experience as a farmer, having been born and reared on a farm, but from a sound theoretical experience acquired by a full 4-year course at South Carolina State Agricultural College. Summing up Dr. Ezell's address, we find but two major solutions to our agricultural difficulties in Chilton County — diversified farming and co-operative marketing. Dr. Ezell said: "Where we are making our fatal mistake, is that we are trying to clothe the country, when we should be trying to feed it." He pointed out that we were in the center of a great population, that we were ideally located and in better position to grow food and food products than most any other section of the United States. Yet we were trying to compete with such states as Texas and Oklahoma in growing cotton, which, he said, was impossible because one man can profitably cultivate from 40 to 60 acres of cotton in these 2 states on a riding cultivator, without high priced fertilizer, while from 10 to 15 acres was all that one man could possibly cultivate in this country. He quoted from statistics printed a few weeks ago in The Union-Banner, which showed that Chilton County citizens spent almost $600,000 for corn, hay, sweet and Irish potatoes, syrup, and meat, which it failed to raise in this county last year. "Irish potatoes alone, one of our most essential foods, can be raised in abundance in this county," he said. "We raised just a little over 1,000 bushels in this county last year and consumed 25,000 bushels. Today we are paying $3.00 per bushel for them."

After Dr. Ezell concluded, several others spoke, each speaker pointing out the need for organization. Finally a resolution was offered that an organization be formed in this county, which was carried unanimously. The resolution was as follows:

Resolved: That, it is the sense of this meeting that an organization be formed in this county for the promotion of the agricultural, industrial, commercial, civic, and social life of this county.

After the adoption of this resolution, the following committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws: J. N. Dennis, chairman; Dr. S. J. Ezell, S. J. Weldon, W. J. Billingsley, and C. E. Marcus. This committee had its first meeting at the court house last Tuesday afternoon and will report on Friday, January 31, at a general meeting which is also scheduled to meet at the courthouse at 10 o'clock on that day. Every citizen of the county who is interested in this important and progressive step is cordially invited and urged to attend this meeting.—C. E. Marcus.

Rev. G. B. Golden and family leave this week for their new home near Troy. Their future address will be Troy, Ala., Route 2. For the past few years Rev. Golden has been pastor at Walnut Creek. His many friends in this vicinity wish him and his family good luck.

Power Company Will Spend $2,500,000

Conversion of Tallassee Dam into Major Operation to Keep 1,000 Men Busy.

Approximately $2,500,000 will be expended in plans announced by President Martin of the Alabama Power Company, for converting the upper Tallassee dam, on the Tallapoosa River, seven miles below Martin Dam, into a major development by increasing its height from 36 to 57 feet, and its capacity from 8,500 to an initial installed capacity of 50,000 horsepower.

The plans call for a construction camp, located below Upper Tallassee dam and above a project that will come in at a later date, the announcement just made being to the effect that the lower Tallassee dam will also be converted into a major development when the work on the upper project is completed. The construction camp will be built to house 1,000 men.

Provision will be made to install a third unit on the Tallassee dam of 25,000 horsepower later, if it is found desirable to do so. Work on the project is to begin early in 1927.

In the reconstruction of these two dams an interesting engineering feature is brought out in that the storage capacity of Lake Martin, 60,000,000,000 cubic feet of water, will increase the primary capacity at a time when the Coosa River is at its lowest stage. During the low water period water from Lake Martin will be released through the Martin Dam turbines, and this same water will keep the turbines of the two Tallassee dams in more constant operation, performing a triple service at a time when the big generators on the Coosa River will be idle or partially so, for lack of sufficient water.

The credit of being the first hydroelectric plant of any consequence in Alabama is given the upper Tallassee dam. It was constructed in 1896 by Henry C. Jones and other citizens of Montgomery. It was operated by the Montgomery Light & Water Power Company until 1919, when it was partially washed away by floods of that year. When the Alabama Power Company took over the holdings of the Montgomery company, in 1923, the upper Tallassee project was included. It was immediately reconstructed and put back into commission by the new owners in 1924, but its capacity was not increased at the time.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Vance celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Christmas day at their home 2 miles west of Clanton on Christmas Day. They have been blessed with 8 children, 6 girls and 2 boys, who are all married; they were all present. They have 24 grandchildren, 15 of whom were present; one is dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance received many gifts from children and grandchildren.

Several neighbors and friends who are not relatives were present at the celebration.—A Granddaughter.

29 PERSONS LYNCHED IN 1926 IN UNITED STATES

The Union-Banner has received the following statistics concerning lynchings during the past year, as compiled by Tuskegee Institute, in the Department of Records and Research:

There were 29 persons lynched in 1926. This is 13 more than the 16 for 1925; 13 more than the 16 for 1924; 4 less than the 33 for 1923; and 28 less than the 57 for 1922. The courts had acquitted 1 of the victims, 20 were taken from the hands of the law, 8 from jails, and 12 from officers of the law outside of jails; 2 of the persons lynched were women.

There were 33 instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings; 4 of these were in Northern states and 29 in Southern states. In 27 of the cases the prisoners were removed or the guards augmented or other precautions taken. In 6 other instances armed force was used to repel the would-be lynchers. In 4 instances during the year persons charged with being connected with lynching mobs were indicted. Of the 34 persons thus before the courts, 9 were sentenced to the penitentiary, 8 for terms ranging from 4 to 20 years, and 1 for life.

Of the 29 persons lynched, there were 22 negroes, 6 whites, and 1 Indian; 5 or less than 17% of those put to death were charged with rape or attempted rape. The offenses charged were: murder, 8; rape, 2; attempted rape, 3; killing officer of the law, 5; wounding officer of the law, 2; attacking woman, 1; insulting woman, 1; frightening woman, 1; burglary, 1; charge not reported, 5.

The states in which lynchings occurred and the number in each state are: Arkansas, 2; Florida, 8; Georgia, 1; Kentucky, 1; Mississippi, 4; New Mexico, 1; South Carolina, 3; Tennessee, 1; Texas, 7; Virginia, 1.

HON. PERCY M. PITTS

Mr. Pitts is Chilton County's representative in the legislature of Alabama. He is now in Montgomery attending the special session which convened at noon on Tuesday. Mr. Pitts is one of the two Republicans in the legislature now.

Public Roads Meeting at Court House Tuesday, January 4th

The commissioners court of Chilton County, and also the two members elect of said court, wish to advise all people in Chilton County who are interested in roads, that there will be a public roads meeting in the court house on Tuesday, January 4, 1927. One session will be held at 10:00 o'clock a. m., and the other will be at 1:00 o'clock p. m. This will give all a chance to be present at said meeting, either at the morning or afternoon session.

We urge every person who is interested in roads to come to the meeting as we are contemplating making some changes in the working system and we want the advice and assistance of all interested.

We especially urge you to make any suggestions as to improving the system in the county, and also voicing any criticisms that you might have that will in any way help to improve the system, and thus get better roads for our county.

The commissioners court feels that many improvements have been made on the roads of the county and realizes that there are many yet to be made. However, with the co-operation of the good people of the county in this matter, stirred by a good public meeting on the above date, we think this will have a great influence for the betterment of our roads in Chilton County in the future.

We trust that all who can will be present at one or the other meetings on said date. Would be glad to have reply with any suggestions or criticisms you care to make. We want your advice and help on improving the roads.

Prosperity Seen By Mr. Mellon For Year 1927

Washington, Dec. 27.—The nation is riding a high tide of prosperity and most of the factors underlying the present business situation are apparently sound and warrant optimism for the new year.

This forecast was made by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, amplifying present optimistic reports to Congress that "prosperity is continuing" and that "we may look forward to another satisfactory year."

"Although business activity has been accelerated," said Secretary Mellon, "the credit situation has remained in a healthy condition and unsound expansion has been avoided.

"Corporate profits are running higher than for any previous year since 1919. While production has been high, it has been, as a rule, well adjusted to the rate of consumption and has not resulted in a general accumulation or large stocks."

Secretary Mellon's terse summary of economic conditions indicates America will go into the new year probably under more favorable circumstances than have existed at any time since the World War.

America's ascendancy into world commercial and financial supremacy is not due to any reflex of the war, it was pointed out. Secretary Mellon feels that no war except one in which vast territories are taken in conquest benefits a nation economically. The war, on the other hand, was one of the tremendous losses for this country, as illustrated by the jump of $25,000,000,000 in the public debt.

OLD TIME SINGING AT COURT HOUSE

We ask all singers of both the Harp and Harmony and the modern song books to meet at the court house on the second Sunday in January, 1927, for the purpose of holding a song service; the books to be used are Sacred Harp, and Christian Harmony.

We propose to organize on that day and hold our singings once a month at the court house in Clanton. Our county officials have promised their cooperation, and to have the house in readiness for the occasion on each second Sunday.

We ask all singers and ministers of the Gospel to meet with us on these occasions.—A. A. Jackson, J. Riley Scott, W. B. Cooper, J. M. Williams, W. Q. Sanders.

Mr. Claud C. Driskill, cashier of the Bank of Thorsby, was in Clanton a short while Tuesday. He came here to board a fast train for Birmingham, where he was going on a business mission.

Elijah Weldon Missing Since Last Thursday

Clanton's biggest holiday sensation was the disappearance of Mr. Elijah T. Weldon, prominent business man, who has not been seen nor heard of since last Thursday afternoon, when he boarded the northbound bus saying that he was going to Birmingham.

Members of his family and close business associates understood that it was Mr. Weldon's intention to go to Birmingham Thursday night to purchase some stock for his store, spend the night with his brother who lives in Birmingham, and return to Clanton Friday morning. Every possible clue has been investigated to find out why he did not carry out his intentions, but no light has been shed upon the mystery at the time of this writing.

No information has been obtained concerning his trip on the bus. It has not been definitely established that he did get on the bus in Clanton nor whether he rode the bus to Birmingham or got off at some place between here and there.

Mr. Weldon has been an active business man in Clanton for a number of years. He was proprietor of the Starr Music Store. If anyone has any information as to his whereabouts, the members of his family will appreciate being notified about it.

Everything is in readiness for the meeting of the citizens which is to be held at the court house tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to organize a co-operative association.

Since the meeting held two weeks ago, a committee has been working on a constitution and by-laws to present to the assembly tomorrow. Jasper N. Dennis is the chairman of the committee, which is composed of the following members: Dr. S. J. Ezell, J. S. Weldon, W. J. Billingsley, and C. E. Marcus.

While the full text of the proposed constitution and by-laws will not be made public until the general meeting tomorrow, members of the committee said the major points it covered were diversified faming and co-operative marketing.

The greater the co-operation the greater the results will be, and it is for this reason that every citizen of the county is urged to attend this meeting tomorrow.

Those having the meeting in hand said Wednesday that the meeting would be strictly a business meeting, and that there would be no burdensome oratory. If the proposed constitution and by-laws are adopted at the meeting tomorrow, officers for the coming year will be elected as well as a board of directors. The present plan calls for the election of one director from each precinct in the county.

40 PEOPLE KILLED CHRISTMAS DAY THROUGHOUT SOUTH

As Many More Injured in Holiday Accidents; Alabama Has Six.

The South's celebration of Christmas was not without its tragedies, it was shown yesterday in reports received at Montgomery of 40 persons dead from accidents and shootings and equally as many injured.

Deaths and injuries attending the discharge of pyrotechnics were reported to be at a minimum although firearms exacted a heavy toll. Seven persons, four white and three negroes, were shot to death in Florida, while two men drowned, a young girl burned to death when her clothing was ignited by a match with which she was playing, and a negro man crushed to death brought the peninsular state's death toll to 11.

Alabama's death list mounted to six, one death and four injured at Mobile, four deaths reported by Birmingham, and Montgomery one, while many persons were injured to varying degrees over the state.

South Carolina reported five deaths and five injuries atrributable to the Christmas celebrations. Four of these injured in that state were victims of a bomb explosion. Georgia had five persons.

Kentucky and her sister state Tennessee, reported four deaths each while Louisiana and Virginia had three. North Carolina and Mississippi reported one fatality each, although the latter had 13 persons injured.

GEORGE CULP EMPLOYED TO OPERATE CENTRAL FOR PEOPLES TELEPHONE CO.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Peoples Telephone Company, Monday, Mr. and Mrs. George Culp were employed to operate the central office of the company in Clanton for the year 1927. The contract with Mr. Culp also includes the work of keeping up the lines both in Clanton and in the country. Under the plan which has been adopted for 1927 every phone holder who pays central fee will have his phone line kept in working order from the central office to his door. The fee for such service has been set at $5 for residence phones and $7 for business phones.

Mr. and Mrs. Culp are not strangers to the people of this county. They have operated the central office in former years, and are familiar with the work. During the past few years Mr. and Mrs. Culp have lived in Birmingham. They will move back to Clanton this week and be ready to take up their work here on the first of January.

The officers of the Peoples Telephone Company now are W. W. Fox, president; J. N. Dennis, vice president; G. O. Foshee, secretary and treasurer; board of directors, J. M. Robinson, J. E. Littlejohn, G. W. Willis, H. W. Devaughn, W. M. Wyatt.

The time limit which has been set for the payment of central fees is January 15, 1927.

Big Crowd Ready For Session of Legislature

Solons Poured into Montgomery last Monday from All Parts of the State.

Montgomery, Dec. 28.—For the first time in the history of Alabama a new legislature went into special session at the call of the old governor when the gavels sounded in the hall of the house and senate chamber at noon Tuesday.

Many members of the legislature were already in Montgomery. The lobby of Exchange Hotel, long the political center of the commonwealth, is packed with those who will take part in the special session or those who have pet measures they hope to have enacted into laws.

Twenty-four hours before the session officially opened there was no indication of the result of the contest for speaker of the house. Confidence in the outcome is expressed by all candidates—Judge Hugh D. Merrill, Col. J. Lee Long, Oscar L. Tompkins, and John A. Darden. It is regarded as improbable that any person will win on the first ballot, and it is possible that several ballots will be needed.

There has been much talk of a combination of the various candidates after the first ballot, but if any agreement has been reached the public has not been advised. It is recalled that Judge Merrill was elected speaker of the last house on the second ballot after Charles B. Verner had withdrawn and had requested his supporters to turn to Judge Merrill. As a result of this combination Mr. Long was defeated.

The same bitter rivalry now exists between Judge Merrill and Mr. Long, with Mr. Tompkins holding the balance of power. If a deadlock is entered friends of Mr. Tompkins believe he will have a chance; however, they admit that Judge Merrill and Mr. Long have a greater number of votes pledged.

Old time politicians believe the special session will be a tame affair with action only on those measures proposed by Governor-elect Bibb Graves and the bill which will be presented by Senator Teasley and will call for an increase in the governor's salary from $7,500 to $10,000 a year.

Supporters of the governor-elect declare that the new administration has been assured of sufficient votes to ratify the legislative program, which calls for a special election on April 12 on a 25-million-dollar bond issue for road construction and the imposition at once of a special tax of two cents on each gallon of gasoline sold in Alabama. These are the only measures that will be proposed by the new administration.

Legislative leaders are hopeful that the special session can be brought to an end with the fifth legislative day, which will be either Saturday or Monday. Five session must be held before any bill can become law and even then it will be necessary to pass the bill in one house and give its first reading in the other on the same date. However, this has been done many times.

If a deadlock is created by the speakership contest the session will be prolonged.

THE SAXOPHONE IS 80 YEARS OLD

The saxophone, inexorably tied up with modern youth and this jazz age, is really the product of grandfather's day, according to the Conn Music Center, of Elkhart, Ind., which is observing the 80th anniversary of the birth of the saxophone. The saxophone was invented and patented in 1846.

The inventor of the saxophone and after whom the instrument was named, was Antoine Joseph Sax, born in Dinant, Belgium, November 6, 1814, the son of a celebrated instrument maker. Young Sax entered Brussels Conservatory of Music at an early age to study the clarinet and flute, but the work bench soon claimed him as his love for mechanics grew, and he came to devote his genius to the improvement of musical instruments. He later went to Paris, where he met with great success in perfecting instruments. The saxophone was patented in 1846. Jealous persons sought to prevent him from getting due credit for his invention, and due to their scheming, his factory passed out of his hands under the auctioneer's block. He died at the age of 80 almost penniless.

The saxophone might have been but another musical instrument, but for the efforts of E. A. LeFebre, the famous European clarinetist, who is responsible for the present day popularity of the saxophone. LeFebre had known Sax in Paris and promised to devote his life to making the new instrument known everywhere. The clarinetist came to America, and during his attention to his friend's instrument, became America's foremost saxophone virtuoso. He toured North and South America, continuing his concert work with but one intermission until his death in 1911.

The saxophone today is the most popular of all instruments. Approximately 400,000 persons in the United States alone now play this instrument. The popularity of the saxophone is attributed largely to the fact that it is one of the easiest instruments to master, and that its tone approaches most closely the human voice.

HOME CURING OF MEAT EXPLAINED

Answering questions as to how to cure meat properly at home, animal husbandmen of the Agricultural College here say that the time to begin curing pork is as soon as it is cool and while it is still fresh, or 24 to 48 hours after killed. The essential ingredients to be used in the process of meat curing are: fine salt, brown sugar, and saltpeter, in the proportion of 8 pounds of salt, 3 ounces of saltpeter, and 3 pounds of sugar or molasses.

These ingredients should be mixed thoroughly and divided into two equal parts, one part being rubbed on the meat directly after cutting. The meat should be placed skin side down in a barrel or oak box. Two small holes should be bored in the bottom of the box or barrel to allow the juice, which the salt draws out of the meat, to drain off.

In 7 days unpack, rub on the other part of the mixture, and pack again. Allow the meat to remain in the cure; hams 3 days per pound, bacon and shoulders 2 to 2½ days per pound, according to size. The meat should be kept in a cool, sweet-smelling room preferably a cellar.

When the cure is finished the meat should be soaked in lukewarm water for 15 minutes and hung up with a strong white cord. Hay wire, binder twine, or tar-soaked twine of any kind should never be used as it impairs the flavor and appearance of the meat. The meat should be allowed to dry for at least 12 hours before the smoking is started. The pieces should be hung so that they will not touch each other, and smoked with hickory wood until a rich amber color is obtained. In case hickory wood is not available, maple, apple, or oak may be used. The temperature should never be permitted to get above 120 degrees Fahrenheit, and the fire never be permitted to blaze.

Proper curing and smoking greatly improves the quality of pork and increases its value either for home use or for sale.

Raft Is Riverman's Funeral Car

JAMES BARTON, proprietor of a famous towing-path inn between Oxford and Iffly in England, fell from his raft recently and was drowned. In keeping with his vocation, his funeral car was the same raft. It was polled along the river by his sons, the flower-bedecked casket resting in its center, and thus taken to an Iffly church for services. Photo above shows the unique funeral procession as it approached the church.

STATE FORESTS PROVIDE FINE PICNIC GROUNDS

Outdoor recreation has forged to the front as one of the principal uses of the Alabama State Forests, says a stataement issued by the Commission of Forestry. In this connection these areas substantially fulfill the purpose of woodland parks.

The law authorizes the State to accept gifts of land for State Forest purposes. While such tracts are used primarily to demonstrate the methods of reforestation and forest management, the law also permits of their use for the realizing of any of the numerous benefits that accrue from the eistence of forests and woodlands.

Since the protection, engineering development and administration of forests and wild land parks are substantially the same, the use of such areas for recreational purposes is wholly in harmony with the other uses of the same lands. While the State Forests of Alabama are still very few in number and of small acreage, they have already been visited by thousands of citizens and tourists. The observation towers erected on some of these sites have attracted numerous visitors, while others have been greatly interested in the nursery and forest planting projects. Camping and picnicking are among the chief recreational uses of State Forests.

NEW CEDRON

The singing society met at this place last Sunday afternoon and some real good singing was enjoyed. All seemed to be hungry for some good singing, and we were indeed glad to see the interest manifest such as the New Cedron showed.

Directors were Clem Billingsley, A. D. Huett, Mrs. Lonza Baker, Rena Devaughn, Clarence Billingsley, Horace Williams, Audry Johnson, Ozella Brown. A quartet was rendered by Clem Billingsley, A. D. Huett, Clarence Billingsley, and Miss Susie Huett. We were dismissed by Bro. E. E. Edwards.

Everybody remember that we will have singing at this place each fourth Sunday afternoon, beginning promptly at 2 o'clock.—A. D. Huett.

PRODUCTION COSTS MUST BE LOWER

Looking into the future of agriculture, officials of the Extension Service and Agricultural College of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute say that with low prices of cotton and cotton production west of the Mississippi River on the increase, farmers in Alabama who expect to keep on making cotton must give special attention to reducing the cost of production.

Although this fact has been known for many years, it has been forcibly demonstrated this year. In addition to reducing their cotton acreage in 1927 it is pointed out that successful farmers must plant the best yielding varieties, use fertilizer to the best advantage, and apply the best methods in preparing the soil and cultivating the crop.

The demand for producing cotton at a low cost has been enhanced recently by the introduction of a sledding outfit for gathering cotton in Texas and Oklahoma. It is reported that two men and a team and one of these outfits can gather 4 or 5 bales of cotton in one day. It is done by stripping the bolls from the plant, which results in lowering the grade, but still the cost of gathering cotton this way is very low.

It may be that this outfit will be used in Alabama and other states east of the Mississippi, but the fact remains that on large areas in Texas and Oklahoma, cotton can be produced at a much lower cost than farmers east of the Mississippi River are now making it; and if they expect to stay in the business on a profitable basis more efficient production methods must be adopted.

FAMILY IN IOWA IS RICH IN CHILDREN

Glidden, Iowa, Dec. 27.—The largest family in all Iowa—and one of the largest in the country, lives out here on a farm a little way from Glidden—the Jan Peters family, father, mother, and 20 children, without a set of twins or triplets among them—and all church members who are old enough to join a church.

Mr. Peters is 53. Mrs. Peters is 48. They were married in 1896, 30 years ago. The oldest child is 29. The youngest is 2. There's never been a death in the family, and the children have never had a serious illness—nothing but the usual infantile diseases.

Views On Farm Demonstrator From State Experiment Station

Auburn, Ala., Dec. 27.—To meet the demands for and render service needed by farmers, the county agents and other members of the Extension Service staff of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute have devoted a very large portion of their time during the last several years to the marketing of farm products, according to a summary and study of the work made by Prof. L. N. Duncan, director.

An analysis of better marketing work in Alabama reveals that practically all of it has been done in the last decade and that a very large portion of it has come during the last five years.

County agents have played a very important part in it because successful agriculture demands the right kind of marketing as well as the right kind of production. The original Smith-Lever Act passed by Congress and creating county agency work intended that the county agents should help farmers with their marketing as well as with production.

Experience has proven the wisdom of assisting with marketing. Prof. Duncan is convinced that the best way to help farmers to diversify is to help them to market products after they produce them. Without a good market for the products produced by farmers, diversified farming is certain to fail.

Examples of the effects of better marketing on production are lamb and turkey sales made in Alabama in 1926 under the direction of the county agents and the county Farm Bureaus. Last spring and summer 1,800 Alabama lambs were sold cooperatively by these agencies and the farmers were so well pleased with the price received that they brought in 3,000 ewes to increase production. Without a good market for their lambs this would not have been done.

For the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets 13 carloads of Alabama turkeys were sold cooperatively by the county agents and the Farm Bureaus, and turkey producers were so well pleased with the results that present indications point to a turkey business in 1927 twice as large as that of 1926.

Back before the war when hog production in southeast Alabama had reached large proportions, county agents saved farmers thousands of dollars by helping them to establish local cooperative marketing selling organizations which enabled farmers to grade their hogs and sell them in carloads at the best market prices. These cooperative sales are still in progress, although hog production is not as large in that section as it was some years ago. High price cotton caused farmers to change from hogs to cotton. However, those farmers who stuck to hogs are finding them very profitable this year.

In Marshall County where strawberries, potatoes, tomatoes, and other truck crops are grown, County Agent Eric Alsobrook has given special assistance in marketing these crops.

In the future, as in the past, Prof. Duncan says that it will be the policy of the county agents to stress better marketing. It is unfair to ask farmers to produce crops and then not help them to sell. Then, too, the farmer who has a good market for his products is encouraged to produce. Therefore, a good market is the big need, and this the county agents will continue to do their part in providing.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

IRA S. CROWE THANKS HIS CUSTOMERS

Editor Union-Banner:

Through courtesy extended me by the grand old paper, I wish to have each and every one know that I am really and truly thankful to them for their patronage given me while connected with the Clanton Cash Store, as I am now resigning and expect to return to Birmingham. But as I go away, I am glad to say that I enjoyed every hour spent in Clanton. It was a pleasure to me to serve so good a people as this county affords. I have been engaged in retail mercantile business for the past four and one-half years, but I can truthfully say that the four months spent here were the most desirable of all. In going about from place to place I was never received by any one with a warmer friendship than that with which the people of good old Clanton received me. I shall never forget them. As I go away I am subscribing for The Union-Banner as I would feel lost without it or the people, one or the other, and I am hoping that the opportunity may be mine to come back again and make this my home.

I am also glad to say that my successor, Mr. Wm. J Mims, will be equally as glad to serve you, and will make a special effort to please each and every one, and I hope for him even more success than I have had. I urge you to call on him and get acquainted, as he is a very friendly man.

Again thanking you for your splendid patronage, and the editor for the space allotted to me, I am, Yours sincerely,—Ira S. Crowe.

The Pick of the Crowd

A planter living a few miles from a small city in one of the lower cotton states called up the police judge on the long-distance telephone.

"Say, judge," he said, "I just got word that my house boy, Jim, went to town last night and got in a row and hit another darkey with a brick, and was locked up. I need that boy, and I wish as a favor to me you'd let him go when he comes up today before you. If you think he ought to pay a fine let me know what it is tonight at lodge meeting and I'll hand the amount to you."

"All right," answered the judge. "I'm willing to do anything in reason, but you'll have to come in here and pick out your own nigger."

"Lord, man," remonstrated the planter, "I can't take the time off to go into the police station today! I'm as busy as a bird dog right this minute."

"Can't help it," answered his honor. "I can't afford to take any more chances. Here, just the other day, Colonel Talbert, down at Palmetto, called me up the same as you've done today and asked me to turn loose one of his hands that was in the calaboose for shooting craps. I agreed to do it, but I plumb forgot the nigger's name, and to make sure of getting the right one and not disappointing Talbert I had to turn loose every nigger on the docket.

"There were fourteen of 'em in all—and one of 'em was charged with murder, too. It made a lot of talk, and the chief of police kicked about it. If you want your nigger you come get him!"

COMMISSIONERS CALL GOOD ROADS MEETING FOR JAN. 4

On the front page of this issue of The Union-Banner we are carrying a letter from the Probate Judge and Commissioners calling a meeting at the court house on Tuesday, January 4, for the purpose of discussing road matters. The public is urged to meet with the commissioners and discuss road matters.

The commissi ners contemplate some change in the road working program, and they want the voice of the people in regard to this matter. Our Commissioners Court has done some good work on the roads of the county, but they feel that there are still other things that might be done to the betterment of the roads. They are acting very wisely and impartially by calling a public meeting and giving their constituents a chance to give them their ideas of what is most needed.

The building and maintenance of the roads of Chilton County is a tremendous job and it takes lots of thought as well as time and money to keep them going

Read the call of the commissioners for this meeting and set your stakes to come and discuss the matter with the court. Two sessions will be held during the day—one at 10 o'clock and the other at 1 o'clock. Make it a point to attend one of these sessions.

A Service to the Whole Land

In the early summer of 1918 three of us made a long trip by automobile to pay a visit to a colored regiment at the front in France. The results more than repaid us for the time and trouble. One of the main compensations was First Class Private Cooksey, who, because he had been an elevator attendant in a Harlem apartment house, gave his occupation in his enlistment blank as "indoor chauffeur." It was to First Class Private Cooksey that the colonel of the regiment, seeing the expression on the others' faces when a minenwerfer from a German mortar fell near by on the day the command moved up to the front, and made a hole in the earth deep enough and wide enough and long enough to hide the average smoke house in—it was, I repeat, to First Class Private Cooksey that the colonel put this question:

"Cooksey, if one of those things drops right here alongside of us and goes off, are you going to stay by me?'

"Kurnel," stated Cooksey with sincerity "I ain't aimin' to tell you no lie Ef one of them things busts clost to me, I'll jest natchelly be obliged to go away frum here. But please, suh, don't you set me down as no deserter. Jest put it in de book as 'Absent without leave,' 'cause I'll be back jest ez soon ez I kin git my brakes to work."

"But what if the enemy suddenly appears in force without any preliminary bombardment?" pressed the colonel. "What do you think you and the rest of the boys will do then?"

"Kurnel," said Cooksey, earnestly, "we may not stick by you, but we'll shore render one service, anyway; we'll spread the news all over France 'at th' Germans is comin'!"

He Didn't Believe in Signs

A fireman on duty behind the scenes of one of the big New York theaters and charged with the responsibility of seeing to it that the regulations were strictly obeyed back-stage, suffered a profound shock as he came around from behind a stack of scenery, just before the evening performance. Standing in the opposite wings was a salesman for an East side cloak and suit concern, who had procured entrance via the stage door for the purpose of soliciting orders for his wares among the young ladies of the chorus. This person was vehemently puffing on a large, long, black, malignant-looking cigar.

In three jumps the scandalized fireman had the violator by the arm.

"Say," he demanded, "what the h—l do you mean, comin' in here with that torch burnin' in your face? Don't you see that sign right up over your head?"

The trespasser's eyes turned where the fireman's finger pointed.

"Sure, mister," he said, "I see it."

"Well, can't you read?" demanded the fireman.

"Sure I can read," admitted the other calmly.

"Then read what it says there. Don't you see what it says in big letters? It says—'No Smoking.'"

"Yes," agreed the East Sider with a winning smile, "but it don't say 'Positively.'"

Urging on the Elements

Neil O'Brien, the minstrel man, told me that once he landed with a troupe in a Virginia town barely in time to give the customary street parade before the hour of the matinee. Outfitted for marching, the company piled off the train to find awaiting them at the depot a large reception committee of negroes.

Every darky in the crowd was anxious to get the job of carrying one of the show banners, not alone for the sake of the free pass paid in exchange for the duty but for the added glory of taking part in the procession.

This was a small and struggling troupe, however, which boasted but one banner—a large and ornate square of imitation red silk. A big negro grabbed it as the property man passed it off the car, and clung to it, fighting off all opposition.

As he started proudly up the street, with the flagpole resting in the pit of his stomach, a stiff breeze caught the banner and it bellied like a sail, almost dragging the color bearer off his feet and forcing him to back and jibe to keep from being capsized bodily.

Observing his plight a disappointed candidate for the same job raised his voice in invocation from the sidewalk: "Sic him, wind!" he yelled. "Sic him!"

"W-W-Wait Ah Minute — Yo All Is Two Slices Ahed Now!"

CALIFORNIA had a bumper crop of watermelons this year but not all of it got to market. A lot of the luscious fruit found its way into the tummies of small, dusky-hued boys who—evading the guards—made regular raids upon convenient patches for a feast of their favorite forbidden sweet.

Our alert photographer happened to come across the above pair of youthful "raiders" just when they were almost ready to start on the last half of a huge melon. But even the click of his camera didn't seem to disturb them. Either they didn't want to see him or they had "seeds in their ears" from digging into the big slices with their teeth. But, boy, how they did delight in that "watah-melan!"

WHAT IS WRONG WITH CHILTON COUNTY ?

Too many farmers had rather hear the exhaust of a "tin lizzie" than the squeal of a pig.

The average farmer will tell you that the reason he plants so much cotton is because it's the only crop he can make money out of; however, if you ask him confidentially how much he made from his cotton this year, he will tell you he lost money.

There are just two questions the farmer asks: "What will you give?"—when he wants to sell; and, "What will you take?"—when he wants to buy. Why is this so?

Wouldn't "Eat Chilton County Fried Chicken!" be a profitable slogan if the farmers of this county were shipping a carload of chickens every month?

The cotton leaving here now wrapped in jute bagging at 11 cents will come back to us next fall from Massachusetts in the form of underwear, etc., at $1.50 per suit. Wonder why we let Sylacauga get all of those cotton mills?

There is just one man in Clanton today who raised enough Irish potatoes to supply his needs during the coming year. The other 1,999 of us are paying 5 cents per pound for them.

Let's everybody come to the meeting at the court house tomorrow and get behind the men who are trying to build up a co-operative organization in this county for the encouragement of diversified farming and co-operative marketing. Let the last day of the year be the best day, and that it will truly be if these two very important things can be accomplished.

NO FOREST FIRES FOR 1927 NEW YEAR RESOLUTION

Montgomery, Dec. 29.—To prevent forest fires by every means possible is a New Year's resolution to which every one can subscribe, according to the Alabama Commission of Forestry. While the compilations for 1926 have not been completed, it is evident that fire losses to the landowners of the state have been less than in previous years, and the prospects for a continued reduction for 1927 appear encouraging.

Prior to 1925 statistics were lacking as to the extent of burning in Alabama. The Legislature of that year, however, took the matter in hand and provided for the organization of the necessary public work to make clear the enormous damage done to the economic resources of the state by promiscuous burning, and to initiate appropriate action toward abating this destructive agency. Public work in forestry was started under the law sufficiently early to permit of a fairly close survey of the fire conditions of 1923. This showed that approximately thirty-six per cent of the forest, cut-over and rough land of the state burned over in that year. From further investigations it appeared that this had been substantially the prevailing average for many decades.

With the realization of the harm done by fires and the arousing of general interest in their prevention, the year 1924 began with prospects of a reduction in loss. Conditions during the late spring and early summer continued favorable, and the efforts of landowners were reasonably successful until the phenomenal fall drought ensued with what was probably the worst season of intense burning, extending over a period of five or six weeks, that the state had witnessed. As a result, the decrease of burning for the entire year amounted to only two per cent, the area burned over being thirty-four per cent as compared with thirty-six per cent in 1923.

During the year 1925 the landowners became better organized and more vigilant, and the State work in fire protection, particularly along informational lines, had spread more widely over the commonwealth. The year 1924 witnessed a drought even more serious than that of 1924. Not withstanding this, however, a heavy reduction was made in the area burned over, the latter amounting to only 16% for the year.

For the year 1926 results have been still more gratifying. Since the initiation of state work in forestry, this is the first year that has witnessed approximately normal conditions as to amount and distribution of rainfall. This together with more intensive work on the part of the landowners, the press, the educational authorities and the general public has resulted in a burned over area which the final figures will probably show to be less than eight per cent.

Sewing Club.

On last Tuesday afternoon the members of the Thursday Sewing Club and others enjoyed a Christmas tree at the home of Mrs. John M. Van Derveer, on Eighth Street. The home was attractively decorated with holly, mistletoe, and other decorations of the season. A Christmas tree was placed in the living room and beautifully decorated. Gifts for each member of the Club were placed on the tree by the hostess, and also lollipops and ginger snaps, which served as refreshments. The members of the Club had each drawn a name, thus the exchanging of gifts. When Santa Claus arrived, the entire group entered second childhood. He asked that each do a stunt before receiving a present; some did the Charleston, some gave readings, and some even kissed St. Nick.

This joyous affair was attended by Mesdames J. P. Hayes, Bama Cox, E. E. Upchurch, John T. Ellis, W. M. Cox, J. Lee Smith, W. L. Longshore of Gadsden, C. Fenn Jones, J. B. Higgins of Elba, M. L. White, P. T. Hinkle, J. C. Jones, T. C. McSwain, V. J. Gragg, H. M. Simpson, J. Watts Moore, John Armstrong, and Miss Della Latham.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith of Lakeland, Fla., were guests of honor at a forty-two party given by Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Crumpton on Saturday evening at their home on North Eighth Street. The home was attractively decorated with flowers of the season. Following a series of forty-two games, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt held high scores. Mrs. Wyatt was presented a pretty powder box, and Mr. Wyatt received a box of cigars.

A tempting salad plate with hot coffee was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith of Lakeland, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Duncan of Louisville, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Kin Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts, and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jones entertained on Saturday evening, giving a dance at their home on First Avenue, in honor of Mr. Charles Moore, who is a student at Auburn, and is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore. Yuletide decorations were used throughout the home. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Music was furnished by the radio, phonograph, and numbers were rendered on the piano by Miss Alma Robinson and the guest of honor.

Among those dancing were Misses Alma Robinson, Sarah Mullins, Sarah Jones, Leslie Polk, Elizabeth Duncan, Rowe of Lakeland, Fla., Frances Hopkins of Dothan, Kathleen Mullins, Mildred Gowan of Brewton; Messrs. Leo Alred, James Higgins, Reese Mullins, Claudie Pipes, William Deramus of Verbena, Mack Wyatt, Frank Mullins, John Ellis, John Deramus, Leon Mullins, Pierson; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith of Birmingham.

Sunday School Class Meets.

The Fidelis Class of the Baptist Sunday School held a regular monthly business and social meeting at the church on Tuesday evening. Mrs. S. J. Ezell, teacher, presided over the session, after which a Christmas tree was enjoyed. Various gifts were exchanged. The singing of Christmas carols during the evening was a feature of the entertainment. A beautiful pair of silver candlesticks were presented by the class to the teacher, Mrs. Ezell. A box of clothing, toys, and fruits, was packed for a needy family. Delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were Misses Beatrice and Maude Alexander, Terry, Thelma Guy, Ivilyn Ingram, Evelyn Hix, Jewell Miner, Lurline Miner, Mary Ellis, Delene Williams, Mary Lee and Pauline Pyron, Lorene Murphy, Ruth Sessions, Exie Baker; Mrs S. J. Ezell, Mrs. Grady Broadhead, John Ezell, and Hal Broadhead.

Mrs. A. B. Baxley and children of Calera were visitors here Tuesday.

Christmas Party.

On Monday evening a group of friends enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis at their home on Second Avenue. The decorations of the home were suggestive of the Yuletide season. At a recent gathering of the same group, names were drawn for exchanging gifts on a Christmas tree. Also husbands and wives exchanged gifts. The tree was beautifully decorated and afforded much pleasure to those who were present. Late in the evening dainty sandwiches and coffee were served.

Included in this hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Kin Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs Crumpton, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis.

Young Matron's Club.

Mrs. Julius Burnett entertained the members of the Young Matron's Club and others on last Tuesday afternoon at her home on North Seventh Street. Narcissus and chrysanthemums were used to decorate the living and dining rooms. Bridge was played at two tables. The high score prize, a deck of Congress cards, was won by Mrs. Norman Roberts.

A delicious salad plate with hot coffee was served to Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Kin Vinson, Norman Roberts, Latham Ellis, Briggs Crumpton, T. C. McSwain, Lucien Duncan, and Miss Alee Stewart of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith were hosts on Christmas Day, entertaining a large group of relatives at dinner at their home on Seventh Street. The home was made festive with decorations of holly, mistletoe, and red and green ribbons. At noon a turkey dinner was served.

Among those enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith and Mr. T. H. Burruss of Lakeland, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Roper and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Downs and children of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Taylor of Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Popwell, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Dennis and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor and children, Mr. and Mrs. F. Grady Taylor, Mr. J. Wiley Smith, Mrs. Scottie Moore, Miss Frances Moore, Mrs. Roma Miller, and Mr. David Moore.

Mrs. Jas. Crawford of Columbiana was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud White and daughters of Birmingham were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White Sunday.

Mrs. Higgins Hostess.

Mrs. Flem Higgins entertained at a forty-two party Monday afternoon, at her home on Eighth Street, honoring Mrs. Parker Taylor of Roanoke, Ala. Bright Christmas decorations adorned the home. A series of forty-two games was played at two tables. A delicious salad course with hot tea was served by the hostess.

Enjoying Mrs. Hinnigs' hospitality were Mesdames Grady Heflin, W. M. Wyatt, Lucien Duncan, F. Grady Taylor, Briggs Crumpton, Luther Foshee, Loren Smith, Parker Taylor of Roanoke.

The Most Unkindest Cut of All

On the stage of a music hall in the East end of London a memory wizard with a pronounced Cockney accent was offering an exhibition of his skill. In response to questions from the audience he gave, offhand, and promptly, the dates of historic events, the distance from the earth to the moon, and other facts and figures without limit.

It was quite evident from the language of some of his statements that the performer was a most patriotic Briton. Invariably, when mentioning a great Englishman or a great English achievement, his voice rose exultantly.

Sitting well down in front were two Americans. They figured that the wizard must have accomplices in the house to ask him questions prepared beforehand. To find out whether or not the performer did have the powers of memory he boasted and with a view also to arousing his patriotic fervor to a still higher pitch, if possible, one of the Yankees called out:

"Professor, please tell me what memorable event occurred on July the Fourth, 1776?"

Without a moment's hesitation the professor shot back his reply:

"A h'infernal h'outrage, sir!" he shouted.

"ONE ROOM PLUS"—JANUARY 14

The Clanton Dramatic Club presents "One Room Plus" at Chilton County High School, Friday night, January 14, at 8 p. m.

The contrast of two types of married life is the theme.

Fred (Frank Mullins) and Julia (Mrs. Norman Roberts) are living a life of gayety in a 1-room apartment plus kitchen and bath.

Barbara McCord (Miss Louise Nichols) a young woman troubled with advanced ideas, has influenced Julia in living her individual life, with her husband playing second fiddle. Julia holds a good position in order to have the luxuries she desires.

John (Oce Webb) is the dominating force in his suburban bungalow; while Mollie (Miss Thelma Guy) is a loving, obedient little wife, of the clinging vine variety.

"Dad" Carmichael (Jack Wade) comes to the city to visit his two sons and leaves his wife at home on the farm. He is highly entertained in the "One Room Plus," and also is amused by Barbara's modern ideas.

Come and see the play, and discover how "Dad" helps solve the troubles that arise in the two homes.

Come and spend an enjoyable evening!

A Radical Difference Noted

A friend of mine has a friend who has a friend who, according to his other two friends, went abroad while Victoria, the beloved, was still on the throne of Great Britain.

In London one night the traveler saw Madame Bernhardt play in "Anthony and Cleopatra."

The scene came where Cleopatra receives news of Mark Anthony's defeat at Actium. Bernhardt was at her best as Egypt's fiery queen that night. She stabbed the unfortunate slave who had borne the tidings to her, stormed, raved, frothed at the mouth, wrecked some of the scenery in her frenzy and finally, as the curtain fell, dropped in a shuddering, convulsive heap.

As the thunderous applause died down, the American heard a middle-aged British matron in the next seat remarking to her neighbor in tones of satisfaction:

"How different—how very different from the home life of our own dear queen!"

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsilitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

LITTLE CHILD THANKS THE UNION - BANNER

Following is a letter received from Obera Jackson, the little girl who found a home with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jackson, of Lomax, through an article from the State Child Welfare Board which was published in the paper some time ago:

"Editor Union-Banner:

Will you please give me just a small space in your good paper to thank you for a former article you wrote in your paper about the State Child Welfare Department. Had it not been for you I might have missed my good home I have now.

"I am a little girl eight years old. My daddy has taught me to sing, 'Don't Grieve Your Mother,' and I do think it is a sweet song.

"Old Santa came to see me Christmas and brought me a lot of nice things. Santa is a mighty good fellow.

"Oh, yes, daddy has a lot of chickens, and I help him feed them and gather up the eggs, and help get them all in the house at night.

I want to come down some time and see you write your paper. With best wishes for you and your paper,—Obera Jackson."

CHEVROLET PURCHASE PLAN IS POPULAR WITH MOTORISTS

More than 40,000 motorists have taken advantage of the Chevrolet 6% Purchase Certificate plan since the inauguration of the idea in 1924, according to announcement made recently by the Chevrolet Motor Co. Widespread popularity of the plan is accounted for in the money saving features of the arrangement and that through this means it is easy for anyone to accumulate the down payment on a Chevrolet.

The plan was developed and copyrighted by the Chevrolet Motor Co., as a result of a survey which showed that the average motorist drives his car three years and pays for it in the first year. It was found that during the entire time the car is being operated the purchaser usually makes no provision whatever for buying his next car.

Through this plan the Chevrolet Company has made it possible for the purchaser to accumulate the down payment on a car without difficulty, to enjoy the advantages of buying for cash and to save 6% on the money invested in certificates. It also enables the motorist to pay something on his new car before his old one is turned in, thereby reducing his later payments.

The Chevrolet Motor Company has made arrangements with nearly 4,000 dealers, whereby the certificate holder gains a credit of 6% on money spent for service and accessories, in addition to the 6% interest on the money invested in the certificate.

Each succeeding month is showing a measurable increase in the enrollment of certificate holders, the company reports, with every prospect indicating a record sale of certificates in 1927.

OVERHEAD IN SCHOOLS

Note—This is the second of a series of three articles on "Overhead in Schools" by R. W. Cowart, Secretary of the Alabama Education Association.

In commenting on the cost of overhead in the schools, Mr. Cowart, Secretary of the Alabama Education Association, said:

"Probably the hue and cry raised about the cost of overhead in our schools is due largely to a lack of understanding of the services purchased by this expenditure. A thorough appreciation of the services rendered by school superintendents and boards of education would, no doubt, lead to the conclusion that the money so invested is entirely justifiable and indeed profitable.

"Overhead costs in schools is, briefly, all the costs of services of boards of education, superintendents and assistants, attendance officers, census enumerators, the costs of stenographic and clerical help in these offices, and office supplies.

"These executive officers serve as the connecting link between the community and the schools. They are charged with the entire management of the schools and held responsible for results. These executives have to plan the wise expenditure of all money entrusted to them. Every penny of the public school fund comes under their observation. With only 36 cents to do the job of a dollar, they must be exceedingly judicious in their expenditures. They have to secure all teachers. To seek these teachers, examine into their qualifications, and finally, to select the best qualified that funds will permit, require no small amount of time and carefully directed effort. Over 15,000 teachers have to be employed annually.

"There are buildings to be built, under the planning and supervision of these officers. There is equipment to be purchased and placed. Pupils must be classified, housed, and properly seated. Supplies are to be purchased and wisely distributed. Courses of study are to be planned and supervised. Instruction is to be supervised and teachers helped that instruction may be improved and that the whole school system may move forward systematically, without friction and with a purpose. Records have to be kept, financial and pupil records. Reports have to be made, accounting to community of stewardship. Records have to be compiled and sent to state and federal departments of education. There are buildings to be kept in repair and kept clean, grounds to be beautified and kept in order, hundreds of inquiries to be answered. Moreover, a vast deal of time is necessary to confer with parents concerning their children. There are campaigns necessary for floating bonds to build schools or for levying taxes to support schools. All these require the time and labor of the executive officers. The whole responsibility for school planning rests upon the superintendent and his board of education. It is a man-sized job and requires one to be on the alert all the time to fill it. There are demands on the superintendent in the church, in civic bodies, etc., which he must meet also.

"The school system is too large an institution to think of its operation without some directing head. Money invested in good leadership is money well spent. After all, the only justification for overhead in any institution is the service rendered. If the services are worthless, they should be discontinued. If they are essential, then it is a good investment to put enough money into overhead cost to buy the best services possible."

GOOD SINGING AT FRIENDSHIP ON LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

One of the best afternoon singings of the year was held at Friendship church last Sunday afternoon. Not so large a crowd was present, but just enough to do good singing. Just enough directors were present to fill the program for about an hour and a half, and everybody felt like singing. The service was opened with a song by T. E. Wyatt and prayer was offered by O. R. Robinson. A program committee was appointed and submitted a program consisting of the following directors: E. L. Glasscock, Steve Baker, G. C. Powell, O. R. Robinson, Akins Collins and A. H. Glasscock. The closing song was sung by T. E. Wyatt and dismission was made with prayer by Rev. W. P. Lowery. Organists for the afternoon were Mrs. O. R. Robinson, Miss Jewel Bean and a charming young Miss from Oak Hill whose name the secretary failed to learn.

As announced last week the Glasscock brothers and some of the United Society singers of Oak Hill, Collins Chapel, etc., were present with the Friendship class. There were also visitors from Walnut Creek, Providence, Concord and Refuge.

Rev. W. P. Lowery, the pastor, preached at 11 o'clock and 7 o'clock. Two very forceful and timely messages were delivered by this man of God.

All visitors were more than welcome, and they were extended an invitation to come back again.

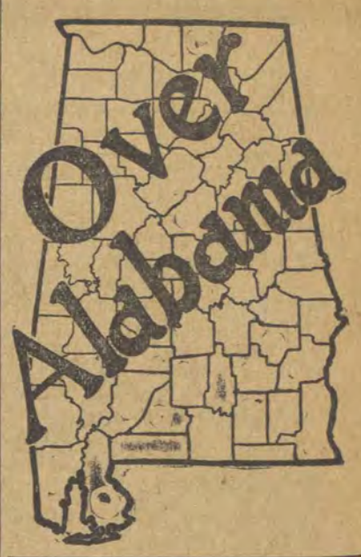
CHESTNUT CREEK SINGING SOCIETY

The singing society at Cooper has decided to vacate for a while. This society has been running for nearly four years without a vacation, and will be discontinued until further information. Maybe some of our best singers who have grown careless will be ready for a singing society by spring. We hope so. — Mrs. Mollie Minor.

MRS. AMANDA DURBIN

After a long and faithful life in the service of her Master, early Sunday morning, December 5, 1926, the Lord called home to rest Aunt Amanda Durbin, one of His noblest women. She lived for 101 years, and lived those years well.

She is survived by 1 son, 3 daughters, her husband and 6 children having preceded her to the grave. She left 40 grand-children, 52 great-grand-children, and 5 great-great-grand-children to mourn her loss.



Early in life she gave her heart to Jesus and united with the Methodist church. She lived a consecrated Christian life and served in the Master's vineyard with cheering words and sunny smiles. Her life was filled with loving devotion and with calm contentment that comes only to God's children. A true mother of Israel has been called to her reward, and her children and children's children rise up and call her blessed.

After much suffering and all that loving hands could do for her she folded her arms across her peaceful bosom and went to sleep, and her soul entered into that "rest that remaineth to the people of God."—One who loved her.

You may drive in with a Grouch ---We'll send you out With a Smile---

It's not the way a man feels when he drives into a garage, it's the way he feels when he drives out that counts.

If your car isn't working right; if it snorts and spits and sputters and fires back thru the muffler; if it shakes and rattles and vibrates until your teeth chatter, you have a right to feel grouchy. But the trouble is not serious—it is caused by faulty, warped, leaky valves. They give you an uneven compression. That throws the motor out of balance and causes most of the auto's ailments. Ever think of that? Fact!

Properly centered, faced and properly seated valves will do more to put pep and performance in a car than any other one thing you can do for it. Have your valves properly serviced—we can do it—and she'll purr like a tabby cat before a grate fire. We have installed the most scientific, the most complete and more modern method of servicing motor valves that has ever been devised. It is the KWIK-WAY SYSTEM and it sure does the business. Steer your auto this way and give us a trial. We'll send you out with a smile. Do that TODAY.

Everybody Invited

For several years past, the Geralds, Butlers, and Nortons have met Christmas night at the home of one of the trio. In addition to the members of the families represented, it has been the custom to invite to join them such members of the faculty or student body who for any reason have not gone to their respective homes or accepted invitations to visit friends. This year Miss Marian Fairbank, Miss Lois Leach, and Miss Lois Hawkes were the delegates represesting what are known as the "leftovers," this term being the short for "didn't go home on vacation." For Christmas, 1926, Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald was the hostess, assisted by her son, Sumner, a member of Piedmont College faculty at Demorest, Ga., and daughters, Agnes, member of faculty in Bladenboro, N. C, h.gh school, Ruth, member of Thorsby Institute facutly, Mary Ella, member of Andalusa high school faculty, and Iola, a student at Piedmont College. We know of no class of people more capable of having a good time when turned loose than preachers and teachers, and this bunch were no exception to the rule.

Rev. Joseph E. Each and wife with their children, Juanita, Lucile, and Mary Marie, together with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard, spent the day Tuesday with Rev. Albert Foshee and family.

Cecil Each has gone to Headland, Ala., to spend a few days among students of Thorsby Instithte who are visiting their homes or friends in that vicinity.

Master Frank Wood left Saturday to spend a week with his grandmother in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard of Fairfield are spending Christmas holidays with Mr. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Howard in Thorsby.

Mrs. A. P. Franklin spent Christmas with Mrs. L. C. Robinson in Birmingham.

The W. M. U. and Y. W. A. of Thorsby and Jemison gave Rev. J. S. Roberts a new suit of clothes, and members of Thorsby Baptist church gave Mrs. Roberts a nice Congoleum rug as Christmas gifts.

Hollis Pate is spending Christmas week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pate in Thorsby.

Miss Margaret Butler is spending a month with Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Butler in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Farrington and children, and Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Farrington of Birmingham spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Billingsley. Mr. and Mrs. Billingsley also entertained Miss Bertha Littleton of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Peterson and children, and Misses Ruth and Ethel Peterson of Birmingham spent the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goodgame in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Billingsley spent the holidays in Thorsby.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Horn spent the Christmas holidays in Montgomery with their children.

Miss Lorena Prim, a student at Womans College, Montgomery is spending the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Prim, of Thorsby. Her sister, Lois Prim, teaching at Rocky Mount. is also at home.

Misses Bernice Williams and Pearl Steiner, teachers at Lock 12 are vacationing with their home folks in Thorsby.

Prof. C. M. Williams, teaching at Camp Hugh, in Bibb County, is at his home in Thorsby for vacation days.

The Eastern Star chest of linen so long on exhibition in Ward's window was won by Arthur Villadsen at the drawing on December 22. It would sure make a fine Christmas present for somebody.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lefstead of Birmingham spent Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Johanna Lefstead, at her home in Thorsby. Her son, Palmer Lefstead, of Birmingham-Southern College, is also her guest.

Miss Catherine Grace, a former student of T. I., is a guest of Misses Margaret and Dorothy Butler.

Mr. Roy Raybon of Birmingham is at home for 2 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald and family of Clanton, and Mrs. Philip Horn of Birmingham, with her son, Leroy, spent Monday at the home of Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald.

Miss Olene Mims is spending her vacation in Thorsby. She is teaching this year at Pate's Chapel.

Nels Nelson and Homer Eiland of A. P. I., Auburn, are home in Thorsby for the vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg went to Wylam to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan. Mrs. Morgan is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Soberg.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Norton entertained Miss Lois Leech, Miss Marian Fairbank, and Miss Lois Hawkes at dinner Christmas day.

Miss Leech and Miss Hawkes are spending a few days in Birmingham.

Mr. Earl Mead of Birmingham, Mr. A. M. Johnson, Mrs. Ollie Tagg, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mead took Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mead.

There will be English service next Sunday morning at the Lutheran church.

Mr. Clyde Robinson of Birmingham has been a visitor in Thorsby during the Christmas holidays.

A wedding of interest to many Thorsby people took place Monday, December 27, when Mr. Grady Lewis and Miss Ida Mae Lessley were married by the minister who baptized both of them in early childhood. Miss Ida Mae has lived among us for several years and is a fine girl. Mr. Lewis was formerly of Coosa County, but is now an electrician at Gary, Ind.

Another wedding of interest to the people of Thorsby was solemnized on Tuesday, December 21, at Sylva, N. C., when Albert Magne Anderson and Lorena Gertrude Ensley, of Sylva, were married. Mr. Anderson is a young man who grew up in Thorsby, and is loved by all who know him. We are told that Miss Ensley is a young woman of good family and fine attainments.

The Parent - Teachers Association will hold their next social Thursday afternoon, December 30, at the home of Mrs. English. All are invited.

Wednesday night, January 5, the annual meeting of the United Protestant Church of Thorsby (Congregational) will be held at their church. Reports of officers from the various departments of the church will be received, officers for the ensuing year will be elected, and a budget presented for adoption. For many years past a notable feature of the annual meetings of this church has been a "six o'clock dinner" served by the ladies of the church and congregation which precedes the business meeting. We have as yet no authority to announce that such a dinner will be served; we simply take it for granted that this has become an established custom of our Congregational ladies, and know of no reason why they will not want to do it this time. This dinner in years past has been a most enjoyable church family affair. It is not expected to be a free-for-all community feed. It has been customary to extend the invitations widely enough to include members of the church and their families, members of the Sunday school, and parents of said members, members of any of the church societies and non-member contributors to the support of the church as well as non-members who consider this church as their church home.

THANKS !

We wish to publicly express our deep appreciation for the nice Christmas gift, a box of fruit, from Collins Chapel church on Christmas Eve. May God's richest blessings be with each one who had a part in giving the gift.

It is not so much the gift for which we are thankful, but for the spirit in which it was given.—Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lowery.

SCOTT CHESTNUT, FORMER UMPIRE, GOES TO MOVIES

Former Southern League Arbiter To Play Opposite Beery

Scott E. Chestnutt, one of the most colorful characters baseball ever produced, after an absence of 10 years from the diamond, has returned to his first love—but it's only in the movies.

Chestnutt, who was reared in Clanton and who lived in Birmingham for years, left Monday afternoon for Jacksonville, Fla., where he is State manager for Florida of the sales department of Famous Players-Lasky.

Chestnutt was selected by Jesse L. Lasky personally to play the role of umpire in "Casey at the Bat," which Wallace Beery and Ford Sterling are now making as the third of the Beery comedies that started with "Behind the Front." For years Chestnutt was a real umpire in the Southern and International leagues.

The former umpire has already done the sand lot sequence and will return to Hollywood later to appear in the big league sequence.

Following a custom that he has maintained unbroken since boyhood, Chestnutt returned to Birmingham to spend Christmas with his mother and sister, who live in Crestline Heights in the Redmont section.

Mr. Chestnutt is a former Clanton boy. He was born here and spent his early years here. His many friends and admirers have always found great pleasure in following his very successful career in baseball, and now they are further gratified to learn of the new treasures he has tapped for himself in the motion picture screen world.

Making It Four of a Kind

Judge Isaac Russell, chief justice of the court of special sessions of New York city, went on a private and unannounced tour of inspection among the various corrective and charitable institutions of his jurisdiction. Late in the afternoon he entered the outer office of one of the insane asylums.

"I should like to make a trip through this place," he said to an underkeeper who chanced to be in sole charge of the office temporarily.

Visitors' days are Wednesdays and Saturdays," said the keeper shortly; "and, besides, it's after hours."

"But I insist on being shown through," said His Honor.

"Well, you've got a nerve!" growled the keeper. "Who are you to be givin' me orders?"

"I am Chief Justice Russell of the Court of Special Sessions," was the answer.

"That'll be about all," said the keeper wearily. "We've got three of you in here now. Why don't you call yourself George Washington—there's only one of him?"

NOTICE

To C. B. Brown, Take Notice:

That whereas on the 15th day of December, 1926, F. J. Callen, as president of the Peoples Savings Bank, a corporation, complained to me, as Clerk of the Circuit Court in and for Chilton County, Alabama, that, C. B. Brown was justly indebted to Peoples Savings Bank, a corporation, in the sum of $438.54, which affidavit was made as required by law in such cases.

And, whereas, on said 15th day of December, 1926, there was issued out of the said Circuit Court of Chilton County, a writ of attachment in said cause directing the Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, to attach so much of the estate of said C. B. Brown, as would be sufficient to satisfy said demand and costs.

And, whereas, on said 15th day of December, 1926, the sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, did levy said attachment on the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the North side of the Montgomery and Birmingham Highway where said highway crosses the line dividing the lands now owned by C. R. Mullins and P. D. Wilson and running thence in a Northerly direction along said line a distance of 200 feet,, more or less, to the North line of the NW 1-4 of the SE 1-4 of Section 35, Township 22, Range 14, and running thence East along said line 75 feet; thence in a Southerly direction and parallel with the line between the land of C. R. Mullins and P. D. Wilson to the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway; thence in a Westerly direction along said highway 75 feet to the point of beginning. Said lot of land being and lying in the NW 1-4 of the SE 1-4 of Section 35, Township 22, Range 14. Also Lots No. 1 and No. 2 in Block No. 1, of the J. W. P. Murphy addition to the Town of Clanton, Chilton County, Alabama, as the same appears of record in the office of the Judge of Probate of said county, and lots No. 1 and No. 2 in Block No. 2 of the above described addition to the Town of Clanton, situated in Chilton County, Alabama. One red Mare eight years old, named Maude.

And, whereas, on said 15th day of December, 1926, the said Sheriff did make return of said writ and levy, as required by law.

The said writ is based upon a claim for money loaned and the writ of attachment is issued on the ground that the said defendant C. B. Brown, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and said writ was issued without bond.

Witness my hand this the 21st day of December, 1926.

J. Z. MIMS,
Clerk Circuit Court, Chilton County Alabama. 12-23-3tch.

Uncle Teddy And Paulina Smiling The "Roosevelt Smile"

CAN'T you just see their illustrious father and grandfather's famous smile in these faces—folks?

Of course, you can. Look whose faces they are. That's little Paulina Longworth, daughter of Nicholas Longworth—speaker of the House of Representatives. Her mother was the former Alice Roosevelt. And Paulina evidently was having a great time of it when this picture was made. The genial, smiling young man holding her up is her Uncle Teddy—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., hunter of the Ovis Poli and familiarly often referred to as "political successor to his famous father."

The photo was taken at Washington, D. C., where T. R. Jr., had ostensibly intended to transact some political business. But he couldn't resist the temptation to spend most of his time playing with Miss Paulina.

GRADY HARRIS WON PRIZE ON UNITY ASSOCIATION MINUTE

Mr. Grady F. Harris, clerk of the Unity Baptist Association, is to be congratulated upon a recent achievement which won him distinction among the Association clerks of Alabama, as well as a nice cash prize from the Southern Baptist Convention.

It came about in this way. The Southern Baptist Convention offered a prize this year for the best Associational minute, the grade to be determined upon a dozen or more features. When the total for Alabama was cast up the Unity and the Tuscaloosa Association minutes were tied for high place with a total of 90 per cent. each.

The Unity minute was printed by the Banner Print Shop. When Mr. Harris received his cash prize, he very graciously came around and split the proceeds with us. Thanks Grady. We will take you out for the best in the Southern Baptist Convention next year.

HARVEY FOSHEE NOW ON CITY POLICE FORCE

Mr. Harvey Foshee, who has been deputy sheriff under Sheriff Littlejohn for the past few years has resigned his commission as deputy sheriff and accepted a place on the city police force.

Sheriff-elect J. Dudley Collins will serve as deputy under Sheriff Littlejohn until he takes up his duties as the high sheriff about the middle of January.

WILL ESTABLISH CLINIC IN CLANTON

It has been reported to The Union-Banner on good authority that a group of local doctors will right away establish a clinic or hospital in Clanton. No details of the plan or the scope of the work have been given out yet. Further announcement is expected in a few days.

I. T. Garner, optometrist, will be in Thorsby on Friday before the fourth Saturday in every month, and in Clanton over Tom Kemp's store the fourth Saturday in each month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles.

ALL DAY SINGING

There will be an all day singing in the Christian Harmony books on January 1, at Friendship church, 6 miles west of Lawley. Everybody invited to come and bring dinner on New Year's Day.

Miss Nell Wells of Jemison is visiting for several days at the Learys. Mr. Earl Leary is also visiting his parents.

IMPORTANT MEETING AT THE COURT HOUSE FRIDAY DECEMBER 31

The most important meeting of its kind ever held in Chilton County has been called for Friday, December 31, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the county court house. Every citizen of the county is invited to attend this meeting, which is called for the purpose of perfecting a co-operative association to foster diversified farming, co-operative marketing and other important civic and social activities in the entire county.

A committee has already held one meeting for the purpose of drafting a constitution and by-laws and will be ready to submit their report at this meeting on the last day of the year.

Much interest has already been manifest in the undertaking and the leaders of the movement are anxious to have a large attendance at this meeting.

Chilton County is unquestionably facing the greatest economic crisis in its history and without united effort, unselfish leadership, a definite program, and immediate action, chaotic conditions are sure to be our lot during the next few years, is the prediction of the farsighted leaders of the county.

The citizens are urged not to forget the date and hour—December 31, at 10 a. m., at the county court house in Clanton.
